HELP YOUR COMMUNITY DRIVES . . . and You Help America

In Colonial days when a family faced misfortune, kindly neighbors set up a melting pot before the door. The community was quick to contribute, because lean and perilous years taught our forefathers that only by helping one another could all survive and earn security in a land of growing opportunities.

Today, when this hard-won security is in jeopardy, our country and many of its citizens need a helping hand. The Red Cross, the War Chest, the scrap and salvage drives and other calls on each community are realistic reminders of the pioneer spirit that bound our nation together . . . that gave us the highest standard of living the world has ever known. When we help our neighbors we help our country.

In every community, Budweiser is known as the Perfect Host to a host of friends. To serve your neighbors beer is simple hospitality, but to serve them Budweiser is a gracious compliment . . . and, it makes your simple wartime meals taste better.

SHIKE'S POKES

(The views expressed herein are those of the writer and not necessarily those of this newspaper.—Editor.)

Well, we thought Mitch had the championship on swappin' when he swapped his wife's hose for a ride home. But Chub swapped his V-8 for a ride home—and we can't figure yet how he ever got the thing back to base.

Tip just doesn't water his car often enough. It breaks loose and goes to the creek.

It's now 38 Keens and 44 Showers—the heavy artillery men.

The Republicans cheered when Willkie said the U.S. should collect 16 billions in taxes. FDR asked for 10 billions in taxes, yet when the Congress rebuffed him with only two billions the Republicans cheered. Just what manner of men are they? You know, it wouldn't do to turn a country at war over to a bunch that thinks and acts like that.

A lot of those Congressmen had better put all their people on the payroll and get all they can for when the boys come home they will be retired. Now, since the Republican minority in Congress has joined with a few nunkobull Democrats to keep the soldiers from voting, just what is your honest opinion of that bunch of jeruses that pass a law that if you're 1A you can't vote, but if you're 4F you can't I listened to Senator Wherry's Lincoln Day address. I thought I would hear a speech on the immortal Lincoln, but he spent his time explaining why he was against the soldiers voting. The only reason I could figure he was against the soldiers' vote was because the soldiers had more sense than to vote for him or his crowd. Boy! I bet the people's faces in Nebraska were red! They could have had Norris, yet they elected another "Happy" Chandler—a fellow who doesn't know the first World War is over.

That case in the Huntington papers last week about a fellow taking his complaint before the court and receiving $50 damages for overcharging on OPA prices should be a warning to Floyd county merchants, for the fellows are now watching for any overcharge. That's the only way to break up this overcharging of OPA prices—take your complaint to the Board and then prosecute.

Is your boy out there ... in the land of blood and tears?

It's staggering along some muddy road ... or huddled beneath a leaky tent? Do you see him now, thriving beneath a broiling sun? Or is your boy fighting a wintry blast in the land where winter never ends? ... Yes, millions of people worry tonight for the men in the lands that God forgot.

But if your heart is sick with longing for some special boy ... remember this and find comfort ... wherever he may be, in the frozen wastes of Iceland or the jungles of New Guinea ... you can reach out and give your boy some little comfort that speaks of home.

He will get all this ... and more ... straight from you.

He will sleep between sheets when he gets his furlough, in a town ten thousand miles from home ... thanks to you. Even should he be a prisoner of war, he won't be condemned to live on alien bread. For every week the Red Cross will carry to him a carton of food. Yes, eleven full pounds of real American food, the kind you used to give him at your own table. And real American cigarettes and tobacco!

More ... straight from you.

So dig deep and be glad. For wherever he is

The RED CROSS is at his side and the Red Cross is YOU!

Learn about Sportsmanship from Us!

EASTERN KENTUCKY, some folks say, shocks them sometimes. We're crude, they say; violent, even. THE TIMES has no intention of using space here, or elsewhere, in an attempt to whitewash the section and its people. Yes, we have our faults, just like the rest of the world.

But if we are not polished, we are as the uncut diamond. If we kill, we kill in "sudden heat and passion."

