LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

ATTEND DAR MEMORIAL MEETING AT PAINTSVILLE

Mrs. Jo M. Davidson and Mrs. Ernest Sowards were guests of Mr. Garland R. Rice Wednesday evening at a dinner meeting of the Paintsville D.A.R. chapter given at the Howard hotel. Following the dinner a memorial service was held in memory of Miss Stella Atkinson who passed away in Florida several weeks ago. Miss Atkinson was a chapter member of the Paintsville chapter and her passing will be mourned by her many admiring friends there and in Eastern Kentucky. The Indiana Mound Chapter at Salversville participated in the service.

ARRIVES HOME

Mrs. R. F. Combs arrived Sunday after spending the winter in Florida. She was accompanied home by Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Combs from Lexington, where she was the guest of her sister, Dr. Fletcher Combs, and family for 10 days.

It is hard for the people of the town of Martin to believe that the C. & O. Railway Company would want to deprive the people of the Big Sandy valley and Beaver Creek valley of the Big Sandy train. While it may be true that the revenues derived from coal shipments over the Big Sandy valley would be more than ample to absorb the loss on operating these two trains, and still allow a large operating margin of profit. The town of Martin is located five miles from the Beaver Creek sub-division junction which connects with the Big Sandy division, and it is a fact and a good many of our citizens have the facilities afforded by the C. & O. Railway company which has been one of our greatest necessities.

"The discontinuance of these two trains would prove detrimental to the people of the Big Sandy valley as well as Beaver Creek and retard the delivery of mail and express."

"We feel that the application for discontinuance of Trains No. 37 and 38 is unwarranted and unjustly requested by the railway company. We trust that the Railroad Commission will find unfavorable to the railway company and require the railway company to provide better service by equipping all trains on the Big Sandy with more comfortable cars in which to travel and dinner service on all passenger trains."

To My Friends and Relatives in Floyd County:

When I recently announced my candidacy for the Democratic nomination for County Court Clerk, I felt that my physical condition would be such that I would be able to prosecute the campaign and, if elected, to render you all good service. It was not all personal ambition which prompted me to make that announcement; I have always been, and always shall be, interested in Floyd County.

Since the time to which I refer, however, my health has improved to such a degree that I now realize I can do justice to my relatives and my friends in the coming election campaign. For several weeks now I have been at the home of my sister, here in Coxe, Ohio, trying to regain my strength, and during this time I have reluctantly come to the decision I now publicly announce.

As I withdrew from the race for County Court Clerk, I am mindful of you all of all of you who have been kind to me over the years and of the many I have tried to help and befriended. At the same time, I wish to stress the fact that I have no ill feeling against any of those who also are candidates for the same office I would be seeking, were I able to make the race.

This friendliness for all these gentlemen, however, does not prevent me from speaking my mind, as I have always been inclined to do, as to the fitness of men for office. And so, with due regard to all others concerned, I wish to point out one candidate in whom I have the fullest confidence.

In Floyd County there are hundreds of persons who know this man, ROMEYN C. DYER, and if there is one among you who can truthfully say that he is not honest, frank and above-board in every respect, I will promptly state that he is unworthy of your confidence and mine. But I know there is no such word to be spoken of him, and I voluntarily ask my relatives and friends to get behind him and elect him to this office.

God knows, Floyd county needs men who not only are honest but who also have the courage to make their honesty known. You elder fellows know the importance of such men in the courthouse. You youngsters should begin thinking about it.

ROMEYN C. DYER IS ENERGETIC, FRIENDLY, ALWAYS ACCOMMODATING, AND READY TO HELP OTHERS EVEN TO HIS OWN DISADVANTAGE. HE WILL MAKE YOU THE BEST CLERK YOU EVER HAD. ELECT HIM AND SEE!

My uncle, the late "Fat" Dan Prater, and all his folks have always been for me, and now I appeal to my people to get behind him and put him over.

I do not mean by this letter to infer that I never expect to return to Floyd County. I do hope to be with you all again, and that is another reason why I take this interest in what you do at the coming election.

Sincerely,

HENRY STEPHENS, JR.

OF INTEREST TO VETERANS

Veterans were reminded this week that the Veterans Administration can not pay for out-patient medical treatment by private physicians unless the injury or illness is service-connected and then only if prior authorization is obtained from VA.

Pointing out that many veterans are seeking such care without proper authorization in the mistaken belief that VA will pay the bill, Veterans Administration advises veterans either to contact VA personally or to have their doctors get permission from the chief medical officer of the appropriate VA regional office before beginning treatment.

Application for authorization should include the veteran's claim number and the nature of the disability for which treatment is needed.

In cases of emergency treatment for service-connected disabilities, authorization is not required, but the treatment must be reported to VA within 15 days to assure payment by the agency.

Latest trends in job opportunities for young people, of particular interest to veterans now in training, have been summarized in a handbook prepared for the Veterans Administration by the U.S. Department of Labor. Some of the more popular jobs—such as airplane pilot, radio announcer, FBI agent, personnel worker and Diesel mechanic—will be relatively hard to find during the next several years.

On the other hand, according to the handbook, the outlook will be brighter for such occupations as physician, teacher, librarian, automobile mechanic and foundry worker.

These handbooks have been issued to Veterans Administration advisement and guidance officers to be used as an aid in counseling disabled veterans planning to take courses of education and training.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q. My brother plans to go to school this summer for the first time under the G. I. Bill. I am already attending a school under the same bill. I wish to attend summer school with my brother. Do we have to make application in advance?

A. Yes. Your brother should apply at once for a VA certificate of eligibility. And if you intend to take the summer term at a different school than the one you are now attending, you should apply as soon as possible for a supplemental certificate of eligibility.

Both the Junior Conservation Department, Division of Game and Fish, and the Boy Scouts of Lonesome Pine Council have been allotted acreage in the Jewey reservoir area for camp uses, it was learned here this week.

The Junior conservationists have been granted a lease on approximately 200 acres of land across Johns Creek from the point where the Auxier road connects with the road running parallel with the stream, a short distance above the dam.

At Goble Branch, a short distance farther upstream, the Boy Scouts will have a permanent camp site on approximately 100 acres on a spit of land which will be an island only in time of high water.

