IN THE MAIL

From Maytown: "The thief who stole clothing from a line here recently is requested to call on the owner of the pajamas taken, as the owner desires to give him the trousers, since only the tops were taken. If this party will get in touch with the owner, the transaction can be made quietly."

From Wheelwright: "One reason why Wheelwright's football team doesn't win at home is that the boys do win, the coach and team managers get dunked in the creek or held under a cold shower. Mont Randle Tussey, senior manager, was dunked Saturday; Coach Price, the unwilling 'homie', was a shower."

From Prestonsburg: "Will the blanky-blank who soaped my car windows, two nights after Halloween, do the favor of blowing the place, time and weapons?"

FRESH MEAT

Dr. Daniels, head of the Prestonsburg General Hospital, has returned from a Pennsylvania deer hunt during which he bagged two deer. There will be "proof of the pudding" by supplying venison for the weekly Kiwanis Club dinner Thursday evening at the Valley Inn.

WHO WILL BE NEXT SHERIFF OF COUNTY?

ATTORNEYS ARGUE,
PRO AND CON,
ON QUESTION

Who will be Sheriff of Floyd county?

That is the question reverberating around the eaves and corners of the Floyd county courthouse this week, as well as up and down the town's streets and alleys.

There are those who contend that D. P. (Pork) Dingus, the Republican candidate for the office who trailed Dr. W. L. Stumbo by 393 votes, has a legal right to mandamus the Election Commissioners to issue him the certificate of election, inasmuch as Dr. W. L. Stumbo had not been granted such a certificate before his death, and on the probable grounds that Dr. Stumbo's majority was attained by fraud.

Two prominent Pikeville attorneys were reported Wednesday as having accepted Mr. Dingus' case.

At the same time, consensus of opinion of Prestonsburg attorneys was that Mr. Dingus was without recourse at law against the results of the November election, returns of which showed him to be the loser to Dr. Stumbo by 393 votes.

If there is no legal action possible, County Judge E. P. Hill, Jr., may for the second time within a year be called on to make an appointment to county office. A few months ago, he named Harry R. Burke to serve the unexpired term of the late County Attorney Forrest D. Short, and when Mr. Burke became a candidate for the same office, W. Claude Caudill, son of the late Judge John W. Caudill, was named to the office.

At the same time, there were those who contended the present Sheriff, Dial Salisbury, may hold office until a successor is duly elected and qualified.

A wedding of wide interest was solemnized here Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock, the principals being Mrs. Elizabeth Archer Wells and the Rev. W. B. Garriott, both of this place.

The ceremony took place at the bride's home, with the Reverend Garriott's sons, the Rev. Walter Garriott, pastor of the Methodist Church at Glasgow, Ky., and the Rev. William Garriott, pastor at Salversville, officiating.

The staple ring ceremony was immediately after the ceremony for the two families were present.

The bride was dressed in a taupe suit, with blue fox fur, blue hat and purse, and wore a corsage of talliesman roses.

The Rev. and Mrs. Garriott left immediately after the ceremony for a ten day trip to Louisville and other points of interest.

Mrs. Garriott, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George P. Archer of Prestonsburg, was born and reared in Prestonsburg and continued her residence here after the death of her husband, Walter S. Wells.

TO HUNTINGTON

Specially chartered buses will transport 125 Floyd county men to Huntington, W. Va., next Tuesday for physical examination, preparatory to future army service. It was announced this week by officials of Draft Board 44 and 45.

This mass examination results from the recent Selective Service ruling that all men subject to the draft will hereafter undergo their complete physical examination by preliminary examination Friday.

Selectees from the two boards whose examinations have not been completed are directed to report for preliminary examination Friday. These men from Board 44 will come to Prestonsburg to be examined; those from Board 45 will undergo examination at Huntington.

MACHINE SHOP SITE LOCATED

$60,000 PROJECT
IN NYA SHOP

When a few hours after National Youth Administration officials Tuesday had presented to them a plan whereby the county may benefit, County Judge E. P. Hill, Jr., and County Attorney W. Claude Caudill had contracted for the purchase of a lot on which an NYA machine shop would be located.

On the lot, 200 feet by 120 feet, purchased from the Richmond estate, and located at the upper limits of Prestonsburg, will be constructed, if plans presented the county officials materialize, a prefabricated steel building 60 feet by 120 feet long, valued at $20,000.

In that building will be housed machinery valued at $40,000, County Attorney Caudill said.

Under the agreement reached in behalf of the county by Judge Hill and County Attorney Caudill with NYA officials, the county's only outlay is to be the purchase of the building site. The NYA then supplies all materials and construction expenses.

