SPEAKING OF AND FOR FLOYD COUNTY

THURSDAY

PRESTONSBURG, KENTUCKY

JUNE 11, 1942

TAINT FAIR Bill Biggers has an idea he hasn't been treated right, somehow. His draft board voted unanimously for him to go to the army, but the people weren't so agreed on the matter of having him go to the Legislature.

MORE THAN ONE A story that has become common property after its effective telling by Mark Sullivan, the newspaper columnist, concerns the bond salesman who lost his job, back in the Depression. On his uppers and deep in desperation, the ex-salesman finally bethought himself of an old friend who owned a circus.

But the circus-owner was having a hard time of it, too, and was almost ready to turn his old friend away when he had an inspiration. "Yes, I have one thing you can do," he told the applicant. "Our gorilla died last week, but we saved his skin. Think you could crawl in his hide and play the part?"

The salesman declared he could, and did. Inside the gorilla cage he was a thing of bestial fury, leaping and ranting and shaking the bars. This last part of his act he did too well--so well that he shook loose the opening into the adjoining lion cage.

Thereupon the spectators gazed in horror as a full-grown lion stalked, feline-like, through the opening and into the gorilla's quarters. As stark tragedy impended they experienced no little consternation to see the fierce gorilla cower far back in a corner and squawk, "Help! Help!"

But that was nothing to their wonderment when they heard the lion say, "Shut up, you damphool--you're not the only bond salesman out of a job!"

THIS WEEK'S SHORT STORY

It seems that a college boy was loved not wisely but too well by a girl. And, loving her, too, he did the chivalrous thing; they got married--also. The nuptials solemnized, the bride suggested that they drive uptown and have him make the acquaintance of her parents.

He agreed. And what do you think?--his wife's father and mother were negroes!

There, there! Shed not a tear over this tragic turn of affairs. The groom was a negro himself!

SO HELP ME!

I discovered Saturday, after some inquiry, that a rural road I travel

MRS. MOORE IS CALLED

Water Gap Woman Succumbs Friday, Victim of Cancer

Mrs. Hattie Alley Moore, 44 years old, wife of Charles K. Moore, Water Gap, succumbed Friday afternoon at the Prestonsburg General hospital, a victim of cancer from which she had suffered for several years.

Mrs. Moore was a daughter of the late J. W. Alley, onetime manager of the Bull Creek Coal Company at Water Gap, and of Mrs. Josephine Alley, of Water Gap. She was a lifelong member of the Methodist Church and was one of her community's best women.

TEACHING VETS TO BE RETIRED AS PENSIONERS

Hunt and Stephens To Quit Classroom Under 1940 Act

End of this month will see the retirement on lifetime pensions of two Floyd county teachers after approximately 60 years of service in the county's rural schools. The veterans will be paid for the remainder of their lives approximately $150 annually under the state teacher-retirement system created by the Legislature in 1940.

The two are Clabe Stephens, Prestonsburg, who retires at 72 because the law makes retirement mandatory at the age of 70; and Roland T. Hunt, of German, who, though not 70, is being forced from the classroom by ill health.

L. C. Leslie, of Emma, dean of the Floyd county teaching corps, is slated to continue work this year, since he has not reached the 70-year mark.

Although county school authorities here did not state that such a function will be held, they expressed interest in Mr. Kimbler's suggestion that teaching veterans should be retired at local ceremonies sponsored by boards of education, alumni associations or civic organizations. A handsome certificate of retirement is now being designed to stimulate local ceremonies, Kimbler said. Unless teachers request them mailed direct, they will be sent to local superintendents.

Several more applications for July 1 retirement are expected, Kimbler said, but he is unable to estimate the number.

Retirement is permissible at age of 60, but mandatory at age of 70. War conditions have created such a demand for teachers, Kimbler said, that comparatively few teachers between 60 and 70 years of age have applied for retirement.

"There is a brisk demand for them," he said, "and I don't blame them for staying on if their health is good."

BAILEY GIVEN LIFE TERM

By Jury from Floyd; 2 Pinned in Death Of Martin Woman

A Floyd county jury Saturday held in the Martin circuit court at Inez that Wallace Bailey and Amos Jarrell, accused of the strangulation slaying in April, 1941 of Bailey's wife, were guilty and fixed their penalty at life in prison. The jury deliberated an hour and 10 minutes.

The body of Mrs. Gladys Chaffin Bailey, mother of one child and expecting another, was found on the Tug river bank 14 months ago by a fisherman. She had been virtually stripped of her clothes and tracks leading from a nearby highway indicated a struggle. Not yet 20, Mrs. Bailey had been estranged from her husband several times following periods of reconciliation.

Elsie McCoy who, with Jarrell's brother, Elmer, was also indicted in the case, and whose trial is scheduled for September, testified that Bailey had asked her to marry him. She denied, however, testimony by six other witnesses that she had told them Bailey had slain his wife.

Other testimony that was ordered stricken from the record included that by Will Booth, who quoted Amos Jarrell as saying, "Wallace killed his wife over Elsie."

To Announce Appeals From Local Board Decisions

Floyd county's two selective service boards this week announced that, in line with the policy of getting more information to the public, they will hereafter announce cases of registrants who appeal for deferment from military service. Each such case goes to the Board of Appeal after the claim for deferment has first been denied by the local board.

Each board has one appeal case pending--Sam K. Rice, East Point, Board 44 registrant, seeking deferment on grounds of dependency; Oliver Thurman Lemaster, who is registered with Board 45, and whose employer, the Dodd and Hurt Funeral Home, Webster Springs, W. Va., appealed for an occupational deferment.

TO ENTER NAVY

Monte Scott Harkins, son of Mrs. Walter Scott Harkins, Jr., is expected to leave soon for navy service, having enlisted in the Naval Reserve while a student at Centre College, from which he was recently graduated.

P'BURG'S FIRST ASSEMBLY LINE MAKES ARMY EQUIPMENT

Rate of Production Is One Cabinet Per 17 Minutes

Prestonsburg's first assembly line was in operation last week as the National Youth Administration defense shop here began production of cabinets for army field kitchens. And those folks who think of the shop's work in terms of WP-Ace only should see the speed at which those 200-pound cabinets are rolling out! One every 17 and one-tenth minutes--that's the production figures by the watch.

From the sheet metal department on one side of the shop and the welding department on the other, on down the assembly line to completion, all the 72 cuts and welds of steel and all the 64 cuts and folds of the sheet metal take only that long until the U. S. army has another field kitchen cabinet ready, including all the trimmings.

The cabinets are 5 feet, 4 inches high, 4 feet long and 28 inches wide, with two drawers, two shelves and two garbage-container holders--and all steel.

The original order of 193 was being completed this week. More orders are hoped for, Richard Quillen, shop superintendent, said Wednesday.

STRONG WELL IS DRILLED

Floyd Strike Largest Of Four Reported In This Section

Largest of four gas wells recently drilled in by the Kentucky West Virginia Gas Company was the Big Lime strike on the James (Big Foot) Nunmy lease, Johns Creek, which was gauged at 2,500,000 cubic feet.

On Johns Creek, in Pike county, the well drilled on the Mose Collinsworth tract yielded 158,000 cubic feet in the shale after having been shot. Another Pike county well approximated the Floyd well in production with a 2,214,000 cubic-foot yield from the shale. This well is on the A. J. May lease, Robinson Creek. The shale well drilled on the John M. Bailey lease, Caney Fork, Knott county, produced 135,000 cubic feet after shooting in the shale.

A number of new locations are reported as having been made, but wildcat ventures appear to have been discouraged by the federal spacing order.

NYA-Trained Youth Leave To Work For Defense

Eleven Floyd county boys, experienced in sheet metal and machine shop work, were among the 77 NYA-trained youths to leave Kentucky last week for war jobs in Maryland and Connecticut, and five left this week.

The Floyd boys were assigned, according to Richard Quillen, superintendent of the Prestonsburg NYA shop, to Connecticut. They were sent east under the NYA interstate transfer plan that has already enabled more than a thousand Kentucky youths to be placed in war production jobs in the eastern states.