None can say that the Eastern Kentuckian is wantonly cruel.

Last week TIME magazine, in sarcastic turn of phrase and poignant picture, told a story which indicts of malicious cruelty a section of a neighboring state whose newspapers, from time to time, have been none too kind to Eastern Kentucky.

The pictures and accompanying story told of the Hanover county, Ohio, fox drives in which hundreds of mad, some women and children form a giant circle, flush from hiding a fox, then draw the cordon smaller and smaller, inexorably penning in the frantic animal. When the poor fox is tired to the state of exhaustion, big, strong, brave men armed with clubs step out of the line and club the animal to death. Or, as one picture showed, a boy of eleven administers the coup de grace. Meanwhile eyes glint savagely from the circle of humans encompassing the victim and his slayer; teeth flash in what are known in some circles as smiles.

Even a four-year-old tot toddles out to pose with his club as a victorious gladiator!

Bring on the next victim! More daring hunters are ready to take a chance with him, to show their children how to get rid of the dumb, helpless, wild thing.

It is a pity these Ohioans could not come to Floyd or any neighboring hill country and learn about sportsmanship from us. Here they would find men who hunt foxes for the pure joy of the chase—they would find here the essence of sportsmanship.

For your Eastern Kentuckian does not hunt the fox or ride to the hounds to be in at the kill. Their garb, these men who climb the steep slopes and walk the long, high ridges, may be rough; all the amenities they may not have mastered. But these are the men who can teach you the highest type of sportsmanship.

And that is to follow the pack, to sit long hours at a fire on a high, windswept knob, to walk through the night in all weathers—not to kill a fox, but simply to listen to the music of the hounds. Their blood tingles not to the thrill of the lethal blow or the crack of the deadly shot but to the now-near, now-distant trumpeting of Loud and Drum whose voices are as that of Bugle Ann.

Truth to tell, most of them would dare you to kill that fox!

For sportsmanship and many of the other fine things, the real things, of life, we suggest "Life up thine eyes unto the hills!"

D.A.R. DRIVE TO CONTINUE

The Quota Reached, Need for Plasma Held Increasing

The Blood Plasma drive initiated in this county by John Graham, D.A.R. chairman, said this week the original goal of $5,000 this week as a contribution of $275.61 from Wayland and other smaller cash gifts were reported.

The drive conducted at Wayland by Mrs. Criv Wells was aided by $100 from the Ligon Coal Company local UMW union.

"Although we are within a few dollars of reaching our $5,000 quota," Mrs. Wells said, "the need for plasma is still great. We cannot stop here. Because the war has not stopped, more blood plasma is being called each month and as the casualties of war mount—which they surely will—more help from the folks back home will be needed. We should and must continue to work and give for this great cause."

Other D.A.R. chapters of the state are far behind the chapter here in this phase of war endeavor and have incredulously asked how such achievements were attained.

Questions, Answers About the WAVES

Do all WAVES begin as apprentice seamstresses? No, even officer candidates. However, after the indoctrination and training period, there are automatic promotions. Higher ratings thereafter depend on ability and length of service.

How do qualifications for WAVES officers differ from those for enlisted personnel? A college degree, or two years of college work plus acceptable business or professional experience is required. Evident and teeth standards are slightly higher. Women up to 35 years of age are eligible. These are the principal differences.

How long are WAVES on duty daily? Always on duty. Practically, the work is no more arduous than in a business or professional office.

WAVE candidate, however, should be actuated by a desire for an easy, glamorous life. WAVES have plenty of time for recreation, but the important thing is to do a job here well and thereby contribute toward earlier termination of the war.

Information about the WAVES is available in writing by the district OPA at any Navy Recruiting Station or Civil Control Administration.

OPA 'Gas' Credit Effective April 1

The Office of Price Administration this week issued a ruling, effective April 1, forbidding the transfer of gasoline by any dealer or licensed distributor from his retail facilities in exchange for Class R gasoline coupons, unless the dealer or distributor transports such gasoline in quantities of 25 gallons or more to the place of delivery selected by the buyer, or unless the seller is authorized in writing by the district OPA to make bulk gasoline transfers in exchange for such coupons.

