

2 SHIPS SUNK, SAILOR HOME IN COUNTY

Osborne Man, Survivor Of Two Ship Sinkings, Is Ready For More

After having had two U. S. merchant ships blasted from beneath him by torpedoes, Seaman Carl F. Roberts, 24 years old, last week had the good earth of Floyd county again under his feet. He was visiting his mother, Mrs. Rhoda J. Roberts, at Osborne, on Mud Creek.

But it's back to the sea for him again, as soon as he gets new identification papers. He lost his old ones in the sinking of his last ship in the Caribbean.

Roberts was rescued from a life raft on which he had floated three days after the sinking of his ship last month. The sinking was announced by the Navy only last Saturday.

Last April, the Floyd countian was aboard a merchantman sunk in the Atlantic. On that occasion he was in a lifeboat five days before he was rescued. After that first torpedoing he visited his mother and sisters, Misses Faustina Fern and Arminia Roberts, in Lexington where his sisters were students at the University of Kentucky.

FLOYD NATIVE DIES IN BOYD

Mrs. Rebecca Sutton, Mother of Ex-Judge, Succumbs Friday

Mrs. Rebecca Conley Sutton, wife of John C. Sutton, and a former resident of this county, died Friday night at her home on Bear Creek, Boyd county, at the age of 85, relatives in this county were notified.

Mrs. Sutton, mother of the late Circuit Judge W. W. Williams, of this Judicial District, had been ill for two years. The funeral was conducted Sunday afternoon from the Sutton residence, the Rev. Bascom Hillman, of Ashland, and the Rev. Isaac Stratton, of Banner, officiating. Burial was made in the Sutton cemetery on Bear Creek.

Mrs. Sutton was a daughter of the late Sampson and Elizabeth Fields Conley. She had been a resident of Boyd county for the past 23 years, and was a member of the Mt. Zion Missionary Baptist Church, taking an active interest in church work until ill health forced her retirement.

Mrs. Sutton is survived by her husband, John C. Sutton, one son by previous marriage, Fred Williams, of Garrett, two other sons, Ed Sutton, of Maytown, and Green Sutton, of Bear Creek; two daughters, Mrs. Theodore Ruggles and Mrs. Lindsay Lambert, both of Buchanan, Ky., a half-sister, Mrs. Sally Fitzpatrick, of Lackey, twenty-one grandchildren, and 10 great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Virgie Fraley, 49, Succumbs Near Here; Ill Two Years

Mrs. Virgie Hopson Fraley, 49 years old, wife of Ben Fraley, died Sunday at her home after an illness of two years.

A daughter of William Lilliton Hopson and Mrs. Delleah Music Hopson, she was born and reared in this vicinity, and was highly respected by all who knew her.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Fraley is survived by six children: Ben Fraley, Jr., Mrs. Howard Hyden, Belva, Motella, Elvin and Irene Fraley; also three brothers and two sisters. Four children preceded her in death.

Burial was made in the May cemetery, near here, under direction of the Arnold Funeral Home. Funeral rites were conducted by the Rev. James Roark, of the Freewill Baptist Church.

MISS MORELL DIES AT 68

Well-Known Woman, Victim Saturday; Rites, Sunday

Miss Ella Morell, member of one of Prestonsburg's most prominent families, died Saturday morning at 2 o'clock at the Prestonsburg General hospital, victim of a cerebral hemorrhage following an illness of a few days. She was 68 years old.

Miss Morell was a daughter of the late Francis Hutton Morell, former Floyd County Judge, and Mrs. Bell Christine Hatcher. She was born May 1, 1874 and had spent her entire life here. She had been in ill health for the last year, but her condition became serious only a few days before her passing.

A member of the Presbyterian Church, Miss Morell was one of Prestonsburg's best women and her life was particularly marked by her ministrations to the sick of the community.

Surviving are one sister, Mrs. Charles Friend, of Prestonsburg, and two brothers, J. M. Morell, Sr., Prestonsburg, and W. F. Morell, Hickory, North Carolina.

Funeral rites were conducted Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Methodist Church here, the pastor, the Rev. W. B. Garriott, officiating. Burial was made in the Porter cemetery here under direction of the Arnold Funeral Home.

