UP FROM THE DEPTHS

Deputy Lake has another "victim" Sunday. Two fishermen, one of whom was reported as George Snodgrass, of Allen, found a sack, weighted and sunk off-shore. Raising it, they saw it contained what might be a body, certainly flesh of some sort. The news was rushed to the dock, and authorities were summoned.

A quick run up the lake, and the law took a peek. There was the sack—weighted, as reported. And something in it. Um—have we here a murder mystery? Has somebody literally got the sack?

They pulled the bag to the surface, gingerly opened it and took a quick peek. Then gave with a sigh of relief.

The "body" was an oversize mess of pork chops which, apparently having spoiled, had been put in the sack by some fisherman and used to bait a hole for catfish.

ELECTION NEWS

While "campaigning" on Herrington Lake, last Thursday, Gordon Moore, Floyd county's candidate for Railroad Commissioner, landed a seven-pound largemouth bass. Next day, he visited the voters along the meanderings of Ekborn Creek, and came up with another nice catch. That best getting bitten by strange dogs, you'll have to admit.

TO PRESENT PROGRAM AT ALLEN CHURCH

The Bob Jones University brass ensemble, which will present a program Wednesday evening, July 18, at the Allen Baptist Church, is an unusual group in many particulars. It is composed of six young people, representing five states, who will present favorite sacred compositions in a unique fashion. The presentation of the old hymns range from the traditional tunes to arrangements which are different from anything usually heard. Many of the beautiful adaptations were made particularly for this group.

During the program, a brief Gospel message will be delivered by Russ Zimmerman, director of the ensemble.

DO YOU HAVE HEADACHES?
DOES HEARTBURN OR A SOUR STOMCH WITH GAS MAKE YOU MISERABLE?
DO YOU ALWAYS FEEL TIRED AND LIFELESS?
IF YOU DO ASK YOUR DRUGGIST FOR CRELL

Crell is a delicious dietary supplement and tonic that every one likes. Children love it. Crell makes a delicious and refreshing drink. So remember if you don't feel well take Crell.

The following letters are typical of what every one is saying about CRELL.

I wish to express my appreciation for the wonderful improvement in my health after taking only six bottles of Crell. Before taking Crell I was in a run-down condition, had very little appetite and digested my food with difficulty. I also had very frequent headaches and was completely exhausted after working 8 hours. But thanks to Crell I now have no difficulty in digesting my food, my headaches have stopped and I can work 10 hours or more and feel fine.
I am a construction worker and I feel sure there are many like me who could benefit from the use of Crell and I certainly recommend it to any one who feels that his health can be improved.

J. B. FORD, Prestonsburg, Ky.

My 4-year-old daughter was irritable, under weight and slept very poorly. After taking only five bottles of Crell her weight is normal, she is feeling wonderful and sleeps well. Crell tastes so good that I have to keep the bottle hidden from her.
I would certainly recommend Crell to everyone who is not in the peak of condition.

It's Good for You!

Standard equipment, accessories and trim shown are subject to change without notice.

These are days to try the mettle of a man. There's his world to worry about—his country—his business—his family. And there are his own hopes and aspirations.

And, yet, a man must go on. Everything he has, and plans for, demands a tilt to his head and a tilt to his spirits.

And that's where his Cadillac comes into the picture—for here is one of the world's great therapeutics for a world-weary man.

Just to look at it, in the driveway, is an inspiration—proud, beautiful and substantial.

And, oh, how you rest when it takes to the highway! There's the deep-throated lullaby of its powerful engine; there's the soothing, restful, relaxing ride; and there's the soft swish of the wind as it flows past the streamlined body.

Men look forward to it throughout the day.

We have it on the word of a great statesman, and a great surgeon, and a great general, and a great business man—and thousands of others who are weary with the heavy burden of things as they are—that the hour at the wheel of a Cadillac is the relaxing one of the twenty-four.

So there you have the prescription. Better come in today and see about having it filled.

