This Town-- That World

To the General Assembly:
Aw gwan, boys. Who wants to be a dog warden, anyway?

SOME FOUGHT, OTHERS FIDDLER

The MacArthur, the Colin Kellys, the Andersons and others are in the wars here; the Kimmels, the Short, the Neats.

SUBTLE--WHAT?

All this talk of spies, sabotage, the spreading of false information, etc., provides the opportunity to tell of the gentleman of color who asked another of his race why a goose goes on the loose. And to quote the answer: "Cause she was looking for de propaganda!"

ANEMIC--GET IN JAIL

Wouldn't reduce the weight, don't get in Guy Horn's Third Street dormitory. A prisoner yelled to a passing friend, this week, to come on in--"I've gained 12 pounds in two days here."

ANOTHER WAY TO SAY, "SPECIOUS"

It's getting so it's a compliment to be called a "fat tire."

WE JUST MUST

Please don't recall old times and remind me of our golden friendship down the years. It's all very beautiful, but, really, after Saturday night, it can't change less than $2 a year for The Floyd County Times.

TO CORRESPONDENTS

Some new-letters were not published this week. They would have been, had the writers signed their names.

LETTER FROM THE HILLS

One of our unpaid new-letters felt constrained to comment on the Pearl Harbor disaster report, thusly:

"The report says that both General Short and Admiral Kimmel were guests at dinners away from their posts of command on that evening, but that they were not there. I myself would report that some folks return home after the milkman has arrived--and that's an early hour, Monday night. I would call it my reader's (sic) attention to the fact that, had these two, the General and the Admiral, been from Eastern Kentucky and that they'd imbibed during the evening, fighting between themselves, or probably shooting, or drumming, or right and left, and between spells preparing a self-defense plea for any court that might try to 'try 'em."

Shepherd Works Way Thru College Simply By Being Shepherd

All Robert Lee Shepherd, of Perry, said this county, had to do to work its way through 10 years of schooling at Berea Academy and Berea College was to live up to his name.

That was the job of being shepherd of the sheep and cattleherd on the college farm.

Thus he followed the ancient vocation which gave his family its name and thus he paid for his schooling from the sixth grade through high school and on through college all two weeks ago when he received his Bachelor of Science degree.

When Berea's "Shepherd of the Hills" left Middle Creek to enter school, he was 20 and in the sixth grade. He was graduated at 30.

Meanwhile, he married Miss Wilma McGuire, a Berea girl. That was in 1908, and since that time Shepherd has not only worked his way through school but has also supported a family that now numbers four. The Shepherd's youngest child, Phyllis Ann, was born two weeks before her father received his degree.

Hearing Shepherd's story at The First National Bank here Saturday, G. C. Spradlin, cashier, remarked, "A young man like that deserves a medal."

Came back Shepherd: "Did you say medal? That's what I'm after. We have to buy some furniture."

He got the "metal" or its equivalent.

Monday morning he began teaching in the vocational departments of Berea Academy and Martin high schools.

MERRY GO ROUND

Washington, D. C.
SCRAP IRON
It may be that those who let millions of tons of scrap iron go to Japan are not too anxious to advance our present dearth of scrap,
but the real fact is that it is so valuable as to cause the shutdown
of those blast furnaces in Yonksville, Ohio, alone.

To meet the shortage, the OPM
has been conducting an experimental campaign to collect scrap iron in Erie, Pa., and is launching other campaigns in Boston, Pittsburgh, Bridgeport and Akron. However, the campaign is going very slowly. Chief trouble is that collectors are made through the normal scrap iron trade.

Therefore, it looks as if the American public might have to take things in hand. A survey of Richland, Ohio, shows that every farmer has an average of about 50 pounds of usable scrap iron and rusted or rotting behind his barn.
On this basis, the OPM
estimates that it should be possible to collect 1,000,000 tons of scrap
from American farmers.

Not many people realize the importance of scrap iron in the iron and steel industry. Ordinarily, steel is made 50 per cent from ore
and 50 per cent from scrap iron.
But today ordinary supplies of scrap iron are diminished, not only by previous sales to Japan but by the fact that war industries supply no scrap. Many tanks, guns, and military motor trucks are shipped off to Europe, Malaysia or Russia. They never come back. Ordinarily, industry supplies its own scrap iron from junked automobiles, etc. But now there will be fewer automobiles in junk.

