For the third consecutive year the University of Kentucky Wildcats defeated Washington and Lee's Gen erals when the two teams met on State field, Lexington, last Saturday afternoon. Kentucky won 35 to 14. Stagnant a brilliant offensive in the first quarter, with "Shipwreck" Kelly leading the way with long runs, the Wildcats scored three touchdowns in this period.

To meet the threat of the big team from Lexington, Virginia, Kentucky trotted out a group of football stars, some of them being shown above. "Floppy" Forquer, 200-pound guard of Newcastle, is captain of the Wildcats and he led a strong eleven out on the field which will fight to the last. Forquer is one of the university's Kentucky forward wall which will average more than 100 pounds. Williams, 211-pound center, and is shown in the above picture. Williams is recognized as one of the best centers in the South and is a leading candidate for all-southern honors. This fall, Connie Ross, of Evansville, Ind., was started at another guard. Ralph "Hale" Wright, of Sturgis, and Burton Abrabide, of Bonham, or Robert Kimping, of Carrollton, at the tackles. Four players, Ken Andrews, of Lexington; Bud Cavana, of Iowa Falls, Ia.; George Yates, of Elizabethtown, and Jake Branton, of Lexington, are in the middle of a fight for the end positions.

Now in that backfield which was hurried against the Generals was "Shipwreck" Kelly, of Springfield, one of the best halfbacks in the country, and his running mate was Cecil Urbaniak, of Fairmont, W. Va., a new star in the Wildcat organization. Kelly and Urbaniak, both shown above averaged better than a first down each time they carried the ball in the opening game against Sewanee, Kentucky won the game, a Southern Conference scrap, 35 to 0.

Jack Phillips got the call over Dick Richards of Denver, Col., for fullback. Phillips, shown above, hails from Ashland, and he has been leading the other candidates for fullback position a merry chase this fall. He is the back who tore Tennessee's powerful line to shreds last fall in the Wildcat-Vols 6 to 6 tie game.

Bo Meyer, of Louisville, brilliant little quarterback, is the other player shown in the above lay-out. He is a smart team general, and in addition is a shifty runner. He has been suffering with a leg injury, but was not in condition to work in the game against Washington and Lee. Carey Spicer, regular quarterback, barking signals.

It looks like a real battle when the Generals and Cats tie up. Kentucky has won the last two years, 4 to 0 and 20 to 6, but the Generals' Notre Dame formation may tell a different story this year. Through a great part of last Saturday's game with West Virginia, W. & L. was leading, by which token Kentucky expects a hard fight.

GLO

The stock, that ever-profitable bird so familiarly known in this section, paid a midnight visit to the home of Herbert Deskins and wife last Thursday and left to their keeping a ten-pound son, Herb Jr. Mother and babe are doing well.

SAD MISSION

Merle Griffith and wife were called to Hardin last week, to attend the funeral of a nephew, K. Bruer, who was killed in an automobile wreck early Sunday morning near his home, when a party of young folks in attempting to avoid one object in the road failed to notice another object on the other side, drifting head-on against the unseen object, capsizing the car, catching young Bruer beneath the wreckage and killing him instantly. The others escaped serious injuries. Young Bruer was 21 years old, well-liked and had many friends.

PUBLIC SPEAKING

About one thousand people, it is said, were in Wayland last Saturday night to attend the public speaking at that place. Judge Jay A. Vinson was the presiding official, and presided in his usual easy, affable and dignified manner.

Words Can't Describe Good Karnak Did Me

"I just know there is nobody in all the world happier than I about this wonderful medicine, Karnak. I have taken all kinds of medicines and treatments in the past ten years trying to get some relief from my suffering, but nothing helped me until I began Karnak."

"Oh, how I suffered with stomach trouble. Why, I was almost a nervous wreck from it. I had no appetite to speak of, food just didn't have any taste to me. But even though I would only eat the lightest kind of things, I would suffer just the same."

"I had just lost all my strength and at times I would feel so weak I could hardly walk across the room."

"I was so nervous and restless I couldn't get any sleep to amount to anything, and in the morning I could hardly drag myself out of bed. It began to look mighty blue for me, but Karnak has changed everything. It is too grand for words."

15,000 DEMAND SARGON DAILY

Vast Growing Army of Sargon Users, Marching Single File, Would Encircle Globe in Only Few Years Time

(By Richard L. Sirmey)

ATLANTA, GA.—More like a tale from the Arabian Nights of old than a record of modern business achievement reads the story of the marvelous growth and development of Sargon the New Scientific Compound which has become the sensation of the drug trade throughout the United States, Canada and other countries.

