OPS NOTES

BARBERS AND BEAUTICIANS EXEMPT

The new National Production Act excluding price control for eleven more months exempts the services of barbers and beauticians; the Kentucky District OPS has been notified.

Hairdressers and hairdresses heretofore were under the price regulation. Shop proprietors were required to hold their prices to the level in effect when the general freeze was imposed last January 26, and to post a list of their prices prominently in their place of business. Such requirements were abolished by the new law.

PORK LOIN PRICES UP

Dollar-and-cents ceiling prices that will mean increases of three to nine cents a pound in the cost of pork have been issued by the Office of Price Stabilization. John W. Shumaker, Kentucky District OPS Director, announced.

The order was necessary to offset increases to processors and sellers of side-saddle increases in the cost of live hogs since last January, Shumaker said.

The higher ceiling prices affect pork loins weighing sixteen pounds or less and will affect retail prices of roasts and chops. The prices replace those frozen at nationally low levels by the general ceiling price regulation issued last January.

The new interim regulation sets a maximum ceiling price to fifty-two cents a pound for regular pork loins weighing sixteen pounds or less delivered in Chicago to the buyer or by a seller who slaughters hogs or cuts the loins from a dressed hog he bought.

RESTAURANT REGULATIONS SIMPLIFIED

OPS has amended its restaurant price regulation to clarify and simplify the procedure for determining ceiling prices by restaurant operators who also sell other commodities or services.

Under OPS 11, restaurant prices are controlled by prohibiting a ratio of food cost to dollar of sales any lower than that established during the base period. However, there are many combination establishments in the industry with selling or service operations in addition to the serving of meals, food items and beverages for consumption on the premises. Because many of them did not keep separate records showing costs and sales on each operation, they find it difficult to determine accurately their food cost ratio for their base period.

This amendment requires such combination establishments, which did not keep separate records during the base period, to compute the food cost ratio, after August 1, 1951, in the same manner as that provided in the regulation for a new restaurant operator. For the first four months the prices of the nearest comparable restaurant of the same type, grade and class are used to compute the ratio and after that time the ratio used is that experienced during the four-month period.

The amendment does not affect operators who kept separate records of their sales and costs during their base period.

PRESSURE ON PRICES GROWING

Although high taxes and credit controls will tend to hold down expansion of consumer buying, defense spending, rising incomes and exhausted inventories will operate to produce shortages, rising prices and the familiar spiral of inflation.

These are the conclusions reached by economists of the Office of Price Stabilization. "While there is some feeling among consumers and industry that because prices have softened decontrols could be effected all indications are that the condition is only temporary and that by late fall or early winter inflationary pressure will be felt," said a report to the District OPS.

"Over a period, consumer buying tends to move closely with consumer income, and consumer income is bound to rise as employment stays high and wages increase."

OPS SEEKS ADVICE FROM SMALL BUSINESS

Kentucky OPS Director John W. Manning has taken steps to obtain the views of Kentucky business men regarding price control regulations for recommendation to Washington. He has appointed Harold G. Lewis, Price Executive in the Agency, Assistant to the Director for Small Business in the District.

Lewis, a small business man himself by reason of being a partner in a wholesale grocery and a coal company in East Kentucky, said he is eager to receive constructive criticisms directly from business people, or through their trade associations, pertaining to simplification of regulations, elimination of unnecessary reports, and lightening of government-imposed clerical burdens.

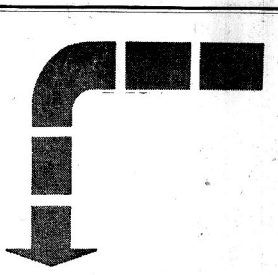

If there is sufficient response to his appeal for suggestions, Lewis said he would arrange "Beef Sessions" on the order of those held weekly by Louisville's Mayor Charles Farnley, in various cities of the state so as to make it convenient for small business men to attend.

KENTUCKY ON THE MARCH

BY EWING GALLOWAY

Not very long ago I suggested to the Farm Bureau insurance co-op that it mail periodical warnings to farm people about defective fires, inflammable shingle roofs and smoking in barns.

Whether the boys at St. Matthews paid any attention to me or not, they came out with a well written little folder which they enclosed with communications to policy holders.

From fifteen do's and don'ts I am lifting some gems of sound safety advice that couldn't have been better if Benjamin Franklin had written them for his Poor Richard's Almanac.

Don't use gasoline for clothes cleaning purposes. Better pay more for non-inflammable fluid.