This announcement was made Tuesday by the Floyd War Price and Rationing Board here.

"The dealer or local distributor, the ruling continued, 'may make application to his local rationing board and application can then be transferred to the district director.'

Licensed or intermediate distributors of gasoline for sale are eligible to accept R coupons, but operators of retail outlets (service stations, etc.) may not accept such coupons after April 1, nor shall they have in their possession such coupons after April 1 unless they maintain required delivery equipment or have written OPA authority to accept these coupons.

Licensed distributors are required to deposit on or before April 10 in their ration bank accounts all Class R coupons which they possessed or controlled on April 1, the order concluded.

Unpeeled Boiled
Potatoes Better

Food experts at the Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics say potatoes boiled with their jackets on have greater food value than peeled potatoes. They contain twice as much vitamin B-1, so, why bother with the irksome job of peeling spuds? They say: just scrub them off and hurl them into the pot of water to boil, jackets and all, and thereby get the most food value from them.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"Somethin' special catch your eye in the paper, Judge?"

"Sure did, Chet... an article here telling about prohibition in India being written off by the Madras government as a dismal failure after a three-year trial. They found out that enforcement was ineffective and that there was a steady increase in bootlegging and other violations of the law which increased penalties failed to check."

"It all goes to prove what I've said time and time again, Chet... prohibition does not prohibit. It's been tried in this country 47 times in the last 33 years and discarded everywhere except in three states. Was found to be a failure and abandoned in Canada, Norway, Sweden, Finland and Russia, too."

"Same thing happens every time... as soon as legal liquor is outlawed, bootleg liquor with its crime and corruption moves right in."

From where I sit...

by Joe Marsh

Judge Cunningham told me yesterday he'd just had a letter from his son, Phil, down in the South Pacific.

"You know, Joe," he said, "despite the bitter fighting in those Jap-infested jungles, the pecky insects and all that sweltering heat, the boy seems as cheerful and chipper as ever. Just read this!"

He handed me Phil's letter.

"The shooting's died down for a spell," Phil wrote, "and it's hot as blazes. Wish I had just one cool glass of that good old Kentucky beer right now!"

"And I wish I'd been right there to hand it to him," the Judge said, with feeling.

Yes, from where I sit, the boys who are fighting our battles - and risking life itself in doing so - deserve the things they want. Especially when it's so simple a thing as a moderate glass of beer!

FLOYD COUNTY GOES TO WAR

Where Floyd Countians in Armed Forces Are, What They're Doing

Seaman E. Eugene C. Hall, whose family resides at Bevinville, is now an integral member of the amphibious forces of the navy.

At the completion of his preliminary LST training at the amphibious training base, Camp Bradford, N.O.B., Norfolk, Va., he was assigned to the crew of an LST for active duty.

The LST is especially constructed for the transportation of troops and heavy equipment. It has a bow that can be opened when it comes into the beach which enables men and equipment to land ready for action. This type of amphibious craft is as large as a destroyer, and it is the largest of the amphibious ships capable of making landings directly on a beach.

Like the naval air force and the submarine service, the physical requirements of the amphibious force are greater than for the other branches of the naval service. To qualify for assignment to any of the amphibious craft, a candidate must successfully complete a thorough and varied curriculum.

Otis Vanderpool, aviation radar technician, 2nd class, after having completed a nine-months training course in radar at Corpus Christi, Texas, has been transferred to Lake City, Florida, as an instructor in this field. His wife joined him there last week.

Pfc. Edith Crum, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Crum of Wayland, was graduated last week from the army air forces flexible gunnery school, Laredo, Army Air Field, Laredo, Texas, a member of the AAF training command. He is now qualified to take his place as a member of a bomber combat crew. Along with his diploma, he received a pair of aerial gunner's silver wings and a promotion in grade at brief graduation exercises.