So the scrap iron problem is one which will require the farmer and householder to look around behind his barn or in his basement to discover what he can spare for war industries.

You can check off lead as the next strategic material to be put under restriction for civilian use. OPM burning order will be issued shortly. That will mean the end of lead pipes for plumbing, and other uses of normal everyday use. One possible exception may be lead for automobile batteries, but even that will be under severe restriction.

Reason for the ban is inadequacy of domestic supply to meet the increasing need for bullets. War production tables call for a lead consumption of 80,000 tons monthly by June, 1942, and monthly by next January. For military reasons, figures on U. S. supply can not be disclosed, but it is below what is needed even with production increases now under way plus imports from Canada, Mexico and other foreign sources. To civilian use will be restricted for the duration.

WV ICLAND
The latest and most complete broadcasting apparatus in the U.S.A.— owned by WLV Cincinnati—may be set up in Iceland to draw out Hitler's raging broadcasts to the German people.

For many years WLV operated a 50,000 watt station in Cincinnati,
but was forced by the Federal Communications Commission to reduce to 50,000 watts, which is the maximum for ordinary commercial stations in the U.S.A. Therefore, WLV has now obtained the 50,000 watt station in Iceland, but for this purpose it is not used. Since Hitler's station is approximately 75 miles from Iceland, radio waves from the station can be heard in Iceland.

Well take care of yourself, do not
let those air raid bombs scare you
too much and cut out the radio. It is those and this is the kind of
war that they will all be needed.

THE INNER CALL
"The inner call" is a voice which leads to the supreme command—
"New Item."

He orders this and orders that.
He leaps into the newest battle.
He rages, acts or stands quite pat.
According to "the inner call."

He hastens to his mountain cabin.
Or leaves it with no word at all.
He gallops, or he flows his pace.
According to "the inner call."

He makes a plan, then cuts it out.
He quits the front to hire a bull.
He turns from confidence to doubt.
It's all a case of "inner call."

Oh, on some future day he'll find He's bashed his head against the wall.
The reason will then be defined.
"Twas nothing but that 'inner call'!"

tion of labor, trade and art, Roosevelt did not succeed in altering

THE PAPERS OF PRIVATE PURKEY

Dear Ma:
I got your letter about me being a war hero. I knew he would want to do his bit but I half to laugh when I think of him crying anybody to keep away from windows as he is always in a window looking out
most of the time.

I wish you could realize what a change has come over the boys here.
They now want to fight anywhere and most anybody will do it. But put Japs at the top of their list.
The more news we get about the treacherous stuff at Pearl Harbor and the brave work of our boys the surer we get. Sergeant Money when he read about the Japs using a two-man submarine said it was probably no sub at all but just one of them barrels they juggle in the creek. And he says even two Japs in a sub would only be about half a man anyhow.

They surprised us all right but they got a surprise coming and how.
I just heard a definition of a isolationist. A isolationist is a fellow who thinks a net under a trap is foolish on account he is only a spectator anyhow.

Well I see where the draft age
is to be extended to 44 which disposes of any idea talking. It will soon wish I don't want to do no more anyhow. A few weeks ago I was kicking like all the rest of the boys and asking what was the sense of all this time in an army with nobody to fight but now they've got more people fighting us at one time than ever before it all is different.

You may laugh from but this is a fact that we ain't been working half about what happens to us in the war lately as we were worried about the folks back home with all them mayors broadcasting orders at one I could picture you rushing around shopping for sandwiches and pop having a fit because he couldn't find out how to shut off the gas in case of a raid. Still you better follow instructions as best you can as nobody can tell what may happen only I wish the mayors could be as calm as the people. I turned in one night when Mr. LaGuardia was talking. It was such a cool calm talk I almost felt the war was over but you could sneaked one over with a feather
when he wound up his talk by saying: "Well, I don't expect any attack tonight. The weather is unfavorable. What a crack that was. I hope it did not scare you any."