The conservation club camp will probably share both the seventh and eighth district junior conservation clubs, beginning next year, it was said here. The Boy Scout camp is expected to supplant Camp Arrowhead, Pike county, as Lonesome Pine Council camping headquarters, but will probably not be ready till 1951.

Work is expected to be started this summer on the conservation camp, readying it for use next year. It is planned, E. R. Burke, district commissioner, said, to conduct a camp annually, in groups of approximately 75 spending a week there.

Facilities at the conservation camp will include two recreation fields, a bathing beach and three permanent structures—a mess hall, kitchen and recreation hall. Boys will sleep in tents.

A large number of individuals have applied for cabin sites along the shores of the lake to be formed by the dam at Jewey, but the U.S. Corps of Engineers has stated that no private leases will be issued until church, civic and sportsmen's groups are first accommodated.

Two Floyd Citizens Nabbed by Police

Two Floyd citizens were arrested Wednesday night and charged with illegally transporting beer in dry territory, officers here said today (Thursday). State police made both arrests.

A man, listed on state police records as John Brannan, Martin, was reported to have drawn a fine of $100 in a Knott Magistrate's court after he had been captured while carrying 100 cases of beer. William Moore, of McDowell, was given a 30-day jail sentence by Magistrate Dewey Roberts after police confiscated two cases of whiskey which was one case too many beyond the legal limit.

In Prestonsburg last week, Russell Viars was arrested by Chief of Police Bill Blackburn and charged with possessing whiskey for the purpose of sale.

Otherwise, all was quiet on Floyd county's "run row."

Safety Measures Cited For Two County Mines By U.S. Mine Bureau

Commendation for recent improvements in one re-inspection report and recommendation of added safety measures to two Floyd county mines was the consensus of two miners by the U.S. Bureau of Mines this week.

More than a dozen recent safety betterments and other praiseworthy features at the Princess No. 2 mine to the Princess Elkhorn Coal Company are commended in a re-inspection report. The report also proposes further precautions. The mine employed 126 men and produced 1,230 tons of coal a day when Inspector John S. Eakins examined it in March.

At the Princess Elkhorn No. 2 mine near David, ventilation conformed with the Federal Mine Safety Code, the inspector reported. Although universal compliance with the company's systematic timbering method, he said safety points should always be set close to the faces before other operations are begun and as needed thereafter.

Inspector Eakins approved rock-dusting to within 40 feet of the faces, but he said excessive dust during cutting and loading should be effectively alloyed by using water or other means. He endorsed using permissible multiple-shot blasting units to fire the permissible explosive in the mechanical section, and safer underground storage of blasting materials, but he proposed immediately firing all blast holes charged on shift, and always keeping the electric detonator unit wires shunted or twisted together until ready to connect to the firing cable.

Other recommendations included properly blocking standing cars, frame-grounding the drills and mining machines, completion or providing overhead protection for electrical equipment, and universal compliance with the company's rule banning smoking. Recent improvements included supporting the power and light wires on insulators, adequately guarding the trolley wires and keeping them clear of combustible materials, and properly insulating the trailing cable splices.

Closer adherence to recognized blasting and ventilation standards is recommended for the Liberty Mining Company's No. 14 mine in a federal coal mine inspection report which also cites several other safety precautions. Near Maytown, the mine employed eight men and produced about 60 tons of coal daily when examined in March for the first time by Inspector George L. Means.

All coal was blasted with black powder and blast holes were being charged during the working shift, reported Inspector Means, who recommended that all blasting be done with permissible explosives or permissible blasting devices—stored, transported and used in accordance with the Federal Mine Safety Code.

Alleged Magoffin "Moonshiners" Jailed Here, Pikeville Bound

Two Masoffin county men, Virgil Handshaw and Harder E. Farmer, records show, were short-term guests in the county jail here today, booked for safekeeping.

They were arrested, officers said, by Revenue Officer Wayne Trimble, who caught them in the act of making a "run" at a still in a coal bank located near the top of the hill at the head of Quicksand in Magoffin county. Trimble destroyed the still. Pike county men claimed the men this afternoon.

found one Great Friend, there in the nation's capital.

While others far younger, more active and physically stronger chided from being placed on the Spot, there came an old man into the picture. I Day before the hearing on canalization was held, Kentucky's beloved A. O. Stanley, whom I remember as one of the last of the state's great orators but who is just a name as a former United States senator and Governor of Kentucky to you, came into the picture.

During the meeting held before that hearing, it was suggested that Senator Stanley should appear as a witness for canalization. Now past 80, the old warrior is partially deaf. He made no reply to the suggestion until a friend whispered into his ear what had been said.

Then to tired, old feet rose the veteran of a lifetime of political battles. "Don't let it appear," he said in tones reminiscent of those days when he held audiences, the length of the Big Sandy and the Commonwealth, "that I had to be asked to appear as a witness for Big Sandy. I want to go as a volunteer. Big Sandy is my country. I went into it as a young man, when you rode a horse or buggy to get through the mud, and I was there last when I was far along in years. And never did the Big Sandy fail me. When I was a candidate and at home waited for the returns, I worried about some parts of the state. But never about Big Sandy. It stayed to me like a blind mule to a padded seat. I volunteer!"

And next day, when younger friends of these 130 men of your home valley were scarce or shrank from strong pressure, the Old Friend was there for the hearing. He was found, out in the corridor, searching for the committee room. He came into the room, slowly, on the arm of a friend. But he was there, son, figuratively with bull on.

And did he tell 'em! This man who is not a native of the Big Sandy and who is old and tired told them as only Stanley, the old friend, can tell 'em.

"Young men do not take advice," he said, "but again I offer you advice."

Chase the will-o'-the-wisp of fame; turn if you must the rainbow's end; but never, never take off from new friends and forget the old.

BEST SOURCE OF CASH
Livestock provides the largest selling source of cash income for the United States farmer.

As to handling supplies in thin seams of coal, Tarleton cited the following experience:

"In the spring of 1948, with the opening of the Hill Mine in a split of the No. 13 seam, the original plans called for supplying by means of tractor and trailers. An other series of contour openings, each of entries had belt conveyor haulage to an outside truck. Duckbill-equipped shaker conveyors are used at the face. Averaging 32' in height, the top turned out worse than expected, requiring cross-bar on 3-ft. centers and header spans in the back entries had to be limited to six feet. This was built too low and too narrow for existing equipment, making it necessary to deliver all timber and other supplies over the belt."