The phenomenal and unprecedented demand and its fame is rapidly spreading all over the entire continent.

Recently compiled figures reveal the approximately 15,000 men and women are searching for drug stores daily for Sargon and Sargon Soft Mince Pills. The marvelous new treatment that is restoring health to countless thousands of men and women is a remarkable medicine dreamed of only a few years ago.

Already more than 500,000 suffering men and women have put it to the test and have told other million what it has done for them.

Amazingly rapid growth of Sargon's popularity is being reached from New York to San Francisco, and at the present rate of sale—worldwide in a few years' time, encircle the entire globe.

The only explanation of Sargon's triumph in the Medical World is Sargon's true worth. Back of its triumph in the drug stores is its triumph in the homes and it is the grateful endorsement of its millions of users that has made it the most widely talked of medicine in the world today.

Sargon is consistently advertised. It is time, out no preparation, no medicine, no extensively advertised, could possibly meet it with such phenomenal success unless it possessed absolute merit and extraordinary powers as a medicine.

There can be but one possible explanation for Sargon's amazing success and it can be told in one word—merit.

REASONS

By M. B. W.
 In Salersville Independent
 October 10, 1930.

Someone has brightly suggested that it would be impossible to find a reason for voting against the Langley. They might have saved time by giving one reason why any one should vote for them. As usually under state a representative government is "of the people, by the people." The Fourth district has seemed minded to change this to "of the people by J. W. Langley and family."

Seriously, though, do we consider it possible that any one man or woman should be able to truly represent millions of people or a such an extended period of time as this family has been in office? Are we satisfied to have the world judge our people by the standard which J. W. Langley has set? Do we honestly believe that there is no other man or woman in all the Fourth district fitted for the office which the Langleys have held, as if it were theirs by divine right or inheritance?

Thoroughly, each voter is a potential office holder, in this land of the free, although actually we know that every voter is not fitted for representation by the experience for the responsibility which office holding entails. But it seems a life far-fetched to assume and actually act upon the assumption—that in all the wide-spread mountain country known as the Fourth district, the past quarter of a century has produced only one man or woman with the intelligence or ability to represent that district in the national congress. It must be remembered that Mrs. Langley is not a Kentuckian—cannot even have spent much time in our state, since the early part of her life was spent in North Carolina and the latter part as far back as many of us can remember, in Washington. She could hardly be called a mountaineer. And, somehow, it is difficult to imagine an outsider as adequately representing the mountain people.

Does it not seem rather out of keeping when we think of the sweet faced, calm and gracious women to be met so often on our trip through our hills, that we should be buying a woman from far-off North Carolina ten thousand dollars every year to "represent" them?

And it surely must appeal to any right thinking person, as utterly ridiculous that with all the splendid, upright men we have—men of untarnished reputation and unquestioned integrity—we should be keeping in Washington—J. W. Langley—Paid adv.

Representative James A. May, of Langley, was a Prestonsburg visitor last week.

In and out of Your Home Town

Every time a C. & O. locomotive whistles, somebody in your town thrills to the sound.

For it signals the arrival of welcome guests—words of cheer from far-off friends and relatives—commodities that will make life richer and happier. It calls you to depart for new adventures in other cities and other lands. Its cheerful blast is a comforting reminder of the never-failing incoming and outgoing service that makes you a close neighbor to all the world.

Reliability—that is the most valuable feature of the service offered you by the C. & O. But it expects to merit your continued good will by other qualities as well—economy, speed and friendliness.

KONJOLA GAVE NEW HEALTH TO KENTUCKY MAN

New Medicine Restores Energy and Strength to Sufferer From Stomach Ailment

MR. WILLIAM J. PYLE

"I cannot say enough in praise of Konjola," said Mr. William J. Pyle, 2428 Central avenue, Ashland. "I was in poor health for years because of a severe stomach ailment. There were many foods that I could not eat at all. I went South in an effort to regain my lost strength, but returned more ill than when I left. I lost weight and was discouraged."

"Up to this time I have taken but four bottles of Konjola, but I feel like another person. I now eat foods that were out of the question before. I have gained six pounds in weight and have more energy and vitality than I have had in years."