There is a lot of rumors around camp and I think something is up.
I don't know where we may get sent. Nothing would surprise me and I don't care no more where I go as long as it gives me a chance to get out for the first time in my entire life. And I hope when we see action it won't take no unprimes to find out what we can do.

Well take care of yourself, do not
let those air raid bombs scare you
too much and cut out the radio. It
is those and this is the kind of
war that they will all be needed.

Elmer Twitcheell says he understands that when the war hit that country the Wild Men of Europe howled the white flag, came in on the run and asked protection from

Blacksmith Shops
May Stage Return

The blacksmith shop may come back. So it is noted in a statement from the Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics urging the examination of farm machinery for the need of repairs or new parts. Less machinery may be made and repairs may be increasingly difficult to obtain. Therefore it is considered a good plan to go over machinery and arrange for repairs before spring work begins.
Worn parts can be replaced or renewed, in many instances, and machines thereby made to last several years more.

Defense Shop Here Soon To Be Open; Statement Made

With opening of the Prestonsburg defense machine shop only a matter of a few weeks away, superintendent of the shop this week issued the following statement to the young men now working and seeking work on the shop and to their parents:

"In order that a full appreciation of the opportunities and advantages that are being offered by the National Youth Administration in connection with Special Defense now in progress, we have this to say in answer to many questions asked daily. The young men are to get training for work along industrial and mechanical lines and just as soon and as fast as they get the work habit and sufficient training they are moved on to regular defense work at good pay. So many have not taken their job seriously and don't seem to realize what it is all about. Now, it is time to think seriously and deeply. The parents are urged to give encouragement and help their youth to be on time. Teach them to have the proper attitude toward their foreman and toward each other.

"Now, since our country is at war, we are in service on this job and we can show our patriotism as effectively as though we were on the firing line.

"Everyone now has a duty to do and a sacrifice to make. Let's do it now while we can gracefully and get full credit.

"We are appealing to all to work together, stand solidly for production, to help save time, money and material."

This Week, Tonight For Martin Team

The Martin high school net team faces its toughest week in basketball of the current season. Thursday night, Coach Patterson will bring his much-improved quintette up to the Sandy valley and tangle with the Purple Flash on the home floor. Martin expects the game to be plenty tough, since Russell knocked out the Ashland Tomcats recently in a very close encounter. The Purple Flash will be in top form, with every player ready to go. Martin displayed its best brand of basketball of the season in the pre-season tournament held at McDowell when it won runners-up honors. Prestonsburg noosed them out, 25-23, in the final game.

Friday night, Johns Creek will invade Martin for the second home game of the week. Johns Creek holds victories over some of the strong teams of this section, although they have no gymnasium.

Molasses-Making To Be Promoted In County

The shortage of sugar resulting from the interruption of supplies from the Hawaiian and Philippine Islands and from use of sugar in production of war materials creates a need for increased acreage of cane this year, County Agent S. L. Isbell said this week.

An survey to determine the needs for molasses-making equipment is being made by the county agent and local leaders. The Farm Security Administration has agreed to make loans to purchase sorghum-making equipment wherever a need is found. Mr. Isbell expressed the belief that each farm family should produce from 50 to 75 gallons of molasses and that this can be done by planting one-fourth to one-half acre of cane.

Nelson's Winning Game

A short while back Craig Wood, U. S. Open champion, rated Byron Nelson as the finest all-around golfer in golf.

Nelson's triumph in the Open was due to his ability to hit the ball with a golf club. This is a feat that few golfers can do. Nelson's triumph was due to his ability to hit the ball with a golf club. This is a feat that few golfers can do.

Since few know Grantland Rice more about Nelson's game than Leo Diegel, a sports writer, we asked the columnist to let us in on the secret of a great golfer's style and success.

"I've known Byron since he was a Texas kid," Diegel said. "I've studied his game as it changed with years. I think I can tell you something about him."

"In the first place, I would say that Byron Nelson, the most of those Texans, is one of the best competitors I've ever known in golf. What makes a great competitor, you might ask? My answer is determination, unbroken concentration on every shot and his refusal to be discouraged by a few bad shots or a few bad holes. Nelson sinks his teeth in every round, concentrates on every shot, and battles it out to the last putt. He has a fine golfing philosophy, which so many lack, and that is to take the time of the game as they happen to come, good or bad."