The youths, trained in the NYA shops here, are: Jackie Adkins, Wayland; Norman Miller, Carl Tufts, Fred Bingham and Edmond Hershel Tackett, all of Prestonsburg; Arnold Collins, McDowell; Tom Martin, Printer; Darwin Patton, Auxler; James Collins, Lackey; Ross E. Johns, Pikeville; Clinton Spurlock, Printer; Willie D. Clevenger, Prestonsburg; Rex B. Merritt, Emma; Woodrow Wilcox, Auxler; Denzil Hammond and Claude Roberts, whose addresses were not listed. Mr. Quillen stated that Bernard Tackett

KIWANIS GIVES PLAY TONIGHT

Local Males Promenade In Female Attire And "Swing Out"

The rollicking comedy, "Swing Out," sponsored by the Prestonsburg Kiwanis Club, and under the direction of Miss Anna Marie Penna, has an all-man's cast of home-talent players who will be ready to face the footlights Thursday and Friday nights, June 11 and 12, at 8:30 p.m.

This comedy, with music specialties, will be presented in the grade school auditorium here. Thomas Kissler, played by Charles Spradlin, is owner of the Kant-Kum-Off-Kissable-Lipstick factory. Mr. Kissler claims that kissing one's mother-in-law would be a pleasure if she used Kant-Kum-Off.

Mrs. Gertrude Kissler, played by "Jeff" Jeffries, believes in her husband's lipstick and oft-times uses more than becomes a woman of her years. "Gertie" Kissler is the 399th member of the local "400" and in the natural course of events, she will soon become one of the zeros of that same society.

Others of the cast are George Straughan as Betty Kissler, just out of finishing school; Palmer Hall as Pierre Gastone, a Frenchman, whom Mr. Kissler brands a hand-kissing gigolo; the hometown boy who owns the advertising agency; Franklin Moore as Rita Phillips, a gay and frivolous widow; Carl Riffe as Patsy Miller, a young girl who lisp, and is on a man-hunt; Billy Sturgill, as Nelson, a Broadway theatrical agent; Forrest H. Patrick as Perkins, the butcher who was considered quite a Beau Brummel in his time; and N. M. (Bud) White as Annie the maid--a kind soul who has been with the family for years.

"Swing Out" also contains many featured choruses and specialty numbers. The Military chorus, the Hi Hat chorus and the French Maids' chorus include Misses Jane Carroll Hager, Bennie Caudill, Alka Hopson, Shirley Ann Patrick, Betty Davis, Betty Jean May, Theda Bibb Thomas, Margaret Spurlock, Jane Davis, Dorothy Dorton, Polly Allen.

Featured specialties will include vocal solos by Judith Davidson, Franklin Moore, Dewey Wallen; a song and dance by Jane Carroll Hager; trombone solo by Glennafay Dingus, and a tap dance by Betty Jean May.

HERE FROM WEST VIRGINIA

Mr. and Mrs. John Warrick, Welch, W. Va., spent the week-end here with friends and relatives after accompanying Mrs. Warrick's sister, Miss Burieta Gearheart, to Berea College for the summer term.

Prestonsburg Men Held on Charge Of Robbery

Bill Hunt and Luther Fraley, both of Prestonsburg, were arrested Tuesday afternoon by Policemen Epp Laferty and Albert Horn and charged with the robbery of Curtis Pigman, of Hindman.

Police said four or five persons saw Hunt and Fraley search Pigman as he lay intoxicated in a vacant lot. Pigman said the two found his money, from $8 to $12, in his shoe. The accused men claimed they did not rob him.

GEARHEART IS VICTIM

Well-Known Farmer Succumbs Monday At Age of 48

Frank Gearheart, well-known Huesyville farmer, died Monday morning at the Martin General hospital of a liver ailment from which he had suffered for some time.

He had been in failing health for several years but first entered the hospital a month ago, later submitting to an operation. Mr. Gearheart was 48 years old.

A son of the late Woots Gearheart, of Huesyville, and Mrs. Sophia Patton Gearheart, he was one of his community's best citizens and leaves many friends and relatives.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Mildred Ratliff Gearheart, his mother and 12 children: Haig Gearheart, Huesyville; Herman Gearheart, Williamson, W. Va.; Alma, Jeannette, Chester, Carl, Ruby, Violet, Garnet, Gypsy, Vernie and Albert Gearheart, all at home. He also leaves two sisters, Mrs. Adus Montgomery, Fullerton, Ky., and Mrs. Ed Moore, Huesyville.

Funeral rites were conducted from the residence Tuesday afternoon, the Revs. Ed Howard and A. J. Moore officiating. Burial was made in the Sutton cemetery on Salt Lick Creek, the Ryan Funeral Home directing.

INJUNCTION TO BE DENIED

Says Circuit Judge Of Petition Filed By Ratliff

Circuit Judge Henry Stephens, Jr., announced this week that he will overrule the petition of J. B. Ratliff, Lancer roadhouse operator, seeking a permanent injunction against closing hours for roadhouses established early in April by County Judge E. P. Hill, Jr.

Judge Stephens added that his ruling and written opinion will not become a matter of record until the last day of the current civil court term here, which is June 30.

He explained that formal expression of opinion is being withheld to permit roadhouse operators who have spent their money for licenses under permits already issued by the county court to operate till July 1, the date when most licenses expire, and to give the owners of such places warning that further expenditure of money for licenses will be made at their own risk in the face of his forthcoming ruling.

Ratliff's petition seeking an injunction attacked the constitutionality of the roadhouse act which permits county judges to fix the closing hours for roadhouses in rural districts or unincorporated towns but does not grant the same powers over roadhouses inside corporate limits. His suit contended that this constitutes "class distinction."

Judge Hill, in his closing order of early April, stipulated that roadhouses may not open before 6 a.m., and must close by 8 p.m.

If enforced, roadhouse men say, the ruling will doom their businesses.

Vacation Bible School To Begin June 22nd

Prestonsburg's Daily Vacation Bible School will be conducted this year from June 22 to July 3, it was announced this week.

To plan the school at least one representative from each church here was asked this week to attend the meeting to be held Sunday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock at the Methodist Church.

DRAFT BOARD MEMBERS RESIGN

Allen and Harkins May Be Selected For Positions

J. D. Harkins, Jr., and Edward L. Allen, Prestonsburg attorneys, were recommended this week by Governor Keen Johnson as members of Floyd county Selective Service Board No. 44, to succeed Mayor E. P. Arnold and Carl H. Corbin, both of Prestonsburg, who resigned, Thursday of last week.

Until the appointment of Mr. Allen and Mr. Harkins becomes official, the Draft Board will function with only one member, J. Bascom Clarke, local attorney.

Resignations of Mayor Arnold and Mr. Corbin were the result, it was said, of personal circumstances which made their continued service almost impossible.

Mayor Arnold's reasons for resigning were that his age and the condition of his health would not permit his continued service.

Mr. Corbin, whose office as engineer of the Beaver Creek Consolidated Coal Company is next door to that of the draft board, said that, since draft registrants and their relatives had learned of his near location to the board, the large number of callers daily interfered with his duties as an employee of the coal company and made it impossible for him to do other work properly.

Of the 120 selectees sent from this county to Huntington, W. Va., Friday for final physical examination, 10 were rejected as illiterates. A number of others were returned home as physically defective.

ONE KILLED BY TRAIN

Osborne Is Victim; Ambury Injured Near Allen

One Floyd county man was instantly killed and another was seriously injured this week when struck by trains.

Jeff Osborne, 42-year-old miner, was killed near Buckingham station at 2 o'clock Sunday morning when struck by a coal train. On the following day, near the Allen railway station, Corbett Ambury, 40, of Dwale, was injured by a train.

Ambury was taken to the Martin General hospital suffering from shock and from deep cuts on his arm and hip. He will recover, barring complications, it was said Thursday.

