This Town— That World

The camera is probably man's greatest invention. It has caused more people to smile than all the jokes, radio gags and cartoons ever devised.

The boys hereabouts were kidding about their winter farming, the other day, when an old friend announced he was busy these January days, sowing seeds of kindness. "Brother," said a bystander, "I'm sure you'll have a good crop."

LET 'EM BRAG

Abe Martin, whose homespun philosophy remains as popular today as it was before, was bragging yesterday about his "craze" with the camera. "Them as 'en brag without lyin'—'em 'en brag," he said.

That just about sums up the rest of business, strikes me. Which reminds us of the story told of one of our blue-blooded young men who took it into his head to attempt the title of the best dressed rifle shot in the hull county.

On every occasion he would load and keep it at about the same distance, shot out the eye of a chicken when the wife wanted one for Sunday dinner; he killed squirrels by "barking" them, never touching the squirrel but with deadly precision skimming his bullet off the limb on which the squirrel lay so as to kill by concussion. Never lost a turkey shot in his life, he said.

Wouldn't have a snapshot on the place, moving objects no handicap. Finally, somebody decided to try him out. He asked permission to watch Dedeckie Dick in action against squirrels.

A storm was coming up and the wind was tossing the branches of trees about, but they went hunting anyway. Only one squirrel was sighted, and he was located in a home, tarrying not in the manner of the going, literally skimming the tree-tops.

"Don't shoot—'you'll never hit him," yelled the onlooker.

With a shot of disdain, the rifleman threw his gun to his shoulder and barked away.

For some reason the squirrel kept going. But Dedeckie Dick wasn't to be outdone.

"Shoot, you dern fool!" he cried.

"Run right on home with your derned heart shot out!"

FLAME VIRUS IN 3 DEATHS

Many Children Ill As Disease Nearing Epidemic Stage Here

Three infants died during the week in one Floyd County hospital. It was learned here Tuesday, of a fatal infection which, one Prestonburg doctor said, is near the epidemic stage.

The malady, which apparently strikes mostly at infants and preschool children, has been reported in practically every section of the county. A few adults have become ill.

The disease, which one specialist termed virus enteritis, has been reported from other parts of Kentucky. In this county, it appeared shortly before Christmas, and at that time some believed it to be of ordinary origin. As the number of cases became greater during the last few days this theory was discarded.

A bacteriologist from the State Board of Health came here last week for a brief time. Laboratory tests failed to give doctors supplying tangible, but the child supplying a specimen was recovering at the time and had undergone intense treatment.

Dr. Marvin Randall, director of the Floyd County Health Department, said he has seen a number of cases, and has had several other reports of them. The disease defies penicillin and other drugs which have been effective in ordinary cases of diarrhea.

SCOUT GROUPS PLAN DRIVE

3 Counties Represented
In Meeting Held Monday
Prior to February Drive

Representatives of the Floyd district and the three-county Jenny Wiley district, Boy Scouts of America, met at the Victoria House here Monday evening to plan the approaching drive for funds with which to carry on the work of Lanes Pine Council. The Jenny Wiley district is composed of Johnson, Magellan and Martin counties.

And, starting of the drive, which will be staged the week of Feb. 11, will be the Harold-Beyis Layne council, which has $20,000 already contributed and ready, and Prestonburg with $250.

J. R. Hurt, Prestonburg president of the council, presided at the meeting. B. F. Reed, of Drift, presented the Council budget for the year, and A. H. Mandt, of Manton, and J. L. Patton, Paintsville, presented the budget for the year in their respective counties.

The drive will begin in Prestonburg with a kick-off breakfast, February 11.

John Dean, Council Scout executive, outlined organization of the campaign, while Fred G. Francis and Byrd Cox gave their last year's experience in the fund drive.

The Floyd district has set a quota, but a minimum of $5,000 will be sought, it was said.

GROUPS JOIN IN PLANNING

Community Recreation Work at Wayland; Hear Kaufman at Meeting

On invitation of the Lackey-Garrett Women's Club, representatives from 14 organizations in Wayland and its environs met at the Wayland Methodist church with Earl Kaufman, recreation consultant, Bureau of Community Service, University of Kentucky, to discuss plans for a community recreation center.

