Allen and Maytown Church League Fives Are Journey Winners

Allen's undefeated "A" team won the Floyd county Methodist Church league tournament last Thursday night, and at the same time the Maytown "B" team was crowned champion in that division after two weeks of elimination play. The finals were played in the Maytown gym.

To reach the finals, the Allen A team defeated Emma, winner in the lower section of the county, 54-42, and the Maytown B squad eliminated the Porter Addition team.

The upper section of the league was composed of Allen, Maytown and Wayland; the lower of Emma, Prestonsburg, Bull Creek and the Porter Addition. Playoffs were awarded the winners. There by the Rev. W. J. Rouse, pastor of the Maytown Church, manager of the Methodist league.

Miss J. Rouse, a Yagelov, now Maytown, will plan to start a team and an all.

There are nine major Church districts.

Engagement Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Elmo Prater, of 508 Brown St., Vespert, Mich., formerly of this county, are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Freda W. Prater, to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Wickham, of Pennick, Mich. The couple plan a spring wedding.

In average daily attendance to reach a rating of "A". In a notice sent out last week Chairman Russell D. Hodkin announced the board will give consideration to a new regulation fixing the minimum number in average daily attendance of between 60 and 100.

Most of the 79 schools already arranged "B" but not for attendance purposes. To qualify for an "A" rating, a school must meet certain other standards related to the quality of the school program, length of term, number of teachers, salaries, library facilities, room, records and the school plant itself.

A "B" school with between 60 and 100 pupils has been rated that way because of failure to meet one or all of the other standards.

The typical high school in Kentucky has an enrollment of around 150 pupils with six teachers. The National Commission on School District Reorganization recommends not less than 200 pupils in a high school with a minimum of 12 full-time teachers.

There are 20 public high schools still operating in Kentucky, with less than 60 pupils. Most of these have "B" ratings because they have been unable to send their students to other schools or have transportation problems not yet solved. Half a dozen of them are in danger of being closed next year.

An education official interpreted the board's proposed regulation as a move toward to abolish small high schools and getting their pupils into schools rated "A".

If such a regulation is adopted, it would be effective for the 1952 school year. The school districts with high schools falling under the new rule would have time to provide for consolidation of the small schools with a larger one.

Grades of Kentucky high schools that are rated less than "A" must take examinations to ensure quality. Result of the proposed regulation would be to provide better education and facilities to those boys and girls who are enrolled in small Kentucky high schools," Hodkin said.

Prestonsburg and Allen, but this offer received no comment. Judge Sizemore said Wednesday afternoon he has not discussed the location for the new hospital and that the court has not to his knowledge asked the state health officer for another meeting.

The health officer said he and all four Magistrates have joined Tom Rancourt, Carson Hibbits and Noble Hobbs, of the Pikeville office, United States Workers, in a letter asking Governor Wallace to request Mr. Hackney to reconsider the Allen location.

He added that he has received approximately 4300 letters from Floyd counties, asking the Allen location. Most of these letters, it was said, were printed and circulated for signatures of citizens.

Meanwhile, the competition for the hospital location heated battle. If possible, than over by handbills, newspaper advertisements and radio talks persons interested in the two sites waged battle.

Thus the time was being spent while many citizens were expressing the fear that the dispute might cause Floyd county to lose the hospital entirely. The Times sought without success to contact Mr. Hackney to ascertain how long this county has in which to arrive at a decision on the matter of sites.

Joe Holson announced he has offered, on behalf of the Richmond estate, a tract in the Richmond Addition here for the hospital. He said the property would be offered at approximately half its market value.

SGT. STEPHENS MOVES
KITZINGEN, Germany, March 14 (Sp.)—Sergeant Albert Stephens, son of Mr. Stephens, of Manhattan, Ky., has changed his permanent station, as the 5th field artillery battalion of which he is a member, moved from Schweinfurt, Germany to Kitzingen, Germany. He is currently serving with B battery of the 5th field artillery battalion.

Sgt. Stephens first entered the army at Camp Breckinridge, Kentucky where he received his basic training. Upon completion of basic, he received a short furlough home before reporting to Camp Kilmer, New Jersey for reassignment overseas. He arrived in Germany in April, 1948.

Kitzingen is a small city with virtually no war damage, pleasantly situated on the lower Franconian plain, in the center of the world-famed Franconian wine industry.