Konjola is free from alcohol, nerve-debilitating drugs and heart-depressing chemicals. It is a medicine for men and women of all ages. Taken regularly, over a six to eight week period, it will amaze sufferers from ailments of the most stubborn character. Konjola is sold in Prestonsburg at Hughes' Drug Store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

MILLER ELECTED BOBCAT CAPTAIN

Betsy Layne, Ky., Oct. 19 (AP).—The Betsy Layne Bobcats, meeting at the gymnasium Tuesday, October 7, elected Wilbur Miller captain of the basketball team for 1930-31.

The Bobcats have pledged full support to Mr. Miller, and will try to send a Floyd county team to the state tournament again this year.

Following are members of the Bobcat team:

Guards: Wilbur Miller, Gene Johnson, Green Conn, Fred Willburn, Forward: Palmer Conn, Harold Holt, Bill Stone, Denver Layne, Center: Duane Johnson, Burt Layne.

BOBCATS WIN OPENER

The Betsy Layne Bobcats won the opening game of the season here last Friday night, against the Betsy Layne Red Devils. The game was tied at 15-all, beginning the last quarter of play. The Bobcats then took a lead which the Red Devils could not overcome. This is the first time the Bobcats have ever defeated the Red Devils.

Mont Collins and family moved this week from College street to Bronkway into the residence property owned by Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Burk, who have moved to a residence in the Garfield Addition.

KENTUCKY BUSINESS ABOVE AVERAGE IN COUNTRY AS WHOLE

That the present economic depression has affected business in Kentucky less than in the country as a whole is indicated by a study of bank debits made by C. J. Bradley of the department of markets and rural finance, College of Agriculture, University of Kentucky.

Bank debits constitute a good measure of business activity, he says. During the first seven months of 1930, bank debits in the three bank clearing centers of Kentucky—Lexington, Louisville and two-centre billion dollar—when compared with the same months of 1929, a period of abnormally high business activity.

"It is interesting to note in this connection, that the dollar volume of bank debits during the first seven months of 1930 practically equaled that of the same months of 1929, when the depression is said to be the varying price levels of different years."

the purchasing power of bank debits in Kentucky during the first seven months of 1930 was greater than for any year of record, excepting 1929. "Three major reasons probably explain the lesser depression in Kentucky than in the country as a whole. The current year's tobacco crop, for Kentucky is primarily marketed early in the following year. The 1929 pennance was average and prices of other commodities. Then Kentucky's high level of industrial activity, and finally, the use of artificial means of stimulating the state, and also in Kentucky, the major economic factors of the state."

is in accord with the Youngstown Sheet Metal Company, some two-thirds of the right-of-way has been secured through the different states and a tract of land for the Dwarf tunnel has been purchased from St. Clair county, just above Dwarf in Perry county. There will be a compressor station placed upon this land and small pipes from the various wells will be run into this station and the gas turned into the main line. The outlay for machinery, et al at this point has been placed at some $250,000 to $300,000.

"There is an enormous market for such hams," says a dealer in the city. "The hams are sold by the label as such and sold on their merits," he continued. "The good ones win their share, and it is a good time to see the determination of the market for inferior hams. In 1912, 1913 and 1914 they must offer their goods for exactly what they are worth, and they will operate under their own pin."

"Every ham must have attached an official stamp certifying the chemical analysis of the feed and adding, in chemical analysis. It is the duty of the department to see that this is done. Farmers who wish to waste their money on hams, screenings, refuse, and other waste, and other worthless things, are

BETSY LAYNE COUPLE OBSERVE 6th WEDDING ANNIVERSARY OCT. 11

The sixth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Layne, of this place, was celebrated October 11. Their attendants were:

W. C. Johnston, best man; Mrs. E. A. Chittis, bridesmaid; Mrs. J. N. Woodling, bridesmaid; Mrs. M. G. Gasfield, maid of honor; Mr. and Mrs. T. K. Johnston, father and mother of the bride.

The couple entertained their many friends at the opera house October 11, and at the stroke of the clock at midnight and one minute after they formed in front of the stage, as they stood six years ago. Miss Tompkins Bishop was at the piano and played "Here Comes the Bride." Refreshments were served. Those present enjoyed the evening with cards and dancing. The couple's grandfather and grandmother, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Johnston, who were present six years ago, attended.