Every month or so you read that a farmer has been killed by a bull. Not long ago a bull gored a teenage boy to death, and almost killed the boy's older sister when she came to the rescue. The insurance company's "Don't trust a bull" is a mighty good advice, though I don't follow it meticulously. The co-op says you should always speak friendly to all animals when approaching them. I do that, always. We have three Hereford bulls and one Angus, and I go out in the fields where each one has a herd of cows with him. I start talking sweetly to them as soon as I reach the herd, and watch their eyes. A dirty look and you'd see me making for a fence.

Don't wear loose and floppy clothes around machines. Good advice, but telling people to keep their hands away from running machines is more important. A next farm neighbor of ours had a hand mangled in a cornplanter. Compilers seem to have the highest casualty rates on farms.

And what could be sadder than to treat every gun as though it were loaded.

"Know and obey all traffic laws" is a whole book full in six words. And there is a word about parking on the roadside and taking a nap when you begin to feel a little sleepy at the steering wheel. This I do always. I believe a large percentage of road casualties are caused by drowsiness.

Never swim alone. That's good, too. But more than half the drownings happen when somebody is around. Best rule is never to get into water more than waist deep unless you are an expert swimmer.

There ought to be a penalty of ten days in jail for smoking in or around a barn. This could well be copied in substance by all fire, accident and casualty companies.

And wouldn't it be wonderful if everybody who reads this little safety essay would remember all of it for the rest of his life!

witnesses to the shooting which took place a few hundred yards above the home of Bill Pruitt.

The wounded man said Frasure's first bullet hit his arm and that the second knocked him down. His wife had told her he pleaded for his life and that Frasure shot him after he had fallen, remarking that there were no witnesses to tell about it.

This version of the shooting was given by the wife of the man who was shot. He is still in the hospital at the University of Kentucky Medical Center in Lexington.

Arnett and his wife were excused of complicity in the death. Oct. 24, last year, of Elmer Frasure, a brother of the man who was shot.

Neither the wounded man nor Frasure made a statement under oath when interviewed by officials, Wednesday afternoon.

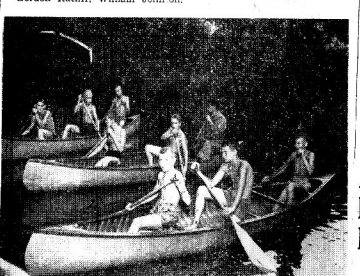

Frasure, who had been a deputy sheriff, resigned that post, last Saturday.

ARROWHEAD'S LAST SEASON IS ITS BEST

Floyd's Group Largest At Camp; Equipment Is Moved to Dewey

On this page are shown Floyd county Boy Scouts taking part in the varied activities at Camp Arrowhead where the Floyd district recently had the largest attendance of any district in Lanesboro Pine Council.

Eighty-nine Scouts from Maytown, Wheelwright, Prestonsburg, David, Lwale, McDowell, Wayland and other camps attended the recent summer camp at Camp Arrowhead. This year's was the last with making at Arrowhead for Scouts of this area, since camp equipment was moved recently from the Pike county camp to the new Scout camp on the headwaters of Dewey Lake.

In all, 400 boys and their leaders were at Camp Arrowhead during the camping season, making of this last period Camp Arrowhead's most successful.

The program this year featured Aquatic Training, Rifle Marksmanship and Scouting Skills.

This year, for the first time, Scouts were able to learn canoeing under the leadership of Jack Hodge, first executive of the Council and graduate of the National Boy Scout Aquatic School. Bill Mack, who for several years has served as physical education director for the Pikeville school system, was camp director. Mr. Mack has had previous experience in summer camps.

In addition to the supervision of the staff, he taught, ball-throwing with red and red, Chester Walters, offered the program of the National Rifle Association to Scouts in Rifle Marksmanship. All Scouts had an opportunity to cook two meals in the out-of-doors while attending camp. Other meals were prepared by a colored cook, who was assisted by his son.

The last week of camp was attended by Explorer Scouts only, boys of 16 years of age. They assisted in moving camp equipment from Arrowhead in Pike county to the new camp site on Dewey Lake.

Why Deputy Constables, Anyhow?

For Support in Primary
Martin Thanks Voters

The primary election is over, and I wish to thank those who supported me as well as my opponents. Those who voted for and supported my opponents did not think I was the best, which I admit.

There has been no bitterness on my part toward any person whatever, and we can now look upon our ranks and fight together against corruption and for the cause of honesty and good government.