Active pallbearers were Ralph Taylor, R. D. Francis, Willie Melton, J. D. Harkins, Jr., A. L. Davidson, Jo M. Davidson, G. R. Spradlin, J. A. Spradlin, J. W. Hensley, Bill Blackburn, Roe Layne, J. J. Hatcher and O. D. Rice.

KNOTT JAILER, HEART VICTIM

Rites for Mrs. Dan Hays Held from Courthouse At Hindman Friday

Special to The Times
Hindman, Ky., Nov. 23—Funeral rites for Mrs. Dan Hays, Knott county jailer, who died at her home here Wednesday morning, last week, of a heart attack, were conducted Friday afternoon from the Knott county courthouse, the Reverend Bell, pastor of the Baptist Church, officiating. Mrs. Hays was 52 years old.

She underwent a major operation at the Good Samaritan hospital, Lexington, a month prior to her death, and was believed to be convalescent when the fatal attack came. She had returned home, only a few days before her death.

Mrs. Hays succeeded as Knott county jailer Mrs. Willie Dobson, who was appointed to the office upon her husband's death.

Surviving her are her husband, three sons and two daughters: George, Sam and Thomas Warren Hays, all of Hindman, Miss Helen Hays, Lexington, and Miss Mary Elizabeth Hays, of Hindman. Burial was made in the Hays cemetery.

WILL PERKINS, VICTIM
Will Perkins, 50 years old, son of the late John Perkins, of Hindman, who died at Dayton, O., Nov. 15, of pneumonia, was buried in the Stone cemetery here Sunday following funeral rites at the Owens Branch school near here.

Mr. Perkins had been employed in a war production plant at Dayton prior to his last illness. His mother, Mrs. Lina Perkins, of Hindman, his widow and seven children, three of whom are sons in the army, survive.

'CATS, TIGERS MEET TODAY

Traditional Grid Foes End Season in Tilt On Local Field

Prestonsburg's Black Cats today (Thursday) are hosts to their traditional gridiron foes, the Paintsville Tigers, in the annual Turkey Day game between the two schools—and anything can happen.

Neither team is an aspirant to Conference honors this year, but both are worthy foemen. Both teams have played Pikeville's Panthers, and Paintsville lost while Prestonsburg held the Pike countians to a scoreless tie. The Paintsville team, however, scored on Pikeville, which might indicate that the Tigers have an edge in scoring punch.

But the dope means nothing for this game. The story may be told when the final play is run, ending the 1942 grid season for both teams.

CONGRESSMAN AND MRS. MAY RETURN HOME

Congressman and Mrs. A. J. May and Mrs. Olga Latta and son, Clifford, Jr., returned to Prestonsburg Friday from Washington, D. C., by special train. Mrs. May is ill at her home on Second avenue. Congressman May will remain here for a few days before returning to Washington.

WOUNDS GIRL, KILLS SELF

Ligon Girl's Condition Considered Critical At Pike Hospital

After firing a revolver bullet into the body of Miss June Rose Atkins, 17 years old, of Ligon, this county, William H. Curry, 35, Delbarton, W. Va., turned the weapon to his head and sent a bullet through his own brain Saturday night at Pikeville.

Miss Atkins is in a critical condition at the Methodist hospital, Pikeville, with a bullet wound in the region of her heart.

The suicide and attempted murder took place in Curry's automobile at the highway bridge at the lower limits of Pikeville. Arthur Maynard, 20, McAndrews, Ky., who was driving the automobile, said Miss Atkins and Curry engaged in a brief argument which ended in the shooting.

Maynard was the chief witness at the inquest held Sunday morning and was not implicated in the tragedy.

Curry is survived by his widow and several children, it was said in Pikeville.

RETURNS FROM ST. ALBANS

Mrs. Osa F. Ligon, who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. John R. Clarke, and Mr. Clarke, at St. Albans, W. Va., has returned home.

Over the Top by New Year's Is the Plea of Secretary Morgenthau

November 13, 1942

As of today twenty-one million American workers are investing eight per cent of their salary—every pay day—in United States War Savings Bonds. This is a very remarkable tribute to our armed forces who are fighting this war. But this job is only two-thirds accomplished.

There are nine million additional American workers who are not investing in War Bonds every pay day.

This appeal is directed to two groups of Americans:

First—the twenty-one million people who are investing eight per cent of their wages. We ask them to increase their investment to ten per cent or more.

Second—the other nine million whom we ask to join the Payroll Savings Plan and to invest ten per cent or more of their earnings.