If the project is cleared through Washington, the structure will be ready for occupancy. It was said by Rev. 15. The building will accommodate 300 youths who will be trained in precision work to qualify them for national defense jobs in the machine shop.

TO BREAK GROUND HERE SUNDAY FOR PROJECT

"Shinners" will deliver an address on folk music. The Chanters will sing white spirituals, Indian and Plain chants, and a group of young men will sing hymns.

The Chanters, during the last four years, have won wide recognition and acclaim. They first gave to the "outside world" their ancient hymns and chants in a radio broadcast over WHAS, radioophone of The Courier-Journal and Louisville Times, making the trip to Louisville in two old borrowed cars. After that first radio appearance, they have sung at Columbia University and the New York World's Fair.

Now, if Mrs. James' plans fully materialize, they will sing to the hum of loom and spinning wheel and to the accompaniment of saw and hammer—earning a livelihood while perpetuating the music on antiquity.

JR. SPORTSMEN, 1ST IN FLOYD

PUBLICITY DIRECTOR IN ERROR MAKES OTHER CLAIM

Although James J. Gilpin, publicity director, Division of Game and Fish, claimed the honor recently for a school at Frankfort, Mr. Gilpin was the first in the organization of a Junior Sportsman's Club.

Mr. Gilpin, it was later stated, did not seek to detract from this county's honor; he simply had not learned of this section's organization.

November 6 was given by the Frankfort school as the date of the Junior Sportsman's Club formation.

He did not know that Floyd county's first Junior Sportsman's club was organized in the spring of this year, beginning with the Mastown Normal School and continuing within the next two or three weeks in the Martin, Prestonsburg and Warfield schools.

Mr. Gilpin, District 40 director of the League of Kentucky, was in the county last week.

HAMPTON SAYS LABOR STRIKE UNPROVOKED

DECLARES U.M.W.A.
DIST. WORKERS
CALL STRIKE

Every Floyd county mine but one was idle Wednesday, two days after John L. Lewis, United Mine Workers chief, had declared a "captive" mine general strike.

Although the "captive mine" strike was presumably confined to those operations owned and operated by individual steel companies, the shut-down spread to other mines of this section.

"It was not a sympathy strike," declared John S. Hampton, general manager of the Glogora Coal Company at Glo, this county.

"The men were told by United Mine Worker field representatives to stop work, were told no more."

It was estimated here Wednesday afternoon that the strike affects from 8,000 to 10,000 miners in the county.

Mr. Hampton said field workers from the Pikeville U.M.W.A. office had notified miners to cease work.

This cessation of work, Mr. Hampton said, was in direct violation of the contract which the coal operators and mine workers signed, a few months ago.

Repeated attempts of THE TIMES Wednesday to contact U.M.W.A. headquarters at Pikeville for a statement were in vain.

TRIAL OF MRS. WICKLINE TO AWAIT SPECIAL JUDGE

Jackson, Ky., Nov. 14.—Trial of Mrs. Vicki Wickline, accused of killing two men and wounding another with pistol shot in a crowded courtroom December 20, 1935, was postponed today pending designation of a special judge for the case. Circuit Judge Chester A. Bitch said he would ask the Court of Appeals to name a substitute for him because before his election as judge he was retained as attorney for the defendant. Mrs. Wickline never has been tried, he explained, because shortly after the courtroom shooting he was adjudged insane by a jury. Approximately 90 per cent of Meade county's school children took part in a parade during the two-day fair.

Knott county where she had been sent for "safe-keeping." She was released from the state's mental hospital at Lexington a year and a half ago with a report her sanity had been restored. The shooting occurred in county court here at the examining trial of Johnnie Shepherd, 20, and his brother Noah Shepherd, 22, on a charge of killing Harvey Gibbitt, 17, a son of Mrs. Wickline by a former marriage, on Christmas Eve, 1936. Johnnie Shepherd was killed by a hit which struck him as he sat at the defense table. Another shot fatally wounded George Shouse, a spectator.

The Bracken county sheep raisers' organization was able to pay only 40 per cent of claims, because of heavy losses.

