Hints for the Household

For December

BY BETTY WEBSTER

Take Care of Your Oven.
Scrub your oven often. This can be done very successfully while oven is hot. Use a long handled brush in scrubbing back of the oven to avoid burning your hands. Use hot soap water and soap.

To Remove Stains From Stockings.
A tablespoon of borax should be added to water when washing colored stockings. This will remove stains caused by dyes.

How To Wash Oil Paintings.
Make a soda of pure white soap. Shave water lukewarm. Apply to small surface of picture at a time and dry immediately.

COOKING HINTS
Holiday Appetizers
1 pound of cheese.
Salt of white sauce.
Little salt.
Olive oil.
2 teaspoons of soda.
Method: Grate cheese. Make quite a thin white sauce. Add grated cheese. Cook together in double boiler until cheese is dissolved. Mix well. Add some of the liquor from the bottom of stuffed oysters. Just before serving add cream. Four over heat or toasted bread. Decorate top of cheese and garnish with cut up pieces of stuffing. This recipe does not spoil when made ahead of time.

Winter Marmalade
1/2 pound of dried apricots.
3 oranges.
1 lemon.
3 plates of water.
1 pound of sugar.
Method: Chop apricots a little and soak overnight. Cut oranges and lemons very thin and pour over the 3 plates of water. Let stand over night. In the morning cook oranges and lemons until tender. Add the apricots and cook another hour. Add sugar and cook until mixture has thickened a little.

BAKING HINTS
Cheese Souffle
1 cup of grated cheese.
1 cup soup.
Little salt.
1/2 cup butter.
One-eighth teaspoon of paprika.
Method: Mix cheese, soup and seasoning. Mix with butter, as for macaroni. Roll mixture into long narrow strips. Bake in a medium medium oven.

Cherry Rhubarb
1 cup of sugar.
1 cup of rhubarb.
1/2 cup of hard.
2 eggs.
Scant cup of sour milk.
1 teaspoon of soda.
1 teaspoon of cinnamon.
1 teaspoon of ginger.
Little salt.
3 cups of flour.
Method: Mix same as for better cake. Put in a greased pan and bake.

Baked Ham
Soak ham over night in the several hours. Then cook slowly for at least 6 hours. Rinse. Top plentifully with brown sugar. Stick into a few cloves into ham. Place little water in pan. Bake till thoroughly heated and browned.

Apple Sauce Cake
1 cup of sugar.
1/2 cup of butter.
1 cup of hot apple sauce.
1 egg (well beaten).
2 cups of flour (well sifted).
1 teaspoon soda to flour.
1/2 cup of milk or cream.
1/2 cup of raisins.
Method: Mix in order given. Put in greased pan and bake slowly.

NEW LINER FEATURES EQUIPMENT • INVENTED BY FAMOUS AMERICAN

WITH the departure of the Maytown Conte di Savoia from the shipyard at Trieste, Italy, recently on her initial trial before entering the New York-Mediterranean service, a great tribute was paid to the great American inventor, and American genius was put to a practical test.
The Conte di Savoia is the first great mechanical engineering masterpiece ever built. She is equipped with the latest in mechanical engineering, and is the first ship to be built with a steel hull. She is the first ship to be built with a steel hull, and is the first ship to be built with a steel hull.

BETTER HEALTH

CARE OF THE TEETH

By Dr. William J. Schaefer

"In an article in 'Clinical Medicine' Dr. A. J. Ayer, a dentist, says that the dentist should teach every child the importance of dental hygiene from the first five years of life.

A sufficient supply of calcium salts must be furnished to the teeth, as to the bones, during their formation. These salts, coming from the mother's blood, are absorbed by the teeth and bones during the period of the first five years of life.

If noted teeth are to be preserved later in life, proper dietary habits must be followed during childhood, as well as during adult life. It is believed by many authorities that the greatest cause of tooth decay is the lack of calcium in the diet.

