KENTUCKY ON THE MARCH

By EWING GALLOWAY

Five hundred thousand cattle at an average of $125 a head add up to $75,000,000. Quite a lot of apoplexy, even in times when billions make only single-column headlines.

But Kentucky farmers are not miffed at an opportunity to add that to their annual income by producing all the livestock, particularly beef cattle, that it could produce.

On a recent trip of 600 miles through 29 counties, I saw fewer beef cattle and pasture than we have in one commercial district in Henderson county. Eight of the counties are in the rich bluegrass region, six are in the mountains of north-eastern Kentucky, the rest are just average counties. In some of the poorest cattle country in the southeast it takes a square mile to sustain one cow. In the hilliest counties in Kentucky four acres will produce a beef animal in a year of average rainfall. In the bluegrass districts an acre and a half will do the trick.

With 300 acres of bluegrass I keep around 200 brood cows, calves and yearlings and in good years I can feed 100 head without overgrazing the land. Most pastures will produce about half as much beef.

Most farmers with 100 acres could keep 10 good beef cows and market eight to 10 yearlings a year with barely any labor, and the manure would fertilize their land every day the cattle grazed on it.

I know a farmer who says he would raise cattle even if they didn't yield him any profit at all when he marketed them, because that is the best way to maintain the fertility of his crop land.

In this corner of the state most cattle and sheep raisers depend mainly on redtop and lespedeza, the topsoil for year-round grazing, the lespedeza to fatten the animals in September and October. This far, there are only about 50 bluegrass pastures in each of our three most cattle counties—Henderson, Daviess and Clinton.

When our county agricultural agent H. R. Jackson came here 13 years ago, Henderson county had less than 30 beef herds. Today there are 225 herds. The number of brood cows per farm range from six to 10.

Johnson made us see our opportunity to make money with cattle.

Cattle breeders tell me the best way to get good beefers is to breed them to have them slugged in from the rear. Farmers grouping together and dividing carcasses between themselves. It is all right to buy heifers from neighbors with good grade cows and purchased ones, when they are available.

Eighty-two million five hundred thousand smackers! Yes, that's a lot of money for Kentucky farmers to get out of their farms.

30th Birth Anniversary

Observed by Mr. Dings

Members of Irene Cole Memorial Baptist Church honored its oldest member, William Dings, Tuesday evening in the parlors of the church with a party celebrating his 30th birth anniversary. At 8 o'clock when Mr. Dings arrived, the group began singing, "Happy Birthday." He was completely and happily surprised. He was seated in a new lounge chair which was a gift from a large number of his church friends. In well-chosen words he expressed his deepest appreciation for the gift and the party that had been planned in his honor. Other gifts were presented to him from other guests. An informal program of songs and verse was enjoyed by the group which joined in the singing of favorite hymns of Mr. Dings. He sang "Amazing Grace" and recited three poems he had learned when a young man. He remarked that his residence in Prestonsburg of more than 40 years had made for him many dear friends. At a beautifully decorated table covered with an ecru hand-made lace cloth and set with a blue and white floral centerpiece in a blue vase (see below), Mrs. H. C. Francis and Mrs. Jo M. Davidson poured punch. Guests enjoying this unusual birthday party were Mrs. Jo M. Davidson, Mrs. H. C. Francis, Mrs. Orla M. Latta, Mrs.

“Such action,” the statement continued, “is not democratic and we hope it will serve as a warning in the future to our good citizens to be more careful in the selection of their public officials.”

“It is a tragic and dangerous for self-government when the normal functioning of our whole people—more than 3,000 of them—can be disrupted by such action.”

The statement added that “this and other actions by the wits will be fought every step of the way until a free state is declared dry and the liquor traffic driven from our midst.”

Pratt asserted that the court was accused to allow him time to deal with a docket of some 100 cases in the quarterly court and he described the suspension as “routine.”

Pratt asserted that he had “never dodged any issue.” He said that “as far as I am concerned, I am dry, and if it was up to me there wouldn't be a drop of liquor to be had in the nation. But prohibition in this country has been a failure.”