Mr. Kaufman showed a moving picture entitled "Rural Recreation in Action," which illustrated projects other communities have undertaken with success for their young people as well as older citizens.

"Recreation is the lifeblood of the community," Mr. Kaufman said. "Recreation is a social activity in our leisure time which is socially approved and by so doing, one is made to feel better and is healthier."

He added that such meetings are good in that they teach people the value of giving of their leisure time to something that is bigger than themselves.

Mrs. Noah Howard and Mrs. Geo. E. Howard, Jr., were elected temporary co-chairmen of the group. Questionnaires are being prepared and distributed among the townspeople to ascertain what type of recreation is desired by the majority of the people. After a tabulation of the results is made, Mr. Kaufman will return to help make further plans.

The 14 organizations represented were the Lions Club, Masonic Lodge, Rebekah Lodge, Old Fellows, Wayland Junior Women's Club, Wayland High School, Wayland Methodist Church, God Church of Christ, United Methodist Church, Wayland city of Christian Service, Wayland City Council, Old Valley Coal Company, the Elk Horn Coal Corporation.

COURT OKEHS FINANCE PLAN

Refinancing of Bonds To Save Floyd $80,000, Is Gardner's Proposal

A refinancing plan guaranteed to save the county $80,000 on outstanding funding bonds was adopted by the fiscal court at its Friday meeting.

The plan accepted that submitted by R. L. Gardner, he proposed to refinance $74,000 worth of funding bonds now bearing 4 1/2 per cent interest, with the maturity callable date unchanged, for a 4 per cent interest or less, pay an additional premium of 3 per cent and bear all expenses attendant on the refunding of the bonds. Gardner will be paid a sum equal to 3 per cent of the bonds actually delivered and paid for, the proposal stated.

"If this proposal does not save the county $80,000, this proposal will not be effective," Gardner said in his written statement to the court.

The claim of Monar, Inc., amounting to $781.65 for goods sold the county on authority of Everett Collins while he was jailer was refused payment at Friday's meeting.

The court also refused to raise the salary of Miss Rebecca Ellis, clerk of the court, from $150 to $175, when Mrs. Hazel Salisbury failed to appear for the trial of Miss Hunt. Charged with the slaying of

THURSDAY

COURT ACTION ASKS $135,000 OF GAS FIRM

Elk Horn Asks Judgment To Establish Its Rights To Coal Bordering Wells

Attorneys for the Elk Horn Coal Corporation have filed in the Floyd circuit court for declaratory judgment against the Kentucky West Virginia Gas Company, claiming the gas firm owes Elk Horn for an estimated 1,250,000 tons of coal which cannot be mined because of wells drilled by the defendant.

Based on the suit, filed by J. W. Howard, Prestonburg, and K. W. Koons, Charleston, W. Va., is terms of a lease executed in 1928 by Elk Horn conveying oil and gas rights on $50,000 acres of land in this section to Robert J. Grob, who is now conveyed the lease to the gas company. Regulations of the Kentucky Department of Mines and Minerals also are made a part of the suit.

The petition alleges that the gas company and its lessees have drilled at least 227 wells through one or more coal seams on the Elk Horn property, and that the Department of Mines and Minerals require that a block of coal 200 feet square be left around each well and also forbid mining of the coal, even though such wells were abandoned.

Terms of the lease executed by the coal company to Grob, it is stated, provide that no well shall be drilled through a block of coal not less than 140 feet square; that in the event a well is drilled through coal in which mining operations are or may be prosecuted, and the operation of the mine requires the withdrawal of the coal surrounding the well before the gas company is ready to abandon the well. A solid block of coal also shall be left for the protection of the well. But the lease specifies, it is alleged, that the gas company shall be required to pay coal firm for coal left at the rate of 10 cents per ton.

The petition sets the worth of the coal it cannot mine for these reasons: "The coal is of the best quality. Three later deeds, dated in 1928 and 1929, conveyed 503 additional acres of land and gas rights to Kentucky West Virginia and the coal company claims the same terms applied in these that applied in these that appeared in the Grant leases."

John Williams, of Williamson, 25, of Drift, is under $1,000 bond, charged with rape in an offense committed Saturday night against an eight-year-old girl at Drift, and it was indicated this morning by Magistrate Ellis Martin, who issued the warrant for the man's arrest and who accepted $1,000 bond for his release, that new information may lead to further action.