To United Mine Workers and Their Friends:

The following is a copy of a letter I recently received from Tom Roney, representative of District 30, United Mine Workers, in regard to one of my decisions as Circuit Judge which received some criticism:

February 28, 1951
Hon. Edward P. Hill, Circuit Judge
Floyd County, 21st Judicial District
Prestonsburg, Ky.

Dear Judge:

Permit me on behalf of District No. 30, UMW, to express my appreciation for your recent assistance in helping to solve some problem which greatly affected several of our members in Floyd county, which with your help could have resulted into a serious problem affecting many people in Floyd county and also several members of the United Mine Workers of America.

For several months I have intended to write you with reference to criticism of certain individuals directed at you because of your decision involving the UMW and several garage owners in Prestonsburg, Kentucky in 1949. I have had occasion to investigate the circumstances which prompted your decision at that time. I am of the opinion that under the circumstances you could not have justifiably rendered any other decision. Also, I have noted that the Kentucky Court of Appeals not only sustained your position but they made their decision much stronger in its scope than what you originally intended in your decision. I hope that none of the members of our union are now under any misapprehension in regard to your attitude toward labor, which I have always found personally favorable. If you care to do so, you are at liberty to use this letter in whatever manner you choose to help clear up any misunderstanding.

Sincerely yours,
TOM RONEY, UMW

TR:md

I submit Mr. RONEY's letter as being fair to me in my sometimes unpleasant task of making decisions according to the law as I interpret it.

Sincerely,

Conley Honored At Youth Assembly

As the Sixth district's nominee for Governor of the Kentucky Youth Assembly, Franklin Conley, at a week at Frankfort came within ten votes of the winner, Dave Eckhardt, nominee from the strong Jefferson county district.

Working against the powerful organization of the Louisville-Lexington and surrounding Bluegrass area, young Conley's persuasive campaign manager, Wesley Prater, contrived to swing all other sections in favor of Conley. Certain delegates, however, gave last-minute support to Eckhardt, and so Conley was defeated.

Medals were awarded to the outstanding speakers at the Assembly. The following received this honor: Buddy Cary, Fleming; Peter Whittis, Evans; Franklin Conley, Prestonsburg; Barbara Ashcraft, Murray; Tom Sale, Henderson; and Sara Carroll Edmonson, Danville.

Three bills presented by the Prestonsburg delegation were passed. Before adjourning, the Assembly passed two additional measures, one of which was Prestonsburg's third bill—a measure which would prohibit the advertising of alcoholic beverages in newspapers and magazines, on highway billboards, on television, and over the radio.

The youngsters returned Saturday night from Frankfort, having practiced the business of government first-hand and having been inspired to new concepts of leadership. Those Hill-Y and Y-Ten members participating were: Julian Campbell, Huey Spradlin, Stanley Prater, Clyde Burchett, H-Y member, Julie Mayo, Mary E. McGinnis, Vera Baldrige, Wanda Lou Leake, Mrs. Dick Roberts, sponsor.

CALLING ALL DRYS

According to reliable report, a petition will shortly be filed requesting a county-wide Local Option Campaign. This notice is a call to all Drys to mobilize immediately in local churches and organizations. Start the work going. Ballots will be announced shortly.

There is no cause for fear, but Drys know better than to be so confident they fail to work, day and night, for victory. We now have more trained and experienced workers in Floyd than ever before, more churches and missions, not to mention more Christians.

In addition to this, we have the files and findings of previous campaigns, showing our weak points.

Now Hydraguide Steering does four-fifths of the work for you!

THINK of the easiest steering car you ever drove . . . then imagine one five times easier to steer! Chrysler's new Hydraguide power steering . . . regular on Crown Imperials and optional at extra cost on all New Yorker and Imperial models . . . gives you exactly that. Here is by far the greatest single change in handling ease—and safety—you ever found in any car. At your touch on the steering wheel, the car mechanically provides four-fifths of the energy to turn the tires on the road. Like so much in these new Chryslers . . . Hydraguide is so basically new, so basically better than anything before, that only when you try it can you ever know what it really does!

The longest day's drive you ever made . . . without arm-and-shoulder fatigue at the end. Around the curves . . . over the hills . . . Hydraguide does four-fifths of the work!

In tight city traffic . . . on awkward driveways and roads . . . Hydraguide means new safety, new ease, new swiftness of steering control!

The Most Basically New Cars of All!

