BOARD HIRES 374 TEACHERS

CITIZENS URGE AID BE SENT TO ALLIESGERMAN AGGRESSION
SCORED AT FORUM
HELD HERE

Floyd county's first public forum for the discussion of an international situation was held at the courthouse here Thursday evening with nobody being verbally or forcibly ejected from the meeting except Hitler.

Result of sentiment of the forum, as evidenced by poll of the audience, was rushed to Congressman A. J. May, the following day, by W. H. Wheeler, forum chairman. Mr. Wheeler reported to the Congress that the attending was overwhelmingly favorable to sending to the Allies every possible aid, short of entering the war.

The resolution adopted by the audience authorized Mr. Wheeler to inform Congressman May, chairman of the House Military Affairs Committee, Washington, D. C., that it advised Congress to give the country sufficient aid to the Allies in the form of modern equipment, an army of sufficient manpower to ward off any possible invasion of this land; and to ask him to give President Roosevelt full support in his proposals to the Congress that the United States give all help that will in any way strengthen the position of the Allies in their war with Germany and thus prevent Hitler's military machine from invading this country.

That given little publicity, the meeting was attended by a crowd which filled the courtroom. Among the speakers were: W. H. Wheeler, the first speaker, called for audience participation during these critical days in the history. "One thing I do know," he concluded, "is that every red-blooded American citizen should be ready to fight for the liberty they have earned under this government. If there are any of us who are not ready to fight for this cause, we do not need them."

Assigned the topic, "Are We Willing To Go On Record, Without Reservation, As Favoring the Allies to Win?" the Rev. Campbell Jeffries, pastor of the First Baptist Church, here, said, "I am not going to answer the question I have been asked. I do not make an assertion tonight, pro-Ally."

This Town--
That WorldGIVE ME MUSSOLINI--
FRED YARBER

I am not of a murderous turn of mind, but if two men were placed before me for me to shoot, I can't think of any two I'd prefer to Herr Hitler and Signor Mussolini. And which do you think I'd draw a bead on first? Why, Mussolini, of course. I hate Hitler for his mad brutality, but I prefer him for his daring to the cowardly Duce who, human-like, would not take a chance till he thought England and France were dying.

A MAN OF SOUND JUDGMENT
Chester Miller, who is a resident of LaGrange, Ky., writes to inquire after "Uncle Charlie Oppenheimer" who was recently in town. "I think it is the best thing I've read in the entire state, and as good as any in the U. S. A. (unpublished)."

"Judge, it has been a good judgment shows in this very statement, you'll leave LaGrange one of those days and never return."

DOUBLE SERVICE
That new Kiwanis sign on Court street serves two purposes: it is an attractive advertisement for Kiwanis and conceals an ungraciously vacant lot.

"TUCKER OFF!"
Given her first truck workout in years was Will H. Layne's spirited 23-year-old last Sunday morning by two city officers or late stay-uppers who evidently were trying to reenact a scene from the town's horse-race days of 30 years ago, as described by a recently in town. "Unhappily, by bride or saddle, the nag still wasn't"

IN SPRING, OLD MAN'S FANCY, TOO, TURNS TOWARD LOVE!

Well before the expiration of that season of the year when the poet declared that a young man's fancy lightly turns to love, 84-year-old John Joseph, of West Prestonsburg, last Wednesday became a groom.

He claimed as his bride, Mrs. Willis Vaughan, 50, also of West Prestonsburg. The nuptial ceremony was solemnized by the Rev. G. R. Pannin at the home of Dr. M. T. Douson, son-in-law of the groom. Attendants were the bridegroom's daughter, Mrs. Dotson, his grandson, Paul Dotson, and Theodore Pannin.

Mr. Joseph had been a minister for 30 years, and is connected with the Holston Church. His first wife died three years ago. The bride is the widow of James Vaughan.

The Rev. and Mrs. Joseph were spending their honeymoon in pioneer fashion this week being born on their Middle Creek farm.