Names of those from a distance and at home who attended this interesting event follow:

Miss Tompkins Bishop, Sparranburg, S. C.; Jess. Elliott, South Bond, Ind.; Miss Annabel Porter, Berea, Ky.; Mr. and Mrs. Orville Clarke and son, Pikeville, Ky.; Cecil Clark, Pikeville, Ky.; Miss Annie L. Leslie, Coal Run, Ky.; Mrs. C. L. TWELVE FROM FLOYD AT UNIVERSITY OF KENTUCKY

A recent enrollment of 3,180 students was recorded by the registrar's office at the University of Kentucky. Lexington following the close of registration Monday, September 29. This figure represents the largest number ever to matriculate for any term of the school at the University of Kentucky.

Practically every county in Kentucky is represented in the student body, with 31 other states and five foreign countries tabulated in the enrollment records. China, Bulgaria, the Canal Zone, the Philippines and Canada are the five representations from outside the United States.

With the opening of the fall term of 1930-31 school year at the University of Kentucky, the new Teacher-Training school, constructed through funds donated by the General Education Board of New York City, and matched by the Kentucky legislature, was opened for instruction in courses beginning with kindergarten and continuing through four years of college.

Numbered among the students registered at the University from Floyd county are:

Vote for A. J. MAY FOR CONGRESS

Who is responsible for the business depression and panic?

What are the accomplishments of the Langleys?

VOTERS SHOULD VOTE FOR THEIR INTEREST

A. J. MAY

On November 4th the people will elect members of Congress and United States senators. The question before us is whether the people wish to sanction with approval the state of affairs which exist throughout the country. We are to decide whether we wish to perpetuate the efforts of Governor Flem D. Sampson and Senator J. M. Robison, who has unfailingly contributed whatever he could to the deplorable conditions which now beset the people of every part of Kentucky? We owe it to ourselves, our families and our country to weigh the facts and vote for what we believe will promote the best interest of the whole people, and for the candidate which, in our opinion, is the more likely to carry out that interest.

There has not been a campaign within our memory in which the leaders of the Republican party have not guaranteed prosperity in the event of their election and to predict its departure if they were defeated. This was done by President Hoover, J. M. Robison and Katherine Langley as candidates in 1928.

President Hoover in his speech of acceptance at Palo Alto, California, on October 11, 1928, used the following language: "The poor houses are vanishing from among us. We have not yet reached the goal, but, given a chance to go forward with the policies of the last eight years (Harding and Coolidge administration) we shall soon, by the help of God, be in sight of the day when poverty will be banished from this nation. There is no guarantee against poverty equal to a job for every man." At Boston on October 15, 1928, Mr. Hoover said: "The present issue is the well-being, comfort and security of the American home. On that issue my party presents as proof of its capacity the record of growing comfort and security of the past seven years." THIS IT WILL BE SEEN THAT WE ARE PROMISED PROSPERITY BY MR. HOOVER IN THE EVENT OF HIS ELECTION! It has now been almost two years since Mr. Robison and Mrs. Langley were elected to Congress on the promise of prosperity for the people. They are again asking for our votes and we should see if they have done anything which merits our support. On Saturday, October 18, 1930, there were 300,000 persons out of work in Chicago, and 4,000,000 out of work throughout the country. Thousands of these had no place to go to sleep except in parks, under viaducts, in alleys, barns and outbuildings. Thousands of men, women and children had no way of obtaining food other than by begging. When this condition was called to the attention of President Hoover he issued the following statement at Washington: "As a nation we must prevent hunger and cold to those of our people who are in honest difficulties." In 1928 Mr. Hoover, Mr. Robison and Mrs. Langley said that they and their party were responsible for the prosperity of the people and promised if they were elected we would receive four more years of Coolidge prosperity. We now know at breakfast time, at supper time, at schoolbook buying time and at shoe buying time that there is no prosperity, no comfort, and under present conditions no hope of recovery for the people. We know that we are in the midst of the worst panic that the people have suffered within our recollection.

Will Mr. Robison and Mrs. Langley be honest with the people and tell them who is responsible for the stagnation of business? Who has strangled, paralyzed and destroyed the coal industry of Kentucky? Who is responsible for the millions of men who are now out of work and whose wives and children are facing starvation? Who is responsible for the thousands of coal operators and business men who have failed?

CLEAR CREEK

The business people held their regular church meeting here, Sunday night. A large crowd attended.

Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Blanton, who have been confined to bed with typhoid, are slightly improving.