Beneath the rich new beauty of these Chryslers for 1951 are 73 different improvements and advances. Among them are the most basic new ideas in any cars for many years! Like the revolutionary new FirePower engine, of 180 horsepower, which gives owners of Chrysler Imperial and New Yorker cars the most powerful, most efficient, most all-around economical powerplant in any car today! And like the amazing new Chrysler Offroad shock absorbers, which give every New Chrysler car riding ease with twice the shock-absorbing power of any other cars at any price. And with all their newness, they're built to stand by you like no car you can buy!

IT'S A GOOD WORLD

BY WILMA Y

And many are striving to make the world better. Several years ago Lowell Thomas, Captain Rickenbacker, and other celebrities established Goodwills, Inc., to promote religion and bring about a revival in morally decadent America. Surely we ordinary mortals can help in some smaller way.

The reverse side of Mr. George Snodgrass' business card is a good example of how this may be done in a unique manner. It bears a wonderful quotation from Abe Lincoln.

Thanks to Mr. Ed Burke, Prestonsburg, for sending a copy of The Game with Minutes, available for five cents from the McClellan Pub. Co., 1271 Grand Avenue, St. Paul, Minn. Start the game in your community. Any number can play it. It is perfect for one, and they do say it is far superior to bridge or canasta. Unfortunately, some cannot master its technique, but practice makes perfect.

An orchid—a giant one—to Mrs. A. H. Mandt and her five co-workers who put over the blood drive. It was a real achievement. And a bouquet to Dr. C. L. Allen for his lecture to the Maytown PTA, on the O. B. Patient. He insisted prospective mothers should omit liquor and tobacco. Outstanding obstetricians base this opinion on surveys from the latest maternity hospitals in America.

Another bouquet for Rev. W. J. Kenney for his sermon Sunday. How he scored us for neglecting prayer services and attending church socials. He fearlessly placed all gambling in the same category, bridge, chance-buying and keno, along with the rest, and reminded us that the Bible makes clear the way to support the church.

One hesitates to predict the increase of gamblers in the coming generation when church-membership reports today indicate on all sides. None of us wants someone out begging for us, and we do not want them selling things to give us the money obtained. When this is done for the church it and Christ are impoverished. If the time devoted to such were instead spent in visiting for the church, the newcomers thus won would contribute more than the ones earned. If the time were spent in studying missions, the increased number of tithers would more than compensate for the amounts earned.

Thousands who thought they could never afford to give have paid more than a tenth in taxes recently. America sent scrap iron to Japan when she needed Bibles more. The U. S. sends billions to foreign nations today, but too few Bibles and missionaries in comparison for eminent scientists say religious progress must catch up with the scientific if civilization is to be spared.

The major tragedy is here, where a majority with Bibles never use them. Ever know church leaders who could not quote a half dozen verses if their lives depended on it? (The blind shall lead the blind.) The child asked his mother if the Bible were God's Book. When she said it was, he asked why she did not send it back, since they never used it.

"You shore got plenty books," the colored minister admired the well-stocked library of a white pastor.

"Yes, they are a big help to me in understanding the Bible," his friend said.

"Ah, got just one book mahself, that's God's Word, but hit shore does shed some light on all these books, Ah speck," said the negro parson.

A DECISION IS REACHED
The man on the street was disturbed. Politicians were issuing statements, right and left, mostly tending to party lines and looking toward a certain November in the future. The law and the cry was on; so the two of us, tonight arm-chair strategists and chimney-corner diplomats, sat ourselves down to view the matter calmly.

"Truman ought to be impeached for firing MacArthur," dispassionately observed my vis-a-vis.

"You're as crazy as the well-known bee-bug," I gently observed.

"Who does this Kansas City ward-leader think he is to insult the greatest general our army has?" said my friend, the while still sketching a map of Korea, complete with battle lines and strategic points.

"I saw him and raised him one available on each sector and as an afterthought added the exact number of chunks our side had killed in the last 24 hours. "Who do you think you are to talk like that about our President?"

"I think I know more than—" "Do you think we're ready to take a few cargoes of A-bombs dumped plank into the middle of our large cities and to scrape up the remains of a few millions of our people when fellow like MacArthur—" "—"

With that last statement the two of us were in complete accord, and we adjourned with everything settled, exactly like everybody else was settling everything.

THE ALL-PULLED FLOCK VS. THE HEN FLOCK

The practice of keeping pullets to lay more than one season cuts profits from the laying flock, according to tests made by the University of Kentucky.

The experiment lasted 11 years and during this period the Barred Rock pullets averaged 50 eggs more than Barred Rock hens.
White Leghorn pullets averaged 35 eggs more per year than White Leghorn hens. During the winter, when egg prices are high the Barred Rock pullets laid 32 eggs to 25 for the hens and White Leghorn pullets laid 53 eggs to 21 for the hens.