What's New in Cooking

Dessert With A Double Purpose
PLEASE a hungry husband and small children with one and the same dessert? That's just what this new recipe for Meringue with Chocolate Custard is intended to do. The favor is sweet enough to satisfy a mature taste in desserts, and yet the consistency of the custard is thin and delicate enough to be popular with children. It is a recipe that children will ask you to make over and over again, since each serving consists of a snowy peak of meringue surrounded by a chocolate custard lake. The chocolate custard base, and all stirred custards, are especially easy to prepare on the surface units of a modern electric range, because they can be made in a saucepan over direct heat, just as can gravies and white sauces. If you choose to use one of the low controlled heats of the electric range and resist the temptation to turn to a higher heat, you have the same protection against curdling and scorching that a double boiler provides. And more than that, each time you make custard, you can choose to use this same heat and expect the same creamy, smooth product. And rightly so, because there is no guesswork about heat in electric cookery. It is a measured ingredient in every recipe, just as are the sugar, eggs or flour. The recipe below gives the directions for making this Meringue with Chocolate Custard without a

PSYCHIC'S MIND POWER EXHIBITED IN PUBLIC HYPNOTIC DEMONSTRATION

No less spectacular will be Kirma's demonstration of hypnotism in I. Richmond Company's store, on First Street next Thursday noon when a young lady will listen to the magic words of suggestion which serve to cast her into a seven-hour trance. Kirma will take up his microphone and speak a few words of suggestion in English and under cryptic sounds in an unknown tongue and the young lady will be seen to swoon under his magnetic spell. He then will cast his subject into a state of rigidity and sound sleep.

Brad Boyd, of the Broadway Theater, who is responsible for bringing this unusual attraction to Prestonsburg, states that Kirma, unlike most so-called hypnotists, induces the state of sleep in his subjects without the usual staring or gazing at some bright object. He has cultivated the state of voice vibrations when a coupled with his powerful concentration, to the extent that even the most skeptical can be imposed to his will. Kirma will allow his subject to remain in a cataleptic or rigid state until about 4 p.m., when she will be partially aroused by him and her only nourishment will be given.

The subject will remain in the I. Richmond Company window until 7 p.m., when she will be removed from the window, still in a sleeping condition, taken to the Broadway theater, where she will remain in view of the audience until awakened by Kirma at the evening performance.

At Kirma's spook party on Saturday night of next week he will display the most terrific spirits. He'll cause them to float about and do this and that, then he'll expose the spirits, that is, he'll tell how the spirits were obtained.

Yes, Prestonsburg is in for a week of mysticism. It will be an enjoyable peek into the realm of the never-land for most and a brilliant, interesting week for those who like to delve into the mysterious.

Piritation with the unknown will be the privilege of Prestonsburg's citizens next week when Mystic Kirma, famed hypnotist and dealer in matters occult, appears on the stage at the Broadway theater, Sunday through Saturday.

Strange things will occur as Kirma entertains his audiences, expected to be capacity crowds, and win the strong-willed may cringe in their seats as they gaze upon his feats but there will be nothing of danger for the audiences—rather, they will be given a magnanimous glimpse into the unknown, the mysterious.

Driving an automobile through a busy local street while blindfolded and putting a woman to sleep in the window of a local store through hypnotism are but two of numerous powerful interesting and thrilling demonstrations Kirma will present during his stay here.

Presenting his original "Bombay Seance," The Great Kirma will make daily appearances on the stage of the Broadway. A special Ladies' matinee and a Spook Midnight Show will feature the theater programs. On next Friday afternoon Kirma will present a "Indes only" program.

Kirma will grant a private interview to the first ten ladies purchasing tickets for his special "Ladies Only" matinee. A master psychic and psychologist, he foretells the future.

Kirma is a scientist who, for 15 years, has led the field of experiment in psychic phenomena and is the leading exponent of all his weird and mysterious calling.

Born in India of English and American parentage, he was developed in the mysterious occult science of that land. Today, in his early thirties, he has baffled science of every land.

He will answer all written and sealed questions pertaining to love or soul mates, health, business, success, love, marriage and marriage. Monday noon Kirma will present a new display of mental concentration when he drives in a new 1942 car through congested traffic here, without the aid of his eyes.

Principles at noon the famous mystic will take his place behind the wheel of the car and in front of the Broadway theater on May 24th will permit his eyes to be blindfolded after first allowing spectators to examine the light proof covering, then will start his perilous ride.

The blind drive through traffic is accomplished by means of a very highly developed concentration and Kirma's advance representative points out that he should not be spoken to lest the visible thread of the experiment be broken.

Kirma has successfully negotiated these blindfold drives in American cities and European continents. This blindfold drive will make an important epic in the annals of local theatricals in Prestonsburg.