A list of recommended foods is given. These include fresh fruits, such as apples and oranges, nuts, vegetables, whole wheat bread, and other whole grain products.

During the past quarter of a century the percentage of State support of public education has increased through the Common School fund has decreased steadily when compared with the percentage of support rendered by local taxation. Whereas the Common School fund supported approximately three-fifths of the total cost of education in Kentucky twenty-five years ago, this fund now contributes less than one-fourth of the amount so expended. Likewise, there has been a steady decrease in the rate of the payment of money according to the terms of the act of 1892, which provided for the payment of the balance of the fund into the State treasury.

There are now the burden of carrying our public school system has been passed to our various counties, city and graded school districts. As a result, starting and maintaining an equivalent in the support of public education is the throughout our state. Many of the poorer school districts, even though they levy maximum tax rates, fall far short of meeting the requirements of the minimum school program imposed upon them by law.

The Equalization Law, enacted in 1900, was an expression of the General Assembly as to a way in which these glaring inequalities could be remedied, insofar as teachers' salaries were concerned. The Court of Appeals has declared this law unconstitutional and overruled the petition for rehearing in the action. As stated in my letter of July 12, it is my feeling that the only means of bringing about an equitable measure of educational support in this State, under existing constitutional limitations, is to increase, materially, the Common School Fund.

While a comprehensive study of this all-important problem of school support is now being made under the direction of the Kentucky Educational Commission, it seems improbable that any course resulting, to be pursued that to increase this fund.

It is my feeling that we should begin advocating an amendment to our Constitution which would make possible a special committee from each county to the State public capital fund, but under no condition should we attempt to amend the Constitution to increase the Common School Fund at an early date.

As we must not overlook the fact that at the same time we are increasing the Common School Fund we must also urge the reorganization and strengthening of our school districting system in the act that existing inequalities, resulting from this system will not be perpetuated. By the same token, our school leaders must familiarize themselves with the fundamental principles of State taxation and the proper methods therein, because it is highly improbable that the school fund may be increased to a noticeable extent until our system of State taxation is revised.

Often, as the suggestive may have seemed in the past, it seems not wise at this time to consider enlarging the administrative of education, their minimum yearly per capita for each pupil-child be specified in our Constitution.

WOULD THE COMMON SCHOOL FUND BE INCREASED?

BLACKCATS UPSET DOPE

ball on the Prestonsburg (blackcats) the first down and goal to go—and when Prestonsburg took the ball on down, yet on that three-inch line—that indicated that the local defense was efficient. And now for the offense.

The Blackcats came back onto the field an inspired team to begin the third quarter. With every man from end to end and through the backfield doing his share of the work efficiently and with class, the Cats began kicking off the defense. Then, on the Prestonsburg 45, Jones, Blackcat right half, broke loose around left behind perfect interference to gallop 57 yards for a touchdown. It was the most perfect bit of blocking ever done by any Prestonsburg player.

Following 4 to 2, the Paintsville eleven reached to go, hoping to get loose for a badly needed touchdown. But the offense came right in and in another Prestonsburg touchdown when Ross Prestonsburg left tackle, intercepted a Paintsville pass on the 40 and ran through a broken field for the second 1-1. Prestonsburg failing to convert on such of its touchdowns—but why bring that up?

The new report of Prestonsburg's another marker when in the second quarter Captain "Red" Strahan broke through tackle and was away but was called back 25 yards where his knee had touched the ground.

Again the Prestonsburg blocking was functioning. The Paintsville safety man being taken out just as the while the defense was in the line.

Prestonsburg added its safety in the first quarter when Rose, punting from behind his own goal line, stepped out of the end zone as he got off a pretty kick.

Let us say there were individual statistics on the Prestonsburg team. Rather, let us have the line-up and consider each a necessary one in a similar manner suggested in the following: Let us say what you will go all right—

By the way, for Paintsville Joe King, Arthur, Cattle and Vaughan are credited with doing the most for their team. As most of the game was participated in a bitter climax for the play of Jones, Rose and Betsy Layne.