These results showed the superiority of the all-pulled flock over the all-hen flock in both winter and annual egg production. In addition, mortality of the all-pullet flock was less. Both of these factors are very important in determining the amount of profit received from the flock.

In summarizing the results of this experiment the main findings were:

Cats To Face Alumni Team In Spring Training Contest

Football fans here and in surrounding communities will get their first look at the 1951 edition of the Prestonsburg high school football team in action Friday night at 8 at the playground here as the Cats engage an aggregation of alumni players.

The alumni squad will be composed of Johnny and Frank Heinze, Johnny Vaughan, Doug Miller and Bill Damon, Doug M. Hoot, R. Spradlin, J. Pannin and B. Pannin, tackles; Sid Ball, Claude Hopson, W. Branham, J. Ellis, guards; D. Woods, center; "Pete" Porter, Bill Goble, Henry Lewis Mayo, Don Willis, D. Dixon, Clyde Lafferty, Gardner Combs, Freddie James, Lloyd Miller and B. Miller, backs.

The alumni will have a weight advantage and on the squad are Prestonsburg high school seniors as well as some college players. With Porter, Morehead passing ace, flinging the ball for the alumni and the Cats' Hughes in action, the game should develop into a pretty aerial duel.

KENTUCKY ON THE MARCH

By EWING GALLOWAY

In last week's column about the failure of county tax commissioners to assess 286,000 motor vehicles licensed in Kentucky, involving a loss of more than a million dollars to the state's school fund, you got the first chapter of the story about a disgraceful rascal in the tax law of the state. Chapter two comes from the B. Utley, first-term tax commissioner, who states the case for 129 county commissioners very well.

"The only complete record we have that we can check are the licenses issued in the year 1950," he says. "This could not give you a clear picture of the true owner on January 1, 1950 because many of these cars licensed in 1950 would not be owned by the same person on January 1, 1950 which is the assessment day. This probably could be done by a lot of checking by the Tax Commissioner if he had the time and money to hire deputies to do it."

"I fully intend to devote all the time to this checking that my calendar will allow. The law says that I shall have all of my books made up and my first recap presented to the State by April 15, 1951. We cannot start preparing the tax rolls until all of the assessments are in from each District. As you can understand by the weather and bad roads we have had, it has thrown what we had hoped would have been our finishing date some 3 weeks behind."

"We will have a number of taxpayers which were not found by deputies and won't come into the office to give in their assessment which will have to be checked and added to the tax rolls. All of this takes time which under the new law is very short compared to what it used to be."

"We cannot use the license receipts which have been issued in 1951 because they are nowhere near complete. I understand our clerk's office has some 4,000 licenses yet to sell so you can see how far from complete that information would be at this time."

"We have a number of cars each year which are sold and licensed in this county, to bordering county residents. (These are both used and new cars.)"

"There are a number of cars which go to the junk yard due to wrecks and old age before assessment time."

"Now if the legislature passed a law (which they have in Indiana) that before a man could buy his license he would have to produce his tax receipt showing where the car was assessed, you would have no problem of getting the cars on the tax rolls."

"That the 1950 Legislature should have let the deplorable state in the tax law escape its attention is hard to believe. Now we must wait for the 1952 Assembly to amend the law."

(Signed by The Union County Advocate)

Here's where You come into your own

Once in a while, any man is entitled to let himself go.

He's entitled to that glow of pride that comes from feeling like the very important person that he really is.

He's entitled to take practical steps to make his dreams come true.

In short, he's entitled to own a ROADMASTER, and particularly a ROADMASTER as it is custom built for '51.

For this great automobile is more than big and roomy and distinguished in its styling.

It's more than sweetly willing in performance, and superbly poised in stride.

It does things to you, when you let yourself sink deep down in the subtle softness of its cushions, and run a caressing hand over the fine texture of its fabrics.

This is everything a fine car should be!

Of course, this brilliant performer is Fireball powered. It is cushioned by coil springs on every wheel. It provides, at no extra cost, the complete relaxation of Dynaflow Drive. It has durable and dependable sturdiness engineered into every mechanical part.

But the best is yet to be told. When you check the ROADMASTER price list, you'll find that the car of your choice can be yours for hundreds of dollars less than you'll pay for others with comparable reputation.

Come in soon and see this buy of buys in the fine-car field.

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice.