W'WRIGHT GYM
PLANS FOILEDBUDGET EXCEEDED
BY BIDS FILED WITH BOARD

Because all bids far exceeded the budget outlined and approved by the state for the county board of education's building program this year, the proposed Wheelwright high school gymnasium instead will be included in next year's plans, it was decided by the board at its last regular meeting Monday.

The board had voted to build a high school gymnasium and the Allen building was awarded to Joseph Reynolds on his bid of $22,507. The alternate bid of $5,500 on the heating system was rejected. The building already has been started and will be completed by September, it was said. Although Wheelwright will not get the gymnasium this year, a two-story, seven-room structure will be built to replace crowded conditions there. Expected to cost $18,000-$19,000 the building will be similar to the recently-completed arts and science building at Maytown. Dimensions will be 55x72 feet, and on the ground floor will be a combination cafeteria-home economics classroom. The second floor will contain rooms for science, music and commerce classes, in addition to an extra classroom.

Architects are now working on the plans and contract will be let July 6, Superintendent Hall said. Completion is expected by September.

Bids on the new building, all of which include the alternate bids on the heating system, follow: Joseph Reynolds, $37,957; W. D. Patton, $41,520; Gearheart and Richardson, $44,584; Layne, Hale and Williams, $44,585.34.

Bids on the Wheelwright gymnasium, all of which were rejected: Layne, Hale and Williams, $24,963.63; Joseph Reynolds, $43,900; Ramsey and Castle, $45,000; Gearheart and Richardson, $46,000.

117 Stitches Required
To Close Jarvis'
13 Slashes

As he and his World War veteran brother who has been adjudged an insane, said in saying that it is the best thing I've read in the entire state, and as good as any in the U. S. A. (unpublished).

"Judge, it has been a good judgment shows in this very statement, you'll leave LaGrange one of those days and never return."

The fight started after Marion Jarvis is said to have engaged in an altercation with his wife, then with his mother as she sought to pacify him. When, according to this version of the fight, his brother, Grover, remonstrated against any trouble with his mother, Marion Jarvis swung a pistol butt against Grover's head. The cutting followed.

Jarvis was slashed on his chest and back and on his face. It was said here that the knife-wielder's arrest had not been asked.

Mr. and Mrs. Boone Hall, Wayland, were visitors here Monday.

MINER, KILLED
IN ACCIDENTCLYDE BOWLING, DRIFT,
DIES INSTANTLY
WEDNESDAY

Clyde L. Bowling, 25, Drift, was killed instantly at ten o'clock Wednesday morning when he was struck by a piece of slate in the Beaver Coal and Mining Company mine at Drift, where he was employed.

The accident occurred while Bowling and Ira Preston together were "drawing" slate, and Preston escaped injury by rolling himself out of the way after the fall started. The piece of slate, which Preston was able to lift, struck the victim, struck the back of Bowling's head and crushed it against a steel wall.

Bowling was the son of W. H. and Geneva Miller Bowling, of Richmond, Lawrence county, who survive. Also surviving are his widow, Mrs. Pauline Davis Bowling, and two small children, all of Drift.

The body was prepared by the Ryan Funeral Home and will be taken to Richmond Friday, where burial will be made in the family cemetery.

IT'S THE LAW--WATCH YOUR STEP!

One hundred and forty-six acts of the recent General Assembly, affecting labor, farmers, the soil, the aged, the blind, chair stores, gamblers, "weak nights," and prospective mothers, became the law of the Commonwealth yesterday.

On that date--June 13--the necessary ninety-day interval from adjournment of the legislature on March 31 expired. Fifty-two other acts, however, were "dead-end" because they had not received the signature of Governor Johnson.

Several of the new require Johnson to appoint boards and commissions, such as those to investigate farm tenancy problems and co-ordinate soil conservation work. Among those of greatest general importance are acts which:

Increase the maximum old-age pension monthly payments from $15 to $30.

Provide funds for operation of the teachers' retirement system, which begins benefit payments to teachers on July 1, 1942.

License chain stores at from $25 to $200 each.