I conducted my campaign on a high plane, and shall do likewise during the November campaign, and if elected, will make you, as honest, sober and honorable Commonwealth's Attorney.

I wish to thank the Republicans who have already expressed themselves for me in this race, and wish to say that I welcome your support, and when elected to this important office, I shall render the same service and extend the same courtesy to both Democrats and Republicans, and to the rich and poor alike. I want to specially thank the farmers people who were so loyal to me in this campaign, and can say to you that I will continue to be your friend, and that I will never be too busy to listen to your troubles and help you in any way possible, not just from now to the November election, but for 365 days each year during the next six years. You will be doing the same consideration when I am discharging the duties of this office.

To all of you whom I have not personally met, I wish to thank you, and hope to see you before the November election.

Your sincere friend,

It Means, Simply—
We Could Develop

THIS Floyd County Development Association can be a great thing.

It will not set down in our midst a multi-million-dollar manufacturing plant—not now, anyway—and it will not remove our every fault.

If not new business and huge, new payrolls, then what do we hope to accomplish?

First of all, we can, with the aid of the Kentucky Chamber of Commerce, learn something about ourselves, learn to view ourselves objectively, to see our faults as well as our strengths and so be able to do something about the matter.

Insisting that we're "the finest people on earth" and that Floyd County is a great place in which to live, we can busy ourselves with providing our claims to others.

In short, we can develop. Not solely from the material angle, either. We can rid ourselves of those "outsiders" of that inferior complex of ours which has us carrying a chip on our collective shoulder, looking for criticism, and so going on in the old rut. We can develop the habit of accepting the better part of which in our quarters is known as the plain truth. It's good medicine for what ails us.

We can beautify our communities, our roadsides. We can work together for those assets every people should have—education, health, moral strength; in a word, the things which make life worth living, regardless of place or climate.

Developing, and so improving ourselves and our surroundings, we shall attract the interest of others. Then will come those new material assets which this section must have if it is to survive economically.

When we spoil for a fight, we can expend our energies in common endeavor toward such goals as river canalization, better roads, reforestation, soil conservation, new industry.

All these are things which cannot be one-command projects. All can work at it. Whatever accrues to one spot on the map will help others. This is not China behind the Great Wall or Red Russia behind the Iron Curtain.

Last and greatest of the things which could come out of the Floyd County Development Association would be this:

We might learn to work together.

Resident of Blue River
Victim at Hospital Here
Following Brief Illness

Wilson Bradford, 59, of Blue River, died August 10 at the Prestonsburg General Hospital. The cause of death was given as ulcers. He had been ill for about five weeks.

A son of Mr. and Mrs. John Bradford, he was born in Perry county. His wife, Linnie Shano Bradford, preceded him in death in 1941.

Surviving are the following sons and daughters: Budin Bradford, Mrs. Beulah Howard, Miss Mary Bradford, all of West Prestonsburg; Johnny Bradford, of Blue River; Mrs. Pearl Prater, Walsah, Ind. One brother, George Bradford, of Goodloe, survives.

Funeral services were conducted from the graveside in the Stone cemetery on Middle Creek Sunday. Burial was under direction of the Arnold Funeral Home.

AKRON, Ohio—Two specialists were flown to the hospital bed of Willie Shaw, president of Indianapolis Speedway who collapsed after a heart attack at Aug. 12's Soapbox Derby.

Carroll county is planning for an agricultural fair this year, the first since 1947; it will be held Aug. 8-11.

CARELESS FEW HURT COUNTY'S HUNTERS WITH NICHOLAS COUNTY FARMERS; LAND THERE POSTED AFTER DAMAGES INCURRED

The squirrel season will open next Monday, but the happy hunting month that is Nicholas county is at least partially "off bounds" for Floyd county hunters.

Says the Carlisle Mercury:

"Farmers from the mouth of Crooked Creek up to the Salwell road, across to Bartoville, and down the Salt Creek road to the river, have joined together to post their lands."

"Out-of-county hunters, a spokesman said, mostly from Floyd county, have been coming on their farms in the last three seasons and have injured valuable livestock and at one time bagged five hawks. These violations have caused the farmers to take action, the spokesman stated."

The newspaper story added that the hawks were lost when hunters set fire to a tree to smoke out a lone squirrel, the fire igniting nearby grass and spreading to the hay. Livestock lost was listed as a horse, a bull and four heifers owned by three different farmers.