Raft-Hand of Old Days Returns To River for Scrap Materials

Former Floyd Man Collects 60 Tons Of Scrap by Boat

Victory gardeners on the banks of the Big Sandy here last Tuesday paused to stare at a lone boatman the prow of whose boat, laden with scrap metal, plowed a V-for-Victory on the water.

When the Japs made their sneak-attack on Pearl Harbor last December 7, J. D. Burchett, former Floyd county man who now resides at George's Creek, Lawrence county, immediately moved into action. He was 70, too old for active service. So he returned to his first love, the river, to provide those who are able to fight with the materials they need.

Since that day he has been en-training at regular intervals for up-river points, there buying a boat, and floating down the Big Sandy with every scrap of steel and iron and tin and rubber that he could salvage along the river banks or could buy from nearby farmhouses. As of last week, he had transported from this section, via river, 60 tons of scrap materials.

When he passed Prestonsburg late Tuesday his cargo consisted of four tons of oil cans, sheets of used metal, old tires, pots, pans, bedsprings, plowshares and other items. He expected to have an eight-ton load by the time he reached George's Creek where speedier trucks come to pick up his salvage.

Snapshot of Burchett and scrap-laden boat passing Prestonsburg.

His mode of transportation is not so speedy, but its highly efficacious, and by taking to the river he salvages materials that otherwise might never have found their way to American war industries.

Last week's trip began Sunday, May 31, at Betsy Layne, where Mr. Burchett purchased a 30-foot boat for $10. He expected to arrive at George's Creek last Thursday night. (If he did he bettered his speed past Prestonsburg. From the upper city limits here to the Prestonsburg-West Prestonsburg bridge, a distance of approximately one mile, he was timed at exactly an hour and 40 minutes.)

Salvages Metals Truckmen Miss Along River

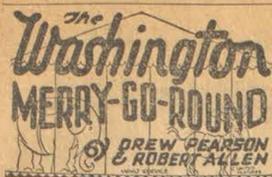

But time doesn't hang heavy on Mr. Burchett's hands, and he isn't in any particular hurry. He just sits there and "lets her have her way." "A boat," says he, "will find the deep water better than you can."

While he drifts with the current, he doesn't even seek the company of a book to while away the time. His pipe and old, familiar spots along the river, memories of rafting days, occasional tie-ups for brief chats with old friends--these make the three-four days needed for the downriver trip home short enough.

Born and reared on Johns Creek, this county, "Skipper" Burchett has been on the river since he was 12 years old. That was back when he was paid $1 a day to make the three-day run from the Mouth of Beaver to Catlettsburg on a raft. An expert steersman was paid as high as $2 a day, Burchett said, adding that he had been paid as high as $5 a day in the last days of rafting for steering a heavy barge, using only an oak pole.

Lean and wiry of figure, with a bronzed skin which he called "good river sun-tan," a handlebar mustache partially concealing a ready smile, and dressed neatly--full suit, necktie, black hat, even having an extra pair of pants on hand against

HOME-GROWN FASCISTS

After three months of temporizing with native Fascist champions, Attorney General Francis Biddle is finally going to get tough...

Roosevelt directed Biddle to take vigorous legal action against certain factional leaders who have been publicly denouncing the war against the Axis...

Complaints have poured into Washington from parents of boys in the armed services demanding that these domestic foes be jailed.

Shortly after Pearl Harbor, FBI agents arrested Robert Noble, rabid Los Angeles Fascist leader...

This brought down a storm of protests on Biddle's head that steadily increased as the hostile operations of these elements became bolder and more outspoken.

Finally White House advisers, alarmed over the situation, took the matter direct to the President. They laid before him a mass of evidence dealing with Noble, Father Coughlin, Francis P. Moran of Boston...

One document shown Roosevelt was the March 16 issue of Coughlin's weekly publication which declared that a "world-wide sacred war" was declared against Germany nine years ago.

"Unless the German forces can overcome Russia and successfully invade England by the end of September, there is every evidence that the entire world will have elected to experience a blood bath the like of which was never imagined by the most poetic minds."

After carefully examining the evidence, the President summoned Biddle, ordered him to get tough and do so immediately.

GOOD WAR NEWS

Here is some all-important GOOD war news for a change.

The United States and the British Empire have won a victory of supreme importance in the crucial war production race.

For the first time in the 2 1/2 years of the war the United States and Britain now are out-producing the Axis and its vassal states in vital arms and munitions.

Although the two allies still are on the defensive, henceforth Anglo-American war output should pile up an ever-increasing margin of armament superiority.

U. S. producing capacity in particular is just beginning to swing into an all-out war scale. The mighty auto industry, for example, is now being furiously converted.

Sage old "Bernie" Baruch comments: "We can't yet crack our heels together in celebration, even if things are better."

What he means is that there are still plenty of sour spots.

Some of these are: labor supply, certain obstacles in the flow of materials, shortage of materials, inadequate use of equipment, insufficient subcontracting, red tape and bureaucratic obstruction...

But despite all these, U. S. industry every week is pouring out a steadily soaring floodtide of war supplies. On the basis of a private survey made by the authors of this column, it can be stated definitely that with the British Empire's greatly accelerated production the two Allies now are ahead of the Axis.

Note: The survey was limited on the Allied side to the U. S. and British Empire because it is impossible to get detailed information about Russian production.

Buy Defense Bonds—MERRY-GO-ROUND

Congressional critics of President Roosevelt are caustically denounced by A. F. Whitney, white-crested president of the Railroad Trainmen, in the latest issue of the union's magazine.

WHAT single mistake, error or so-called faux pas in the rickety history of sport cost the largest amount of money?

There have been more than a few such slips, many of them normal mishaps, that ran the bill from $100,000 to $500,000.

This argument came up in the wake of Billy Conn's misguided left hook which happened to land on his pa-in-law's head in place of his pa-in-law's chin, nose or abdomen.

Conn, one of the sharpest of the snipers—labeled another Jim Corbett by Bill Brady—cost himself, Joe Louis, Mike Jacobs and the Army Relief fund from $500,000 to $700,000 by being off the beam many inches.

A Few Others

There was the time Fred Snodgrass of the New York Giants dropped a fly ball in Boston in the Red Sox-Giant World Series of 1912 with Christy Mathewson pitching.

There was the time when jockey Johnny Pollard, riding Seabiscuit in the Biscuit's first Santa Anita Handicap, failed to hear the $100,000 thunder of Rosemont's approaching hoofbeats.

There was the Hugh Casey-Mickey Owen twister in the Yankees-Dodgers battle last fall that lifted over $200,000 from the two ball clubs and sent it back to the ticket holders in the wiped out sixth contest.

Bob Pastor will make up a good part of the Conn loss if a summer heavyweight fight is arranged. Which means, of course, that the army must be willing to grant Joe Louis a leave.

But a Louis-Pastor battle would not draw as well as the cancelled or postponed Conn entertainment for several reasons. One is that this would be Pastor's third parking spot in front of the two Louis fists, meaning right and left.

For all that, Pastor has earned his place as the next in line. He was at least smart enough not to throw a left hook into a concrete wall.

What's the Source?

The amount of money sent through mutual windows so far this spring has astonished even the racing optimists. This has been especially true of New York and Maryland tracks where both the crowds and the cash have set up a flow of new records.

New York will hit and pass the $60,000,000 mark at Belmont. The line at the $10 windows is the longest racing has ever seen.

With extra billions scattered around and fewer things to buy, including sugar and gasoline, they storm the impregnable fortress of thoroughbred chance.

No small part of this money comes from war work for the government and that is one of the reasons that at least a part of it should go back to government war work.

Just how long, or how much longer, this golden flow will pour through the mutual windows is another guess. More than one big Belmont day will pass the $2,000,000 mark.

It isn't such a wrecking matter to beat a race—or even to beat a day's card. But anyone who thinks he can beat 12 per cent through a week or a season has an imagination too extended to be measured by either time or space.

REWARD

I hereby offer a reward of $25 for each arrest and conviction of any person or persons giving or selling whiskey, wine, beer or gin to my son, Edgar Stephens, on credit or otherwise.