"At this time, J. H. Fletcher & Company delivered a working model of the truck, which they had designed and built at the suggestion of our company. This was designed for a supervisors' inspection car for low coal. Only 22-in. high, it was 18-in. wide and nine feet long. On rubber tires, it had two drive wheels in front, steered through a single wheel at the rear and can turn in its own length. With contractor control, it has one speed in either direction, now 100-200, 20-volt batteries supply power to a 1½-hp. permissible electric motor.

"The ability of this little truck to pull through mud and over rough ground and to negotiate low and closely timbered places, encouraged the management of the mine to test it further by designing a trailer for this was made from an old shaker pan and a pair of rubber-tired wheels and axle from a rock-dust delivery machine. By using this trailer to deliver headers, pans, cradles, belt extension parts and other sectional supplies, all supplying by belt has been eliminated. A further advance in the use of small ramp and filler block. This permits supplying to the swivels instead of to the end of the belt, releasing labor from dragging heavy material for coal production."

"A check of work done over 14 shifts showed an average of 3,000 pounds hauled 1,500 feet per shift with only a 40 per cent drop in the rated capacity of the battery. An average of 8.3 trips were made per shift, with close to 500 pounds per load per trip. With the new trailers now being manufactured for this purpose, pay loads of 1,000 pounds per trip look entirely reasonable under normal conditions, without dangerously discharging the battery."

He told the convention that: "With proper conditions of height, top, bottom and grades any new mine, not limited to the working face, might well be laid out to provide a supply road parallel to the haulway with tractor-trailer supply in mind, regardless of whether main line haulage is all belt, all rail or a combination of both. Belt lines could be crossed by a ramp and removable bridge, or underpass, whichever is easier. Tracks could be crossed by grade crossings. This is now being done at our clover split and Van Lee mines."

"Trailers can be designed to fit mine conditions and supplies to be handled. In addition to the conventional supply trailer, special purpose trailers are now available—the man-trailer, powder trailer, greasing trailer, trailer-mounted fire extinguisher, water hose and fire extinguisher, and a duster—any fact any thing that previously ran on rails."

Delivering Men, Supplies Problem In Trackless Mine, Says Tarleton

G. O. Tarleton, vice-president, Consolidation Coal Company, Jenkins, told coal mining men attending the 1949 Coal Convention and Exposition the American Mining Congress in Cleveland this week that with the introduction of trackless mining, while easing the task of coal haulage, there has been a tremendous increase in the problem of delivering men and supplies to the working face.

He said another factor aggravating the problem of delivering supplies is thin coal. He pointed out: "Unit loads are reduced materially and difficulties of handling are increased even more so. Frequently, although not always, thin coal is the reason for using conveyors for the secondary and possibly the entire mine line of haulage, to avoid breaking bottom of top. From this it is easy to see how supply delivery expenses can skyrocket from the days of hand hauling, when the supplies a loader needed were placed in the mine car which was delivered to his place and he unloaded the material."

As to handling supplies in thin seams of coal, Tarleton cited the following experience:

"In the spring of 1948, with the opening of the Hill Mine in a split of the No. 13 seam, the original plans called for supplying by means of tractor and trailers. An other series of contour openings, each of entries had belt conveyor haulage to an outside truck. Duckbill-equipped shaker conveyors are used at the face. Averaging 32' in height, the top turned out worse than expected, requiring cross-bar on 3-ft. centers and header spans in the back entries had to be limited to six feet. This was built too low and too narrow for existing equipment, making it necessary to deliver all timber and other supplies over the belt."

"At this time, J. H. Fletcher & Company delivered a working model

of the truck, which they had designed and built at the suggestion of our company. This was designed for a supervisors' inspection car for low coal. Only 22-in. high, it was 18-in. wide and nine feet long. On rubber tires, it had two drive wheels in front, steered through a single wheel at the rear and can turn in its own length. With contractor control, it has one speed in either direction, now 100-200, 20-volt batteries supply power to a 1½-hp. permissible electric motor.

"The ability of this little truck to pull through mud and over rough ground and to negotiate low and closely timbered places, encouraged the management of the mine to test it further by designing a trailer for this was made from an old shaker pan and a pair of rubber-tired wheels and axle from a rock-dust delivery machine. By using this trailer to deliver headers, pans, cradles, belt extension parts and other sectional supplies, all supplying by belt has been eliminated. A further advance in the use of small ramp and filler block. This permits supplying to the swivels instead of to the end of the belt, releasing labor from dragging heavy material for coal production."

"A check of work done over 14 shifts showed an average of 3,000 pounds hauled 1,500 feet per shift with only a 40 per cent drop in the rated capacity of the battery. An average of 8.3 trips were made per shift, with close to 500 pounds per load per trip. With the new trailers now being manufactured for this purpose, pay loads of 1,000 pounds per trip look entirely reasonable under normal conditions, without dangerously discharging the battery."

He told the convention that: "With proper conditions of height, top, bottom and grades any new mine, not limited to the working face, might well be laid out to provide a supply road parallel to the haulway with tractor-trailer supply in mind, regardless of whether main line haulage is all belt, all rail or a combination of both. Belt lines could be crossed by a ramp and removable bridge, or underpass, whichever is easier. Tracks could be crossed by grade crossings. This is now being done at our clover split and Van Lee mines."

"Trailers can be designed to fit mine conditions and supplies to be handled. In addition to the conventional supply trailer, special purpose trailers are now available—the man-trailer, powder trailer, greasing trailer, trailer-mounted fire extinguisher, water hose and fire extinguisher, and a duster—any fact any thing that previously ran on rails."

The commission also heard testimony in the C. & O.'s proposal to end its daily passenger service between Shelby, Pike county, and Jenkins, Letcher county. This train makes a connection for Pikeville at Shelby.

Lack of passengers makes this run extremely unprofitable, the railroad said. John Young Brown, Louisville attorney representing Jenkins, a coal city of 16,000 population, said the service consists of one car—half baggage, half passenger. The service is so bad it discourages people from using the train, he said.

Two witnesses, L. H. Winchell, mayor of Jenkins and Lester Abel, city commissioner, criticized the train and said Jenkins needed improved service. They said Jenkins was engaged in promoting itself and that ending rail passenger service would hurt the city.