L. Conn Is Accepted
For Training as Pilot

Lieutenant James E. Conn, of Martin, Ky., has been accepted for pilot training in the U. S. Air Force. He will enter a pilot training class August 21 at the civilian contract flying school at Bainbridge, Ga., Municipal airport.

Conn, 23, has been an administrative assistant in the Personnel Research Laboratory of the Air Human Resources Research Center, San Antonio, Tex. He received his reserve commission as a second lieutenant last December upon graduation from the USAP Officer Candidate school, Lackland AFB, San Antonio.

The Research Center conducts scientific research to develop tests for evaluation of Air Force personnel and for improvement of training methods. Results of tests are used in making job assignments best suited to the skills and talents of each airman.

Entering the service in July, 1949, Conn was an enlisted research technician at the Center prior to becoming an officer candidate. He is a graduate of Martin high school and attended Georgetown college and Morehead college.

To My Friends in Magisterial Districts 1 and 2 (96th Legislative District) of Floyd County:

While I went into the race for State Representative in this district with confidence that I would be elected, it was with a sincere feeling of gratitude that I learned my majority was so overwhelming. Indeed, the size of my majority is a heart-warming tribute to the fine organization of good friends and citizens who were supporting me in my bid for re-election on the Democratic ticket, and is a demonstration of recognition of the record of service which I have always and will continue to put forward for Floyd county.

I have attempted to conduct my campaign on the factual basis of my record, and I certainly hold in heart no enmity or ill-will towards my opponents. Since I have gotten to know them in this campaign, I feel that they are all fine upstanding citizens, interested in the good of Floyd county.

For these reasons, I express to the good people who gave me such an overwhelming majority my gratitude and appreciation for the very active and effective help rendered me during my campaign. And, I request my opponents to join with me in going forward to a great Democratic victory in November.

Sincerely,
HENRY C. HALE,
Representative,
96th Leg. Dist.

FLOYD SOLDIERS MEET IN KOREA

Two Prestonburg soldiers, Pvt. Thomas "Spec" Blackburn and Pvt. Jake B. Thomas, met recently at the front in Korea.

Pvt. Blackburn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wade Blackburn, is with the 2nd R.C.T. and Pvt. Thomas, son of Mrs. Ruth Thomas, is with the 2nd Infantry Regiment.

None of the two was learned through a letter recently received by Mrs. Blackburn from her son. Blackburn from the letter follows:

"... We are about thirty miles above the 38th parallel now. I think I don't know how long we will be on the line this time. Some say eighteen days, but nobody knows for sure. Probably until the Chinese drive us back on we push on. I have been sitting here all day watching air strikes. They sure are something to see. We are supposed to be attacked anytime now so we sleep in the daytime and stay on guard all night. ... I was sitting here on a point last night about dark watching the 19th infantry move up this hill behind our positions when I saw him (Pvt. Thomas). I invited him to spend the night in my hole, but he had to stay with his company in case they attack this morning so I don't guess I will see him again for awhile anyway. It sure is an experience to sit here and watch these planes strafe and bomb the enemy lines. The Chinese are just over the hill from us."

Jest Among Us
By Jack Webb

Observations of a northbound traveler aboard the Royal Palm Express:

So the Miami Beach convention which I attended for the University of Kentucky, is over. Two shades darker and nine degrees warmer than on arrival, this weary frame pulls itself up out of the bright tropical noon and into the dull of car P-701. The porter with his toothy grin reminds me of an Eskimo Pie with a kite and, and a note from a small sign on the wall that his initials are T. T. proof that not every sleeping-car porter is named George.

I'm the first passenger to entrain and it's lonely on the Sleeper A-protina. A snarled dressed woman enters. She is not sustained so I know she's not a tourist. T. T. bustling now, gets her settled in Roomette 3 and she inquires the way to the diner. The dining car is not ready but she is hungry. She says several times that she is hungry. I offer her a ham sandwich. I'd brought in case I got hungry, and she takes it. Before the train pulls out, she kills me her destination. (Detroit, her occupation course), her marital status (divorced), how much she paid for her matching shoes and handbag ($70), and what she expects to call the daughter her daughter is expecting (Cherokee).