III. INCREASED COMPENSATION FOR JURORS.
In both terms in the Legislature, Hale has sponsored and supported bills to increase the compensation of petit and grand jurors, and in the 1950 General Assembly, the pay of petit and grand jurors was raised from $3.00 to $5.00 per day.
IV. SEPARATE JUDICIAL DISTRICT.
Hale has worked towards the re-districting of the Floyd Circuit Court during two terms of the Legislature, and in 1950 he worked hard for and supported a bill giving Floyd county a separate judicial district, allowing our Circuit Judge and Commonwealth's Attorney to give complete attention to Floyd county alone.
V. PROBLEMS FOR THE 1950 GENERAL ASSEMBLY.
1. Hale will support a bill for better registration and purgation of voters in the 1952 General Assembly.
2. Hale states that re-districting will be a big problem at the 1952 General Assembly, and promises that the interests of the people of Floyd county will be protected to the best of his ability.
4. Hale pledges that his record of progress in Floyd county is a record in black and white which indicates that he will support even greater progress for Floyd county in 1952.

How to make Wise Tracks to a Beauty

How do you buy a new car?
Are you one of those people who buy on love at first sight?

Or do you check cars feature for feature, price for price—then pick the one that gives you the most for your money?

Whoever you are, we'd like to suggest that you come in and see our 1951 Buicks.

It's a sure bet you'll go for the swift, smart look of a SPECIAL, SUPER or ROADMASTER—fall seriously in love with the pace and power of its bonnet-filling engine.

And it's a cinch you'll go for the room and richness of those Buick interiors—the serene smoothness of Dynaflo Drive® and all-coil springing.

But don't let your emotion be the only judge—get the practical picture too.

Note that the power that gives you such a big kick here comes from Buick's famed valve-in-head Fireball Engine—which means you get a lot of miles from each gallon of gas you buy.

Note that the silken ease you enjoy with Dynaflo® goes hand in hand with real money savings in maintenance costs.

Above all, note what a Buick's price tag includes—how much more sheer automobile you get in a Buick than the same money would buy elsewhere.

How about making tracks to our showroom right soon—checking thoroughly into the matter—and see if you don't fall in love with a smart-buy Buick?

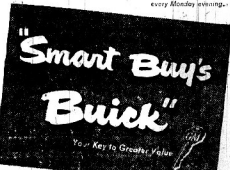

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice.

H. L. Patton, director of the Mayo State Vocational School, Paintsville, noted the loss of Kentucky's youth to other states, and declared no section can progress while losing its most essential resource, its educated, trained manpower.

Other speakers discussed the population losses of their counties to other states because of no local industry, the need for new industries, and especially those which would aid the coal business, the need for parks, roads and for initiative on the part of the people in "going after" needed benefits.

These speakers included J. E. Ferguson, Louisa, Walter Meek, Paintsville, Marvin Music, Prestonsburg, Noble Hobbs, of the Pikeville UMW office, Walter P. Walters, County Development Association, Marvin Music and Paul E. Hayes, Prestonsburg, J. B. Moore, Louisa. The Association named Dr. Thompson, K. J. WITH THE FIRST CAVALRY DIVISION, U. S. ARMY IN KOREA, "Delayed"—Private First Class Robert Salmons, of Troy, Ky., is on the Korean front serving with the unit which seeks out and eliminates enemy forces in the 1st Cavalry Division.

Salmons, who is the son of Sherman Salmons, of Troy, is a member of the 1st Cavalry's 16th Reconnaissance Company.

This mobile combat unit is the fearless, until they probe deep into enemy territory to determine the size and disposition of Communist troops. In doing so, it has compiled one of the most amazing records of valor in Korea.

More than once the company saved unit fourth of Communist forces to its size.

During the early days of the Korean War, the 16th Reconnaissance was certainly behind enemy lines, and was the first U. S. force to cross the 38th Parallel in October, 1950. The Korean Reconnaissance men of the 16th Reconnaissance have proved themselves equal to the best units in the world.