Pratt had served as county judge previously from 1926 to 1930 when he said, “your jail was full all the time—sometimes we had as many as 100 cases—for infractions of prohibition.”

“It's far better to have legal sale. The return of prohibition will mean a bootlegger on every corner, and a moonshine still in every hollow,” the judge commented.

Pratt, who started serving his present term in January, 1946, added, “All I've got to say is that I've done no wrong, they have the remedy, and they ought to use it.”

Asked whether there were legal means to compel the recording of the vote without delay, he declined comment.

Why Floyd County Will Vote Straight Democratic Ticket

I. LABOR will vote Democratic:

Because the Republicans are shortening their approval of the TAYLOR-HARTLEY bill and are using this as their main issue to try to defeat the friends of labor, the Democratic nominees.

II. TEACHERS will vote Democratic:

Because Eldon Dummitt has been praising Willis and his administration of broken promises. Every appropriation for teachers and the schools during the Willis administration was passed by the Democratic General Assembly. The Republican administration has not shown any friendship toward the schools or teachers. How many have forgotten Willis telling the teachers to go home, accept their meager pay, and live within their income?

III. VETERANS will vote Democratic:

Because Willis did not see fit to exempt them from the income tax on service pay. He vetoed a bill passed by a Democratic General Assembly which was designed to give this exemption.

IV. FARMERS will vote Democratic:

Because they know the Democratic nominee is a farmer and has continued to fight the battles of the farmer as a State Senator and Congressman.

The people of Kentucky and Floyd county are not interested in a government for a chosen few. They are interested in a democracy where all will share alike. They believe in a constructive and well-planned program which is designed to do the best for all the people. They are not interested in a program planned and shouted over the state only for the purpose of influencing votes.

attack failed, deep in enemy territory, on a fumble. But the persistent attack of the runners was not to be denied. After the ball had been advanced on straight running plays to the shadows of the Pikeville and... Porter, Prestonsburg quarter-back, went over on a sneak play. Mayo skirted end to add the extra point.

The game was something of a rough house, but the Cats, in the proverbial pink, emerged without serious injury. Brannan played his best game of the year in the backfield, and had in able running-mate in Mayo. Bradley stood out at guard and Spradlin played his usual powerful, aggressive game at tackle. The work of Charles Nease, a first-year man, at center also drew high praise from Coach Eubank.

Principal weakness of the Cat attack lay in the fact that there was little or no downfield blocking during the evening. The defensive weakness continues to be against passes, though Pikeville conceived to complete only one toss during the game.

Friday afternoon, the Black Cats meet the undefeated Lousia Bulldogs there. This is a non-Conference tilt, but Prestonsburg is as anxious to win it as any played this year.

Of the outcome of the Lousia game Coach Eubank is far from optimistic. "They can write the score," he mused. "Lousia can beat us on passes. We have a pass defense, but the boys can't work it."

of what they term religious rites." After you get that bottled down into legal phraseology, boys, start fussing! Get the bill passed. . . . Oh, yes, one thing more that has occurred to me: Write into the bill, somewhere, a clause to the effect that any person who dies of the bite of a snake used in such orgies shall in no case be buried at public expense.

GEE—GOSH—T-THANKS! There is balm in Gilead. Porsooth, every dark cloud does have its silver lining. This week I received from a Williamson, W. Va., reader a note that has such a bit of sweetness about it that I am printing it here.

Dear Mr. Editor: "I think your column of herbs, grunts and groans merits some kind of an award. Not having any caviar or champagne, am forwarding you one quart wild honey, the makers of which possessed a lot of 'sting-ers.' Suggest you place in front of your when eating it some hot biscuits, country butter and fresh sausage, letting your belt out just one notch.

"UNCLE ANDY."

PLAY—OR ELSE!

Several years ago, when he was State Senator from this district, Henry D. Fitzpatrick, of Prestonsburg, created a sensation with his introduction of a bill which would have tied a string to the appropriations bill for that session. This "string" would have required the University of Kentucky to play Centre Mr. Fitzpatrick's alma mater, on the gridiron before state funds were made available to U.K.