It is our earnest hope here at the Treasury Department that by New Year's Day thirty million Americans will be investing ten per cent or more of their wages in War Bonds through the Payroll Savings Plan.

Henry Morgenthau Jr.
SECRETARY OF THE TREASURY

Youthful Veteran of Sea Battles Visits Parents at Leslie Home

Frank Leslie, coxswain of a U. S. cruiser, was home with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Leslie, at Emma, this week, after months of almost continuous action during which he and his mates took part in four major sea engagements with the Japs.

The youthful Leslie, who entered the Navy almost two years ago, shortly after graduation from Prestonsburg high school, is home because his ship was damaged in the Solomons battle, October 11 and 12. He'll be ready for action again, shortly after December 1.

With him Leslie brought a piece of the Jap shell that damaged his ship, killing five and wounding 10. "We were hit, but we never stopped firing, kept our place in battle line and stayed with it till the enemy withdrew," he said.

That the American navy took heavy toll of the Japs during the two-day battle was attested to by a Jap lieutenant-commander brought aboard Leslie's ship as a prisoner with five other Jap officers and four sailors. "The Marines rescued them," Leslie said, "after we had sunk their ship, then brought them on our vessel. The lieutenant-commander, who incidentally graduated from Cornell University, second in his class, inferred that we got 19 of their ships."

Leslie and his ship saw action in the Wake Island battle, the attack on the Marshall and Gilbert Islands, two engagements off the Solomons, and also protected the Marines when they made their initial landing on Guadalcanal.

Asked what a raging sea battle was like with all guns going, the young veteran replied, "It's like the Fourth of July in a big city with everybody drunk—only more so. But we don't mind the fighting, it's the suspense before the fight gets under way that's hard. Once we get into action, there's no excitement; every man fights his best, and that's about all there is to it."

No Jap can excel the American fighting man in sheer nerve, Leslie declared. "I saw one of my best friends hit by Jap shrapnel while firing a five-inch gun. The shell fragment struck his hand, ripped across his abdomen and knocked him from his seat. The boy crawled back up, fired another salvo and dropped off, dead."

The Floyd countian told of seeing the aircraft carrier Wasp go down and of the action when the U. S.

Hueysville Youth, 15, Succumbs at Hospital

Oscar Prater, 15-year-old son of Dee and Mrs. Mary Jane Prater, of Hueysville, succumbed Saturday at the Beaver Valley Hospital, Martin, a victim of dropsy. He had suffered from heart disease for some time, but had entered the hospital, only three days before death.

Besides his parents, he is survived by two sisters and four brothers. Funeral rites were conducted Monday from the home, the Revs. Banner Mamm and M. C. Wright officiating. Burial, under direction of the Ryan Funeral Home, was made in the Prater cemetery on Salt Lick Creek, near Hueysville.

SCOUT GROUP IN MEETING

Floyd Countians Named To Council Positions At Jenkins Meet

Ninth annual dinner of the Lonesome Pine Council, Boy Scouts of America, comprised of 15 counties of Eastern Kentucky and part of Virginia, was held in Jenkins Nov. 17 at the Methodist Church.

The program was opened by Scouts of the Jenkins Troop with a flag ceremony, with "To the Colors" played by Billie Mabe of Jenkins. After the turkey dinner, which was served by the Woman's Missionary Society of the Methodist Church, a report of Council activities was given by Charles E. Hudson, scout executive.

E. R. Price, Wheelwright, chairman of finance, gave the finance report, stating that the Council had begun the year with $3,800 indebtedness and had every assurance that the year would be closed with a clean slate. John G. Green, a member of the budget committee, gave the report in J. B. Dupuy's absence for the 1943 budget. The budget for all four districts will be $23,000, including two new field men to be employed by the council.

Mr. Price reported for the nominating committee, and the following were elected for the year 1943: President, H. E. Greer, Hazard; vice-presidents, R. L. Gordon and J. G. Green, Hazard, Ernest Smith, Grundy, C. A. Sine, Sr., of Big Stone Gap, J. D. Snyder, Jenkins, J. S. Miller and W. W. Barrett, Pikeville; council treasurer and commis-

U. S. Maritime Service Drive Nears Goal

Headquarters of the Fifth Regional District, United States Maritime Service in Cleveland, O., announced last week that its current drive, launched Oct. 1, is only 500 short of its goal of 2,500 men by Thanksgiving Day.