G. L. Johnson, Jenkins, assistant townmaster for the C. & O. on the Shelby-Jenkins run, said the car had clean windows which could be raised, was cleaner than buses, had five oil lights, was steam-heated, and had screened ventilation overhead. This contradicted testimony by Winchell.

The commission took no action on the ground that the Shelby-Jenkins proposal is tied in with the Ashland-Bell-Kirkham city discontinuance.

Attending the Frankfort hearing from Floyd county were State Senator Doug Hays, Representative Henry C. Hale and W. E. Bligden.

Public Service Group
Intends To Encourage Electrical Expansion

The Kentucky Public Service Commission intends to give encouragement to the expansion of electric facilities in sections of Kentucky not now served whether the source be private or public. Chairman Robert M. Coleman announced in Frankfort this week.

"The record will show that our Commission has granted every request during this administration for the expansion of facilities," said Coleman.

Governor Earle C. Clements echoed the assurance of Coleman and declared that the act that 40 per cent of Kentucky's farm homes are without electricity constituted a "challenge" to distributors of power, from whatever source derived, and added:

"The person who is without electric service is not interested in whether the power comes from the REA or from private utilities but he is vitally interested in obtaining power so he can turn on lights in his own home."

"We intend to work cooperatively toward that end and assist both groups in every possible way."

State Police Invited In All But 30 Cities

The Kentucky State Police now have general jurisdiction in all but 30 cities in the Commonwealth, including the state's larger cities of Louisville, Lexington, Covington, Newport and Owensboro, according to Commissioner of Police Guthrie R. Crowe.

The police were given general jurisdiction in all but cities of the first four classes, those including 187 communities. These cities, however, were given the right to confer by invitation jurisdiction upon the police in their own discretion. This has occurred in all but 30 communities.

Cities which have not granted the police jurisdiction are: Prestonsburg, Fulton, Columbus, Owensboro, Russellville, Horse Cave, Cloverport, Springfield, Louisville, Covington, Carrollton, Park Hills, and Shelbyville.

MEADE HIGH TRIPS TITLE TEAM, 10-1

Garrett, Meade, Auxier And Martin Play Today; Final Set for Friday

Tasting defeat in high school district tournament baseball for the first time, the Prestonsburg academy nine, Kentucky's defending prep state champion, was dethroned 10-1 by Meade Memorial's Red Devils in the opening round of the 1943 high school district tournament at Fort Leitch here yesterday (Wednesday) afternoon.

Every man but the centerfielder, Burton, of the winning nine scored while for the losers but one, Meade, got Prestonsburg's lone tally after being hit by a pitched ball in the fourth inning.

Kennedy's looping curves in coasting style for the Red Devils as he delivered blank tickets to nine Prestonsburg batters. Harmon waited for the losers but one, Meade, in the second by "Blitz" children.

The loss also marked, for the first time in five years, what will be the absence of a Prestonsburg team in the state tournament at Louisville, and the end of a four-year reign as champions of a region covering an Eastern Kentucky area extending beyond Ashland, Vanceburg and Morehead.

Allen was this year's only returning starter from an outfit that had won 49 games against five losses during the season. Three of the losses occurred in state tournaments and one to a 10-9 setback by P. Knox in 14 innings in 1946.

The second session of the tourney begins at 2 o'clock this afternoon with Martin, meeting Auxier and followed by Meade Memorial and Garrett's Black Devils vying at 3:30 p.m.

The final is set for 3:30 p.m., Friday. Two teams composed of returning lettermen, Meade Memorial and Martin, are favored by observers.

The tourney also affords greater opportunity for advancement than is afforded by your ability and initiative. Many of today's general officers began their careers in the private life of the future (General).

Wheelwright, Wayland, Elkhorn City Win League Openers Sunday

Excellent crowds at Weeksbury, Drift and Pikeville witnessed, last Sunday, the official opening of the recently formed six-team Elkhorn Baseball League as Wheelwright downed Drift, 9-6, Wayland pasted Pikeville, 8-6, and Elkhorn City wrapped up Weeksbury, 4-1.

Taking their first scheduled blow under the lights, the Elkhorn entries go into return match action tonight (Thursday) with Pikeville at Wayland in a tripartite game, Drift at Wheelwright and Weeksbury at Elkhorn City.

The players, providing the league's first official standings, were close, hard-played affairs that provided fans with every element of fast, dynamic activity.

Elkhorn City, Weeksbury 1. At Weeksbury, the host team led the visiting Elkhorn City nine 1-0 in the eighth inning with two singles by Jimmy Vance, Elkhorn City manager, summing up his team's pay-off efforts in his.

The boys from the "Breakers of the South" tied the score in the eighth when Chalkley doubled, went to third on an infield pop and scored on a squeeze play. The ninth inning saw the Elkhorn City rally continue their late-stage starts. Huffman tripled, France doubled and the three runners were scored as the Weeksbury infield fell apart with two errors. The final score read 4-1.

Garcia was the winning pitcher, while "Lefty" Adams allowed only five hits, turned in a creditable mound performance for Weeksbury.

Wheelwright, 9, Drift 6. Aided by a three-base overthrust of a dropped third strike by Drift catcher Astor Meade in the third inning, Wheelwright defeated Drift Sunday in their opening game of the Elkhorn Baseball League, 9-6.

The game was a free-wheeling affair with Wheelwright getting 14 blows and Drift 11. Wheelwright's winning margin came in the third inning upstart in which they scored five runs—all unearned.

Dennis was the winning hurler, although he received excellent relief from Carl Wohlford who allowed Drift only two hits in the last four and one-third innings. Buck Stumbo was charged with the loss for Drift. Home runs in the contest were hit by Alley and Meade of Drift, Blackburn, Drift center fielder, running at top speed, made a spectacular leap, catching of Littell's hard-hit ball to deep of center.

Wayland 8, Pikeville 6. A long-hit home run by Jack Branham, Wayland leftfielder, in the eighth inning with three men on base and only one out provided the victory punch as his team rallied to beat Pikeville 8-6, at Pikeville Sunday.

Going into the eighth, Pikeville was leading the Floyd county boys, 6-0. Pikeville got their sixth and final run in the eighth inning.