I have had so much trouble along this line, I will appreciate the help of anyone. I think, if we women and others who are interested in doing an everlasting good for our county and children, would go to work and circulate a petition and get the required number of legal voters to sign it...

While merchants work to comply with the price ceiling regulation, landlords in rent controlled communities this week are trying, a few with not very good grace, to reconcile their minds to the fact that OPA is not going to let them inflate rents.

For the retailer and the landlord, therefore, these are days of drastic adjustment to the necessities of a total war economy.

OPA will begin this week a national check-up to see whether retail merchants are complying with the General Maximum Price Regulation by posting properly selling and ceiling prices of the cost-of-living commodities.

I will take the time and secure the number of petitioners and we will submit this question to the people of this county, if I can get the co-operation and assistance of the citizens and interested organizations of our county interested in this move.

I am yours for a better, healthier, Floyd county and state.

THE HOME FRONT

HERE IS A RESUME OF IMPORTANT HAPPENINGS

OPA at grips with inflation. More rent control coming. Retail Compliance check starts.

Gasoline prices ordered posted. Handicapped found useful. WPB forecasts more scarcities. Salvage still vital issue. Pocket knife manufacture out. Allies trade knowledge, supplies.

Our nation at war on the seven seas is fast coming to grips with inflation at home.

With the General Maximum Price Regulation in effect and rent control an actuality in an increasing number of defense rental areas, the Office of Price Administration now finds itself in the thick of the fray.

While merchants work to comply with the price ceiling regulation, landlords in rent controlled communities this week are trying, a few with not very good grace, to reconcile their minds to the fact that OPA is not going to let them inflate rents.

In the major departments of our emergency war effort on the domestic front, progress is reported.

Process of adjusting pre-retail prices where retailers are being squeezed has begun. OPA is considering a "roll back" of wholesale prices of men's and boys' work clothing at wholesale manufacturing and cloth stages.

Government rent control is being gradually extended. During the past week, 24 additional defense areas were designated, bringing the total of designated areas to 366 with a population of 80,000,000 people.

Gasoline business is now brought into line with the General Maximum Price Regulation. Gas stations, by order of Price Administrator Leon Henderson, must post ceiling prices and the grade of gas.

A few days ago War Manpower Commission Chairman Paul V. McNutt released figures of the United States Employment Service showing that a growing army of physically handicapped men and women is taking a place in war production.

We cannot afford to waste manpower, nor can a nation fighting for the freedom of all permit discrimination against any group because of race, color or creed.

Because we are pouring everything we have into the war effort, we are faced with shortages of vital materials, shortages which, according to WPB's Division of Materials, will grow more serious as the war progresses.

That last necessity, more than ever before, indicates a spare-time job for each of us. WPB stresses the urgent need for civilian collection of scrap, especially metals and old rubber.

Only by scraping the bottom of the barrel shall we have enough for victory. That was true some months ago; today, it is a matter of pressing, immediate, continual need.

Russia has sent us valuable data on building tanks and technical experts on explosives, Australia is servicing our forces in the Far East.

American warships are being repaired in British ports, just as British warships are being repaired in American shipyards and American airplanes are supplied at Australian airbases.

It's one for all and all for one, in the fight to lick the Axis.

USO QUOTAS REACHED

In Some Counties With Many Yet To Report

While the USO campaign will not begin in some of the Kentucky counties until about June 15, several counties in the state have already exceeded their quotas and many other county committees are now bringing their campaigns into full swing, according to Dr. Frank L. McVeey, state campaign chairman.

The counties that have raised or exceeded their quotas to date are the following: Bath, quota $250, raised $346.55; Bullitt, quota $325, raised $513.33; Carroll, quota $600, raised $611.25; Grant, quota $380, raised $560.98; Hardin, quota $1,300, raised $2,178.42; Kenton, quota $12,000, raised $13,117.25; Mason, quota $2,875, raised $4,509.11; Mercer, quota $1,000, raised $1,096; Nelson, quota $900, raised $892; Pendleton, quota $500, raised $650.

Other counties that have made reports but have not reached their quotas are: Barren, $211, Bourbon, $769, Boyle, $1,688.63, Caldwell, $713, Christian, $1,119.80, Clark, $1,144.85, Gallatin, $238, Harrison, $601.10, Henderson, $2,773.67, Letcher, $500, McCracken, $2,300, McCreary, $250, Menifee, $53.13, Montgomery, $386, Nicholas, $131, Owen, $418, Pike, $1,359; Powell, $25, Pulaski, $662.82, Rowan, $425, Todd, $479, Trigg, $247.80, Woodford, $313.

In addition to Boyd, Fayette and Jefferson counties which will have their USO campaigns in the fall, Dr. McVeey said there are 70 counties in Kentucky organized for the USO campaign that have not made their preliminary reports and that the grand totals reported from week to week should show substantial increases as these additional counties are heard from.

Prescott S. Bush, national campaign chairman, announced that $7,020,658 had been raised in the USO campaign throughout the nation through June 6. This is more than 35 per cent of the $20,000,000 spring goal. The balance of the $32,000,000 national goal is to be raised in fall campaigns.

Among the many services rendered men in uniform by USO is the distribution of testaments. The national USO headquarters reports that requests for testaments by service men to chaplains and clergymen at USO centers has increased nearly 50 per cent in the past few months. The American Bible Society reported that its daily issuance is now $9,000 or $4,000 more than in

The U.S.A. is going to have less melody so that our aviators may sing a song of destruction over Germany and Japan. A recent WPB order stops manufacture of almost all musical instruments in order that more guns may be fired, more bombs dropped. The 15,000 tons of war materials which went into pianos, saxophones and other musical instruments in 1940 would have supplied the iron for 11,500 6-ton army trucks, steel for 83 medium tanks, brass for 49,000,000 rounds of 30-caliber ammunition, copper for 500 155-mm field pieces, aluminum for 40,000 aircraft flares.

We're going to get along without any new carving sets, pen and pocket knives and manicuring scissors. WPB decided they weren't necessary in wartime, ordered their production stopped after June 30.

Here's what the saving means in terms of metals and materials badly needed in the fight for freedom—6,000 tons of iron and steel, 2,000 tons of stainless steel, and 600 tons of copper alloy, and smaller amounts of nickel, chrome, rubber and plastics.

The U.S.A. has put more materials and finished products into the United Nations' pool than any other of the democracies, because we have had more to give. We've sent and are sending vast quantities of weapons and supplies to our allies in the form of lend-lease shipments.

Now, however, the adventure in co-operation is working both ways—we're getting help from those allies as well as giving it. Lend-Lease Administrator Edward R. Stettinius, Jr., the other day disclosed that the British are feeding our troops in Northern Ireland, furnishing them with supplies and building their camps and that Great Britain also has turned over much military equipment to us, including a complete gun factory.

Russia has sent us valuable data on building tanks and technical experts on explosives, Australia is servicing our forces in the Far East. American warships are being repaired in British ports, just as British warships are being repaired in American shipyards and American airplanes are supplied at Australian airbases. It's one for all and all for one, in the fight to lick the Axis.

Other services rendered to our fighting forces by USO are being discussed over radio from day to day.

Prestonsburg's 'Night Life'

ENFORCEMENT of this town's ten o'clock curfew for children under sixteen years and of the loitering ordinance "rolling up the sidewalks" at midnight for those who would prowl the place, the night through, is a splendid move on the part of city officials.

Nobody's trying to invoke "blue laws," and nobody is objecting to these ordinances who want to see an orderly community. Children belong at home after ten o'clock at night, and older persons loitering on the streets after midnight belong in jail.

Continued enforcement of these ordinances will result in a sharp reduction in the number of burglaries committed by those who loiter in dark corners after lawabiding folks have long since been in bed.

WAR OF NERVES

BRITAIN'S open warning to the French people to evacuate coastal areas subject to invasion is a further step in a continuing process that points eventually toward invasion of the continent. One immediate effect of such warnings is to give the German high command further notice that an invasion is coming.