The Maritime Service is recruiting men from the states of Ohio, Kentucky and Michigan to train for active duty in the Victory Fleet—America's Merchant Marine. The 2,000 men who have enlisted so far during the 57-day drive will supply trained crews for approximately 50 Liberty Ships, carrying the materials of war across the seven seas to fighting fronts.

Enlistments in the Maritime Service are open to men between the ages of 18 and 35, who can pass the physical examination of the Merchant Marine Naval Reserve, a companion service into which the men are sworn at the time of their enlistment for Merchant Marine training.

Apprentice seamen in the Maritime Service are paid $50 a month during the three-months training course which prepares them for high-pay jobs at sea. Advancement is possible after 14 months of sea duty when the seaman can apply for officer's training.

Entertains with Party On Birth Anniversary

Emma Lou Taylor celebrated her tenth birth anniversary Saturday evening with a party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Taylor on Third avenue, having as her guests a number of young friends. Games were enjoyed, and Emma Lou was the recipient of many handsome mementoes of the occasion.

REGISTRATION FOR GASOLINE ENDS MONDAY

Coffee Ration Set-Up Cited by Board Here As Sales Frozen

Gasoline rationing is no bogeyman story—it's to become a reality December 1, as far as the Floyd County War Price and Rationing Board could determine this week—and there's a lot to be done, if every automobile and truck now in operation continues to be driven.

First of all, not more than 75 per cent of car owners have registered for gasoline allowances. And not more than 10 per cent of the truck owners have filed their Certificates of War Necessity with the rationing board from which gasoline coupon books must be procured.

Registration of automobile owners continued at the rationing board here this week, but will definitely end Monday, it was said. There are approximately 2,100 car-owners in the county, and not more than half of these are believed to have registered for gasoline rations at the designated times of registration at the county's schools.

Coffee rationing to consumers begins Sunday, Nov. 29. Meanwhile coffee sales have been frozen from the period Nov. 21 till midnight Nov. 28. Stamps in "Sugar Ration Books," numbers 20 to 27, are to be used for coffee rationing, and so possessors of these books will have no trouble getting their allowance of coffee, provided they are 15 years of age or older. Stamp No. 27 will entitle the consumer to one pound of coffee for the first five weeks of rationing.

Those who do not have sugar ration books have till Dec. 15 to procure them. After that date, they will not be permitted to register and then may be deprived of both sugar and coffee for the duration.

Retailers and wholesalers now permitted to sell sugar will not be required to register to sell coffee. Filling station operators and other vendors of gasoline, however, must register Dec. 1 at the rationing board in order to continue sales. At the close of business on Nov. 30 they will lock their tanks and report to the rationing board, next day, the amount of gasoline on hand.

PUREBRED CATTLE FOR SALE

We have purebred Aberdeen-Angus cattle for sale at prices ridiculously low in comparison to prices asked and received by breeders, down-state. Compare our prices and quality of cattle with those of Central Kentucky breeders, then save money by buying at home from a herd of the nationally-known Marshall blood strain. Cattle may be seen at farm on Salt Lick Creek, two miles from Bosco railway station.

SPORTSMEN RE-ORGANIZE

New Officers Named For Fish, Game Club At Maytown Meeting

Re-organization of the Floyd county Fish & Game Club was effected Thursday night at Maytown, with the appointment of new officers to serve until the Jan. 1 annual session of officers.

Paul F. Jarrell, Langley, was named president; Carl Horn, Prestonsburg, vice-president, and V. O. Turner, Langley, secretary-treasurer. They were appointed by V. A. Hayes, who then resigned as vice-president of the club. The president, Roland Cassidy, of Langley, and secretary-treasurer Russell Hagewood, of Prestonsburg, had already tendered their resignations.

Resignation of Cassidy and Hagewood was in protest against failure of the Division of Game and Fish to appoint V. A. Hayes as part-time warden in this county after directors of the club, except one, and all county officials had recommended Mr. Hayes for the post. Hayes held that, since officers and directors of the club had no power in the naming of a warden and as the almost unanimous wishes of the club had been ignored in the appointment of a warden, the situation was one in which "one man in the affair."

L. J. Gerlach, of Allen, who was appointed part-time warden, offered to resign, if his resignation would be in the interest of the club, but was asked to continue his work. County Clerk A. B. Meade stated that no more hunting and fishing licenses would be sold by the club on a commission basis.