Create soil conservation districts and a state soil conservation committee to administer land-saving regulations.

At the same time all teachers were given notice that, if they do not desire to have membership in the teachers' retirement system as provided at the 1940 session of the Kentucky General Assembly, they must file a statement declining such membership before July 1. Otherwise, each teacher hired automatically becomes a member.

PRINCIPALS

Three hundred seventy-four consolidated and rural teachers for the 1940-41 school term were hired Friday evening by the Floyd County Board of Education at a meeting which had been adjourned from the last regular meeting which was held on the previous Saturday. This, with the exception of the Prestonsburg High school instructors, who will be hired as soon as the county and city boards can get together, completes the Floyd county teaching personnel for the coming year.

Sixteen teachers for the Prestonsburg graded school already had been hired by the City Board of Education May 17, and seven vocational agriculture, building and trades, and home economics teachers were employed by the County Board of Education at its regular May meeting.

According to the list released by County Superintendent Town Hall all principals of Floyd county high schools hold their positions next year. Major changes are confined to coaches, several of whom were shifted to Everett Hall, who coached at Auxier last year, was hired at Maytown, replacing Joe "Duke" who was hired as a high school instructor at Garrett. Hall's place at Auxier was taken by Chalmers Frasier, who was at Martin last year. H. E. Vincent, coach, Martin, was shifted to Auxier, again fills the vacancy. Other coaching positions remain the same, with Wiley Jones at Wayland; Dave Leslie at Brandy; Earl Mayo at Garrett; Olive Adams at McDowell and Ed Leslie at Wheelwright. Walter Price handled the coaching duties at Wheelwright the latter part of last year, while Leslie was in the state legislature.

The list of consolidated teachers follows:

TIDBITS OF KENTUCKY FOLKLORE

"SIGHT UNSEEN"

The phrase "sight unseen" may sound queer to you, or it may bring up memories of days when you tried your luck at various kinds of trading. It refers to a practice of exchanging something without having seen it. Sometimes it meant just the taking of some one's word for it, a species of trust that all of us have had some experience with, life insurance, for instance. But ordinarily it meant taking a chance that your friend who had something to sell or exchange would trick you if he could and preferred not to show you the article that you wanted. One particular phase of this skin-game was what we called "throwing knives." You closed your fingers around the knife that you wished to exchange and extended your hand to the other fellow, who had carried out the same ceremony. Sometimes you got stung, or else he did. There used to be riddles about knives that meant that the object in question had a blade or two and whole handles, but I somehow have forgotten this little rhyme or saying. It was a species of gambling, and the boys knew it, too. They enjoyed it all the more for being naughty in this fashion without being arrested or even scolded. Some of the boys or other objects that were thus passed around would form a fine museum to-day, for I can testify to having seen some very queer ones, minus handles, blades, and everything else.

Now this was boys' play and is not to be confused with another type of "sight unseen" trading, such as went on at the county seat on county court days. It is true that most of the objects being traded were on hand, with their ears flopping in the breeze, but their demerits were carefully concealed. No law, apparently, could touch these same traders, even though people who had been taken in often wished to call on all the powers that be to tar and feather the trickster who got rid of the blind mule by such lying arts. To save my life I do not know whether people trade so well as formerly. I know that mules are bought and sold by the dozens now, but the whole matter is such a bustle.

THE CRY OF THE LOCUSTS

(THE TIMES during the last two weeks has received several contributions discussing the "seventeen-year" locust, and we have chosen the following as the most meritorious of the group. The author states, in a footnote, that his contribution is offered only as a legend of his own creation.—Editor.)

When Pharaoh persecuted the children of Israel even as they are being persecuted today by Hitler, the Lord God visited upon Egypt, Pharaoh's land, plagues in succession. Famine visited the land. Death visited each family unadorned by the blood of a lamb. The locusts came by the millions and thrived on every vestige of vegetation.