Willard Ratiff pitched four and James Potter, the winning pitcher, hurled five innings for Wayland. Clayton, the losing pitcher for Pikeville, went against the full route before being relieved by Stewart in the ninth.

The game, officially scheduled at Wayland, was transferred to Pikeville because of wet grounds.

'Set' Branham Chosen for Tryouts For Kentucky Hi School All-Stars

"Set" Branham, Prestonsburg's and Floyd county's first All-State and All-Southern high school football player, is bidding to add a basketball laurel to his crown of honors without having so much as participated in a high school basketball game during the past season.

Branham, among 21 Kentucky high school seniors which include Ramsey, Madisonville, Parrott, Burdston, Riddle, Madisonville, Kimmmer, Manual, White, Scottville, Fights, Henderson, and others, conducted a practice session this week-end in preparation for the Kentucky All-Stars vs. Indiana All-Stars game for the eighth year. He is being assisted by Ted Hornback of the Hilltopper staff.

One of the nation's top-ranking college basketball coaches, Ed Diddle, Western Kentucky tutor, is schooling the state's best of senior prepsters for the eighth year. He is being assisted by Ted Hornback of the Hilltopper staff.

The games with Kentucky winning one of the seven in the series thus far, is sponsored by The Indianapolis Star for the benefit of the blind.

The teams composed of 1946 graduates, of the two states, are chosen by the votes of sports writers and radio broadcasters in Indiana and Kentucky.

Additional appearances are being considered this year for the high school luminaries at Bowling Green, Ky. and at Middletown, Ohio, following the Hoosier exhibition.

Only one other Floyd county basketball star, Ed DeCoursey, shining light of Wayland's 1947 state tournament team, has been chosen from the Big Sandy region for the cage.

The Prestonsburg athlete, an outstanding performer in three sports, is the only high school football player to be selected All-State and All-Southern gridiron recognition in a year which saw him in only three games. This year's performance, plus a brilliant record last year, gained the approval of leading sports writers in Kentucky and the South.

His high school record as a basketball player, in addition to his ability demonstrated this year in tryouts for the honor squad, is credited with influencing his selection by the way Western mentors.

Last year, Branham was the moving force that led the Prestonsburg football team to the Big Sandy conference championship and the Southeastern Kentucky football crown over Pineville in a Flood Bowl post-season game. Facing the center position, he was in the vanguard of his 1946 basketball team's march to the district title, and as a graduate he helped his baseball buddies to the Kentucky high school championship.

Major colleges, including the University of Kentucky, Western, Georgia Tech, University of Maryland, University of Miami, Fla., and others have bid for Branham's services. The Prestonsburg athlete has not definitely decided where he will go.

MAYO PLACES FIRST

Henry Lewis Mayo took first place honors in broad jumping in a track meet between Eastern and Berea at Richmond last Wednesday with a leap of 20'4". Eastern won the meet.

PIKEVILLE 6, WAYLAND 6

The spring football practice squads of Pikeville and Wayland high schools tangled Monday night at Wayland and wound up the regular playing period on even terms, 6-6.

The Wayland Waps stung the scoreboard for the first tally of the game in the first quarter when Frankie Evans scampered to a touchdown for six points. The Panthers gained their score in the third period as Huffman hit pay dirt.

'Fabulous Five' Goes Professional As Team They Will Own Outright

Operating on what might be termed as a "pay-as-you-play" basis, five members of the University of Kentucky basketball squads will continue to play together as a new, combined Indianapolis National Basketball League team which they will eventually own, the league's officials have announced.

The former Wildcats, Alex Groza, Cliff Barker, Ralph Beard, Wallace (Wah) Jones and Joe Holland, were outstanding performers on Kentucky's quintets that won two National Collegiate Athletic Association titles and members of the Olympic champion basketball team which represented the United States at London, England.

Billed as the Olympians, the hard-worked stars recently appeared in a barnstorming tour of Kentucky and West Virginia, touching Pikeville, Ashland, Huntington and other points where they played to packed houses. Fairly Woods, Kentucky Wesleyan's mighty mite from Garrett and Lackey, and Bill Sturgill, former UK basketball player from Prestonsburg, performed with the Olympians in the early stages of the tour.

Jones, who was a star end on the Wheeling football team and a star baseball pitcher, is reputedly ignoring professional offers in these two sports by nodding his decision in favor of the basketball venture. He said, "We figure as long as we stick together we'll be playing good basketball," which in the parlance of business heads means good gate receipts.

Formation of the team with former UK stars is recognized as a move by the NBA in a drive to outmaneuver the rival Basketball Association of America.

PALMER L. HALL, Supt.
5-12-49.

TO THE PEOPLE OF FLOYD COUNTY:

I agree with my opponent—Floyd county is paying its way out of debt. But this is a job that was started longer than four years ago. And no one man can claim credit for the improvement in the county's financial condition.

I am now in my tenth year as Magistrate from District No. 3 of this county, and I have seen this debt reduced during the administrations of two County Judges. I, as a member of the fiscal court, have worked as faithfully as any official in this county, to see that debt cleared away as rapidly as possible.

These are the figures, to go back a few years:

On June 30, 1939, the county debt stood at $817,227.27. By June 30, 1944, my first five years in office, the debt was cut to $778,976.97. On June 30, last year—four years later—the debt was down to $574,881.56.

The county also has $90,000 worth of bonds which it holds to pay on this debt. It should be noted, however, that all of these bonds were purchased during the administration of Edward P. Hill as County Judge. In 1912, $50,000 worth of bonds were bought; in 1913, $30,000, and in 1914, $10,000, making a total of $90,000 the county has today.

Also in the bank, to be paid on this debt, is at this time exactly $138,262.60.

All this is good. Nobody is more proud of this record than I, but I do not claim credit for making this possible. In fact, the credit belongs to no one individual.

It is a policy necessary to the county's sound credit and good name, and if elected County Judge I will not depart from it.

As a member of the fiscal court I have not, in my desire to get things done for my district, ever forgotten that I am a Floyd county man and that all Floyd county deserves whatever I could do for it. So, as the opportunity arose for other parts of the county to benefit, I have voted for such help.

As a candidate for County Judge I have no promises of miracles to make to the people. I do not want to make such promises, knowing I cannot fulfill them, and then have to face the people later, knowing they know I made false promises.