FLOYD COUNTY NEEDS...

FOLKS tell us that Floyd county needs advertising.

We tell folks, Floyd county is being advertised.

Yet they are not satisfied. Neither are we.

The only advertising the county gets is through the columns of THE FLOYD COUNTY TIMES—that is, the only advertising story that pictures the county as it is.

The daily newspapers tell the crime story of Floyd county; now and then take a snapshot of the industrial growth of the county—but fail consistently in portraying the county and its people in their diverse interests, industrial, religious and social, that might favorably present Floyd county to the "outside world."

Then the story of Floyd county must be told, if it is to be told, by this newspaper, its readers and those who advertise in it.

As a newspaper, THE TIMES can only recite the happenings, from week to week, as they occur, with the comment it cares to make on conditions. It has, in the past, also published, mostly without charge to any individual or group, such advertising as would indicate that the county's population is patriotic (see advertisements on War Bond sales, quotas, scrap collections, et cetera).

But that is not all that is needed. Floyd county's business men have their own story to tell—and the full picture of Floyd county cannot be painted in without their help.

Neighboring towns, through regular advertising channels used by "hometown" merchants, may be falling short of what is needed of them to advertise their counties and county-seats. But, if they are, merchants of Prestonsburg and Floyd county are sorely delinquent. (A comparison of weekly newspapers of the section will eloquently show such shortcomings). Folks, any business man should know, judge a town or city, and also judge their business men or firms, by the advertising they do.

The war has curtailed many items we all would like to sell or buy, many services we need and others could render. Yet the war should not, must not, stifle the life of this or any other community. For Peace Days are ahead. We shall win this war; the United States and Floyd county will last out the war. It is up to this newspaper, its readers and the business firms which should advertise in this newspaper to give Floyd county the advertising that we all agree it needs.

BRIAR BUCK'S SCRATCHES

(The views expressed herein are those of the writer and not necessarily those of The Times.)

Since the editor of this matter-of-fact weekly persistently declines to publish poetry of whatever merit, I must forthwith reassert my rights as a free American and, under the protective shield of a free press, forward to you some of my choice two-liners:

WHITTLING JOE

Here's a fellow you'd like to know, A citizen named Whittling Joe.

Joe is whittling in a plant, Whittling things the Axis cant.

Whittling with his sharp machines Cargo ships and submarines.

Whittling bombers, whittling tanks, Whittling shells in shiny ranks—

Shave a sliver off Benito, Slice a slab off Hirohito.

And Joseph really whets his whittler Whittling as he whittles Hitler.

That's a job that Joe enjoys, Whittling down the Axis boys.

Whittling Joe is never through— He likes to whittle with dollars, too.

So every payday Joe is fond Of whittling Hitler with a bond.

Multipled by fifty million, Whittling Joe is some civilian!

II

Here's a fellow you all know, He's doing a job for Whittling Joe.

He is whittling in a mine, Inside where the sun don't shine.

Mining with his sharp machines, Coal that helps make submarines.

Planes and guns and fighting tanks For our soldiers in the ranks.

He's now working every day In the real American way!

Multipled by half a million, This coal miner's some civilian!

The first 20 lines were hatched by the famous Ogden Nash, and the dozen on the tail-end were added by T. A. Day, of Island Creek Coal Company.

A copy of these two-liners was recently inclosed along with the pay slip of all employes of Princess Elkhorn Coal Company, Danville, Ky.

Where Floyd Countians in Armed Forces Are, What They're Doing Told

The graduation and promotion to sergeant of Randolph (Billy) Burchett, son of Mrs. Nora Burchett, of Prestonsburg, has been announced at AAF Flexible Gunnery School, Ft. Myers, Fla., by Col. Delmar T. Spivey, commanding officer of the southwest Florida aerial gunnery school.

Sergeant Burchett has just completed an intensive five weeks' course of instruction in the operation of the large guns that arm American planes against enemy attack.

The course of instruction consisted, in part, of training in aircraft identification and recognition, a close study of the mechanism of the .30 and .50-calibre machine guns, instruction in methods of estimating the speed and distance of a plane, rifle and machine gun practice on ground ranges, training in the operation of modern and complex power turret operated guns, and, finally, practice firing from a plane at a target towed behind another plane.