WE are willing to stand our share of the taxes which must be levied to finance the war. But we, also, are aware of the statement that "the power to tax is the power to destroy."

war of nerves. It is a sincere bid for the cooperation of the French people, especially those who live adjacent to the coast. Perhaps most of them are unable to move inland. But if some do leave the threatened areas, it will make the task of the United Nations easier.

The Germans are attempting to use the civilian population of Holland, Belgium and France as a shield to protect themselves against invading British and American troops. The Nazis would not hesitate to use the women and children of the unfortunate coastal regions as hostages to prevent Allied landings.

One cannot doubt that this broadcast is a highly significant one. It defines the pattern of Anglo-American strategy for coming months. Yet it gives the Nazis no valuable information, because it reveals neither the time nor the place of the coming invasion.

IS LITTLE BUSINESS SAFE?

WE are willing to stand our share of the taxes which must be levied to finance the war. But we, also, are aware of the statement that "the power to tax is the power to destroy."

Big business can stand this. But what about the tens of thousands of small businesses? Even if they could operate on that basis, would their future not be practically frozen and their ability to expand be destroyed?

Many little businesses are already feeling the onslaught of the current crisis. With a large number of products frozen and their production stopped, garages, electric supply shops, oil stations, etc., will have a difficult time keeping their doors open.

If little business is too badly handicapped, big business will get bigger and the next thing we know the country will be dependent almost entirely on big business for its existence.

The insidious danger in taxation to the point of confiscation is not only that individual business will be destroyed but our whole free economy which we are fighting a war to protect may be gone in the twinkling of an eye.

Congress has a tremendous responsibility to balance its tax program so as not to kill private enterprise that has made the United States.—The Kentucky Standard.

WASHINGTON, D. C. WAR FLASHES

Belgian anti-Axis saboteurs have blown up one of the largest synthetic fertilizer plants in their country. This is a serious blow to the Nazis, who have been using the output of this plant for food production in Germany.

For more than a month there have been no cereals of any kind on the Sofia market. Also the lack of feed, commandeered by the Nazis, is so severe that thousands of horses have died of starvation.

Four small Buffalo concerns are demonstrating that where there is a will there is a way to aid war production. Three of them, tombstone manufacturers, have obtained contracts to sandblast castings for battleships and machine gun mounts. The fourth, which formerly made wig-wag turn signals for trucks, is now making armaments parts.

When Nazi stooge Quisling recently issued a call for enlistments in a select "Quisling Guard" only 35 in the whole of Norway responded.

The labor shortage in Italy has become so acute that all males between 14 and 70 and all females between 16 and 60 have been required to register for "war work service."

CONGRESSIONAL GRAB

Even Washington, where congressional hoodling is an old story, was startled when some 300 senators and representatives took "X" rationing cards giving them an unlimited supply of gasoline.

The capital well knows that few members of congress have sufficient "official business" to warrant an "X" rating. Also, after the way the boys got their fingers burned in the attempted crude "bundles for congress" pension grab, it was thought they had learned their lesson—for this session at least.

But it seems they haven't, for the gas grab is only part of the rationing ducking story.

OPA has said nothing about it, but the inside fact is that a number of the congressional statesmen have privately demanded that the drastic tire restrictions be lifted for them so that they can get tires for campaigning purposes.

Further, none of these politicians said anything about extending such a concession to their opponents. They want tires for themselves, but their rivals must abide by the regulations without any special favors.

So far OPA has turned a deaf ear to the tire demand.

Note: One reason why "X" cards were dishied out so freely on Capitol Hill was that a number of congressional wives acted as registrars.

FAST THINKER

Popular pastime at Selective Service is swapping stories about draftees. Here is the latest making the rounds:

A prospective draftee was taking his physical examination and the doctor directed him to "look at the chart on the wall and tell me what numbers you see."

"What wall?" asked the draftee blankly.

After looking him over a few minutes the doctor told the registree the army couldn't use him. He put on his clothes and departed. But on the way home, he stopped off to see a movie. When the lights went on at intermission, he was startled to find the examining physician seated beside him.

But the draftee was equal to the occasion. Nudging the doctor he asked innocently, "Can you tell me if this is the bus to Alexandria?"

JAP OIL

Navy experts are closely watching destroyed oil wells and refineries in the Dutch East Indies and Burma.

Orders have been issued that samples of oil, grease, gasoline and fuel oil from captured Jap equipment be rushed by the fastest route to the Engineering Experimental station, Annapolis, where analysis will attempt to ascertain from what region, and even from what well, the original crude was obtained.

Nearly all oil wells and refineries were destroyed when the Allies were forced to retire from the Netherlands Indies and Burma, but the Japs are working feverishly to get the fields back in production. So far there has been no sign of any Jap use of this oil.

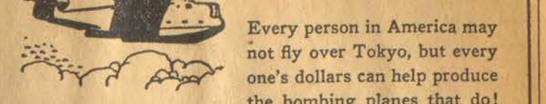

Note: A quart is needed for a thorough analysis, but if no more than a smear can be found, the navy wants it.

MERRY-GO-ROUND

The hens of the nation are doing their part for the war. This year's egg goal is 51,900,000,000 eggs—13 per cent more than in 1941. And so far this year egg production has been running around 16 per cent greater than 1941.

TIDBITS OF KENTUCKY FOLKLORE

THE HORSE-POWER THRESHER

TODAY we are to go back into a past that seems almost as remote as the threshing-floors of ancient Egypt. And yet it was considerably since 1900 that the old horse-power thresher was still going as strong as ever.

Wheat was cut with a cradle, tied by hand, and shocked. Then, when it had had time to dry out sufficiently, say by the Fourth of July, the thresher started. Threshings were neighborhood affairs and constituted one of the big events of the year, balanced by hog-killing later in the season. The machine itself was owned by a few neighbors, who threshed their own and the wheat of a whole side of a county, charging toll in kind, like the old-fashioned mills. But the running of the great day was something more than this. Four stout teams were needed to keep the "power" going, that is, the machinery that turned the gin by means of some connecting rods. As many teams as necessary were used in hauling the wheat from the shocks to the gin, unless the stacking of the bundles had taken place prior to the threshing day. The crew itself consisted of the following people: the driver, who stood on a little platform in the middle of the power and popped his long blacksnake whip over the teams; the cutter of binds; the feeder, who fed the wheat into the thresher; one or more to measure the wheat as it came out; two or three men on the stack in the dust and straw; and probably several miscellaneous helpers at the gin. The other hands hauled wheat, sometimes one man spent a lot of time oiling the machinery, a fellow who always looked very important; and, of course, there was the water boy, an important part of every working, from building the pyramids to WPA. Since several crops might be threshed at one time, hands were never too numerous for the hot, dusty work.

The man who fed the gin was the real boss of the whole gang; his speed determined the speed of the others. When the teams started straining at the power, the wheels would squeak and start reluctantly. After the machinery was going at a normal speed, the bind-cutter cut a bundle and the feeder fed it into the wildly-turning teeth. If the sound indicated that everything was right, he fed the gin with a rhythm that everybody envied. I can still see him swaying with the left-to-right and right-to-left movements that resulted from his skillful seeding of his bundles into the maw of the machine. It was regarded as a sort of disgrace if the boy or man who was passing wheat to him, with the heads turned toward the gin, got behind and had to be razed in a loud voice.

The meanest labor of the whole thing was that on the stack. The old thresher did not have a device to blow the straw out of the gin. Straw and dust were dumped on an endless belt which operated a thing like a gangplank. This device could be moved around, but it was necessary to fork up the straw and place it all over the stack. In the blinding dust the men working at this got as dusky as negroes. Though everybody hated to do this manual labor, always somebody would volunteer to do it to save a reputation; laziness or taking the easy job was too much of a disgrace for any to shun dirt or grime.

But not all of the wheat-threshing was work. Dinner-time came by and by. The women and girls of the neighborhood were on hand with quantities of food ready. Ablutions in the washpans removed some of the grime, enough to make faces resemble whiteness. And how we gobbled in our loads of strong, simple, good food!