W. M. Boyd, of M. Freeman, Bill Brown and Andy Brown all attended church in Pike county Sunday.

Mrs. Sallie Brown, who has been drooping, will be taken to the Fike hospital for treatment.

Jarvey Brown, of Cincinnati, is visiting friends and relatives here.

Hillard Akers was visiting in Salisbury Sunday.

A. M. How II was visiting relatives on Prater Creek through the week end.

The mines have resumed operation at this place, after being shut down for six months.

H. S. Akers will leave in a few days for Cincinnati, where he may resume work.

Ted Newman will leave this week for London, Ohio, where he will spend a few days.

J. J. Mosley is moving to Hazard, where he will operate a restaurant.

B. Hall was the Saturday night guest of G. B. Newman.

EXTRA-CURRICULAR WORK BENEFICIAL

These different clubs are divided into two groups. Each group meets on Thursday of every other week of school.

The period of 40 minutes is set aside for each day for extra-curricular activities. Tuesday is the day for assembly conducted by the pupils.

The home room organization, not assigned for chapel projects, is a result of the school assembly. Wednesday is the day for the home room programs. These programs are prepared and given by the pupils in relation to their respective home rooms.

Thursday is the day for the meeting of the clubs. Friday is the day for special assembly programs. A list of having extra-curricular activities on Monday this day is set aside for teacher meetings having the regular extra-curricular period.

We are expecting to derive much good from our extra-curricular activities. Each organization will be discussed more fully during the following weeks.

First quarterly conference of the year will be held Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the church.

treacherous rulings of the Interstate Commerce Commission? Who is responsible for the low wages and empty dinner pails that now exist throughout the country? They can answer these questions through the columns of this paper before the election if they desire to be honest with the people. If they do not desire to tell us who is responsible for these conditions, we should give them our answer on November 4th by casting our ballots for Ben Williamson, a native of the Big Sandy valley, Judge M. M. Logan and A. J. May, who are friends of the people of this section of the state.

THE LANGLEY RULE

Our Congressional district has had the Langley family as our representatives in Washington for so long the old citizens cannot rightly recollect the beginning year. Look at what they have accomplished! Do you catch a glimpse of the public buildings? You can easily do so if you have a vision. They are yet to come. It is marvelous to think of the appropriations this district has received in the long years of the Langley rule. It is difficult for the people to count the benefits derived from having the Langleys represent us. The Government has been giving the Langley family pay checks for years and years because we have cared for them with our votes.

To hear Mrs. M. Langley tell of the achievements and make promises of what she is going to do in the future you would believe that she is the builder of roads and bridges in this district; the driving force that clears the way for the soldiers to secure appropriations in cash and hospitals for those who were wounded and disabled, the one person who gets relief for the down-trodden farmers, and has guarded the interest of the miners and those who labor with their hands. She would have you believe she is a wonder, a marvel, and a genius. What she won't and can't do the Lord only knows. It is our judgment that if she believed she could secure a vote by doing so, she would promise a safe and secure passage over the river of Jordan into the land of Eternal Bliss, if she thought the people silly enough to believe her.

It is time for the people of this district to disregard the claims and promises of politicians and members of Congress and elect a man who will represent them in the House of Representatives.

THE NEWSPAPERS AND GOVERNMENT OWNERSHIP

The country newspapers of the United States have had for many years a steadily increasing opportunity to observe the workings of government competition with private business. The Federal government prints envelopes in large quantities at prices made possible only by its tremendous purchasing power.

As a result, each year newspaper plants lose hundreds of thousands of dollars' worth of business which would normally come to them were it not for price-cutting competition on the part of the government, which they help support with their taxes.

A California publisher tells how the postmaster of his town wanted the postoffice raised to a higher class so he would receive a larger salary. To do this he spent around half the newspapers and sold them a year's supply of stamped envelopes, with their return address printed on the corners. In the words of the publisher, "This did not raise the efficiency of the local postoffice, but the government lost money by the extra salary, and the local people lost out on receiving these printed orders."

It is no wonder that a great majority of the country newspapers of the nation, having felt the bite of government competition, are fervently opposed to "politically-owned and operated industries."

FIVE MILES BACK

"Five miles back from our main state highways who knows what conditions he will find," says Governor Roosevelt, of New York. "There the highways are poor and hazardous, result in the same condition as in the time of our grandfathers."

This is not an exaggerated statement. In all parts of the country magnificent fast-trunk highways go from city to city, from state to state. But a few miles away farmers are at