One of Salmons' comrades was awarded the Medal of Honor for throwing himself on an exploding grenade to save nearby comrades.

TIDBITS OF KENTUCKY FOLKLORE

By GORDON WILSON, Ph.D.
Western Kentucky Teachers' College Bowling Green, Ky.

"A CHANGING WORLD"

Nothing has changed more within the last three decades than the leadership of communities. In general, the change has been for the better. There was a time when you could probably find in advance just who would be in charge of a certain program, who would sing, who would make appropriate remarks. That time seems to have gone, for there are dozens of leaders now, thanks to a more widely distributed educational opportunity. I was reminded of this recently when at a high school commencement, two very prominent people, originally from my own Fidelity, were an obvious part of the program of the high school. When I was a lad at Fidelity, the grandparents of these two people were good, honest citizens, but they were in no sense leaders of their neighborhoods. Then, along came the Fidelity high school, and among the students in some of its early years were these two same people whom I met recently. From the high school they went to college, and the young man of the two has gone on to graduate work, even now being on a leave of absence to complete his doctorate. When I think of such happenings, I rejoice at the high school at Fidelity and those elsewhere that I have known so well. Located, maybe, in small rural villages or neighborhoods, these schools, nevertheless, have shown what they can do by educating just such fine leaders as these two children of old neighbors of mine.

It is merely at Fidelity or similar places "out leadership has been developed; I find in my own town a decided change within the same period. Bowling Green, like most other college towns, is very cosmopolitan in origin, at least, its present population is from just about everywhere. When you attend a public function of some sort, people from a dozen states may be on the committee in charge of activities. Practically no two people grew up in the same community. Because of this there has been added to our town a cosmopolitan atmosphere that is very different from the somewhat provincial feeling that used to be obvious.

When I think of rural leadership, I am amazed at the turn of things. It used to be a source of laughter for townspeople to see a rural group in session, regardless of whether it was a church, a school or a social gathering. In many ways this has changed, and nearly always for the better. Rural groups meet with all the ease of old-time city groups and get things done. There is no neighborhood so remote that the county farm agent and the home demonstration agent does not visit often. And nearly every community has now groups, have been recognized by the state and national organizations. Rural men and women, boys and girls have been to state and national camps and meetings and know how to tell of their programs. It has delighted me greatly that children from my own county have been nationally and internationally for their effective work in farm organizations. Imagine what a sensation it would have caused thirty years ago if some rural youth had been sent, expenses paid, to Europe for the summer. And imagine this same rural youth speaking in nearly every state of the Union on his experiences. Only highly favored people with plenty of money used to do such things; now leadership is finding ways for all sorts of people who formerly would not have had a hearing. This is one of the signs of the times that I like a living out of some of the principles of democracy that we have long professed but sometimes failed to practice.

Has Kentucky a 38th Parallel?

ONE wonders, reading figures and viewing maps, what barrier, real or imaginary, which bars new industry from entering Eastern Kentucky. We refer to recent news releases telling of millions being spent on new enterprises, both defense and civilian, and to the accompanying map showing where in Kentucky these new industries are being, or will be, located.

The march of new industry wings triumphantly (the map shows) across the Commonwealth from Mills Point eastward—but not to the Big Sandy. Somewhere in Central Kentucky, perhaps around Mt. Sterling, the march begins down.

What is this—an industrial 38th Parallel? What have Paducah and Owensboro and Henderson and all those other Western and Central Kentucky towns and cities, that this section hasn't?

It isn't raw materials. Eastern Kentucky has and could not surpass both in present development and in their potential, the fuel resources of those other sections. Its forest products likewise are much greater than those of other parts of Kentucky. The plant sites are available here as elsewhere.

Some have said industrialization for the labor situation, but that doesn't add up. Men and women are leaving this section in great numbers, seeking work all the way from Paducah to Detroit and on, even to Maine potato fields. Workers here have their unions, and so do those where the plants are being located.