The bill did not pass. But now, years later, comes word to the effect that the Alabama State Senate has tied the same kind of string on its appropriations bill, and that it has stayed tied. It ordered Alabama and Auburn to play football next year, or do without state funds.

Maybe a resumption of the Kentucky-Centre grid rivalry is what is needed to bring back men of the McKilliam-Roberts ilk to the Centre campus, and we'd be all for a meeting of the two teams each year. But the Legislature shouldn't have to get itself cussed, getting the meeting arranged.

DOUBLE COMPLAINT

We have a question to ask in behalf of the town and the people of Prestonsburg.

Just why in the mischief does the State Highway Department or whoever is responsible for these markers show the distances on U.S. 28 as, on signs at Paintsville, "40 Miles to Pikeville," and at Pikeville, "40 Miles to Paintsville?"

Why not mention Prestonsburg? The stranger to this valley is given the impression at Paintsville that Pikeville is the first port of call of importance farther upriver; and that Paintsville is the only place worthwhile after leaving Pikeville, traveling in the other direction.

This is a bit of discrimination that is so rank it stinks. And while we are about it, we would like to remind the telephone system of a little matter. If you or I are in Louisville or Lexington and a call from Prestonsburg is made to us, and we are paged in a hotel, do you think the bellhop will be saying "Prestonsburg calling Mr. Doakes"? Not on your life—he'll be saying "Paintsville calling."

Prestonsburg may not need advertising as much as its neighbors. But it does demand its rightful share of recognition.

T. Y. Martin and Willie Johnson, of Banquet, and Norman Martin and Alvin Taylor, of Prestonsburg, attended the races in Lexington this week.

He is personally interested in the welfare of a veteran because he spent three years in World War II.

He is personally interested in the welfare of a young man because his only brother earns his bread from taking between two rocks.

He is personally interested in the welfare of a coal miner because his father died when he was five years of age.

Democrats and Republicans, this is the 'At-mie Age—be sensible! Vote for a young man with a college degree who has the welfare of the common man at heart, and who will endeavor to do something for the cause of the mountain people.

Ten Little Servants

Ten little servants, waiting in a line,
Call one to do the wash—and still you have nine!

Nine little servants, working long and late,
Ask one to cook your meals—and still you have eight!

Eight little servants—working like elves!
Call one to clean for you, and still you have seven!

Seven little servants—you don't need candlesticks
When this one lights the house for you—and still you have six!

Six little servants, electrically alive,
This one sews a handy seam—and still you have five!

Five little servants to help with every chore;
One can iron all the shirts—and still you have four!

Four little servants—such activity!
One breathes a little breeze—and still you have three!

Three little servants—if you're feeling blue,
One will entertain you—and still you have two!

Two little servants, whose work is never done!
One keeps the food fresh, and thinks it's rather fun.

One tells the proper time from sun to setting sun, (Dependable electric service makes these servants run—
And saves you lots of elbow grease. Suppose you had none?)

Yes, electricity is always ready to take the work out of housework,
And it costs so little! Matter of fact, if yours is the average family, you're getting twice as much electricity for your money as you did 20 years ago. What other item in your budget does so much for so little?

DU PONT HOUSE PAINT CLEANS ITSELF!

Your house keeps its freshly painted look when finished with Du Pont House Paint. Dirt and grime can't become embedded—rains just wash them away!

SELF-CLEANING Du Pont House Paint is so formulated that, as time goes by, it automatically fine white powder forms on the surface. Heavy rains wash the powder away, taking dust and dirt with it, and leaving the surface clean and white again. Excessive accumulations of dirt, particularly in sooty industrial communities or in heavily shaded locations, may delay or interfere with this process. Because this "self-cleaning" is gradual, the wearing qualities of the paint film are not abnormally affected.

SELF-CLEANING Du Pont House
Paint is so durable as it is beautiful — protects against rust, rot, and decay — gives lasting beauty and

Farm Editor Devotes Full Page to a Plea For New Constitution

"I for one am tired of having Kentucky rated the 47th state, or a backward state at all," says Samuel R. Guard, editor of "Breeder's Garden," in his plea for "A New Constitution for Kentucky."