Pvt. Eugene Crum, son of Mike Crum, of Wayland, has graduated from an intensive course in aviation mechanics. He now is eligible to become crew chief on a bomber and to win a rating as corporal or sergeant. Before entering the school, he was trained at one of the basic training centers of the Air Force Technical Training Command and learned to fight with other than besides the tools of his trade. He trained by the Command are versed in the art of protection and offense as well as repair.

The following newly inducted personnel of the United States Army have been sent forward from the Reception Center at Fort Thomas, Ky., to the stations and addresses indicated:

To Army Air Force, RTC, Fresno, Calif.—Laymond Robinson, Way-close study of the mechanism of the .30 and .50-calibre machine guns, instruction in methods of estimating the speed and distance of a plane, rifle and machine gun practice on ground ranges, training in the operation of modern and complex power turret operated guns, and, finally, practice firing from a plane at a target towed behind another plane.

To Branch Immaterial, Fort McClellan, Ala.—James C. Ferguson, Wheelwright.

To Branch Immaterial, RT, Fort McClellan, Ala.—Raymond A. Osborne, Langley.

To Anti-Aircraft, RTC, Fort Eustis, Va.—William G. Goff, Jr., Martin.

To Signal RTC, Camp Crowder, Mo.—Hilben B. Friend, Prestonsburg.

To Engineer, RTC, Fort Belvoir, Va.—Howard D. Blackburn, Prestonsburg.

Well, Mom, you'd better be even more careful of your kitchen gadgets—because there aren't a-going to be any more where those came from.
The varied and colorful array of metal kitchen novelties, cooking utensils and housewares that in recent years have characterized the American home has been reduced to a few bare essentials by War Production Board action.
In the last four actions affecting equipment used in the household, commercial kitchen and army commissary alike, the WPB ordered elimination of practically all types of metal utensils and other equipment not already curtailed and imposed restrictions on the manufacture and design of those which are still permitted.
A few things escaped—if they contained less than 5 per cent by weight of metal—but the use of metal is completely prohibited by order in such things as rinsing pans, pot scrubbers, and sink accessories, dust pans, silent butlers, crumb sets, wash boards, clothes wringers, etc. This Monday was the deadline.

Coffee rationing will curtail consumption of the beverage in restaurants, hotels and institutions by about the same percentage from the normal as it will be curtailed for individual users.

Regulations covering posting of ceiling prices on cost-of-living commodities by mail order houses have been broadened by the OPA to include all sales made by mail, whether by a mail order house or by an ordinary retailer.

Farmers and processors selling live and dressed turkeys at retail to consumers other than commercial, governmental or institutional must not charge more than the highest price prevailing in the city, town or hamlet nearest to the seller's farm or plant, the OPA has ruled.

Construction of a sound, comfortable family dwelling is still possible under the restrictions imposed by the new war housing standards recently announced by the WPB, an NHA official says.

Plans for facilitating the collection and shipment of millions of pounds of waste kitchen fats in thinly-settled areas remote from rendering plants have been announced by the WPB's salvage section. Local salvage committees will have the information on two alternative plans.

Retail price reductions in knitted underwear of from 3 to 20 cents per garment are expected to result from an OPA order that savings in material costs must be passed on.

Advice to Christmas shoppers from the ODT: Carry your packages home with you but carry them on buses and street cars during off-peak hours when there is more room.

Donald M. Nelson, WPB chairman, has called for a full day's production on Thanksgiving Day, saying that "we can best show our gratitude by demonstrating that we deserve the mercies that have been shown us."

Ceiling prices for additional types of women's nylon hosiery have been set by the OPA. The new prices are for stockings that appear under the name of "nylon" but are neither sheer hosiery nor made of single filament nylon yarn. These are made of combination, spun, or blended nylon yarns. Spun nylon is yarn made from short lengths of nylon waste fiber. The maximum price for plain stockings of this material is $1.85 for first quality, $1.15 for irregulars, and 79c for seconds. For combination and blended nylon hosiery, the prices are $1.50, $1, and 75c.

Tips to help housewives make their mechanical equipment and appliances outlast the war will be offered in a series of pamphlets prepared by the Bureau of Home Economics of the U. S. Department of Agriculture and issued jointly with the OPA. The first, "How to Make Your Refrigerator Last Longer," is ready. Others will deal with stoves, washing machines, irons, and household rubber articles. Write to the OPA or the Bureau of Home Economics at Washington.