SPORTS AFIELD

By Ted Kesting

Ernest Hemingway has spent much of his tremendous energy in the unremitting pursuit of fish and game. He measures a man according to his definition of a sportsman.

"A sportsman is an individual who practices any difficult art for the pleasure he derives from doing it. If he is good enough at it to make a living from it that makes him no less a sportsman. The main thing is that he must love to do it, not simply love the winning or the applause, nor what it brings him."

For the past 20 years deepwater fishing has occupied much of Hemingway's time. He boasted the first unimpaired tuna ever taken with rod and reel in the shark-infested waters of Blinn. He has a reputation for fighting his fish hard and getting back to his fishing.

To make the fight as tough as possible for himself, Hemingway uses the sport tackle he can find. To land a good-sized marlin or sailfin with this kind of gear, he says the angler must be in good enough shape to last 12 rounds in the prize ring.

The aura of fitness and well-being that Hemingway radiates at the age of 51 is one of the best arguments for a life of action in the outdoors that one could find, writes Bill O'Brien, a fellow out-of-doorman and author.

But whether deep-sea fishing or wing shooting is his first love, it's hard to say. Literally multitudes of birds—clay and feathered—have fallen to Hemingway's gun. He killed his first quail when he was 10.

He loves to watch a game bird in flight; but he nonetheless loves to kill it. He has written: "I think they all were made to shoot because if they were not, why did they give them that whir of wings that moves you so suddenly . . . why did they make them all so good to eat?"

I think that they were made to shoot and some of us were made to shoot them."

Electricity is one of the biggest bargains of all the things a family buys. It's an even bigger value when you consider what else besides light and power your electric bill money helps pay for. Like roads and schools, for instance . . . like police and fire protection and national defense.

Taxes must pay for all these things—and for 1950 Kentucky and West Virginia's taxes will run about $1,300,000. Kentucky and West Virginia Power Company is one of a group of operating units of the American Gas and Electric Company and these companies too pay large federal, state, and local taxes. Systemwide, all these taxes average twenty cents out of every dollar paid for electric service.

The American Gas and Electric System supplies electricity to over 1,140,000 customers, over thousands of miles of lines, from plants with total generating capacity of 2,440,000 kilowatts.

This great System was bought and paid for by the savings of millions of people, individually or through savings banks and insurance companies. These people are the owners of the System, yet—and this may surprise you—taxes took a bigger slice of the money you paid us than was paid out to all the owners of the System. Or, put it this way: Of the money you pay us for electricity, more is returned to the public in the things tax money buys than is paid to the people whose savings provide you with adequate, dependable electric service.

The Big Question Is— Does Floyd County Need the Hospital?

DOES Floyd County need the War Memorial hospital?

Last November, when the taxpayers of this county voted a $100,000 bond issue to make such an institution possible, they must have thought there was a very great need for a hospital to serve the people and to stand as a memorial to the county's war dead.

When that bond issue was voted, no one community was mentioned as the site for the hospital. Neither Allen nor Prestonsburg was named. We talked Floyd county, back then.

But some of us are now talking Floyd county, now. Some have even gone so far as to say that if this community or that does not get the hospital, the hope is lost to Floyd county.

Such talk is disgraceful. It disgraces the speaker; it shames the county. Those who died in the stench and mud and horror of war had no such thought in mind as they faced a common enemy. They fought for what they considered the common good.

THE TIMES looks on their sacrifice as having been made for the freedom which permits us all to compete for such improvements. But at the same time it regards the sacrifice they made as a grim reminder to those they left behind that we all cannot win our every personal ambition if the common good is to be served.

If this hospital is worth the $100,000 Floyd county's taxpayers have volunteered to pay over the years for its building, plus the $800,000 the federal government would pay, it is bigger than any one community.

The Floyd county fiscal court then at once the wrath of those who would not surrender one inch and would lose all for us all, it should suggest not one but several locations for the hospital, then leave the selection of the site, as the law provides, to those having that authority.

Loss of the hospital will arouse a deeper, a more bitter and a longer-lasting wrath than that of the relative few. It is a worthy THP. TIMES hopes no official will incur.

COMING SOON

(A Guest Editorial)

ALL OVER America, organizations are promoting Adult Education, which fills a need in every section. One writer states that self-improvement means community-improvement. Increased education for individuals raises the level of the whole.