This information is that the child had been examined by physicians at the Beaver Valley hospital, Martin, that they found that a rape attempt had been made, and that the child is now suffering from a venereal disease.

Shortly after this offense allegedly was committed, Williams was shot through his arm in an altercation with a man who was listed as Shelton Spriggs, of Drift. The shooting had no connection, however, with the alleged rape, but arose over attention to a woman.

Magistrate Martin said he was told that Williams' wound was superficial, and he was dismissed after treatment Saturday night at the Martin hospital. Later, Mrs. Rosa Hall Fickett, aunt of the child, swore out a warrant for Williams' arrest, charging rape. He was arrested Tuesday.

FOUR PENNED FOR SHOOTING

Of Three Mineworkers On Middle Creek; Jury Formed To Indict Two

Faced with evidence which, including laboratory tests of gun shells and a ballistics expert's statement which identified their guns in the case, four middle Creek miners entered pleas of guilty Tuesday to the shooting and wounding, Jan. 16, of three miners of the Floyd Elk Horn Coal Company on the Cane Creek of Middle Creek and each given a penitentiary term totaling six years.

Sentenced two years each on three counts of shooting and wounding were George Hill and Alex Johnson, and Fred Shepherd. Their sentences, handed down Wednesday by Circuit Judge Edward P. Hill, will not run concurrently.

The shooting and wounding charge against Henry Johnson, Jr., younger brother of George, was dismissed for lack of evidence.

Alex Johnson and Fred Johnson were not brought into the case until empty shotgun shells found in the vicinity of the shooting were compared with shells fired from three shotguns taken by Sheriff A. B. from homes of the three youths originally accused. When a West Virginia ballistics expert declared the three guns fired the shells found immediately after the shooting, the case broke, involving Alex Johnson and Shepherd.

A special grand jury was empaneled last Thursday, and three indictments were returned. The two were filed against these last two to enter the case as suspects. Indictments were made during the regular jury session against the other three.

Composed of the special grand jury were J. M. Roberts, foreman, Len Johnson, Beckham Clark, Harrison Stone, Walter Hall, B. W. Williams, Sherman Prater, Troy Branham, G. W. Collins, Ernest Reynolds, Fisher Lafayette and Martha Conner.

Last possibility of a murder trial at this time was closed when Mrs. Hazel Salisbury failed to appear for the trial of Miss Hunt. Charged with the slaying of

Two Children Die After Rare Surgery

Two Floyd and Knott county babies, each born without esophagus, died within an hour following operations at St. Joseph's hospital, Lexington, last week.

Such cases are rare, and even rarer is the coincidence of two within 48 hours, hospital authorities said.

First of the babies to die was eleven-day-old Old Woman daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Warnan, of Wayland, last Thursday. On the following day, Floyd Wayne, six-day-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Klus, of Hall, Knott county, died.

The Warnan baby was buried in the Collins cemetery at Lackey following funeral services at the grave-site by the Rev. Douglas Burkett, and burial of the King child was held in the family cemetery at Hall after funeral rites from the home by the Reverend Hopkins. The Hall Brothers Funeral Home directed both burials.

The operation for the babies was performed by Dr. J. H. Allen, of the University of Kentucky, and Dr. J. H. Allen, of the University of Kentucky, and Dr. J. H. Allen, of the University of Kentucky.

The majority of the older doctors here have been prepared in rough draft for future editing and inclusion in a brochure to be printed under joint sponsorship of the two groups.

Both groups also expressed an interest in a market locally for pickers, growers, and heard a report from County Agent Harold B. Rice. It was indicated that, if a pickle manufacturer's representative with considerable experience recently in this phase of agriculture does not at once give full proof of his and his group's good faith, the Chamber of Commerce and the Development Association will contact well-known manufacturers in an effort to establish a market locally.

RAPE CHARGE PROBE BEGUN

Drift Man Is Accused Of Attack on Child, 8; Williams Also Wounded

John Williams, of Williamson, 25, of Drift, is under $1,000 bond, charged with rape in an offense committed Saturday night against an eight-year-old girl at Drift, and it was indicated this morning by Magistrate Ellis Martin, who issued the warrant for the man's arrest and who accepted $1,000 bond for his release, that new information may lead to further action.