The Bible tells the story. The full story of the plague of locusts is not told, however. King of all he surveyed, master of the bit of creation beyond which he could not see and was little of the Pharaoh cursed and reviled the locusts and the power that had sent them upon his land. His slaves he sent out armed with clubs to beat them from every branch. "Kill them, everyone of them!" he ordered.

Yet the locusts thrived. They remained as a scourge to Pharaoh and plague Egypt's king and his minions. And they remained till the children of Israel fled the land.

All this time while Egypt was being preyed upon by the pests, the locusts remained silent . . . eating . . . eating, living off their alien hosts in a land that now is a land of antiquity, belonging to the entombed dead almost as much as it does to the living.

As the Israelites fled Pharaoh's wrath, the locusts ceased their ceaseless gnawing, turned to watch in deadly silence from their perches of deadened leaves and branches.

And not till the children of Israel had crossed the Red Sea was their silence broken. Then, as Pharaoh and his host were engulfed in the pent-up waters, the persecutors sent by the Lord God broke into their taunting chant: "Pharaoh, Pharaoh—oh"—a chant that has been repeated down the centuries by the locusts to remind man of the folly of man's dreams.

WAYLAND COPS DOUBLEHEADER

AND FORCES VAN LEAR FROM TOP RUN OF LEAGUE LADDER

Collecting 37 hits in both games Wayland captured a doubleheader from Van Lear, 7-3 and 12-1, at Wayland Sunday afternoon, dropping the former Big Sandy League leaders from top position to a tie with the winners for second place.

At the end of nine innings of the opening game, which was a doubleheader, Van Lear had a 7-3 lead. In the 12th inning, when Willard Ratliff, left fielder for the winners, slammed a home run with two on base. Ray Patton, pitching for Wayland, allowed seven hits, while his mates were pounding the slants of Lambert for 18.

Marks and Frady led the Wayland hitters in the first game, each making four safeties, and "Big" Jess Ratliff was close behind, with three. Branchman hit a home run and a single. Ray Patton, who pitched the first game for the winners, was credited with 11 strike-outs.

Wayland used V. Patton and Rollins in the pitcher's box during the second game, with Rollins giving credit for the win. Van Lear's first run was forced when Patton walked a man with the bases loaded. The father-son combination of Jess Ratliff, Sr., and Jess Ratliff, Jr., "came" through with four-baggers for the winners, with "Big" Jess making three other safeties. Frady, alternating at shortstop and third base for Wayland, and Baird, Catcher, each collected three hits.

O.E.S. Chapters Meet At Masonic Hall Thursday

Adah Chapter 24 and the Van Lear Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, grouped together for official inspection at the Masonic Hall here last Thursday, May 31, with Miss Alice Harris, worthy matron, and Alex H. Spradlin, worthy patron of the local chapter, presiding. Mrs. Margaret Saunders, Worthy Grand Matron of the Grand Chapter of Kentucky, conducted the inspection.

At the opening of the meeting a beautiful and impressive address was given under the direction of Mrs. Jessie Davidson. A two-line formation of eight members each, led by Mrs. Stella Spradlin and Miss Minnie Grace Harris, entered the Chapter room, preceded by little Miss Margaret Douglas Spradlin, representing the spirit of good wishes, who placed on the altar a small treasure chest. Vocal selections were rendered by Mrs. Virginia Shivel, accompanied by Mrs. Lack D. Roberts.

The officers of Van Lear Chapter filed the stations during part of the business session and exemplified most creditably the work.

During the literary service Misses Ruth Burchett and Katherine Stratton were conducted through the various degrees of the Order in a most impressive manner by the confederates, Mrs. Dora Spradlin, and the associate confederates, Mrs. Jean Almy.

Lovely gifts were then presented by Mrs. Geneva James and Miss Virgie McCombs to the grand officers, Mrs. Margaret Saunders, W.G.M.; Mrs. Maggie Wood, of Murray, W. G. Elected; Mrs. Jessie Davidson, Grand Deputy, and Mrs. Murah Haezelrig, Paintsville, Grand Representative.

After the closing march, delicious refreshments were served to about a hundred local and visiting members.