Is it transportation? Aren't our railroads and highways sufficient? The Chesapeake & Ohio Railway Company has never failed with its argument that its rail line into this valley is sufficient when it is fighting cancellation of the river. Could the Congress which is entrusted with the job of appropriating funds with which to make America great has listened not enough to the folks who know? If the existing highways and railroads we have aren't sufficient, shouldn't it follow that water transportation—that or more railroads and highways—should be built?

Some have said that our coal is of too high quality to be used for the synthetic production of gasoline. Again the argument is thin. The federal government has been making a survey of the region's coal resources, and it surely has found that the No. 1 Elkhorn seam represents only a small portion of our coal potential and that some of these other veins are of such low quality they may never be utilized except for some purpose such as synthesis.

Or are we placed in this strange situation because our representatives in Congress, work as manfully as they may with interested citizens and groups in behalf of this section, have failed to receive from other Kentuckians high in official life the cooperation they should have received?

Surely there is at least one, perhaps several, reasons on which the finger could be placed. Whatever it is, we should make it our business to find it and to do something about it.

Mrs. Anderson Presents Program at Club Meeting

Betsy Layne, Ky., June 25 (Sp.)—The Betsy Layne Woman's Club held its regular monthly meeting, Thursday night, June 21, at the home of Mrs. W. P. Howell.

The program, "Our Responsibility Toward the Gift of All Gifts" was presented by Mrs. Anderson, who gave a very fine discussion on the topic. In this discussion, Mrs. Anderson used passages from the Bible to illustrate the main ideas of the subject. The secret of our creation was stressed by the reading of Psalm 129. In verses from the 17th Chapter of Acts, the way God feels about us was brought out. Mrs. Anderson brought out the fact that our responsibilities to God are the same as our children's responsibilities to us—honor, respect, obedience and love. She concluded her discussion by reading verses from Micah.

A trio, composed of Mrs. Becher, Hardwick, Mrs. R. L. Anderson and Mrs. Edward Lykins, next sang one verse of "My Old Kentucky Home."

Mrs. O. J. Williams, presided at the business meeting. It was voted to levy a fine against members not attending regular meetings and against members late at regular meetings. A letter of thanks from Selton Jo Jackson for a Bible sent to Japan was read. Work on the new club year beginning in September was begun with hostesses being assigned dates for regular meetings. Mrs. Williams, Mrs. Chandler, Mrs. Hardwick and Miss Alice Williams gave a report on the Kentucky Federation of Women's Clubs Convention held in Lexington last month. One of the important items was a report on the film, "Survival under Atomic Attack" and a resume of the talk made by President General Roscoe L. Murray of the State Civil Defense Committee. Another interesting item was a brief review of the program presenting the international scholarship students of the University of Kentucky and a report on the state show sponsored by the Junior Club women. Mrs. Williams concluded the meeting by presenting the awards won by the club at the convention. These awards being a 100% Honor Certificate, a red ribbon second prize, the Art route and $5 first prize in the General Federation Clubwomen contest.

A solid course was served, the following members and guests, Mrs. Arthur Van Kamen, Glenn Blackburn, Edward Lykins, R. L. Anderson, Becher, Hardwick, T. J. Chandler, C. H. Dickerson, O. J. Williams, Miss Alice Williams, the hostess, Mrs. Howell, and guests, Mrs. Chas. Blackburn and Mrs. Bill Humphreys.

The next regular meeting will be Thursday night, July 19, 1951 at the home of Mrs. O. J. Williams, with Mrs. Alex Davis as program leader.

Friends and Fellow Citizens of Floyd County

I am seeking the nomination for Commonwealth's Attorney because I want to be able to render some official service to our people. I believe that every man should devote a portion of his life to the community and territory in which he has spent his life.

I was reared and have lived all my life in Floyd county—practising law for over 30 years before County, State, and Federal Courts. I have always tried to be fair, just, honest and to practice a life of Christianity in public and personal life, and hope that I may be able to continue such as your Commonwealth's Attorney. I promise that when elected my office will always be open to all people for this same fair, just, accommodating service.