FOOD FOR DEFENSE
Farmers may make more money and at the same time help with the food for defense program by complying with the request of Secretary of Agriculture Wickard, to produce more milk, eggs, and poultry on the farm if it is suitable for the production of any or all of these products. Secretary Wickard stated that within the limits of available funds, prices of hogs, evaporated milk, dry skim milk, cheese, eggs and chickens will be supported at not less than 85 per cent of parity during the period ending December 31, 1942.

Farmers can help make our national defense strong by joining hands with fellow farmers, and helping the Lawrence county defense board to secure the following increases in the county in 1942 over 1941 production.

Milk, 6 per cent; eggs, 8 per cent; pigs, farrowed, 9 per cent; gardens, 1 for each family.

Farmers can help make our nation strong by the efficient production of defense goods and by helping from the farm. In this way farm families as well as defense workers in industry can be well fed, and the surplus need to feed our allies, as well as to build up a reserve supply.

The county and F. B. A. Agents recommend that each family make plans to have a good garden and to increase the production of livestock. The Extension Service will gladly assist you and your community with plans in connection with this program, upon request, according to an announcement by Carl B. Day, county agent—Big Sandy News.

FOUNT OF YOUTH VITAMIN REPORTED DISCOVERED

New York, Nov. 13.—What may turn out to be a new "fountain of youth vitamin," capable of preventing and reversing the graying of hair and other signs of aging, was revealed here at a meeting of the Society for Experimental Biology and Medicine.

The newly purified and synthesized vitamin is para-aminobenzoyl acid, given the shorter name of paba. This substance belongs to the Vitamin B-complex, which means that in modest amounts it is present in such foodstuffs as yeast, liver and milk, whole grains and eggs.

Treat 300 Persons
The "fountain of youth" effect of paba has been discovered by Dr. Benjamin F. Sleve, who carried out experimental treatments on more than 300 persons, and Dr. Stefan Anbacher, noted New York biochemist.

Dr. Sleve, visiting physician of the Boston City Hospital and assistant professor of medicine at Tufts College medical school, reported at the experimental society's session held at the Cornell University Medical College here, as follows:
"During the past five months about 300 patients of both sexes, aged from 16 to 74 years, were treated with para-aminobenzoyl acid. These cases had varied cases of achromotrichia (graying of hair) for periods of two to twenty-four years.

Reports Few Failures
The treatment consisted in the feeding of paba tablets, each containing 100 milligrams, given in daily doses of 300 to 600 milligrams—that is from half a tablet twice daily to one tablet six times daily.

"Surprisingly few failures have been noted to date.
"We can say definitely that paba is well tolerated by human beings.
"Early changes in the pigmentation of grayed hair were usually noted within the first few weeks of treatment. Patients themselves observed an increase in the luster of the hair. Luster and even the return of waviness, as well as improvement in the moisture were apparent in contrast to the brittleness before treatment.

"After the first yellow or dusty gray coloration, there followed a gradual increase in darkening which varied in time according to the patient's general physiological condition.

"Rejuvenation" Reported.
A number of women who had been sterile, despite all known treatments, for the first time became mothers. One of them was a woman of 27.

In men, too, "rejuvenating" effects were manifested in a number of cases.
Among other arresting effects of the new treatment were increased appetite, relief in certain cases of asthma, return of color to discolored skin areas and other signs of returning physiological vitality.

Dr. Sleve emphasized that the new treatment was still in the experimental stage, and not yet ready to be given out to the general practitioner.

GAS COMPANIES TO SPEND $10,000,000 IN SECTION BY END OF THIS YEAR

By ALLAN M. TROUT
(In The Courier-Journal)

Frankfort, Ky., Nov. 18.—Accreted depletion of natural gas in East Kentucky is inevitable in view of the greatest development boom the Big Sandy field has ever known. A 1941 expansion program, costing nearly $10,000,000, is estimated to push East Kentucky production to 15,000,000 cubic feet a year by the end of 1942. This is three times the production in 1930, twice the production in 1935 and 15,000,000 cubic feet more than estimated production for 1941.

Big Sandy reserves are estimated by most geologists at three trillion cubic feet. That was an estimate of the United States government in early 1930's, but geologists say discovery of new reserves since then has offset the gas drained away.

More Gas Needed. Annual production of 75,000,000 cubic feet would deplete the field in 40 years, if the estimated reserves is correct. The Louisville Gas & Electric Company, however, expresses confidence the reserves will remain adequate until 1953, expiration date of its gas franchise with the City of Louisville. Beyond that date, however, no predictions are hazarded. This company, and its subsidiary producer, Kentucky West Virginia Gas Company, have the largest depletion stake in the field because they account for most of the 30 per cent of Kentucky gas that is consumed in Kentucky. The other 90 per cent is exported.