In a full-page article in the October issue of "The Kentucky Farmer," Mr. Guard points out that it has been 86 years since Kentucky has had a constitutional conveni-tion. "What have been the changes in that time—two world wars, the automobile, the radio, the atomic bomb—in anything Kentucky has the resources, the soil, the climate, the geographical position, the tradition, the most of the people, the human stuff, to stand among the No. 1 states of the nation. Let us now write a modern Constitution that will enable us to stand among the progressive, forward-looking, high-minded, leaders, achieving the status of the United States."

Mr. Guard's article is prompted by the non-partisan question to be voted on in the forthcoming election.
"Are you in favor of the calling of a Constitutional Conveni-tion for the purpose of revising or amending the present Constitution of Kentucky, and such amendments as may have been made to the same?"

To call a Constitutional Conveni-tion will require a fourth of the state's qualified voters or approximately 100,000 people to vote "Yes"
on November 4, the article points out.

The campaign committee for a Kentucky Constitutional Conveni-tion has maintained that the Kentucky "con-of-date" Constitution will not permit school funds to be distributed fairly; education to be taken out of politics. It has further stated that "Kentucky voters last year voted every year through their election methods."

Woman's Club Seeks Seal Sale Leader

The Prestonsburg Woman's Club

ment of the Methodist Church. Mrs.
A. C. Harlowe and Mrs. M. Robert Ragan acted as hostesses. The club president, Miss Alice Harris, presided over the meeting and after the call to order led the club in the

"In My Garden," under the direction of Mrs. Palmer L. Hall. She then introduced Robert Shepherd, high school Agriculture teacher, who talked to the club about different phases of gardening. He stressed the fact that more people should have gardens and those who do should have specific plans for them so as to derive the maximum good from any plot of ground. He stated that for every home garden just that much more could be won to starting purposes. In conclusion Mr. Shepwhich he answered many questions asked by the members.

To the Citizens of Prestonsburg:

To merit the support of the people of this community, we submit some of the things we think Prestonsburg needs in the matter of good government, without waste and for all the people:

1. A revised garbage collection program that will dispose of your garbage regularly, good-naturedly and without imposing a hardship on any individual.
2. Your streets kept clean by machinery. That means ALL your streets, not just a chosen few.
3. City streets and sidewalks repaired where needed. This work to be done WHEN needed, not just before election time.
4. Sewers to be installed or extended where needed. The success of the City Water System depends upon an adequate sewer system. The City Water System is a community project; therefore, every street should receive the benefits it could and should give.
5. A playground for the children of Prestonsburg and also for West Prestonsburg. This is a matter many good citizens and various civic clubs have long been interested in, and we feel that, with the city government leading such a movement, it is not at all impossible. To help this cause, we will donate our salaries until the cost of playground equipment is paid.
6. An adequate but not over-large Police Force, to give the people the full protection of the law—not to furnish somebody a job at the taxpayers' expense.
7. Elimination of parking meters not needed to remove traffic problems. This community, to grow and hold the goodwill of others in Floyd County and the visitor from a further distance, should not attempt to repudiate the hospitality for which Kentucky is famous by charging folks for the right to park. Prestonsburg should be, and can be, a thoroughgoing management, self-supporting, and does not need to profit from the visitor within our gates. Our business men, even the churches and schools, depend much on the goodwill of folks who live outside Prestonsburg. Our program will be one to make friends, not enemies.
8. Regular publication of a full and complete financial report, so that you will know exactly what is being done with your money. Not since 1915 has such an audit been published.
9. Elimination of unnecessary expenses in Prestonsburg—such cut in expenses to help us carry out an honest and just program for every individual in the city.
10. Elimination of the present Police Station. We have a City Hall, already paid for, and it is large enough to accommodate the Police Station.
11. Install more street lights.
12. Fuller co-operation with the movement for a Public Library in Prestonsburg.