I was an overseas veteran in World War I and since have followed veteran affairs and organizations. I have tried to be of service to the veteran and have made it a policy never to charge a veteran for legal service performed in connection with his Veteran Administration affairs.

I have been and am going to be on the road from now until election day, trying to see each and every one of you. If I do not see you, it will be because of insufficient time before election and not neglect. I hope that all you who know me will make an effort to tell all your friends and associates about me and all those who do not know me make an effort to find out before election what kind of a man and lawyer that I am. I have lived among you all my life and know that, if given the facts in an election, you will not need persuasion or high pressure; but that you will take those facts and vote sincerely and honestly in accordance with your convictions.

Important Deadlines Coming Up for Those Holding GI Insurance

Important deadlines are coming up for all World War II veterans who still carry GI insurance on the original term basis.

This means all veterans who took out GI insurance while in the service and who have neither renewed it for another term period nor converted it to a permanent plan.

Failure to act before the deadline may mean permanent loss of government insurance eligibility.

The deadline is not the same for all veterans but you can easily figure your own date. Term policies first taken out before January 1, 1946 are good for exactly eight years.
Policies taken out after January 1, 1946 are good for five years.

This simply means that you have three choices when your eight or five year term period is up. You may convert to a permanent plan renew for another five years, or drop your insurance entirely. Unless you renew or convert before the deadline, you are not eligible for further government insurance unless you re-enter active military service.

Take Veteran John Doe, for example. He joined the army on August 10, 1943. A few weeks later he signed up for a GI insurance policy which has kept the same policy in force ever since. The effective date of his policy was October 1, 1943 and it was good for eight years.
From that date, September now and the last day of September, this year, Veteran Doe must either renew or convert his insurance or he will wake up on the morning of October 1 with no insurance and no entitlement to apply for a new policy.

Veterans who have allowed their GI insurance to lapse but who are still within the five or eight year term periods may still apply for reinstatement of their policies. Once the five or eight year term period is past, however, it is too late to reinstatement.

Veterans who are even one day late in applying for renewal or conversion cannot now be issued GI insurance. VA officials stressed this point in urging all veterans nearing the end of their GI insurance term periods to make sure they are reinstated and that the proper premium amounts are paid. Full information may be obtained at any VA office.

To the Citizens of the 96th Legislative District:

Since I shall be unable to be home for the primary election this year, due to my enrollment as a law student at the University of Miami, I take this means of asking my friends to consider the candidacy of my brother, CLYDE B. ALLEN of Paintsville, for the Democratic nomination for representative from the 96th legislative district. I feel that he is qualified to represent us in an honest, sincere and constructive manner.

Clyde attended Preville, Morehead, and Georgetown Colleges and taught school for several years in Floyd county. He worked under the hills as a miner and at present works outside the mines. In his younger days he spent many years farming the hill-sides of Middle Creek. He is married and is the father of three children who attend grade school and of a daughter who is a high school senior. He has three children of preschool age.

He has, by his lifelong action, shown a sincere interest in the improvement of his community and the welfare of his neighbors. He became interested in the REX and worked continuously for its expansion in his community and district, encouraging neighbors and friends to give rights-of-way over their property and encouraging others to come into the co-operative so that the expansion could be secured.

He has worked, and is continuing to work diligently for the completion of the David-Northern road. He not only gave a free right-of-way over his property but spent much time in aiding in securing rights-of-way over other properties.

His experience as a teacher, a miner, a farmer, and most of all as a citizen, who has been willing to sacrifice a little and make an effort to secure the public improvements necessary to allow his neighbors and friends to enjoy some of the conveniences they deserve, gives him an understanding of the problems of all the people of our county.

I feel that before any person can represent us in Frankfort, that person must have a sincere interest in our welfare. I also believe the only true way to determine whether or not a person is interested in our welfare is to look at his past performance, especially at home where he has been given a chance to prove his interest or willingness to aid his neighbors when they need and call for such help.