Both Old and New Groups Endorse Legal Innovations

Three Floyd county organizations, one of which is made more solid by the support of the first action under the act. This committee also is preparing a companion bill of the civil code and statutes which deal directly with pleadings, practice and procedure.

"A lot of boys are going to be students again," dryly observed one local opponent of the legislation.

Besides meeting jointly and urging legislation, the Chamber of Commerce and the Development Association heard reports from local sources on various industries or businesses of the county. These reports are now being prepared in rough draft for future editing and inclusion in a brochure to be printed under joint sponsorship of the two groups.

Both groups also expressed an interest in a market locally for pickers, growers, and heard a report from County Agent Harold B. Rice. ## Price Reports Progress On Dewey Lake Scout Camp

Marked progress on the development campaign to build a Scout camp at Dewey Lake was reported this week by E. R. Price, Wheelwright, who is serving as general chairman of the development committee on the campaign.

Mr. Price said that all major projects that have been planned for the new camp "to be located on Dewey Lake" would be completed in time for the camp to be used this summer. The grading of an access road into the area leased to the Council by the U.S. Corps of Engineers was completed in September, and will be improved in order to be used as an all-weather road. The road including grading, culverts and improvements represent an investment of approximately $10,000.

Sufficient cash and materials have been donated to begin construction of a main lodge and dining hall at the camp as soon as the weather permits. The plans, which were prepared by Henry Spaulding, of Hazard, call for an outlay of approximately $15,000 in labor and materials. Mr. Price said that the banks have contributed $2,225. Doctors of the Council have contributed $850 toward the construction of a Health building. The civic clubs, including the Rotary and Kiwanis Clubs of Pikeville, Rotary, Kiwanis and Lions Clubs of Hazard, the Kiwanis Club of Jenkins, Palmsville, Prestonsburg and Wheelwright have each agreed to sponsor Troop sites at the Scout camp.

Harry LaViers and the South-East Coal Company will sponsor a water supply system for the camp. An electric line into the camp property has been constructed. Mr. Price said that the Inland Steel Company employees would sponsor a storage building and work shop for the camp.

On the basis of progress made thus far, Mr. Price expressed the belief that the major projects on the camp will be completed during this year. He reported that the various industries of the Council are now being asked to contribute. Among the first contributions to be received from industries were: $1,500 from each of the Consolidated Coal Company of Kentucky and from the Inland Steel Company.

C. N. Burnett and Sons of Pulton county have seeded more than 100 acres of their 300-acre farm to Kenland red clover.

1. Licensing of coal mines but not as a means of raising revenue. The Department of Mines would reserve the right to refuse a license unless the operator provided the department with a map and an annual production and accident report.

2. The chief of the department would be empowered to hire enough district mine inspectors to do the job. The Legislature says must be done. The bill would give these inspectors the right to close mines with the right of appeal by the operators to the head of the department and to the courts.

3. The bill provides for 65 percent rock-dusting to within 40 feet of the actual working or production area in a mine. The distance now is 80 feet. Under certain conditions rock-dusting would be required all the way to the face.

4. It would legalize unconfined shots. An unconfined shot is one not drilled and tamped.

5. It would require certificates for all men in charge of underground crews.

6. It would limit the use of black safety lamps underground to men holding these certificates or other authorization.

7. It would eliminate the use of black powder and dynamite.

8. It would repeal existing regulations pertaining to clay mines under the same regulations as pertain to coal mines.

9. It would provide for the safety inspection of strip mining.

10. It would raise the pay of district mine inspectors to a minimum of $4,800 and a maximum of $6,500.

11. Under the Administration bill abandoned mine panels would be sealed off and vented by bore holes.

Official Organ for Floyd County, Ky.

Entered as second class matter July 18, 1927, at the postoffice at Prestonsburg, Ky., under the act of March 3, 1879.

Shall This Money Be Collected? If So— For What?

THESE DAYS when tax monies apparently go down bottomless ratholes, Floyd counties are paying into another kind of tax fund. This is a fund which, as matters now stand, instead of doing the usual disappearing act will mount upward and merely exist without purpose, to no end.