The horsepower thresher disappeared long ago. In general the threshing now is not the neighborhood affair it used to be. But lots of us remember the sort of thing that Grant Wood has so deftly pictured in "Wheat-threshing."

MONEY TALKS By FREDERICK W. STAMM Economist and Director of Adult Education University of Louisville

CONGRESS is now working on the new income tax law, and from all indications we are all going to turn over to Uncle Sam a much larger share of our incomes than ever before.

This proposed law will lower exemptions for single persons to $500 and for married couples to $1,200 a year. When this law passes, as it undoubtedly will, from seven to ten million persons who now pay no taxes at all will be taxed, on the average, about the equivalent of half a month's salary. The single person now making $600 a year, or $50 a month, will pay a tax of $14 under the proposed schedule while a single person making $1,200 a year will pay $119 tax. Last year a married person with two dependents who earned $2,400 annually paid only $6 federal income tax; if he made $2,500 he paid only $12 tax. Under the proposed law these persons would pay $58 and $75 respectively.

The married person with no children who earned $2,500 last year paid only $90 tax, but under the proposed law he will pay $219 next year. The new law also proposes to raise the normal tax rate from 4 per cent to 6 per cent and to increase the beginning surtax rate from 6 per cent to 12 per cent.

You may ask why I am writing on this subject nine months before you will pay your tax, March 15 next. It is because I think you should begin planning for next year's taxes. Why not put aside of each pay check an amount which will enable you to pay your tax in full next March? This plan should eliminate some financial worries when you are struggling with your tax return. To be on the safe side, just figure that your tax next year will be at least twice what you paid this past March. This is especially true for persons making between $800 and $5,000 a year. "Uncle Sam" needs money to carry on this war, and he is going to reach into our incomes for larger and larger amounts. We had better face these facts now and prepare for them rather than wait.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

A LETTER TO THE FOLKS AT HOME

Please print one of the dearest letters ever read from a son, or brother. This letter was received from Glenn Stumbo by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Stumbo and family, McDowell, Ky., immediately after learning he was to be sent across. He was in Camp Crowder, Missouri, for three months with the signal corps; took the examination with three hundred others. Ten passed and he was one of the ten. He is one of the first from Floyd county to pass this examination and go across so soon. He is very fond of this kind of army work. I hope this letter will influence other mothers' sons who are being called upon and will enable some of them to have more courage and take a better attitude toward fighting for our country in the time of need.

MRS. G. C. STUMBO

The letter follows: San Francisco, Calif. (Other address and date omitted)

My Dear Family: It was rather a shock to me, as well as it will be to you, to learn I am going across so soon. Really, I thought I was being transferred to another camp of higher learning, until I find myself here on an island (name not mentionable). We have already received our inoculations and readily prepared to go across and have also been informed we are leaving, just when and where to—of course, we don't know. If we should be couldn't say, because one slip of the tongue would do our enemies good.

I realize just how serious all of you are going to take this, but, please, may I beg you not to worry about me. This is the first time I have really been able to realize I am in war, but somehow I feel happy to have the opportunity to be of service and help preserve this beautiful country of ours, which has always had a desire for peace and freedom. We can't all stay in the U.S. and win this war. The sooner we go, the sooner we get back home. Anyway, I don't feel my name is marked on any of the enemy's ammunition. I feel I shall be O.K. and I really don't want any of you to worry about me. I didn't get to come home and see all of my family together again. I realize what you will do to mother and father, brother being in such poor health. At don't look at the worse side of this, look at the good I can do for my country. Don't get worried if you don't hear from me, for it may be some time. I can't say just when I am leaving, but I am going soon. So farewell to the U.S. for awhile and God bless my family.

Regrets Resignation Of Mayor Arnold

Resignation of Mayor E. P. Arnold as a member of Draft Board 44 here was accepted with regret by State Selective Service headquarters, as evidenced by the following excerpt from a letter addressed to Mr. Arnold by Frank D. Rash, state selective service director:

"It was with deep regret we received your letter of June 4, 1942, addressed to Governor Johnson, tendering your resignation as member (and chairman) of Selective Service Local Board No. 44. Likewise, we are most regretful to learn of your state of health which has brought about this step on your part. However, we feel that only this reason could have brought about your resignation, inasmuch as you have devoted yourself to the work of Selective Service with energy and fairness, always seeking to be just to your nation and to the registrant. Suffice to say that Governor Johnson and the entire personnel of state headquarters are abidingly grateful for your very fine co-operation with state headquarters, and trust you will look back with satisfaction upon your service to your country in these vital and trying days."

Rationing of Coffee, Cocoa, Tea, Is Seen

Washington, June 9—An official forecast of America's food and clothing situation lists coffee, tea and cocoa as likely to be rationed and clothing as an eventual rationing possibility.

The forecast, by Joseph L. Weiner, deputy director of the War Production Board Division of Supply, was given at a press conference yesterday. It pictured the commodity situation as follows:

Rationing of coffee, tea and cocoa is likely. Bananas will be scarce. Fish supplies will be limited by the submarine hazard to fishing fleets, and lend-lease shipments will reduce the amount of pork available. But there is no danger that the country will lack necessary staples.

Rationing of clothing probably can be avoided this year, but the WPB is unwilling to make predictions beyond that time. Wool may be forbidden in some types of clothing, and woolen mills will be required to blend some other materials into their fabrics. More cotton must be worn.

Shoes may be scarce. However, stocks of shoes and clothing in commercial hands are higher than they ever have been.

Because of power and oil shortages, travel will have to be curtailed. Persons who can convert oil heating equipment to the use of coal should do so immediately.

The shortage of houses and rooms in war-congested areas is such that permitting them to remain vacant will not be tolerated.

Two Floyd Countians, Navy Plane Mechanics

Two Floyd countians, graduates of the Jacksonville, Fla., Naval Air Station, are playing an important part as mechanics in the ground crews which keep the country's fighters and bombers flying.

Barnabas Osborne, 20, brother of Ernest Osborne, Prestonsburg, is now plane captain at Norfolk, Va., and James S. Neff, 24, formerly of Prestonsburg and a son of Rev. C. L. Neff, is a mechanic. Repts Osborne, a brother of Barnabas, is a corporal in Panama.

Exam Is Announced For June 22nd

A U. S. Civil Service examination has been announced for the position of mechanic-learner in the U. S. Signal Corps. This examination is open to men between the ages of 16 and 50 and will be given June 22, at the postoffice building, Paintsville.

Approximately 120 men will be hired each month to begin training in the Mayo State Vocational School, Paintsville, at a salary of $85 per month. Persons interested are urged to see or write Hobart G. Conley, U. S. Civil Service examiner, postoffice building, Paintsville, for applications.

2,400 MEN WANTED

In Airplane Factories; Carpenters Needed, Roache Says

The Pikeville office of the United States Employment Service has received another order for 2400 workers needed immediately by one of the large airplane factories in the East, J. Hayden Roache, manager of the office, said Wednesday.

Men from 17 to 50, not in IA draft classification, with at least six months experience using small hand tools, working on or assembling metal parts, may qualify, Mr. Roache said. Anyone who has worked as an automobile mechanic, refrigeration mechanic, bicycle repairman, typewriter serviceman, auto service station attendant, or similar occupations, should submit their applications immediately through the Pikeville office, Mr. Roache added.

The office also has an order for 700 journeyman carpenters needed in the construction of a large army camp in Western Kentucky. The age limit is 60 years. All carpenters who are unemployed, or who are not working at their highest level of skill, should report to the Pikeville office immediately.

Manager Roache announced that the local office is now open from 8 a. m. to 9 p. m., through the week and from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m., on Saturday. The personnel of the office is concentrating, first, on locating those precious skills required to make planes, ships, and guns; and, second, directing these skilled workers, no matter where they live, to jobs in war factories, no matter where located. All other local office services are scrapped for the duration, Mr. Roache said.

Three From Langley Enlist in Navy

Answering the Navy's urgent call for more recruits, three young men from Langley, this county, enlisted last week for immediate duty. They are now at the U. S. Naval Training Station, Great Lakes, Ill., undergoing recruit training.