Rear ends of buildings start sliding by and a sign that says "Dade Paper Co. Not Inc." Then near rows of squabbling pastel buildings and I see that slum block that looks like little leaves of bread that failed to rise, is coming into view. The Detroit-bound passenger pokes her head in to say she enjoyed the ham sandwich as a water lurches through the car yelling, "First call to luncheon!" According to the dining car menu I can get a very good meal for $5, so I order coffee (35c) and a plain ham sandwich (38c). The sandwich comes back looking like a Dal. painting: geometric hunk skewered with toothpicks and swimming in yellow oil. A woman at the table across the aisle looks at me disapprovingly because I keep the spoon in my coffee cup. She knows it is bad manners but she doesn't know that on a moving train it keeps the coffee from sloshing out. I don't bother to enlighten her.

Back to P-701 there for the next 30 hours I will read: Meibner's "Fires of Spring," sign with the singing air brakes, rock and roll and jolt, and yearn for a glimpse of the meadowland that is Kentucky and home.

YOUR NEW
SOCIAL SECURITYBY THOMAS B. THOMPSON
Pikeville Social Security Office

QUESTION: What kinds of payments are made under Federal Old Age and Survivors Insurance?

ANSWER: There are three kinds of payments:

(a) Monthly retirement payments to insured persons and their families.

(b) Monthly survivors payments to the families of insured persons who die.

(c) Lump-sum payments to an insured worker's widow or widower, or to the person who paid the worker's burial expenses. This lump sum will be paid even when there is a survivor who is immediately eligible for monthly insurance payments.

For a free booklet which will answer many of your questions about Social Security, simply address a postal card to the Social Security Administration, U. S. Courthouse Building, Pikeville, Kentucky, and your copy of "Your New Social Security" will be sent you.

QUESTION: What is Federal Old-Age and Survivors Insurance?

ANSWER:

It is a family insurance plan provided by the social security law and operated by the United States Government. Under this law, gainfully employed people contribute during their working years to provide an income for themselves and their families when their usual income from employment is cut off by old age or death. Through contributions based on the amount of their wages and self-employment income, they establish rights to future benefits. The amount of the monthly benefits a family will depend on the amount of the insured person's earnings and on the number of other members of the family who are entitled to payments as the insured person's dependents.

For answers to other questions you may have about Social Security, drop a postal card to the Social Security Administration, U. S. Courthouse Building, Pikeville, Kentucky, and a free copy of "Your New Social Security" will be sent you.

Question: How do you earn insurance payments under Federal Old-Age and Survivors Insurance?

Answer: By earning enough in wages or self-employment income to pay a sufficient length of time work that comes "under" the law. These requirements are measured in "quarters of coverage." The calendar year is divided into four 3-month periods or "quarters." During March 31, June 30, September 30, and December 31.

Each employee is paid wages of $50 or more in covered employment, or in which a self-employed person is credited with at least $100 of self-employment income, is a "quarter of coverage" for determining his insurance status under social security. A worker becomes fully insured by earning as many as four quarters of coverage for each two calendar quarters after January 1, 1951, and before the quarter in which he reaches age 65 or dies, or one quarter of coverage for each two calendar quarters after he became 21 years old. At least 8 quarters of coverage are required in every case, but never more than 40. The quarters of coverage may have been earned at any time after 1936.

For answers to other questions on social security, simply address a postal card to the Social Security Administration, U. S. Courthouse Bldg., Pikeville, Kentucky, and a free copy of "Your New Social Security" will be sent you.

SPORTS AFIELD

There's no need to keep your hunting dogs idle during summer months, according to Henry P. Davis, well-known dog authority. It is neither pleasant to the dog nor to his advantage.

Inactivity makes him fat and lazy. His muscles become soft, his keen addition facts and he is prone to forget some of the lessons he has learned. Right now you have some wonderful opportunities for training and conditioning him in preparation for the open seasons ahead.

The pointing dog and spaniel fanciers can devote the late afternoon to yard-training lessons and to brushing up in the retrieving department. If pen-raised game birds or pigeons are used, excellent lessons in field manners can be taught. This work is particularly valuable to young dogs who haven't had a season in the field.

For the retriever owner, summer time is the best period to introduce youngsters to work in water. These breeds generally take to water quite readily, but care must be taken to see you don't overdo it. Young dogs should be given their first lesson in water retrieving with exceeding care. Some may be rather timid with them the issue should not be forced. This type of work should be treated as a game at first, with the trainer entering into it energetically. This will give you an opportunity to study your pup carefully and adopt a training program best suited for him.

Cool, damp summer evenings offer the hound man the opportunity to give his team much-needed exercise and training experience by turning them loose on drag races. Don't make the trail too easy. The coon hunter can use the drag races to good effect, also.