P'BURG SPLITS TWO GAMES

WITH CLEAR CREEK, 7-3, AND 4-6, SUNDAY

After dropping Clear Creek, 7-3, in 10 innings in the opening game Sunday afternoon, Prestonsburg was nipped, 6-4, in the seven-inning thriller to split their first doubleheader of the current Big Sandy League campaign. The games were played on the Clear Creek diamond.

In the 10th opener Clear Creek took a one-run lead in the third, and Prestonsburg knotted the count in the fifth. The local team scored two more in the sixth and went out in front, 3-1. Clear Creek pushed another run across in the eighth, and knotted the count by scoring one in the last of the ninth. A four-run uprising in the first of the tenth, clinched the victory for Prestonsburg.

Thompson, pitching for Prestonsburg, allowed the losers nine hits, while his mates were nipping Henry Stumbo on the mound for Clear Creek, for 15. Thompson struck out nine and Stumbo whiffed eight.

Adrian Collins, with a double and a pair of singles, and Roark, who collected three singles, led the winners at the plate. For Clear Creek E. Johnson made a double and two singles.

The second game, which by agreement went only seven innings, saw Prestonsburg go into a two-run lead in the opening round. Clear Creek tied it up in the third, before Prestonsburg counted two more in the fourth. The winners added another in the fifth, then three more in the sixth, giving them a 6-4 lead. Prestonsburg was unable to score in their half of the seventh.

Woods, in left field for Prestonsburg, led his mates at bat, with three singles to his credit. George Herman, pitching for Clear Creek, struck out eight of the Prestonsburg hitters. Castle started for Prestonsburg and was relieved by Buchanan in the sixth.

Sunday afternoon Prestonsburg will be host to the same team in a single game.

MAN OF IRON

Those of us who can remember back to the day when we were married and how jittery we were will marvel at the man. The man is Dr. Edmund Wells, who has been at Valley hospital staff.

What did he do? Nothing except perform two operations on the morning of June 4, slip out and get married, then return to the hospital and do five more operations.

Wonder if his patients knew of the strain he was working under?

Mrs. Ava Tackett, 29, Drift, Dies After Operation

Mrs. Ava Tackett, 29, wife of Jay Tackett, Drift, succumbed at the Bessever Valley hospital, Martin, this morning (Thursday) at 8:30 o'clock, following an operation for cancer.

Also surviving are three brothers, Andy Lee and Ryan Tackett, both of Craynor, and Bert Tackett, McDowell; two sisters, Mrs. Virgie Reynolds, McDowell, and Miss Edna Tackett, Craynor.

way to water, taking your time and you know that a fellow has to have water in order to live. And here I am, running like hell to get some more firewood. I don't only want necessary to life but may actually cause my death. I wonder which will be the more sense, you or fellows like me.

"But, as I see it, one poor fool will get his, taking it easy, while the other is running his fool head off to get the same thing."

"If the fellow had an airplane, he could beat me, but he's not. He's got to have to be bothered with slow-pokes like you!"

THE REAL THING NEEDED

Fovlin's sake, Governor Johnson has started naming Kentucky Colonels again! The only way under the sun that a man could be able to earn that distinction from the rest of us is in actual military service in behalf of his country. Then, except in the eyes of some of our "Citizens," they would have a title that really means something.

and I could not make one otherwise." He pleaded the cause of Christianity in a world gone mad. "I do believe that if the Allies win, dictatorship will be set back 150 years," he added, condemning Hitler and his theory.

Discussing the extension of credit to the Allies, Mr. Leroy Combs said that only the mobilization of this country's mechanical genius can help those attacked by Hitlerian forces. "I can't understand," he added, "how the Allies, knowing surely of the making of that German war machine, could have let them slip up on them as they have."

Mr. Combs called to the attention of the audience, also, that the Allies have in this country approximately $21,000,000 in credit—gold investments and other resources—and gave as his opinion that the Allies would be able to repeat the extension of credit to the Allies, never have been—and I hope never will be.