The Nelson Swing

"Nelson," Diegel continued, "has the soundest swing in golf. He is the finest long iron player I ever saw. He has the one old feature, and this is his wrist action. At the top of his backswing you will see almost no break of his left wrist."

"Nelson's back his left wrist at all—or only slightly. He men, a strong, firm left hand and wrist that is always in control of the clubhead, which he never lets slip. He hasn't nearly as much body action as many good golfers have, for he lets his body work with his hands and arms. He also has almost perfect head action. I mean by this that his head remains in place until the ball is hit."

"I don't know of any golfer who has a more compact style of swinging a club. Everything is under control. He has cut the margin of error to near zero."

His Weakest Shot

"I would say Byron's weakest shot was the short chip," Leo said. "This is due to his lack of even slight wrist action on this stroke. He isn't bad just off the green, but he isn't deadly as he is on other shots. I have often seen him play long irons from 200 or 220 yards away just as close to the pin as he would from 20 yards away."

"Another factor is his perfect confidence in his own swing. I've also seen him drop 8 or 10 balls on the turf in just average lies, take out a driver, and hit them all over 250 yards as straight as a rifle can shoot. "To many golfers bother too much with unimportant details. They don't concentrate enough on what their hands and wrists are doing with the head of the club. Too often they think about everything except swinging that clubhead through the ball."

"You don't swing a club with your hips and shoulders. You swing it with your hands. If you watch Nelson you get the idea that he isn't using anything except his hands. Of course, he does, but he lets the rest of it fit in, not work against his hands."

Tough Competitors

"Why is it those Texans are such tough competitors?" Diegel asked. "They come along with Ralph Guldahl, who wins two National Opens in a row. Then they give you a Jimmy Demaret who wins eight big tournaments in a few months. Then along comes Ben Hogan and Byron Nelson. Hogan is one of the most successful golfers that ever played. You may recall that he finished in the money 56 consecutive times before he slipped a little. Then at Miami he finished second after leading the field for three rounds."

"Hogan uses his wrists and body much more than Nelson does. Ben, weighing only 135 pounds, has to do this to get the distance needed today. Hogan has a far greater body than Nelson uses, and more flexible wrists. Ben lets the clubhead dip at least 18 inches or two feet more than Nelson does. Byron's club is little more than a three-quarter swing."

"Nelson, Hogan and Sam Snead make one of the most interesting studies in golf," Diegel said. "All three are great golfers—three of the best we've ever had."

Ky. Bankers Sponsor Public-Speaking Contest

Floyd county chairman of the Kentucky Bankers' Association patriotic public-speaking contest, in announcing this week a $500 scholarship to the contest winner also said that an effort will be made to have each Floyd county high school type entered by a speaker.

Your American Duty—To Buy Defense Bonds—is the subject chosen for the discussion as Kentucky bankers seek to impress upon every community not only its patriotic duty but also the economic wisdom of investing in these bonds to save America.

Any bonafide high school junior or senior is eligible to enter the contest. Mr. Spradlin said. Banks of the county are divided into seven groups and arrangements have been made to have every district representative a winner. The capital prizes are: first prize, a $500 scholarship in any Kentucky college or university; second, a $50 Defense Bond; third, prize, a $25 Defense Bond. The other four district finalists will each receive a $25 Defense Bond.

And, in addition to all that—Bent county will have a contest of its own which is to be held on or before April 15. These county contests are held for the purpose of selecting a county champion who will represent his county in the group contest. There are to be 21 group prizes, a first, second and third prize to be awarded in each of the seven groups. A $25 Defense Bond to the winner, $10 D Defense Stamp to the second and $5 Defense Stamp as a third prize. The group contests will be held April 24.

Mrs. J. W. Sutherland Is Named Director Of Book Drive

Mrs. J. W. Sutherland, Prestonsburg high school librarian, was recently named local director for the Victory Book Campaign in Floyd county. This campaign, which is being sponsored by the American Library Association, the American Red Cross and the United Service Organizations for National Defense, is a nation-wide effort to collect books needed by U. S. soldiers and sailors. The goal set is 10,000,000 books.