For summer work, remember to make all your lessons short ones. And pick the coolest time of the day. At the first sign of tiring on the part of the dog, stop. Pet him, reward him, go for a short walk if you want, but don't try to force the dog in hot weather when he is tired. To do so is to defeat your own purpose. But the fellow who works with his dogs diligently through the summer is the one who is ready for opening day with well-conditioned dogs under perfect control. And he'll be in pretty good physical shape himself.

Sturgill Tells Plans
Of Hazard Operators
To Build Rail Line

The Hazard Coal Operators Association announced plans here for building a spur line of about 2 1/2 miles in Letcher county to connect the Louisville and Nashville Railroad with the Chesapeake & Ohio.

William B. Sturgill, executive secretary of the association, said the Hazard and Southeastern Railroad Company has been formed to build the short connecting line. The railroad company, capitalized at $1,000,000, was formed by eight members of the operators association.

Sturgill said a survey was started to determine the exact route of the new rail line. The survey will require about two weeks, Sturgill said, after which the new operation will ask the Interstate Commerce Commission for authority to construct the line.

Both the L. & N. and the C. & O. extend into the coal fields of the area, serving the larger mining operations. Many other mines, however, are served only by truck transportation.

Representatives of the operators association testified in Washington several days ago they also had to transport thousands of tons of coal annually by barges on the Kentucky River.

Incorporatees of the new railroad company include:
Dr. Houston P. St. Clair, president of Jewell Ridge Coal Corporation;
Fenton L. Mitchell, general manager of Knox Coal Corporation; E. M. Medaris, president of the Harve Coal Corporation.

paid $100,000 just to keep them imprisoned at LeGrange or Edenville. He also noted that they would not have earned anything, and in many cases, their families would have been dependent upon charity or state relief rolls.

The rate of success for both probationers and parolees in the four months which make up the 30 judicial district was very high, according to records in the Frankfort office. Only one parolee was returned to prison as parole violator and none committed to prison.

Figures released in Frankfort also showed that Sturgill made a total of 107 investigations of felony cases during 1950-51, and 350 calls on men under his supervision.

Armed Forces

THEY'RE ARMED as you see, with T-square, coils of wire, surveyor's instruments and steel paws—and they're a potent force for peace, or for victory of war should come. For peace is maintained and wars are won by production... which is to say, to a large extent, by electric power.

They are the employees of your electric company and the affiliated companies of the American Gas and Electric System—an army of more than 12,000 men and women whose varied talents, combined with the facilities behind them, are bringing you more than twice as much power as was available to you just ten years ago.

Some of this army work in power plants—some on high poles and towers, stringing the web of line that animates farms and factories whose butter and guns are made. Others help industrialists locate plants so that the resources of the area may be used to best advantage. Still others work with slide-rules and adding machines, or read meters, or show housewives and school-children how to use and conserve electric power.

Their tasks differ widely—but each of the 12,000 knows that his is an important job—important to production for peace and for defense as well. There is a team spirit that any kind of army would be proud to claim. There is a quiet competence and an intense loyalty that says... whatever the future holds, we won't let America down.

GOOD NEWS FOR FISHERMEN

A recent survey of a section of Wolf Creek Reservoir caused fisheries experts to go "way out on the limb" and predict the best fishing ever in that body of water within the next two years. The survey showed an excellent spawn of bass (largemouth, Kentucky and smallmouth) and walleye. The growth was the best ever attained in a lake survey in this state. All of which means "good fishing." It was shown that there was a low population of rough fish. White pan fish, such as crappie and bluegill, are in excellent shape. As expressed by a fisheries expert: "We are more than optimistic over the fishing prospects at Wolf Creek."

IT'S A GOOD WORLD
 BY WILMAV

(Opinions expressed herein do not necessarily reflect those of The Times)

Try it. It is a good world when a soldier calls his mother often and first in camp, as does Pvt. Richard Crisp, of Dinwood, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Crisp, now stationed at Fort Belvoir, Virginia.

Young people just back from Southwest Methodist and Baptist Assemblies at Lake Juba, and first in camp, as does Pvt. Richard Crisp, of Dinwood, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Crisp, now stationed at Fort Belvoir, Virginia.

Days salute the free candidates with courage to declare themselves on the issue. The coming Local Option campaign will bring one result if no other: a complete reorganization of the Christian Church, and a new, which holds the political future of Floyd in its hand, but failed to seize the opportunity the first time.