I think it would be of interest to the voters of this district to know that one of the present candidates, who has been previously elected your representative, was the greatest obstacle in our way when we tried to get the right-of-way on the David-Northern road. He would not set a price for a long time and when he did it was unreasonable and the county finally condemned the property. He was not interested at that time in the welfare of the miners, teachers, and citizens who were wading the mud and water but he was interested in collecting an unreasonable sum of money from the taxpayers. If you desire to verify this statement check your county records and those officials whose duty it was to procure rights-of-way.

Another candidate, and former representative, came into Floyd county for a special interest and for a special purpose. He continued to serve that interest and will be in Frankfort regardless of whether he is elected since lobbying is a part of his job.

CLYDE B. ALLEN has only one reason for wanting to represent you and that reason is so that he may work for public improvement and for the betterment of conditions in his district, county, and state. He wants a better place in which to rear our children, a better opportunity to give them adequate and proper education so that they may become good citizens.

I ask you, my friends, to check your candidates closely, check their reasons for asking for your vote, and cast your vote for the person whom you think best qualified to represent all the people.

Beverly Daugherty Vows Are Solemnized at Allen

Miss Hazel Beverly, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Millard Beverly, of Allen, was married to Mr. Lonnie P. Daugherty, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Daugherty, of Beattyville, Ky., in the Allen Methodist Church at Allen on June 21. The double-ring ceremony was performed by the pastor, Rev. M. N. DeHaven, before an altar banked with baskets of white and yellow roses.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of lace and satin with pink and white accessories. Her bouquet was of pardenias centered with a white orchid carried with a white Bible.

Miss Elsie Hall, of Martin, was maid of honor. She wore a dress of blue organza and satin with white accessories and carried a bouquet of yellow roses.

Don Smith, of Allen, was best man. Mrs. Daugherty is a graduate of Martin high school, and has been employed at Martin. Mr. Daugherty is a graduate of Mayo Vocational School at Paintsville and is now employed in Beattyville.

The couple will make their home at Beattyville.

Today we are concerned with the lure; used in bait casting. This is a subject fraught, as Bill Wolf puts it with the possibility of utter confusion. Almost any small object fitted with hooks will catch some fish if it is cast into a lake or stream. This has led inventors to invent furiously, and there are thousands of artificial lures on the market today. New ones appear each day and it seems the end is nowhere in sight.

The variety available staggers the beginner—and even the veteran. Since all lures work the natural assumption is that any old lure will do, but this isn't true. No matter how outlandish in appearance, each has been designed for a specific job, and the purchaser must be guided by some questions he can ask himself:

Will the lure be used in weeds? Will it be fished deep, or on the surface? Will it cast well? Stand up under punishment? Should it be heavy or light? Can it be used for trolling as well as casting? How important is color? For what kind of fish is it intended?

Fortunately lures can be divided into types and there aren't many of them—just variations. Roughly, there are spoons, spinners, plugs and weighted devices for casting pork rind or chunks. This is not a hard and fast classification since some plugs have spinners, some spoons act as spinners and some lures fit into none of these groups.

Plugs are the latest and most important development in bait casting. There are three kinds of plugs: surface, semi-surface and sinking models. All three should be in your tackle box to meet varying conditions.

Color means less than the lure's action in the water. Red and white seems to have an edge as a color combination, but maybe that's only because it appeals to anglers.

Watch the design for wind resistance. Some of the best lures are poor casters, and hard to use in a heavy wind.

Follow the instructions given with most lures. If a plug comes equipped with a snap fastener or a screw at the head, don't remove it. It was put there for a purpose, to give the lure a certain action. Snap fasteners and wire leaders seldom have much effect on the actions of underwater lures, but they can upset the balance of some surface types.