During the course of this training, the men will be given a series of aptitude tests to determine whether they will be held for further specialized training at one of the Navy's many service schools, or assigned to active duty at sea or some other shore station.

The three recruits are: James E. Blackburn, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. Blackburn; Elwood W. Tackett, 18, son of Abel Tackett; Delbert Ison, 27, son of Mrs. Louise Ison.

Drift Youth Stars For Erie Team

A recent edition of the Dispatch-Herald (Erie, Pa.) devotes considerable space to the batting and fielding of Jimmy Vance, rightfielder and general handy man for the Erie team of the Middle Atlantic baseball league.

For the night before, Jimmy, a son of Mr. and Mrs. German Vance, of Drift, and well-known to baseball fans throughout this section, had merely contributed five hits in six times at bat, besides contributing two circus catches. Vance, who will not be 21 till next month, was inside the charmed 300 circle at the plate, last figures here showed. He recently passed his first army physical examination but hopes to complete the season before his induction.

The Floyd countian prefers the position of catcher, but has played this season in the outfield in most games, occasionally helping out at third.

TEACHING VETS

Kimber's staff still is working on voluminous files of individual cases, but 57 of them were available for analysis Monday. The annual pensions range from $100 to $630, to be paid quarterly. Average of the 57 studied is $223. One out of every 15 teachers is 60 years old or older, and one out of 15 will draw the annual minimum of $100.

The $630 pension, highest on the list, will go to J. S. Cotter, veteran negro teacher at Louisville. "They can't live on an average of $223 a year," Kimber said, "but it will help." At the beginning, many of them thought they would be lucky to draw the minimum of $100. The $223 average is not bad, too, when you consider it will be drawn by teachers who have invested only 4 per cent of their salary for two years."

Service records of the older teachers show many of them started teaching in the 1880's and 1890's. They started mostly in one-room country schoolhouses, where the term was six months and the pay was $35 a month, or $215 a year.

Checks for the first quarter will be mailed on or about October 1, Kimber said, and will continue quarterly so long as the teachers live.

Several Kenton county 4-H club members established model gardens with the aid of the local Kiwanis club, which contributed seed.

Many orders for hybrid corn delivery already have been booked in Webster county.

BAILEY GIVEN LIFE

Taft Moore while their attorneys hastened to prepare a motion for a re-trial.

The verdict came on the fifth day of the trial, and only a few hours after Special Judge Joseph D. Harkins, of Prestonsburg, instructed the all-male jury to disregard the testimony of eight defense witnesses—including that of Elsie McCoy, for whose love the state contended Bailey engineered the slaying.

A motion was entered by the defense for a new trial, but Judge Harkins overruled it. Counsel for the defense took exception to the ruling, but did not disclose whether there would be an appeal.

Bailey and Jarrell were then brought into the courtroom and sentenced, Judge Harkins told them that, if their conduct was such as to warrant it, they would be eligible for parole in eight years. Three months off each year for good conduct would be deducted, the judge added.

Bailey was held in jail here "for safekeeping" for two weeks after his arrest in 1941.

Names of the Floyd countians on the 13-man jury follow:

Willis Wallen, Henry Swafford, Jess Patrick, Abe Green, Charles Laferty, R. M. Hall, Joe Miller, Denzil Whitten, W. J. Vaughan, B. M. Ousley, Jim Crager, Tobe Shepherd, Lee Robinson.

BECAUSE of the scarcity of certain critical metals needed for our armed forces, the Government has been compelled to curtail their use for new electric line construction.

The order of the War Production Board forbids us to extend our lines to new customers other than defense housing for a distance of more than 250 feet from existing facilities.

Even where the distance is less than 250 feet we are restricted in the amount of money we may expend for the new construction.

If you plan to build or occupy premises not now supplied with electricity or if you contemplate changes which would necessitate enlargement of our facilities to serve you, please consult us. We shall be glad to give you full information concerning the restrictions and in this way you may save yourself unnecessary disappointment and expense.

Emergency Call For Stenographers And Typists Issued

Cincinnati, O., June 5 (Sp.)—An emergency call has been issued by the United States Civil Service Commission for stenographers and typists for duty in Washington.

"The demand for intensified war effort both in our battle lines all over the world and in production at home to sustain that aggressive action which General Marshall stated is at hand, has resulted in a shortage of stenographers and typists in Washington, which, unless relieved immediately, may seriously delay our war program," D. C. Whelan, acting manager, Sixth U.S. Civil Service District, Cincinnati, stated today in a most urgent appeal to stenographers and typists to offer their services immediately. "Appointments of qualified applicants will be made at once at $1,440 a year for Junior Stenographers and Senior Typists and $1,260 for Junior Typists."

Mr. Whelan appealed to the patriotism of stenographers. "Our men in the battle lines are dependent for their supplies on the correspondence, orders and specifications that must first be typed. Our fighters are doing their duty heroically. It is as much the patriotic duty of stenographers to do their part to help them save our freedom as it is for those who are fighting and dying in battle zones all over the world."

SHIKE'S POKES

(The views expressed herein are those of the writer and not necessarily those of this newspaper.—Editor.)

I saw Perry Osborne Sunday—and was he "hot"! He sez that he went down before the Sugar Rationing Board, as per instructions, and that the "women" or "woman" working there treated and talked to him like he was a prisoner of war. He sez that he felt so badly that, if he had been a "G-Man," he would have surrendered. But he sez everything worked out O.K. when he got hold of the gentleman in charge.

Everyone sez we're going back to the good ole days. With the tire and gasoline rationing, we'll be riding hoss-back. But it seems that "Chub," Tilton, Mitch, Ike, et al, have gone 'way back. From reports, they have gone back to cave dwellers—but Chub sez they won't make a "go" of it. It's too steep getting to and from the cave—and hard on ole clothes.

What's this I hear about Fortune Magazine taking a poll of the people to find out where our complacency was? They found "it" right in Congress. We knew that all the time. The people are all out to win this war regardless of what it takes, and a bunch of isolationists are just sabotaging our efforts. I even believe we've got fifth columnists in Congress. Just look how they are bungling the soldiers' pay raise.

I'll bet that when those British bombers got through with Cologne—that smell wasn't even Eau-de-Cologne.

I read it somewhere: "Cold feet" usually carry "hot heads" away from trouble.

Rationing or no rationing, we never heard of a Senator running out of gas. But in "Happy" we sure have a "flat tire."

Two years ago, the d—Nazis were gloating over the bombing of open cities. Now, the shoe is on the other foot. The Germans are quaking in their boots. They can dish it out but they haven't got the guts to take it. But they're going to get it, anyhow.

Just why should members of Congress rate more gasoline than men going to and from work in jobs vital to defense? What this country needs is a lot more Walter Winchells—and a hell of a lot less Nyes, Wheelers, Chandlers and Tafts, also less Hoffmans, and Fishes. Winchell is an American first, not an America Firster.

We have a report that Harve and "B. H." have a job as "coffee men." Mack almost took a job with them.

Kel's "sang" hound turned out to be a flop. After the dog had stayed bred all night, Kel went to him and—you guessed it—he had treed a rattle weed.

According to The Floyd County Times last week, it looks like Draft Board 44 will have to draft them a bodyguard.

It's an ill wind that blows no one good. The women were yelling their heads off about the girdle shortage. But the sugar shortage is liable to make the girdle unnecessary—at least less girl will be worn in them.

OUR GREATEST INSTITUTION

By the REV. W. B. GARRIOTT
Pastor, Prestonsburg Methodist Church

With appreciation for a kindly statement last week from the editor of The Times regarding a statement I made to him about writing an article about church attendance, I am writing these lines.

I would like to have stand out in your thinking one question: What institution offers you more in the community than the church? When you start in life it offers you more than any other institution; for it opens its doors to you, whether you are rich or poor, small or great, educated or uneducated, whether you have friends or whether you do not have friends. Other institutions may "blackball" you for some unknown reason, but never the church, for she throws her doors wide to you to attend her services, contact the best people of any community, to worship God by singing, praying or by the ministry of His word.