The attitude of Floyd citizens on racial problems is most commendable. This was demonstrated when a colored teacher attended the recent Teachers' Workshop. Unfortunately, such could not happen in my home state.

It is hoped that Congress passes the $30,000 bill to the Shenandoah child from Indiana, where eyeight was permanently impaired at birth in an army hospital, because the mistake used had been improperly prepared. Victims of such tragedies suffer for life. No amount can pay for the damage done, whether physical, physical, or both. It is a tragedy when those expected to maintain standards are the ones who lower them.

The Teachers' Workshop in Martin was profitable to all present. Professor Triplett did a good job emphasizing the fact that some of the fundamentals are still worthy of a place in the educational program. He recommended that teachers return to the three R's when they get lost amidst modern fold-outs. He also said he would like to see only a few schools in the state experiment with new methods for several years before these are adopted in wholesale fashion and often presented by some poorly trained for the job.

Between you and me and the gate post, SECOND the motion. The last year I taught, too long ago to mention—I was all out for modernism. The kids loved it, too. But at the end of the year it was obvious that the group had learned more than any I ever tried to teach before the newer methods came into vogue. The major criticism against the classroom today by parents is that there is too much play.

It is good to note a tendency today towards a "lazier" medium. Pacing up everything we seek to teach is like trying to sugarcane or oil. Some honest-to-goodness hard work should be a part of every school program, and when we fail to exact this of pupils we cheat them. Few of us suffered from having to learn some dry facts. Most of us profited by a certain amount of discipline at home and in the school. We must prepare each child for the greatest school on earth, life itself.

The movie shown at the Work Shop described a lunchroom improvement project by one class. Its first move was to list what was WRONG with the lunch room. Likewise, all seeking to boost and improve Eastern Kentucky, and Floyd county in particular, must first make an appraisal and find what is wrong. We must be honest, objective, impersonal, in the survey. We must be willing to criticize ourselves, willing to see ourselves as others see us.

Business and industrial leaders have predicted a decline in coal output for the future. The release of atomic energy for more purposes ultimately will affect this. Unemployment here during the last depression was higher than in most parts of the state. Today there are many persons who would like work of some kind. Native industries must be encouraged.

Mrs. Woodrow Allen, of Martin, suggests the use of plain old cornshucks to make handbags and souvenirs, once a market is established near the lake for native crafts. For further improvement Mrs. Rindel Hayes, of Bosco, suggests a county dumping ground which the Kootenai would quickly hide.

CRUSADE FOR FREEDOM AIM IS TO AID RFE STATIONS

Kentuckians, whose Crusade for Freedom gifts last year have helped make Radio Free Europe the largest of Communist propaganda and propaganda, soon will have the opportunity to strike a more crushing blow against Red lies and plots.

The 1951 Crusade for Freedom—seeking to expand the free world's "truth stations"—will begin in Kentucky on September 3.

The principal objective this year will be to raise money—at least $300,000 nationally. This will supply and augment the "radio artillery" now shelling Communist-dominated states.

Radio Free Europe now has two fighting stations. Last year's Crusade gifts enabled it to build, in the record time of a few months, the most powerful radio station in the world. Elated by the results being produced by these stations, RFE seeks more of them.

To head the 1951 Crusade in Kentucky, Gen. Lucius D. Clay, national chairman, has appointed George S. Hart, Murray, Ky., banker and mayor. He has appointed Neil Dalton, The Courier-Journal and The Louisville Times director of public relations, as regional chairman for Kentucky and Tennessee, and Guthrie P. Crowe, State Police Commissioner, as Kentucky advisor; co-ordinator. Crowe was last year's state Crusade chairman and Dalton the regional deputy.

Hart, prominent in many activities in Western Kentucky, announced that the 1951 Crusade will reach every Kentucky county and community. Last year more than 400,000 Kentuckians signed the Freedom Scrolls and won a place near the top of the list of States on a population-percentage basis for co-operation. This year the Kentucky Crusade hopes to reach an even greater number.

County organizing is now going

WALLEN IN FAR EAST ON DESTROYER ESCORT

Buster Wallen, machinist's mate, second class, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Wallen, and husband of Mrs. Verlie Wallen, all of Melvin, is serving aboard the destroyer escort USS Conway, recently arrived in the Far East.

The Conway is assigned to "Hunter-Killer" anti-submarine warfare training. Equipped with radar and sound gear, the Conway is now a plane guard and screen vessel for a high-speed carrier task force. This includes protection against surface, under-sea, or air attack on the force, and effects quick rescues for pilots who crash during landings or take-offs.