PLAN MEETING TO DEVELOP BREAKS OF SANDY PARK AREA

Frankfort, Ky., June 25—Plans for a joint study of the Breaks of the Sandy area by the state of Kentucky and Virginia and the National Park Service are being completed, Henry Ward, Kentucky commissioner of conservation, said here today on his return from Richmond, Va. Ward said that the National Park Service has agreed to make the study out to advise what steps should be taken to protect and develop the Breaks of the Sandy as a tourist attraction.

The Kentucky commissioner made the trip to Richmond at the request of Governor Lawrence W. Wetherby to interview officials at the regional office of the National Park Service and other officials of the Virginia Department of Conservation and Development.

He said that Randolph Odell, commissioner of the Virginia division of parks, told him that while the state of Virginia cannot commit itself to the development of a park in the Breaks of the Sandy it will cooperate in the study to determine what its future may be.

Interest in the possibilities of developing a national park at the Breaks was expressed by Governor Wetherby and Governor John S. Battle of Virginia on June 19 at a celebration of the opening of a new road through the area.

Ward said that he secured quotations in conference at Richmond that the study will be launched late this summer, and that a report will be available prior to the meeting of the state legislature of Kentucky and Virginia next January. He added that the Kentucky department will cooperate by assigning a park planner to the project.

He quoted Conrad L. Witt, assistant director of the National Park Service, as saying that "the Breaks of Sandy area is deserving of recognition," either through expansion of National Forest Service lands there or through some way in which the states of Kentucky and Virginia might be able to assist.

Tax 'Take' Increases As More Gas Used

With the vacation season in full swing, motorists in Kentucky are reportedly burning more than 1,800,000 gallons of gasoline a day—with the state reaping $99,400 daily in gasoline taxes.

A study of official state figures for the first few months of the year indicates that use of automobiles and trucks will exceed last year's record, according to Martin Music, chairman of the Floyd County Petroleum Industries Committee.

"With all signs pointing toward a boom vacation season, Kentucky drivers in 1951 undoubtedly will set new marks in mileage and gasoline consumption, while the state will break 1950's record of $29,925,000 in state gasoline tax collections," he said.

CARTER MARINE COMPANY

Phone 6492 (Mayo Trail) • Prestonsburg, Ky.

United Mine Workers of Floyd County

I take this means of discussing with you my race for COMMONWEALTH ATTORNEY. It has been my good fortune politically to have represented the laboring class of people since I was discharged from the army and set up my law offices in Prestonsburg. While I was never a coal miner myself I had a brother who was and the coal dust under his finger-nails to-day is ample proof to his toiling life and the other thousands of coal miners who daily risk their lives down in the bowels of the earth struggling for their families in order that others may grow rich and powerful.

It is only natural that I have always been sympathetic and fought and scratched for this toiling mass of down-trodden people who rise in the morning before daylight and come home after the light has faded from the sky. But there are always a few politicians, greedy for money and hungry for power, who will try to change the course of public sentiment away from men like myself who has stood his ground and fought for the cause of the laboring man.

If Banner Meade hugged the neck of every coal miner and kissed the cheek and smiled into the face of every Christian citizen between now and election time, the laboring class of people and especially the coal miners, in every district in Floyd county will remember last fall when at my own expense and in my own time, when I was no candidate for public office, I took the stump and pleaded with the voters to stand up and be counted for labor's candidate.

Ask Mr. Meade when I was speaking for the cause of the labor in the streets of Wheelwright, from the commissary porch in Wayland, in the school-houses at McDowell and Martin, in the gymnasium at Auxier, at the forks of Bull Creek, on the head of Prater, Little Mud and Big Mud, just where were my two opponents. Did they ever raise their voice or lift their little finger, except at election time when they want the support of the mine workers.

I, therefore, humbly ask and patiently solicit the help and influence of every laboring man and coal miner in this county and if I know their hearts they will not at the bidding of a few money-hungry and power greedy politicians turn their backs upon their friend and feast with their enemies at the primary election on August 4th.

Your friend and humble servant,

BURNIS MARTIN

Clyde B. Allen