If you are love sick, she offers you a place at her altars for marriage or will lend you her preacher for this purpose. When children have come into your home she will help you with their religious education by offering you a good church school every Sunday morning. If you are sin-sick, she offers you a place at her altars to seek God and the best religious people of the community to help instruct and pray for you. If you are in trouble, there is no one who has greater influence to help you than the members of the church. If you are sick or one of your loved ones is sick, she lends you the sympathy you so much need under those circumstances.

The church can help you with your difficulties and finally minister to you when the end draws near and when the things of this world are so valueless and you need some one to give you encouragement and direction for the other world into which you are going.

I have not written these lines just to say this, but the church has done far more for you. If you are a farmer, the church in your community increases the value of your land. If you own property in any community, the church has made it more valuable. It has helped with your education, for the people who loved the church were the people who blazed the way in the wilderness of this country and built first a place to worship God and then a place to teach their children and their children's children. The church has given us our colleges and universities and opened up the way for your training for life. The church has taught the right way of life and living and has stood four-square against the evils of the land which are doing so much to injure our young as well as the older people. If you are in a legitimate business the church has helped your business and if you are not in a legitimate business you should have greater respect for the wishes of others and be a better citizen for the sake of society.

The church, being the best institution for good in the community demands your respect, your presence, the presence of your family and your full support. I am not speaking alone of your financial support, for you ought to give it that, but you owe it your support by making a place for the church in your life and your family and by regular attendance upon the services.

Why not do something about it?

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

Our army spells and pronounces it ponton, not "pontoon," as you do. Ponton bridges cost all the way from $15,000 to $700,000. The smaller bridge using individual metal pontons is pictured here. The largest ponton bridge is 1,080 feet long and is made of rubber instead of aluminum.

One small bridge has a weight capacity of 25 tons, using about 2,000 individual metal pontons. The smallest is used only to take troops over smaller streams. But whether our army uses the smaller or largest ponton, our engineers need plenty of them. If you and every American invests at least 10 percent of income in War Bonds every pay day we can supply our fighting forces with these essentials to a victorious war.

every week-end had been "scrapped," more than a week earlier, by the county or the rural highway department or somebody operating a grader.

Scraped? Gosh, the road hadn't even been bruised! All the old holes were there, and some new ones are a-borning. Not a ditch had been cleaned out, and the whole thing just lies there for next winter's freezes and snows and rains to finish the job begun last winter.

They talk about wasting gasoline. If that wasn't a waste of fuel, not to mention time and money, I'll be eternally confounded!

REWARD

When Robert Wallace, clerk of the draft board, notified Haywood of this, he immediately left via thumb-and-grin for the Inland Steel Company laboratory at Wheelwright where a sympathetic and patriotic personnel made the test for him.

When Haywood left here Friday morning, he whined, "Say—it's a lot of work getting into this man's army."

CREED FOR AMERICANS

To W. S. Homan, secretary, Big Sandy-Elihuorn Coal Operators Association, THE TIMES is indebted for the following which has been called "A Daily Reminder":

We are in a fight to death for existence—not conquest. Personal profit will not come before national welfare.

My spare time is to be used for my country's needs.

I will economize on all essential war materials.

I will save, segregate and make available, waste material essential to the war effort.

I will help avenge Pearl Harbor treachery.

NYA-TRAINED YOUTH

and Belvard Friend, Prestonsburg, who had the same number of hours accompanied the group. Emory Brooks, Pikeville, who was trained in the Prestonsburg shop, also left for defense work this week.

Homer Thacker, who had returned home from his defense job at Baltimore for a tonsillectomy, left last Friday. Thacker was one of the first trainees to be sent to war production plants. The official personnel of the local shop said that all the boys, indicated by letters written by them, were "doing splendidly." Quillen highly commended "the fine type of youth being enrolled in our shop."

Goebel D. Burton, NYA Area Personnel director, announced that the following boys left this section May 28, destined for training at the Lake Reba camp, formerly a CCC camp, near Richmond: from Floyd county—Ernest James Wiley, Ambers Rook, Jr., Howard D. Williamson, Jesse Kazee, Cecil Meade, Joseph F. Crum, Gene P. Smith, all of Betsy Layne; and Clarence Perry, Oscar Tackett, James Porter, of Haroid.

From Pike county, and registered at the local office—James E. Williamson, John Milkovitch, Billy B. Williamson, Douglas S. Large, of Stone; Calvin H. Browning, McAndrews; Hubert H. Hogg, Ocalaosa; William C. Charles, Meta. The Richmond camp is a resident center and the boys there will receive $30 a month while in training.

On May 21, Mr. Burton said, the girls listed below left for the resident center at Carrollton, where a number of Floyd county girls are already in training: from Floyd county—Helen Smith, Alma J. Sherman, Inez R. Wells, Margery M. Meade, Margaret Reitz, Fay Kimble, the eventuality of the pair he was wearing getting wet—this boatman whose cargo was destined for delivery in the most violent manner on Germany and Japan is no "river rat." He looks the part of a well-to-do farmer "riding" the hobby of boating.

Marcella Craft, Sible Smith, Rhoda Leslie, Estelle Boyd, Virginia Burchett, Virginia Reitz, Orpha Lewis, Lilly B. Lewis, Edith M. Perry; from Pike—Pauline Griffith, Anna Griffith, Beulah M. Griffith, Luna Louise Ratliff, Dolly S. Compton, and Pauline Jackson from Johnson county.

RAFT-HAND OF OLD

His daily voyage on these salvage trips is from daylight till dark. Last week, passing here, he said he was making for the Patrick Swirl, below here, before tying up for the night.

Mr. Burchett is a son of the late John and Fanny Patton Burchett. He married a Lawrence county girl and established his home, near the river's edge at George's Creek, 48 years ago. "I settled down but didn't desert the river," he explained. "This war, though, got me to making my old trips like I did, back in rafting days." He has two sisters, Mrs. Tennessee Jarrell and Mrs. John Layne, who reside at Betsy Layne; another sister, Mrs. Cora Nelson, of Pikeville. One son, Bill Burchett, lives at Betsy Layne and works at Drift; another, John, lives at Louisa and is a railroad section crew workman, while a third resides at Clothier, W. Va. His two daughters, Mrs. Marie Preston and Mrs. Elma Burchett, live at George's Creek.

"A boat is the safest of all ways to travel," he commented as an Army bomber winged overhead while being interviewed here. "But I've rid some airplanes and they're a danged sight safer than a car."

As he tied his boat up for the night, he inquired about the war news. Up on the bank he found that he had left his cane in the boat, but decided that he didn't need it anyway.

"I'm old enough to use a cane, all right," he commented, "but I'm too young to think about it."

Prestonsburg Scouts Win Three Contests

Competing with four Pikeville troops at the Boy Scout Rally held May 31 at Pikeville, members of Prestonsburg's Scout troop won first place in three of the contests staged, J. H. Keenon, scoutmaster, announced.

Gomer Stiles won the axe-throwing and fire-by-friction contests, and Charles Tackett and Jerome Stephens were first in Morse code signalling.

Competitors from the Prestonsburg troop placed second or third in all other contests. Prestonsburg Scouts attending the rally were Martin Luther Vaughan, Eugene Tackett, Charles Tackett, Howard Hall, Gomer Stiles, Jerome Stephens, Junior Williams. They were accompanied by Mr. Keenon and George Straughan, assistant scoutmaster.

Tractor Wreck Costs Owner $3,000

Winston Ford, Prestonsburg hauling contractor, estimated his damage at $3,000 after his tractor "threw" its driver, Bob Clifton, through the top of a beech tree atop a mountain on Jones Fork, Knott county, last Thursday, and wound up as scrap at the foot of the mountain.

Clifton was treated at a hospital for minor injuries.

The drilling rig which was being hauled up the mountain was undamaged, Mr. Ford said. The rig belonged to James Webb, of Allen. The contractor said the tractor, in use only five months, was uninsured.