Carroll county is planning for an agricultural fair this year, the first one since 1947; it will be held Aug. 8-11.

Radio Free Europe, however, is a private operation not connected with the U. S. Government. It is the voice of free peoples everywhere, shouting against Communist enslavement of the mind and will," Dalton said.

The Crusade for Freedom now is a permanent organization dedicated to freeing "captive" populations from Communist tyranny. This year's national campaign chairman is Harold E. Stassen, president of the University of Pennsylvania.

Dean Leroy G. Dorsey

The resignation of Dean Leroy G. Dorsey, of Pikeville College, to take effect August 30, was announced by Dr. A. A. Page, president of the college. Dorsey, 42, dean at Pikeville for the last seven years, also has taught education and mathematics in the college and in Pikeville College Academy. He was recently named principal of the Flemingsburg, Ky., elementary school.

To the People of Floyd County:

The confidence which the voters of Floyd County expressed in my behalf on Saturday, August 4th, is deeply appreciated and very gratifying indeed.

It also indicates that the people of Floyd County are still interested in participating in good county government. I personally wish to thank the Floyd County people for the tremendous victory they gave me. Mr. Saunders, my opponent, is a nice young man for whom I have the highest regard. We did not stage a campaign of smear or try to discredit each other. After all, we are Floyd County boys, not only during the campaign but not only during the campaign but we are still Floyd County boys after the campaign and we can meet each other today with good will. I hold no malice toward any supporter of my opponent.

I propose to conduct my campaign from now on until the November election on a high plane. I solicit the support of all citizens, irrespective of party affiliation and, if elected, will give the people the service I have in the past.

Your Friend,
BILL COOLEY.

LEAGUE RACE GROWS TIGHT

As Drift and Harold Twice Beaten; W'Wright Pulls into 2nd Place

The Kentucky-Elkhorn League race tightened up over the week-end as front-running Drift dropped two games and the runner-up, Harold, also was twice-beaten, giving Wheelwright second place, only one game back of Drift.

From here on out the race is expected to be a wide-open affair. Harold, now in third place, is only two games out of first, and last-place Wheelwright is three games from the top.

Wheelwright knocked off Drift Friday night at Wheelburg, 9 to 8, with the winners' manager, Jim Vance, getting five safeties in as many trips to the plate, including a homer with two men on base. Saturday night, it was Wheelwright the winner over Drift, 10 to 4, behind the seven-hit twirling of Archer.

Wheelwright Gunned Harold Friday night, 8 to 6, with a two-run rally in the ninth. The following evening, it was Wheelwright winning over Harold, 9 to 7 with a big four-run eighth inning. Harold had a perfect evening at the plate with four safeties.

Pike County Deputy Killed Making Arrest, August 4, Year After Conway Slain

PIKEVILLE, Ky., Aug. 4 — Pike County Sheriff Edna Conway, whose husband, then sheriff, was slain from ambush at their home one year ago, last night heard the shot that killed one of her deputies.

She said Deputy Dave Coleman, 35, was cut down by a single blast from a shotgun while attempting to make an arrest outside the branch courthouse in Phelps, a coal mining community of 700 some 25 miles east of Pikeville.

The sheriff, "down the street" at the time, was soliciting votes to serve out the remaining two years of her husband's unexpired four-year term.

Jessie Layne, 27, of Phelps, was jailed in Pikeville on a murder charge.

Sheriff Conway said Coleman, Deputy Sheriff John Maynard and Deputy Marshal Hubert Stephens had gone to investigate a shot they heard while in the Phelps coal mine.

She said they found Layne outside, drunk and holding a shotgun. When Coleman told him he was under arrest and ordered him to surrender the weapon, she related, Layne fired.

Maynard and Stephens then disarmed the man and took him to the Pikeville jail.

The sheriff said Layne will be given a preliminary hearing on the murder charge next week before County Judge Ervin R. Pruitt.

Mrs. Conway's husband, Roy, was shot to death July 28, 1950, after being lured outside their home by an anonymous telephone call.

Hubert and Tommy Vanover, brothers who operated a tourist home Conway had raided, later were sentenced to life in prison for the slaying.

Mrs. Conway was appointed to serve in her husband's place until the next election, today.

Robert Sanger of Fulton county has more than 100 acres of corn from which he expects to harvest more than 100 bushels an acre.