The living cost of families of city workers rose 1 per cent between September 15 and October 15. Most of the rise was due to the increased cost of food that was felt before the OPA extended price control over an additional 30 per cent of the family food items. Food costs in that period rose 6.6 per cent while the cost of other goods and services went up only 0.2 per cent.

Housewives are asked to save the grease from their Thanksgiving turkey to help make glycerine for explosives.

A stocking may be past the age where it's a credit to a lady's leg, but if it's silk or nylon it's valuable stuff for the army or navy. That discarded sheer silk evening stockings may turn up in an American gun, holding the powder charges that sets off a shell fired at the Japs or Germans. Please wash them before turning them over to the store, which must hold them until 100 pounds have been collected.

Permission to install used gasoline dispensing pumps and storage tanks on farms of 10 acres or more has been granted by the WPB. Equipment must be second-hand, fabricated before Jan. 1 of this year, and must be installed exclusively for dispensing petroleum products to farm operations on the individual farm.

Vigorous mileage rationing enforcement to cover every county in Ohio, Kentucky, West Virginia, Indiana and Michigan will be launched at the moment nation-wide rationing goes into effect at 12:01 a. m., Dec. 1. Three hundred investigators will start checks. In addition, many volunteers have been recruited to help the check.

The OPA is not planning to ration used automobiles, it says. A study has indicated that most of the cars being sold now are going to persons who would be eligible to buy them under a rationing program.

A general permit allowing local carriers to make three deliveries of flowers to a funeral home and two deliveries to a funeral at a private home on the same calendar day has been issued by OPA. It also allows a local carrier to make one additional call at one point on the same day for the purpose of removing wedding decorations.

A concerted drive to put into effect nationally as a war-time measure a retailer's economy-for-victory program has been announced by the OPA and the Department of Commerce. The plan, which involves elimination of peace-time customer special services, is designed to free manpower for essential war production.

Kentucky Man Receives Two Decorations

General Headquarters, Southwest Pacific Area—Sgt. Lewis Desimone, of McRoberts (Letcher county), Ky., was one of 29 officers and men of the United States Air Corps who received awards—silver stars and purple hearts—for action in the Netherlands East Indies, the Philippines, New Guinea and areas north of Australia.

Sgt. Desimone, who received the silver star award, was a radio operator on a flying fortress participating in a flight to bomb the air-drome at Kendari, Netherlands East Indies, on Feb. 8, 1942. The bombers were attacked by nine Japanese Zeros and when his plane was attacked he shot down one Zero in flames.

Another attack caused the bomb bay tank to ignite and he kicked the tank free from its shackles, disregarding severe burns he received while performing that feat.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

BOTTLE-NECK OR RED TAPE?

Editor, The Times:

There are several men throughout this mountain section who are too old for the armed forces but who would make good guardsmen, mail men and clerks. They would like to know where they could be of service during the war.

In the Newport News, Va., section, and I suppose around every navy yard, there are trained fighting men doing the above-named duties. Why not put these older men, many of whom are ex-sailors and ex-soldiers, at this kind of work and let the fighting men go where they can be of the greatest aid in winning the war?

Some of these men tell me that they have registered at their federal employment offices and have been told that no requests are ever sent to the employment office for this type of men. Is it because of a bottle-neck or a ball of red tape?

GEORGE MATHEWS,
Beaver, Ky.

Ways To Spread Meat Allowance

Planning the family's part in the share-the-meat campaign is a challenge to every homemaker. To get in step with meat-sharing is patriotic, it is fair and it will help in the effort for victory.

Farmers who butcher meat for home use and those who buy from farmers for storage in freezer lockers are expected to take part just as much as those who go to the meat market every day. For all, the allowance is three-fourths of a pound of veal, pork, beef or lamb for a child under six years of age, one and one-half pounds for each child from six to 12, and two and one-half pounds for a person over 12. "Bone in" is included in this allowance.

To get the most from the meat allowed, home economists at the Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics make these suggestions: 1. Keep raw meat in the coldest part of the refrigerator or in the coldest storage place available, which should be 45 degrees or lower. 2. Ground meat spots more quickly than meat in one piece; use it soon. 3. Cook meat with moderate heat to make it tender, save food value, and have more to serve. 4. Browning meat develops a rich flavor, but it may cause shrinkage.