I can promise you, however, with complete honesty, that as County Judge I will work hard for all of Floyd county, for all its citizens in every walk of life. I will attend to the business of being your Judge, with no private axes to grind, no old scores to settle.

As to the Fiscal Court and the conduct of the county's financial affairs, I promise that all sessions of the court will be held in the County Courtroom, with the doors open to every citizen, so that the people may hear and see for themselves how I and the county's four Magistrates talk and vote in the handling of their money and in disposing of their requests for improvements. This, as I see it, is an obligation on the part of our officials—to let the people themselves in on their own business.

My opponent and I have no personal quarrel, now or ever. I accept his statement that the race for County Judge should be settled on our own merits. If it should be decided otherwise, the people would make a bad decision, and I consider the people as a whole—laboring man, the farmer, the teacher and the professional man—bigger than any one candidate for office.

I am convinced I can and will make Floyd county a County Judge capable of serving all the people efficiently and faithfully, and, so convinced, I ask your support in the coming Democratic primary.

Your friend,

HENRY STUMBO

Veterans of World War II who believe that dental disabilities caused by military or naval service are reminded they may apply for treatment at any time through the Veterans Administration. All application are judged on the basis of official service records and treatment will be authorized for any dental condition determined to be service-connected.

Conditions regarded as service-connected are those which developed during war service. These may be established by service records or by dental examinations dated prior to July 26, 1948, and made within one year after discharge. However, VA usually denies service-connected for teeth treated or extracted during the first sixty days of active duty on the presumption that such teeth would have become defective regardless of war service.

TO THE PEOPLE OF FLOYD COUNTY:

I have been asked by a few of the good citizens that I enter this race for Coroner of this county, and after due consideration I have decided to make the race and would like to give you the reasons why I think you should nominate me this coming primary. For pretty soon, your county officers will be going to the polls to select men to see you for the next four years as your county officers.

1. I was born and raised in Floyd county by good, Christian parents and was taught to obey the laws of our state, which I have always tried to do.

2. I have never before asked for a public office and am not asking for too much now.

3. I think the good citizens of this county should choose men to serve them as officers who are sober and reliable citizens and men you could depend upon, should you ever call on them, to handle your affairs for you.

4. I think this office of Coroner should be considered very important to you, should misfortune strike in your home or with some of your loved ones, that an investigation would have to be made. I know you would want some one to come in your home to make that investigation who is sober-minded, capable of doing so and not full of strong drink.

5. I would like for the good people of this county to inquire about me and find out my record from people who know me as to these qualifications, as I am going to leave this matter up to the good people of this county who know me to decide.

6. I would like to say to the miners of this district that I spent twenty-three years in the coal mines and pretty well know a miner's life and have always tried to be a one hundred percent union man and as their friend I would like to ask them to give me their support.

7. I would like to say to them that they should consider this office of Coroner as a very important one to all the people of this county and not consider it a mere joke in selecting a man to fill it.

8. I would like to ask the people to nominate me and elect me this Fall and I will promise you one thing that I will make all investigations, according to law, and not the way some want them made.

9. If you will consider me as your man and nominee, I will promise you one thing that I will not, I will not oppose me in this race. I hope you can and will consider me just this once, and I am sure the vote you give me you will not regret afterwards. You will find my name on the Democratic ballot this primary, August 4, and I think you will find I have tried to be a friend and neighbor to all.

POWER COMPANY

When a Kitchen is Practical and Pretty... OF COURSE IT'S ELECTRIC!

These prices feature "Extras" that aren't!

If you're price-conscious these days as you shop for new cars, you've probably made a big discovery.

It's important to find out what the price includes—particularly in the normal "spread" between list and delivered prices.

Take these Buick prices given here. All of these, as the panel tells you, cover such universally wanted accessories as radio and antenna, heater and defroster, windshield washers and built-in back-up lights.

These are individually itemized on your bill of sale. Not itemized, but still included in your Buick when you get it, are many things that classify as extra-cost items on many other cars.

For instance, Foamtex seat cushions are an extra value on Buick SUPERS and ROAD-MASTERS that cost you nothing extra. You get direction signals, rear wheel shields, a flexible steering wheel, an air cleaner, an oil filter, a clock—all included in the basic list price. On all ROADMASTERS, these prices even cover Dynaflow Drive as standard equipment, not an extra-cost item.

Included also, of course, are such Buick extra values as Fireball power, which you get nowhere else—all-coil springing, almost an exclusive—the widest rims in the industry—and that very special and desirable solid Buick feel.

So—check the "extras" when you price today's cars. Check the "deal" too, and make sure it's as fair and aboveboard as the Buick sales policy.

We're pretty sure that your conclusion will be when you see what stepped-up production is doing to deliveries. You'll decide "Buick's the buy!"—and get your order in.

That is part of the darkest story. The moral is plain to us all. Human nature, ambition and greed dwell not only in much-maligned Everts.

Encore! Highway Commissioner John A. Keck last week talked to the Eastern Kentucky he is and as an official in the role of a good citizen, deeply disgusted with the ineptness of the highway department in actually getting things done.

In brief, he told employees to produce or get out. In fact, said he, those who fail to get going at their jobs will be sent job-hunters, regardless of their political backing.

Newspapers of the state gave Mr. Keck's straightforward-from-the-shoulder statement wide publicity. And now maintenance supervisory personnel are vowing to hear recordings of his speech.

All of which is good news to the average citizen. Sweet music, we would say. Play it over and over again!

Time was when officials, churchfolk, ordinary law-abiding citizens of Everts and Harlan counties indulged in the worst-law idea that "it can't happen here." But petty law-breaking grew, and soon the law grew anance. There developed such disregard for law and order—indeed, such a distaste for individual representative of the law—that men accused of the murder of officers went free at the hands of Harlan county juries while officers who killed law-breakers in line of duty were given heavy penitentiary sentences.

It Can Happen Here

EVERTS, KY., in all probability, is no worse than any other town of its size and population components, but the bad elements in the place are of the explosive sort and so the Harlan county town, for all its schools and churches and good citizens, has become known to a large part of America as a veritable battleground.

With this dark record established, the Alcoholic Beverage Control Board and the state police have awakened to a sense of duty which others might never have escaped. Those who look on just naturally perked up.