FLOYD MERCHANT CHARGED WITH MURDER

Creek, and the corner's jury and attorney. The verdict was, "guilty" against the husband who, upon the verdict of the jury, declaring that the weapon had been shot in the back of the head and not in the forehead, as was first thought, charged Bentley and Deputy Sheriff Benben Hicks held Patton under $1,000 bond.

Patton is quoted as having stated in explanation of the tragedy, that his wife shot herself while he was asleep; that she had arisen from a bed in the same room in which he was sleeping with their five-year-old daughter upon the sound of an alarm clock and had replenished the fire; that, doing, he turned around to see a burning sound which awakened him; and that after calling to his wife two or three times without obtaining response, he sprang from bed to find her. Patton is further quoted as saying that, failing to find his wife in the bedroom, he went into the adjoining living room, where he found her lying on the floor, the pistol beside her.

One report says that Mrs. Patton's forehead was indented, indicating that the shot was fired into the forehead. The corner's jury ruled differently, however, and it is reported that, in addition to finding the wound in the forehead larger than that at the back of the skull, hairs were found driven into the wound from the back of the head. There were no powder hairs.

The accused man is a son of Sol Patton, one of Floyd county's best citizens. Mrs. Patton is survived by her parents, two sons, a daughter and by three brothers and four sisters. The body was taken to Brush Creek Friday for burial, but interment was delayed until an inquest could be held. Burial was made in the Hicks cemetery Saturday, funeral services being conducted by the Rev. A. J. Moore, of the Baptist Church.

JENNINGS' PEN TERM AFFIRMED

Paintsville Bank Robber Must Serve 21-Year Prison
Sentence

The twenty-one-year prison term imposed on Wilson R. Jennings in the Johnson circuit court on a charge of robbing the Paintsville National Bank last March was affirmed by the Court of Appeals last Friday.

Jennings claimed he was in Huntington, W. Va., at the time of the robbery. He formerly lived in Ashland, Ky. He accounted for large sums of money the Commonwealth charged he had in his possession by explaining he was successful as a professional gambler and in playing golf at $2 a hole.

"If you could count the witnesses," Commissioner W. T. Drury said in the court's opinion, "show the number by which the defendant established his alibi exceeds the number by which the Commonwealth establishes his connection with the robbery by identifying him, but all this was a question for the jury submitted to it under instructions of which the defendant does not complain and we have often written that a verdict will not be disturbed because the jury believed one set of jurors rather than another."

Mr. and Mrs. Jo M. Davidson and Mr. and Mrs. Everett H. Sowards spent Thanksgiving in Paintsville, guests of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Hiles.

Mrs. W. D. Meadows, of Lexington, and Miss Ethel May Allen, of Ashland, are guests here of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Allen.

HEALTH NEWS

Compiled by Dr. Marvin Randall,
District, Floyd County Health Dept.

PELLAGRA

What Is Pellagra?

Pellagra is a disease that usually shows itself by a severe skin rash, burning and scaling of the skin. The person with pellagra usually also suffers from indigestion, constipation, diarrhea, soreness of the mouth and tongue, nervousness, loss of sleep and more or less mental weakness.

Is It a Serious Disease?

Yes, because it weakens. Because it may lead to mental illness. Because it may kill.

What Is the Cause of Pellagra?

Pellagra is caused by eating the wrong food. It comes to people whose diet does not contain all that is needed to keep one in good health. The missing essential in a pellagra-producing diet seemed to be a vitamin which Dr. C. E. Hooper of the United States Public Health Service called the pellagra-producing factor or vitamin.

How Do We Know This?

We know this first, because people who eat the right kind of food do not have the disease; second, because when people who have the disease eat the right kind of food they get well and remain well as long as they keep on with the right diet; third, because when people are fed the wrong kind of food, they develop the disease.