This platform we submit, inviting you to join us in making our fight November 4. YOU HELP US—WE CAN HELP YOU!

Despite any rumors to the contrary, the BEEHIVE TICKET is as one man, and each of us has signed his name to this statement of what we propose to do, working together and with the people.

Each member of the Beehive Ticket will cooperate with our present Mayor, E. P. Arnold.

College To Sponsor Series of Concerts

This year Pikeville College will present six concerts by internationally famous musicians. Instead of as in the past, President A. A. Page announced this week.

The first of these fall concerts will feature Marjorie McCalland, rising young soprano who was runner-up in the 1946 Atlantic City beauty pageant, on Thursday, Oct. 22, at 8:15 p.m., in Wickham Chapel.

Miss McCalland, a native of Memphis, won a scholarship to Louisiana State University on her graduation from high school. There she studied under the famous basso, Pasquale Amato, and sang the leads in many productions, including the University's 1946 aqueduct which was played up in a four-page story in Life magazine. Soon after winning the title of "Miss Louisiana, 1946," she won top vocal honors and a $2,000 scholarship at Atlantic City. In New York she continued her vocal study under Paul Althouse, former leading tenor of the Metropolitan Opera.

James Abram, pianist who will broadcast as soloist with the New York Philharmonic on November 18, will be in Pikeville on Nov. 4. Abram, who has been followed by successes with the leading symphony orchestras and the radio.

Frank Wenneholm will make his Pikeville appearance Jan. 22. The handsome six-foot baritone came to the United States in April, 1946, from Sweden, where he had been forced to flee when the Nazis overran his own country, Denmark. In Sweden he sang at the Royal Opera House, gave concert and was heard over the radio.

Bride-Elect Visits Relatives in County

Flannery and daughter, Miss Blanche Beatrix Flannery, of Hills, the past week-end, also her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Akers, of Dana. The following announcement was taken from the Spartanburg Herald-Journal of Oct. 5:

"Atty and Mrs. T. B. Akers, of Dana, Ky., announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Marie, of Spartanburg, to James Clyde Kirby, of Columbia, S.C. The wedding will take place Oct. 23 in the First Baptist Church, Pikeville, Ky."

U-K. Sets Dates For Contests in Speech, Music

Lexington, Ky., Oct. 20 (Sp.)—The University of Kentucky Extension Department this week announced the registration of entries for the 20th annual program of Kentucky high school activities in speech and music is now open and will continue under the first of the year.

Schools of Floyd county intending to participate in the regional and state festivals must notify the Extension department and the deadline for registration in speech events has been set as Jan. 15. Another month will be allowed for enrollment in music events, the deadline being Feb. 15.

Regional contests will be held between these dates and the two weeks before the state festivals, Prof. Louis Clifton, U-K Extension director, said. District contests in debate and discussion must be completed by Feb. 7 and regional music festivals are to be held prior to April 10. State contests in debate and discussion, are scheduled for Lexington Feb. 18-21 on the subject, "Resolved: That the Federal Government Should Enact Legislation Requiring the Arbitration of Labor Disputes and the Compulsory Acceptance of Its Decisions."

Kentucky's Constitution will be the theme for the annual high school discussion contest and, as an innovation this year, students will hold a mock Constitutional Convention instead of the usual Junior Legislature. District festivities in oratory, declamation, poetry reading, radio speaking and extemporaneous speaking will be concluded by March 27 and the state speech festival, for events other than debate and discussion, will convene at U-K on April 9-10.

Regional music festivals will end by April 10 and the vocal-plano section of the 24th annual Kentucky High School Music Festival will take place April 29-30. Bands, orchestras, instrumental ensembles and solos will compete for state honors in a second section of the festival at U-K, on May 13, 14 and 15.

Clements' Program of Real Help to Schools --or Desperate Dummit's Promises?

THE GREAT OL' PROMISERS—Promises won't pay our teachers, build up our schools and teach our children. Kentuckians know to their sorrow there is no value to a promise made by a man who has completely reversed himself in two months!