Harold P. Bricham, of the Louisville Free Public Library, is state director and each of the 128 counties of Kentucky will have a county chairman, whose duty it is to work with community leaders to secure suitable books. Each community will have a collection center where books are to be left. This center will be designated by the community director.

In Prestonsburg the three centers designated are the Prestonsburg high school library, the WPA library, and the Francis Cash Store. It is hoped that a large number of books will be brought to these centers from which they will be collected, cleaned and possibly repaired before being sent to the Louisville center.

Although a complete list of community chairmen is unavailable at this time, the following persons have been asked to assist:

Miss Lola Burke, Betsy Layne.

Miss Lula Mae Crisp, Allen; Miss Mildred Boyd, Emma; Miss Mary Evans, Martin; Mrs. V. A. Hayes, Maytown; Mrs. Gladys Belcher, Wayland; Mrs. C. B. Leon, Garrett; Mrs. J. H. Triplett, Auxier; Mrs. E. A. Stumbo, Mrs. Ella Noel White, Her; W. B. Garrett, Chalmers; Prader, Dr. Wm. Hiden, W. Claude Caudill, Prestonsburg.

Practically any book is acceptable, but "books for men"—fiction, adventure, travel, detective, scientific and biographical numbers—are most desirable.

We sincerely wish this war had not caused higher prices, here at home. It was not our idea, this increase in THE FLOYD COUNTY TIMES subscription rate from $1.50 to $2.00 a year. That price increase came along with the higher cost of everything else.

Months ago, other newspapers similar to THE FLOYD COUNTY TIMES foresaw higher publication costs and jumped subscription rates to the $2 we are asking only now. We stayed at the old price as long as possible, you see.

TIME TO STOP RAIDING THE COOKIE JAR

Special taxes on Kentucky motorists during the last five years, July 1, 1936, to June 30, 1941, amounted to $8,300,000. The annual $1 drivers' license fee produced $2,180,000 and the 3% sales tax on automobiles brought in $6,120,000. None of this money was used for road purposes but was diverted to the state general fund for non-highway uses. An amendment to the state Constitution to stop the practice of diversion is being urged by Kentucky motorists.

The new branch stations have also reported an increase in the number of drivers' licenses.

What Do You Know About Beer? . . . No. 4 of a Series

WHAT HAPPENS TO BEER TAX MONEY?

A—State taxes and license fees paid by Kentucky's legal brewing industry go into the State's General Fund.

Q—Where does the money go from there?

A—Revenue from beer in 1941 was used for education in public schools, colleges, normal schools, etc.; for public welfare, including old age assistance, aid to dependent children, Confederate pensions, health service, and penal and charitable institutions; and for expenses of State government.

Q—What would happen if this revenue from beer were not available to the State?

A—Kentuckians would have to dig down deeper into their own pockets to provide the money.

YOU CAN HELP preserve these benefits from legal beer in two ways: (1) Buy your beer only in wholesome, law-abiding places; (2) Report any law violations you may see to the authorities or to this Committee.

Story of U. S. War Production, What Needs To Be Done, Told

The war production story of the United States must do what the United States must do to achieve its potential. The report is a story of the production of the United States, the production of the United States, the production of the United States.

Only by the mobilization of every available man, woman, dollar and thing—every plant, tool, machine and bit of material—can an adequate production structure be built, says the report.

Among the high-lights of war production in the United States since the fall of France are: The foundation has been laid for an armament program of a magnitude no other nation has ever attempted. Nearly three times as many weapons and supplies of war will be produced this year as in the 18 months between June, 1940, and the end of 1941.

This year our production of planes and tanks will equal that of Hitler in all the years before 1939 when he was preparing to conquer the world.

War spending has soared from an annual rate of two billion dollars in July, 1940 to a rate of almost twenty billion dollars on Dec. 1, 1941. It must reach a rate of 48 billion this year and more than 60 billion next.

Goods from the arsenal of democracy are flowing and will flow to all corners of the earth where the soldiers and sailors of democracy fight.