On a recent week-end, the ABC and the state police arrested fifteen persons who allegedly handled illegal whiskey in dry Harlan county. A long list of "places" was raided. Among those arrested was Ford Sizemore, one of the two men accused at Everts of killing County Police Chief Metcalfe.

Bell county, too, has felt the power of the law, they say.

All of which is well. Only, Harlan and Bell counties better served, had these agencies cracked down, months ago back when bootlegging was barely beginning to go big time, when the lawbreakers were organizing to do business on a big scale, to operate even if that Big Business had to become another Murder, Incorporated.

The Coming of Joshua Ross To Eastern Kentucky Told

By HENRY P. SCALE

Joshua Ross, ancestor of one of the Ross families in Eastern Kentucky, lived in the town-seat of Marion, Smith county, Virginia, about 1800 or perhaps as late as 1815 the movement of Southwest Virginians into Eastern Kentucky was in full blast. Joshua, becoming infected with the immigration fever, decided to go into the valley of Sandy, alone, upon an exploring expedition.

He came through the Pound Gap and down rugged Elk Horn Creek and on down into the cattle, set out for the valley again. He was accompanied by his family and by a family of Allens who are the ancestors of the Pike county Allens.

The way was rough, no roads at all. Only the mountain trails for a lumbering wagon, but they pushed on down through Southwest Virginia into the valley of the Pound Gap. It was a practically untraveled Pound Mountain into the rugged Elk Horn. Down Elk Horn they came into the heart of Pike county. The journey was an unusually severe one for the families. Emmaline, or "Em," as she was called by the family, and the daughter of Joshua, a small girl at the time, were with them. In later years, to recall its severity, she married Hezekiah Stratton, of Mare Creek, son of Tandy R. Stratton, who was one of the creek's first settlers.

One night they lay down to rest in a reed brake and, drawing the blankets over them, peacefully fell asleep. It began to snow and as the travelers slept it snowed all through the night. It fell until a blanket several inches in depth covered them. When morning came they found their arms only to recoil from the cold. Directly the family heard the voice of Joshua: "Keep under the cover until I get a fire started." Before many minutes had elapsed the families were surrounded by the fire, none the worse for their experience.

Once upon the journey they found themselves without meat. Joshua had trusted to his rifle for the family meat supply but having had no luck for a few days he decided to find a settler's cabin and try to buy some venison.

Having located a cabin of a settler he found the father of the family away on a hunting expedition. He explained his predicament, and finally the wife of the absent hunter offered to sell some bear meat. Now Joshua, although he had been in or upon the edge of the wilderness all of his life, had never tasted bear meat. It was not considered as palatable as venison and since deer were plentiful why accept bear? But the family was without meat, so he bargained for a supply and hurried back to camp.

The temporary halting place was under group of pines and the carpet of needles under them made an ideal resting place. Soon the pot was boiling and the bear began to cook. A gentle breeze was blowing and changed to a sudden gust of wind. Before the pot with its precious meat could be covered it was filled with the steam of the boiling water. Despite their keen appetites and a grim determination to eat, they found this combination of bear meat and pine needles an unpalatable culinary concoction. The taste of bear with a bitter rosin-like flavor.

We do not know how long they were upon the trail. The Allens settled below what is now Pikeville and Joshua settled upon Harnon's Branch, a small tributary of the Big Sandy near the present town of Boldman. His home was near the forks of the small creek which is approximately two miles long.

His family grew to manhood and womanhood. "Em," as I have said, married Hezekiah Stratton, of Mare Creek, William R. "Uncle Billy," a son, married Jane Stratton, a son, married Jane Stratton, a daughter of Tandy R. Stratton.

Time, marriage and immigration of Joshua's descendants have all but cast the name of Ross into oblivion. But some of his descendants live on, scattered over the many hills and hollows of the section. They now have other paternal names but they are a numerous generation who look back with pride upon their hardy ancestral sire—Joshua Ross—Marion, Smith county, Virginia.

What's Ankle Fracture When Classroom Calls?

Bill Nelson, Prestonsburg high school student from Dwayne, is not one to let a matter of a busted leg deter him from regular school attendance—but even in springtime's good fishing weather.

He fractured his right ankle Monday afternoon of last week shortly after alighting from a school bus en route home from school. Racing with other students up Bull Mountain, he fell and accidentally doubled his leg under him which resulted in the injury.

He was back in school next morning plus his crutches and at once began collecting fellow students' autographs as his painfully acquired cast.

Maintenance Director M. F. Johnson and Equipment Director W. A. Tinscher left today for a series of pep-talk sessions with state road workers. Meetings will be held at Paducah tomorrow; at Bowling Green Wednesday; at Elizabethtown Thursday; at Louisville May 10, Covington May 11, Flemingsburg May 12, Pikeville May 17, Somerset May 19, and Lexington May 23.

"We are anxious for every crew foreman to know the top policy ideas of the Administration," Johnson said. "The recording will help to make everyone understand the importance of insisting on a dollar's worth of work for each dollar we must spend. Maintenance is big business and it must be done right."

Last week Keck told district engineers at a meeting here the department is "dissatisfied" with present maintenance operations. Costs must be cut down and efficiency increased, Keck said, adding, "If an employee is to remain on the payroll, he must produce."

To My Friends of

Floyd County, Ky.:

Since I have made a survey of Magisterial District No. 4 I find the time is not appropriate for me to enter the Magisterial race at this time. I appreciate the many offers of support you so generously gave me and wish to thank you now very much.

The interests of the district will be better served if we re-elect Dewey Roberts and I would appreciate it if my friends would support him.

Your support and influence will be greatly appreciated.

TO THE VOTERS OF FLOYD COUNTY:

I believe that the time has come in Floyd county for the voters to work and elect a working man for our Jailer. After all, it is the working man that pays all the bills. The only time the politicians are for the working man is on election day.

I am a Christian man and trying to lead a good life and all the citizens know that they will be treated fairly if I am nominated and elected.

I call upon the good Christian people and the working people to give an old working man a chance by nominating and electing me Jailer of Floyd county. I am 50 years old and have been a Democrat all my life. I will try and see all the voters that I possibly can between now and the primary election, but being a crippled man, I may not get to see all and I take this method of asking for your support and influence.

Subject to the action of the Democratic primary.