He was prepared for his place in America's stepped-up air offensive by a comprehensive six weeks course in every phase of aerial gunnery warfare. Besides learning the use of every type of weapon from camera guns to the deadly .50-caliber Brownings, he studied turret manipulation, aircraft identification, stripping and re-assembling of machine guns while blindfolded. He climaxed the course by firing on towed targets.

What do the boys overseas say about the Red Cross? Sgt. Edgar W. Coburn, son of A. J. Coburn, Haysville, writes from Italy to his sister, Mrs. Charles Wilson, Wheelwright, giving the answer:

"I don't forget to contribute to the Red Cross. They certainly do a wonderful job."

Sgt. Coburn added: "We see and are visited by several famous generals. I think that I'm permitted to say that General Clarke has been here several times."

New recruits at the naval training pound, Great Lakes, Ill., are 14 Floyd county men.

They are now receiving instruction in seamanship, military drill, and naval procedure. Soon they will be given a series of aptitude tests for determining whether they will be assigned to one of the navy's service schools, or to immediate active duty at sea.

Upon completing their recruit training these men will be home on a nine-day leave. They are: Maynard Hackworth, 24, Bonanza; Raymond B. Woods, 29, Emma; Johnnie Case, 27, Garrett; Dockie Prater, 26, Haysville; Charles E. Conley, 25, Haysville; Noah Akers, 26, Ligon; Ralph G. Reynolds, 19, Martin; Alvin Barnett, 18, Martin; Denver D. McKinney, 18, Martin; French P. Spencer, 18, Northern; Thomas M. Heford, Jr., 20, Prestonsburg; Buster Thompson, 18, Edgar; Frank T. Conley, 27, Wayland; Savel Combs, 18, Wayland.

Hargus D. Reedy, S 2 c. Wheelwright, completed his recruit training March 9 at the Sampson, N. Y., naval training station on the shores of Seneca Lake and will be granted leave. Upon his return to Sampson, he will be eligible for further assignment which may qualify him for a petty officer rating.

Pfc. Jimmy Frazier, with the marines on Namur Island, and a son of Alex Frazier, Prestonsburg, writes his sister, Mrs. C. A. Lockwood, Staten Island, N. Y.:

"Hunting season is now over and your little brother and his squad are fine, not even a scratch. Thank God for that. Lost a few friends, due to the fact that Co. 'B' was the big dog in this show."

"As for the little yellow '77'—well, it was like fighting the little man who wasn't there. We are now living in a nice little hole in the ground, and it wasn't for the smell of rotten yellow mud one would think this was a summer resort. Spirit is great—even if all the Jap beer is gone."

Elmer P. Simer, S 2 c. formerly of Wayland, is now an integral member of the amphibious forces of the U.S. navy. At the completion of his preliminary LST training at the Amphibious Training Base, Camp Bradford, N.O.B., Norfolk, Va., he was assigned to the crew of an LST for active duty.

Melvin Innes, G.M. 2 c in the Sea Base, formerly of Wayland and well-known baseball player of this section, writes from Guilford, Miss. (he later had his address changed to Fleet, Norfolk, Va.) to his sister, the sister, to say he enjoys Chesapeake's climate and also that of his fellow-journalist Noble Hobbs, even if he and Noble don't see eye-to-eye on political matters.

Lieut. Brady M. Collins, son of Dr. and Mrs. M. Collins, Lackey, is stationed at Pearl Harbor with the marine corps.

T Sgt. Foster Mitchell in a letter to his mother, Mrs. Levi Mitchell, of Beaver, said he was stationed somewhere in New Guinea, and he had spent a furlough in southern Australia. He has been overseas 24 months.

Chief Petty Officer Harold D. Hall, eldest son of Mrs. Epp Lafayette, Prestonsburg, a few days ago completed a three-month naval instructor's course at Farragut, Idaho, and has been transferred to Chicago as an instructor in the navy training school. Before entering the training school, he had made 20 voyages between this country and ports of allied countries. He has two brothers, Bedford and Howard, with the navy.