The present Republican nominee for Governor has changed his mind so many times on the stump in the last few months that no one understands what he really proposes to do for education—if anything. For this reason they are now calling him Tweedledee Tweedle-Dummit.

THE GREAT NEED—Our children are Kentucky's greatest asset. They must be taught by well-trained and adequately-paid teachers. They must ride in buses that are safe, to buildings which are the best our citizens can afford. They have been kept waiting too long for decent equipment—while money piled up in the State Treasury and Republican stubbornness blocked action.

THE GREAT OPPORTUNITY—The Democratic program for the improvement of education in Kentucky is plain-spoken and straightforward—honest and consistent. In his opening campaign speech, at Morehead, Congressman Earle Clements, the Democratic nominee for Governor, said:

"The Republican nominee has frequently declared he was opposed to using any part of the unincumbered surplus in the State Treasury for the payment of teachers' salaries—retroactive to the beginning of the present school year. The Republican candidate may or may not change his views. We shall not."

Why take a chance on more worthless promises?

Thirty Deaths Are Not Horrifying

SLOW DEATH isn't so horrifying?

It couldn't be. Otherwise, we would be doing something about it. Otherwise, we would feel such mounting horror that every man and woman at its would do something—anything—to halt the fearful threat at our doors.

If it were death from infantile paralysis or spinal meningitis or some other disease that sweeps dramatically down to smother from us loved ones who, only a few short hours or days ago, were healthy and delightfully alive, the full sense of horror would be ours.

But tuberculosis doesn't work that way. In widely segregated houses there are isolated cases. At first, the malady is only seldom recognizable either to the sufferer or others. Following the loss of weight, the spasms of coughing, the awful cough that creeps by inches, inexorably to demand full satisfaction.

Within a year, 30 residents of Floyd county died slowly in towns, up the creeks, in hospitals, in sanatoria. Week by week, this newspaper reported the great but undramatic toll . . . a toll of humanity which, nevertheless, was truly awesome.

If those 30 had died within a few weeks, in one or two communities, we all would have been properly impressed. But the slow death, stretched over weeks over the miles, insidiously crept up on us unimagined, smoldered so so tediously that none of us became frightened.

Thus has tuberculosis infiltrated our communities as successfully as any foreign invader or any wartime enemy, without endangering the defenders to action.

The Floyd County Tuberculosis Association has done a fair measure of good work. But it cannot ever achieve its major aims unless the rank and file of the people become aware of the threat tuberculosis presents to persons of all ages, in every walk of life.

As of this year—while persons were dying, being drawn to the grave by the disease—the County Tuberculosis Association could not get as many as a dozen of all the thousands of persons in this county to meet to plan further work and to carry on drives for funds. This, despite the fact that every person who buys as much as $2 worth of Tobacco Seal has a right to vote in the Association's affairs as much as even an official of the Association.

Floyd is one of the two Kentucky counties designated by the State Tuberculosis Association as demonstration counties for an experiment in intensive work toward the early and eventual eradication of the White Plague. Under this plan the State association will pay one-third the salary of a fulltime nurse, or up to $800 a year, with the county association paying the remainder, or about $1,000. This is a three-year plan and if the results at the end of that time justify such support, it has been authoritatively said, the U.S. Public Health Service will pour money into Kentucky in an all-out drive on tuberculosis.

It should be explained, too, that the county association itself retains a larger share of funds raised locally through Seal sales than are retained by any other group in similar public health endeavor. If the people of this county, for example, buy $1,500 worth of Seals, the Floyd County Tuberculosis Association retains, for work in this county, fully 75 per cent of that amount.

Last year, there were 30 known funerals resulting from the ravages of tuberculosis, as deadly a killer as ever stalked humankind. There would have been some deaths were unreported. Next year, many more may die. Those who have died had their contacts; there is no way to meet the foe without public interest and the public support necessary to employ a nurse spending all her time in seeking out the sick of tuberculosis, all their contacts, all the breeding places of the disease.

That is only a small part of the story. What the people of Floyd county, particularly the leaders and Floyd county parents, do this year will write another chapter for next year and the years to come.