JOHNNY CONN

To the People of Magisterial Dist. No. 4:

This is to let you know that I am a candidate for the nomination for Justice of the Peace of Magisterial District No. 4, subject to the action of the Democratic party at the August primary. I have served you heretofore and always have been ready when you called. I have fought for your interests at all times and have never failed to have my district share in anything that comes along. You all know that I am ready to accommodate you any time you call, whether rich or poor. Why change when you have a man who will do the job?

The same fellow every day and one who can see you all the time whether there is an election on or not. A man who is qualified for the office and who will do the job right. Your support and influence in this election for me will be appreciated. Most of you know that I am a fellow who will return the favor.

(Pol. adv.) DEWEY ROBERTS

TO THE PEOPLE OF FLOYD COUNTY:

Upon the solicitation of many friends and good citizens, I have at last decided to seek county office and this is to announce my candidacy for the Democratic nomination for county judge.

I have served as Magistrate in District No. 3 for the last 19 years and during this time have tried to run always that my duty is, first of all, to the people, rich and poor alike.

My record has been such that I have no regrets; I have worked to be of service without thought of enriching myself at the expense of others. And if elected County Judge, the same motives will be behind my every act in office. I pledge my efforts, in particular, to better rural roads.

Your help in the coming campaign will be deeply appreciated.

JESSE STUMBO
McDowell, Ky.

To the People of Magisterial Dist. No. 4:

After being over our district and talking to some of you people, I more fully realize the need for a "real-honest-to-goodness" Justice of the Peace. I'm sure that you want a man who is interested in BETTER public roads for ALL the people, not just a CHOSEN FEW. This makes me more determined than ever to try and be your next Magistrate.

If nominated and elected, I will repay you with the same faithful and unselfish service that I gave while serving with the U.S. 15th Air Force over Germany during this last war. My army duty was no cushion seat at the taxpayers' expense.

Your vote and influence deeply appreciated.

Yours respectfully, for a servant of the people,

Play Safe With a Proven Friend!

ALEX L. DAVIDSON FOR COUNTY JUDGE

I promised the people of Floyd County, four years ago, that if they would elect me County Judge I would do the very best job I could, and that promise I have made every effort to keep.

I make you the same promise again, and I feel that with the experience of these four years behind me I will be better qualified to handle the office than before.

Now, I do not mean to say I have been perfect in every respect as County Judge. I have made mistakes, many mistakes, and I am the first to admit that I have. But I have tried my very best AND WHATEVER MISTAKES I HAVE MADE WERE HONEST MISTAKES. No man is perfect; no man can be all things to all men, and the voters of this county know this as well as I do.

I also admit many things have been needed by Floyd County that have not been done, but I think the people should have the facts about this matter, so they will understand exactly why we have fallen short in some respects. Several years ago, an indebtedness of nearly a million dollars was piled up against this county. Because of that, there must be paid, each year, interest and principal on that indebtedness. After taking care of the bonds as they come due, with interest, there is comparatively little left with which to do the many things that should be done.

Each year I have been in office, we have met our debt obligations as they came due, and I assure you, every year I am your County Judge these debts will be paid until this county is debt-free.

Right now, Floyd county has over $300,000 in the bank, placed there in a sinking fund against this county debt. With sound business handling of the county's financial affairs, this debt will be paid within another four years. Many of the bonds against the county, now drawing heavy interest, could be retired at this time but, unfortunately for us, they are not callable.

All this I point out to show why the individual needs of communities in the county—roads, bridges and other improvements—cannot be available immediately, no matter how much you or I may want them.

Permit me to add: I intend to run a clean race during this campaign. I have no ill word to speak of any opposition I may have. I want the people simply to know the facts and to consider me as their servant strictly on my merits. I promise you courteous and faithful service and an honest administration. Did I seek your support on any other grounds, I would not merit your votes.

Your friend,
ALEX L. DAVIDSON

Mac Isaac, Et Al Defendant

By virtue of a judgment and order of sale of the Floyd Circuit Court, rendered and entered at the February term, 1949, in the above-styled cause, I shall proceed to offer for sale at the courthouse door in Prestonsburg, Ky., to the highest and best bidder, at public auction, on the 23rd day of May, 1949, at 1 o'clock, p.m., same being the first day of the regular term of the Floyd County Court, upon a credit of six months, the following described property, to-wit:

Lying and being on Jack's Creek of Left Beaver Creek in Floyd county, Ky., beginning on a large rock marked with an X; thence running across the bottom to a drain, thence running up the center of the drain two marked stones; thence a straight line around the hillside to a large beech tree, thence a straight line to the center of hollow; thence running down the hollow with center of same; thence straight across the bottom to the center of Jack's Creek; thence down the center of said creek to opposite the stone; thence to the stone at the beginning, containing three (3) acres, more or less.

GERALD G. LESLIE

COUNTY COURT CLERK DEMOCRATIC PRIMARY, AUG. 6

I was born and reared at Emma, Ky. I received my A.B. degree from Georgetown College in 1930. I have been a school teacher in mathematics in the Floyd county schools for the past 17 years, and my record as such speaks for itself.

If nominated and elected to this office, I will give prompt service and accommodations, because they are a part of me. I will strive to make the County Court Clerk's office larger and better and more efficient as you all know it should be. No charges will be made for such minor things as blank deeds. Certified copies of veterans' discharge will be taken care of free of charge, and every consideration possible will be given to the ex-service men. I will render my service to the public in the same capacity as I have to the school children in this county.

Beyond it — Only the Future!

THE MAN who wants a finer motor car than the 1949 Cadillac, will have to wait. He will have to wait until the science of motor manufacture has reached a higher level. For here—in this gorgeously beautiful creation—is to be found the embodiment of all that is currently good and desirable in an automobile. It is, in every way, as fine and splendid a motor car as it is possible to produce. As is true of each succeeding Cadillac model, the advancements in the 1949 car are manifold, and encompass every aspect of the car's goodness. But the year's greatest advance is in the power plant—a wholly new V-type engine which easily ranks as Cadillac's creative masterpiece. The power flow is so smooth, and so seemingly inexhaustible, that many say the car seems to move by automatic propulsion. Performance is really a challenge to the imagination. If you wish to know how truly wonderful a motor car can be, you are cordially invited to call at our showrooms for a look and a ride. You are welcome at any time—regardless of the price class from which you expect your next car to come.