The United States production program, as described in the report to the Nation, covers every phase of the war: the army and the navy, planes, tanks, ordnance, munitions, ships, and the conversion of existing plants. The report tells the story of production and repair. It details the steps in the production of the war: the army and the navy, planes, tanks, ordnance, munitions, ships, and the conversion of existing plants.

The report minutely covers the fact that a short, only, has been made. For military needs it is not revealed the exact number of planes, tanks, or ships being built. The rate of building is important. The production of tanks and other combat vehicles is now more than three times as large as a year ago; that of all types nearly five times.

Army and navy production is now more than three times as large as a year ago; that of all types nearly five times. The report states that the United States has stepped up to a point where, with Great Britain, we soon shall exceed the plane output of the Axis countries. More important, we shall have the plant capacity to increase our production to the point where we can control the air in all areas of the world struggle. Not only this, the report continues, but the army now has "four types of combat planes—some of them superior to those produced abroad." In short, the army's story is one of equipment of all kinds as well as housing for an adequate army.

The navy, fighting the sea war in the Atlantic and Pacific oceans, is producing a fleet of battleships, cruisers, destroyers, and submarines.

The report also tells the story of the production of the United States, the production of the United States, the production of the United States.

ments not altruism, but war-making in the realistic sense of world strategy. Lend-Lease is described as a war weapon.

The theater of Lend-Lease, says the report, is the world itself. Thirty-two governments, in addition to the British Empire, are eligible for benefits. The United States, with roughly seven per cent of the world's area and population, has pledged itself to become the arsenal for 75 per cent of the world's area and for 44 per cent of its people. To this end almost 13 billion dollars have been appropriated.

"Does the Axis plan a push eastward? We are prepared for such a thrust. Out of Lend-Lease funds British bases are being built at Rangoon in Burma, at Karachi on the Arabian Sea, and other vital outposts on the Persian Gulf and in Britain. With $50,000,000 from Lend-Lease, the Army Air Corps Ferrying Command already has delivered more than a thousand planes.

Pan-American Airways has received a subsidy for a new route across the South Atlantic. Another Lend-Lease airline reaches to Iceland. Trucks supplied with Lend-Lease fuel and oil career over the crazy twists of the European continent. The United States Public Health Service is building malaria hospitals among 200,000 Chinese laborers who are building a railroad paralleling the Burma Road.

"The relatively small trickle of assistance—so it was described last September—can hardly be called a trickle any more. But it is growing fast. Last March only $18,000,000 in Lend-Lease aid was given. By November, 1941, this had risen to $205,000,000 a month. A grand total of $500,000,000 have been spent, which is some 15 per cent of all we have spent for defense and war since the Lend-Lease Act was passed."

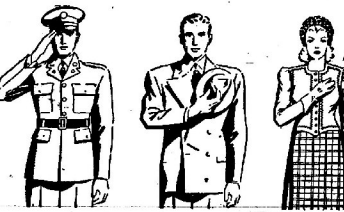

In the field of economic warfare, the United States did not wait until the Axis began to weaken itself for the struggle. Since April of 1941 a host of government agencies, each working in its own specialized field, has been working to weaken the enemy. They have operated through the freezing of foreign funds, through control of imports and exports, through a trade embargo, through a ban on strategic materials, through a ban on strategic materials, through a ban on strategic materials.

Every Patriotic American Salutes His Nation's Flag

During the ceremony of hoisting or lowering the flag, or when the flag is passing in a parade or in review, all persons present should face the flag, stand at attention and salute.

Those present in uniform should render the right hand salute.

Those men not in uniform should remove their headgear.

Some 2,000 applications are being handled a day.

"The elimination of Axis-controlled airlines in South America," says the report, "is an excellent example of successful economic warfare. The shipment of gasoline to the suspect companies was cut off. Most of the Republics wanted to buy out the Axis companies. The balance of the $50,000,000 lending fund was set up to facilitate these purchases. In September of 1939 there were 4,100 Axis planes in the world. Now there are none. There were 3,494 miles in Colombia, 594 miles in Ecuador, 1,210 miles in Peru. Now there are none. The job is virtually complete in other countries."

Not content to block the export of products from the United States to the Axis, we have worked to prevent the Axis from getting strategic materials from any country. This country has contracted for the purchase of materials which might otherwise have gone to the enemy.