Natural gas is not replaceable. Worked out fields do not generate new supplies. One principal reason for the current development in Floyd, Martin, Pike, Knott and Johnson counties.

The big factor appears to be West Virginia's inability to supply gas demands of the industrial area and to over-developing and dwindling reserves. The two primary reasons appear to be:

1. The Big Sandy development is in line with a nation-wide trend to greater gas production, due to increased demands of defense activity.

2. East Kentucky is the last known undeveloped area of the Appalachian gas field, which also includes New York, Ohio, West Virginia and Pennsylvania. Its development, therefore, was inevitable in the present search for new gas resources.

Kentucky West Virginia Gas Company and Warfield Natural Gas Company alone are expected to spend $10,000,000 this year for a wide range of exploration, development, pipeline and compressor stations. The two companies' accounts for about half of the expenditures. The other half is divided between 13 smaller companies and several individuals.

Kentucky West Virginia Gas Company's budget of $7,000,000 in 1940. The budget jumped to $12,250,000 in 1941 and will level off at about $14,000,000 in 1942.

Warfield jumped its operations budget from $592,000 in 1940 to $1,250,000 in 1941.

In 1940, only 163 wells were completed in the Big Sandy field. This year Kentucky West Virginia alone had completed 90 wells by the end of October and expects to complete 135 for the year end. Warfield had completed 27 wells by the end of October and expects to complete 100 in 1941.

The wells are being drilled at an average rate of 12 to 15 feet a day. The wells are being drilled at an average rate of 12 to 15 feet a day. The wells are being drilled at an average rate of 12 to 15 feet a day.

NET LEAGUE ORGANIZED

HAGANS IS NAMED INDEPENDENT NET LOOP PRESIDENT

Organization of the Big Sandy independent basketball league was effected at a meeting here Monday evening of sports enthusiasts from eight towns of this section.

The meeting was called by Wm. Powell, Bill Stone, Prestonsburg, Ky., and was elected president of the league.

Teams entered and their representatives are: Powell, Bill Stone; Prestonsburg, Chalmers Frazier; Auxier, Frank Brannan; Betsy Layne, George Clark; Drift, Ward Reed; Maytown, M. K. Red; Wheelwright, Elmer Ferguson, possible manager; Wayland, Dan Harmon; Wade Hall, Prestonsburg, was elected secretary. The board to which all complaints may be carried, composed of Dan Harmon, Wayland, Clive Aker, Drift, Wiley Jones, Maytown; Chalmers Frazier, Prestonsburg; Tom Holland, Pikeville.

The player limit was set at no more than 10 players after Dec. 15. After that date, league by-laws provide all players must be registered with the league 10 days before being eligible to play.

Each of the eight teams in the league will play a 15 game schedule in addition to the tournament week schedule starting with the week of Dec. 1, 8, 15 and 22, Jan. 5, 12, 19 and 26, and Feb. 2, 9, 16 and 23.

The schedule is to be prepared by Tom Holland, and the home team in each instance, is to decide on what night of each week games are to be played. A forfeit of the game and $5 is levied for any team failing to play as scheduled.

Seventy-five memberships had been procured in Prestonsburg by Wednesday morning after a belated start. Reports from other communities, except the two Drift teams, were lacking.

Joe Elliott Tuesday announced that a Junior Red Cross drive is also under way in 10 Floyd county schools. Membership in the Junior Red Cross is $1 per home room or $1 per each 100 pupils in the school. All funds subscribed by the several schools in excess of this amount remain in the county Red Cross treasury. Mr. Elliott explained.

Schools participating in the drive and the sponsors for each follow: Auxier, Miss Johnson; Betsy Layne, Mrs. Angeline Greer; McDowell, J. F. Howell; Weathersburg, Lewis Campbell; Wheelwright, Mrs. Lewis and Mrs. Estella Blackburn; Prestonsburg grade school, Mrs. Bula Mae Brock; Prestonsburg high school, Miss Naomi Goble; Maytown, Miss Harriet Allen. Junior Sportsmen

Sportsmen, assisted by E. R. Burke, district controller, organized the first Kentucky Junior Sportsmen Club.

Following the organizations efforts, the first Kentucky Junior Sportsmen Club, members were drilled in the use of firearms, and at the close of the school year they competed in marksmanship.

School champion shots and runners-up competed in a "grand" shoot for county-wide honors in this classification. At the same time, the Conservation Officer Burke and son, Winston Burke, were giving the Junior Sportsmen half-dressing instructions.