Tender, well-fatted cuts of meat hold their juices when they are roasted or broiled at a moderate temperature. When water is used, it makes steam which forces out the juices and causes meat to lose both flavor and weight. Ground meats, too, should be cooked uncovered without water at a moderate temperature.

For tough cuts of meat, it is necessary to use water and a covered pan so that the steam will tenderize it, as in pot-roasting or stewing. Cook them slowly and for a long time.

Left-over meats may be combined with other foods to make such appetizing hot dishes as stuffed peppers, chop suey, browned hash or croquettes.

Sepator Bilbo's secret weapon, hot air, is the same kind "Dizzy" Dean used. Only Diz had something on the ball.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

Military motorcycles, for couriers, for speeding light guns from one section to another, are an important part of America's mechanized army. Many are equipped with sidecars for use of staff officers. They cost from $400 to $450.

We need thousands of these small maneuverable machines in our Army today. You and your neighbors, all buying War Bonds and Stamps, can help buy them for the Army. Invest at least ten percent of your income every payday in War Bonds and Stamps and become a member of the patriotic "Ten Percent Club." It is rapidly becoming the largest club in the world.

IN ASHLAND LAST WEEK

Dr. and Mrs. Marvin Ransdell were in Ashland last week attending a medical meeting.

SERIOUSLY SPEAKING

By E. F. EPLING

The spirit of misfortune and bad dreams interrupted my meditations and tried to make me believe I had nothing to be thankful for. But, as I began to snap out of it, the many things to give thanks for began to unfold. And the truth of the matter is, all along throughout the year I've thanked God. So it is easy for me to remember many other things this Thanksgiving and to know the Giver of all good gifts.

If our church bells should cease to ring as did the bells of Britain, when and if they ever tolled again, we'd hear the sweet music and the message of peace and love, as we've never heard it before.

Ring out the call, this Thanksgiving, in reverence to a free country and a God who is still on the throne. Then go to prayer with the nation in asking God's divine blessing for our country and our allies.

We'll not have turkey, but we might have a chicken—and that's plenty to be thankful for. And if the family is all well, that's much more room for gratitude than I know how to express.

A big part of our soldiers will have turkey and if I knew the rest would have chicken, I'd be satisfied with a baked potato. That's right, brother. Sometimes my soul rejoices so much to know how well Uncle Sam feeds his boys—well, I'm just not hungry. See?

$300 REWARD

The undersigned will pay a reward of $300 for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the person or persons who set fire to our garage early in July and who on two other occasions have prowled about our premises leaving gasoline in close proximity to our residence.

This also is to notify all persons not to come about our premises after nightfall without first making their identity known, since we must take steps to protect our home and property.

IF HEAD COLDS HANG-ON

DO THIS! To relieve discomforts, one of the best things you can do is put a good spoonful of home-tested Vicks VapoRub in a bowl of boiling water.

Then feel the wonderful relief come as you breathe in the steaming medicated vapors that penetrate to the cold-congested upper breathing passages! See how this soothing irritation, quiets coughing, and helps clear the head—bringing grand comfort.

FOR ADDED RELIEF... rub throat, chest and back with VapoRub at bedtime. Vicks VapoRub works for hours—2 ways at once—to bring relief from distress. Remember—it's Vicks VapoRub you want.

NO USE, ADOLF— YOU CAN'T SHUT OUT THAT HUM!

IT'S THE HUM of American men and machines at work—24 hours a day.

Free men and women—working hard and fast because they want to stay free.

Superb machines—turned by the world's greatest supply of electric power—pouring out weapons of war in thundering quantities.

Your people toil with bayonets at their backs—your machines are worn with years of war—your power production is far less than ours.

Sure, you got the jump on us, Adolf. But you can't win a mechanized war against the most highly mechanized nation on earth. Your system of state slavery can't compete with a way of life that respects the rights of individuals.

What have your folks got to fight for? Goebbels, Goering & Gang get all the glory. Over here, men know they'll be rewarded for initiative.

That's a powerful incentive. It has helped all our great industries to grow. It has helped the electric industry, for example, to give folks about twice as much electricity for their money as they got 10 to 15 years ago. That's our system of practical business management under public regulation.

American business management is behind that electric hum, Adolf—that insistent hum that will rise and roll and beat upon your brain—until you hardly hear our bombers overhead!

It's the hum of fate, Adolf!