"Before the end of 1940," the report adds, "agreements had been signed which assured us substantially the entire copper production of Chile, Mexico, and Peru. In November, 1940, we agreed to buy all Bolivian tin not already earmarked for Great Britain. A few months later, in the face of higher Japanese bids, an agreement was made to purchase Bolivia's entire tungsten output. Under the 1941 agreements with Brazil, Mexico and Peru, we are buying the entire exportable surplus of a number of their strategic materials."

Lend-Lease appropriations for war can land total almost $4,000,000,000. This will go for ordnance, tanks, for miscellaneous military supplies, for increased production facilities in the United States.

Some $2,000,000,000 have been earmarked for aviation and contracts up to $1,700,000,000 have been let. Few of these airplanes have been shipped abroad, but thousands will be delivered. For Lend-Lease ships and shipping, $1,600,000 have been authorized. Twenty-six ships are now turning out Lend-Lease ships, existing yards are being enlarged, and new ones built.

Lackey-Garrett Club Program Devoted To State History

Mrs. W. N. Stratton, of Wayland, was hostess to the Lackey-Garrett Woman's Club, Friday night, Jan. 23. At this meeting Mrs. M. M. Collins conducted an interesting program on the topic, "Highlights of Kentucky History from 1792 to 1942." Mrs. Collins was assisted by the following members, who discussed many of the men and events figuring in Kentucky history during the 150 years of her statehood:

"Sparsity Plebs, Kentucky," Mrs. Fred A. Martin; "Isaac Shelby, Kentucky's First Governor," Mrs. Dan Harman; "John Russell, Kentucky Historian," Mrs. W. T. Hatcher; "Henry Clay," Mrs. R. H. Masser; "Cassius M. Clay and Abolition," Mrs. George Pow; "Abraham Lincoln," Kentucky Boyhood," Mrs. Elizabeth Clapp; "Kentucky's Stand in the Civil War," Mrs. Chas. "Dental Trailer" Used in Breathitt

Four-H's in Breathitt county taking the health project—100 of them, in fact—were able to get dental attention at "dental trailer" sponsored jointly by the county health department and the Kiwanis Club. The trailer was stationed at Quicksand, and 45 more than 12 years old and needing dental care were given it. Says Fern Johnson, home demonstration agent: "Arm's rejecters due to bad teeth show how widespread is the need for early and adequate dental care. This excellent care provided at the dental trailer in Breathitt county should bring results now and also years from now, in good health and economy."

"The Home Front"

This is the job—to mould our whole country into a single weapon of attack as the separate fingers of the hand unite to form a clenched fist. And now, under the new War Production Board, we are results harvesting at that job. Chas. Donald M. Nelson intends that every ounce of material not required for absolute essential civilian needs, every machine and every plant, every building and every factory, should be spared from civilian production and converted into military use, shall work for war.

That's going to bring this struggle to the home front as it hasn't been brought before. As time goes on it is going to test the mettle of every one of us in one way or another.

For some while now the trends have indicated that the American consumer faces increasing deprivation, must be prepared for increasing sacrifice, and last week was no exception. This all underlines the fact that the civilian in this fight for democracy must practice the soldierly virtues, he must be cheerful and uncomplaining.

What the President said about fear, "that the only thing we have to fear is fear itself," is particularly true on the consumer front. Hoarding is fear operating in the sphere of the consumer. You can't beat shortages by hoarding. Hoarding, however, the potential sacrifice itself, simply hoards the day of rationing—and hoarding may actually create artificial shortages of goods or commodities which actually are plentiful.

Sugar may have to ration, because of the tremendous quantities required for production of alcohol used in making explosives and for other military purposes. But there are many energy-saving substitutes for sugar so far as that goes. It is with sugar as with the spices we may not be getting in quantity because the Jap stands athwart our Far Eastern trade routes. We certainly can get along with less pepper, we have to.

The point is that fundamentally we have plenty of food. Even under the most unlikely conditions of standard of nutrition still will seem extravagantly high to the Japanese with his 35 handfuls of rice each month, or the German living on a diet of potatoes and ersatz.