The average education of Kentucky adults is below seventh grade. Most of these citizens will never again attend school, but other avenues of education remain open to all. The process of education is lifelong for intelligent persons. While formal education and books provide knowledge, other means for intellectual growth are equally valuable. Worthwhile entertainment and lectures are two methods commonly employed, and sadly neglected. Too often, public programs are on a low level. Sometimes, the children perform; the parents applaud, and that is all. Naturally, we enjoy this Franklin Roosevelt preferred slapstick comedy to any other form of entertainment. We all like beans but we do not want them for daily fare. Everybody likes the comical, but the educational level remains static without some "information and inspiration," if one may quote a noted high school principal in Floyd.

Frequently, P-T-A programs are a repetition of chapel forebears. The need for deeper content is evident and the fruits of same are obvious. We get out of a thing what we put into it. Recently, The Times stated that the attendance of the Prestonsburg P-T-A has doubled in two years, and the increase is attributed to better programs. The best people will come out to hear such.

When sponsoring adult education, each community faces problems. Often the chairman of program committees run out of original ideas, new features and faces, different topics. Public forums, panels, discussion groups, and extemporaneous, and otherwise helpful if efficiently conducted. The progressive citizens cooperate, respond and attend, but individuals of limited education are more difficult to interest; and many lack the capacity.

Some of us did not relish spicing in childhood, though we learned to eat it, and later found that greens are an important item in the diet. In the same way, a continued program of adult education for all ultimately brings results. An outstanding county official remarked that repeated exposure to the finer things of life makes an imprint on us, just as a trickle of water finally wears away a big stone.

Good music leaves numbers unmoved. Many things are little about the arts. The only solution is more exposure, greater effort. A beginning must be made. No one ever learned to swim outside the water! The more one learns about Art, the greater his appreciation of a masterpiece. The more familiar one is with music, the deeper his enjoyment of a famous symphony. So it goes. All about many whose talents, training and experience cover countless fields, new in others. When such individuals share with the rest much benefit comes to mankind.

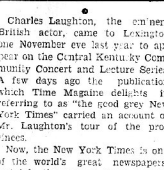

This is only one phase of adult education. You can show children from indigent homes how to keep school restrooms sanitary, but that does not guarantee cooperation. Teachers admit, "You can lead a horse to water but you can't make him drink." We carp loudly about some of our public places, especially restrooms, but there are two sides, even the health matters. The public gets what it demands. Privileged individuals have a responsibility to illiterate masses. Progress requires time, work, patience, and cooperation. Public sentiment must be aroused and then translated into action. It is not an overnight process, but a gradual one that starts with you and me.

Watch The Times for an important announcement soon that will help meet this need. Twelve outstanding men and women, eminent in their respective professions or vocations, have formed a new organization that will be at the service of Floyd county.

(The preceding editorial is timely. The Committee for Kentucky is pleading for assistance. It begs each county to push forward on its own. Here is one way Floyd can do so—Editor.)

Jest Among Us . . .

By Jack Wink

Charles Laughton, the eminent British actor, came to Lexington one November eve last year to appear on the Central Kentucky Community Concert and Lecture Series. A few days ago the publication which Time Magazine delisted in referring to as "the good grey New York Times" carried an account of Mr. Laughton's tour of the province.

Now, the New York Times is one of the world's great newspapers, certainly the nearest there is to a national newspaper in this land, and its slogan, "All the news that's fit to print," is more than a boast. But that Laughton thing!

"In Lexington, Ky.," the article declared in all soberness, "they first looked him [Laughton] over on 800-seat house and wound up in a revival-meeting tent that seats 3,000."

The truth: Lexington does not have an "800-seat house." Neither does it have a "revival-meeting tent that seats 3,000." Mr. Laughton was presented in the University of Kentucky's majestic new Memorial Coliseum that seats 12,451, and some 9,000 persons were on hand for the performance.

The suave English entertainer is quoted by the Times as remarking of his excursion into the hill-and-holler country, that "I don't really know who my audience is. I do know that it is a vast and culture-hungry audience untouched by radio, television or the movies." He failed to add that when he packed out and saw the vast and culture-hungry congregation awaiting his appearance in that revival-meeting tent down in Kentucky, an illness came upon him in his dressing room. One of his knees quivered down. Mr. Laughton put on a real good show for the folks, however, and seemed to enjoy it.

Charles Laughton is coming back to Lexington next year for another appearance. What his says about his second visit should make interesting reading, but I'll be more interested in what two other city fellows of the lecture series think of the Coliseum. Their names are Hanson Bakewell and William Lawrence, and they are members of the staff of the New York Times.