Is Pellagra a Contagious Disease?

No. Pellagra cannot be caught by one person from another, no matter how close and intimate the association between the sick and the well. There is no need, therefore, to keep a patient away from other people.

What are the Signs of Pellagra?

One should think of pellagra if a run-down condition of the health develops; for with or without this indication and sore mouth appear; the nervousness, irritability, depressed spirits (the "blues"), poor sleep and burning of the hands and feet.

What Should We Do About It?

While these signs do not always mean pellagra they certainly show at least a poor condition of health, so that any one who has them should at once see the family doctor and be told what to do.

Without plenty of the right kind of food, medicines will not help. All of the foods that are especially valuable in pellagra are not yet known, but it is known that plenty of fresh milk or fresh lean beef will cure, and prevent the disease. Dried powdered yeast is also very helpful. Special care should be taken that persons with pellagra should drink all the milk they can every day (three to six glasses, or more), or eat lean fresh beef (say, a quarter of a pound) of roast beef, steak or stew, having made sure of the milk or the meat (but not butter); one may satisfy the appetite with his usual food.

How Can Pellagra Be Avoided?

The prevention of pellagra depends upon eating the right kind of food at all times, winter and summer. To make sure that the diet is right, it should include plenty of fresh milk daily, some fresh meat and as many fresh vegetables, including the green vegetables, as possible. Tomatoes and whole wheat products are especially valuable. Having provided these essentials, of a proper diet, the rest may be arranged according to family or personal likes. In this way you may avoid this unnecessary and serious disease—pellagra.

DRIVE AGAINST TYPHOID IS BEGUN

bury toilets in each town, and toilets of the same type for each of the schools of the county are now under contract. Dr. Marvin Randall, director of the health department, said Tuesday, work is to be begun on these about January 1.

Dr. Randall said that plans are made for similar sanitary steps to be taken throughout Prestonsburg and the county. Labor on sanitary toilets will be furnished by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, leaving the only expense to the property owner that of building materials.

Through this work the health department hopes to take another big step forward in preventing typhoid and other diseases.

employment may be made and that an equal distribution of work over the entire county may be obtained. The step was taken that the greatest possible good may be derived from the R. F. O. fund. The fund is the State, Peter (son), George (son), Wayland; A. B. (son), and J. D. Mayo, Prestonsburg, and R. E. Thomas, of Ashland.

Several hundred men previously unemployed have been given work as a result of the fund and many public improvements have been secured. M. D. Y. (son), of Prestonsburg, is in charge of the fund in the burning zone.

MOTOR CLUB

CUT

A reduction in the license fees with a 10 per cent. increase in the license fee for the year 1933 was voted by the Motor Club of Prestonsburg. The board of directors of the club, at a meeting held last night, voted to increase the license fee from $1.00 to $1.10 and to increase the annual fee from $1.00 to $1.10. The board also voted to increase the fee for the year 1933 from $1.00 to $1.10.

form of taxation.

Simplification of the registration law is to be desired and could be accomplished by the flat license fee as it is used in a number of states. Mr. Starn said. High-priced licenses, with the other taxes assessed on motor cars, are factors contributing to the reduction in motor car registration which will be shown this year, he declared. With registrations for 1932 virtually complete, licenses have been issued to 31,931 fewer cars than in 1931, it was said.

The Louisville Automobile Club proposed a bill before the legislature last year which would reduce by one-third the cost of automobile licenses. The bill passed the Senate but in the closing hours of the session failed to be carried for a vote in the House, although a roll of the House members at the time indicated that the measure would carry by a large majority.

LOUISIANA WATER SUPPLY DOOMED

A few months ago the water supply in Louisiana was in a very bad way. The proposed new rate reduced the cost of water to $12.50 each per year, and increased the minimum subscription to domestic water to 1000 gallons, to 1500 gallons, said.

Major R. A. Stone, of London, announced last week that he had received notice from the district office when the city paid the bill.