But suppose—and this isn't theory, the Office of Price Administration and the Department of Agriculture are jointly concerned about it—and suppose that some people, motivated by unreasoning fear, begin to hoard staple groceries.

If enough people are moved by the contagion of example to do likewise, real great quantities of staples to what amounts to dead storage, you have the rudiments of a serious situation. Prices premium in response to suddenly increased demand, the time comes when retailers' stocks really are depleted when warehouses and processing plants lagged under a rush of orders, when the whole economy of food supply is upset.

OPA has received reports that at least one grocery distributor has been encouraging hoarding in hand-bills given out to housewives with their purchases at the store. Another instance of the kind of thing that encourages housewives to stock "emergency pantry shelves" at this time is seeking tremendous profit at the expense of truth and the good of himself and his fellow citizens, and the country's resources. Most have any of it, buy your food stuff as you would them be prepared to make adjustments if and when they become necessary, there'll be enough to eat for everyone.

Keep your head, and don't be afraid.

Here are new developments on the war production front. It is important that you will eventually see present stocks are exhausted—be reflected in the lives of many consumers. They stem from a variety of secondary causes, everything which happens on any sector of every front in the world back affects us all, but their primary purpose is to speed our victory over the Axis.

The WEP slumped farther down controls on rubber which will reduce the amount available for a wide range of civilian products by about 75 per cent. And many products such as garden hose, toy cars, sports goods and rubber boots may be made only from reclaimed rubber in the future.

WEPB moved to meet demands of the radio industry by ordering heavy cuts in production of recording equipment for civilians. Also ordered reduced output of phonographs and radio-phonograph combinations. Cut for the next 90 days is 40 per cent below output for the nine month period ended Sept. 30, 1941. Most of the big companies are converting for 100 per cent military production. We now have an estimated 60,000,000 radios in 87 per cent of U.S. homes.

Consumers in 15 Eastern and Southern states will pay more for gasoline as the result of the three-fourths of a cent per gallon increase granted by OPA and Petroleum Administration. The increase compensates for higher transportation costs incurred by oil companies shipping tank cars and other methods to

Men of Bell Ask For Whole Wheat

In Baking community in Bell county, as in many other areas, a lot of whole wheat flour was not immediately popular—so found the home demonstration agent Mrs. Sunshir Colley. It was distributed in a way of home thrift to the war and chickens. One day the home-demonstration club served at the community dinner, but when whole wheat flour and recipes were handed out. No suggestions were made other than the mental substitution of good food, but two weeks later the club thronged the community asking where to obtain the flour and for more recipes.

On Jan. 21, five youths were sent to New London, Conn. From New London, they will be sent to work for nearby war industries. These to New London, and all completed the work experience offered in the machine shop at Lake Reba.

School Children To Play Vital Role In Axis Defeat

America's 25,000,000 school children will be given an unprecedented opportunity to play a vital part in the defeat of the Axis through the Defense Savings Program under plans announced by the Treasury Department.

The school program of the Defense Savings Staff will place particular emphasis upon the educational opportunities which Defense Savings afford. Through the operation of Defense Savings Stamp Booths by school children, the formation of a new generation of patriotic citizens to the cause of national defense, and through the operation of Parent-Teacher Associations, the program will help to instill in the minds of children and their parents the importance of the war effort.

A detailed outline setting forth the ways by which children can cooperate is contained in a new bulletin, "Sharing America," now being distributed to all public school institutions. Prepared by the Treasury Department in consultation with the United States Office of Education, the bulletin affords a revealing and enthusiastic comment from educators.

The basic theme of the educational program is to teach children why they are being asked to buy Defense Savings Stamps, through incorporating Defense Savings into the daily life of the child.

The bulletin, "Sharing America," is intended to help teachers and others to introduce the subject in a wide range of educational material. "Sharing America," said John W. Stenhouse, U. S. Commissioner of Education, "is certain to find favor with school officials and teachers who are eager to do everything they can to help America win the war."

The program, as outlined in this publication, is certainly sound, and offers to every child in the United States an opportunity to participate in an important way in the defense of his country.

Cottage cheese can be made at home by using ordinary equipment found in any kitchen, says a booklet published by the Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics. Such cheese is rather perishable and therefore should be made often and eaten while fresh.