This is the fund now being created by the collection of taxes to repay a debt which has not yet been incurred. We refer to the $400,000 bond issue voted for the construction of a Floyd County War Memorial Hospital.

The bonds have not been issued; hence, not sold. Therefore, there is no actual debt to repay. Yet the taxes are being collected—around $600,000 worth this year alone.

At this stage of affairs, it appears extremely doubtful that such a hospital will ever be built. Consequently, the federal government will not contribute to it on a two-for-one basis, as promised before the bonds were voted. Everything is in the uncertain, nebulous state except the money the taxpayers are shelling out right now to build up a fund to pay off that theoretical debt.

If matters drift along at their present rate, the people of this county within a few years will have paid out a total of $400,000—actually will have been that much out of pocket—with no hospital, no alternate improvement in sight and with no certainty of recovering what they have paid.

Then it would seem that now is the time for Floyd county officials to determine, on behalf of the people, just what can be done to save the taxpayers this expense if the money is to represent no more than a dream.

From the Bottom Up

REPRESENTATIVE Ray Hobbrook, of Magoffin county, has within a week ranged from the ridiculous to the sublime, so to speak, as a legislator.

He hit nadir when he introduced in the Kentucky House of Representatives a bill designed to give counties the right to vote by precincts on the wet-and-dry issue.

Then he came back with his bill to require gas companies to sell gas to residents of communities which are producing that fuel.

Neither bill may be given serious consideration—the first, because of its obvious impracticability; the second, because our lawmakers are, by and large, not representing gas-producing sections of the state.

To give each precinct the right to declare its wishes as to whiskey or prohibition would be to create an intolerable situation. Chaotic conditions would result. Somehow, we doubt Mr. Holbrook introduced this bill with serious intentions.

His second bill is one which cannot but meet with almost universal approval in this section. This is the natural thing. Few, if any, can see the justice in a gas company taking gas from a section, piping it hundreds of miles to a city domestic or industrial market but denying the poor residents at the source of the fuel a supply for their homes.

Not all the gas companies refuse such service to the people. Some who do refuse the content they have previous commitments which prevent them from rendering a service they otherwise would offer the people.

We trust the Legislature can, somehow, enact a law which will supersede some of those commitments.

LETTERS

TO THE EDITOR

PRaise FOR SCHOOL PRINCIPAL

Editor, The Times:

The First Baptist Church of Martin wishes to take this means to express publicly our appreciation and gratitude to Mr. James Sallsbury, principal of Martin school, for his services to the pupils in commencing with the Martin Sunday School campaign, sponsored and promoted by the school.

Mr. Sallsbury is to be commended for supporting the right, for encouraging the children to form good habits in childhood. Parents sometimes worry about what their children may learn in school, but when a school sets an example like this we have no fear that the youngsters will be taught things which we know to be false.

Here Friday! THE GREATEST CAR EVER BUILT IN THE LOW-PRICE FIELD

The big

Outperforms them all!

Ford's completely new 101-h.p. high-compression, low-friction Six, with free-running overhead valves, is the most modern Six in the industry. And Ford's high-compression V-8, now 110 h.p., is the most powerful engine in the low-price field. Both are available with performance-proved Fordomatic Drive.

Exclusive Power Pilot Economy!

Both the new Ford Mileage Maker Six and the Strato-Six V-8 have the exclusive Ford Automatic Power Pilot. This completely integrated carburetor-idle-control system gives you high-compression "go" on "regular" gas.

New Coachcraft Bodies!

Ford's new Coachcraft Bodies are longer, stronger... distinctive in their modern beauty. They offer new full-light construction which seals out dust, weather and noise. And Ford has more color and upholstery combinations than any other car in its field!

Out-values them all!

With such modern design and engineering features as new High-Speed Control, Ford's new Power-Shift Clutch and Brake Pedals, new Center-Fill Fueling, and new counter-balanced hood and deck lid, Ford adds up to more dollars and cents value than any car in its price class.

Fordomatic Drive, Overdrive, white enamel free (if available) and complete color on Customized design optional in extra cost. Engineering, service and parts available without charge without price.

Out-rides them all!

The '52 Ford gives you riding comfort such as you have never before experienced in a car in the low-price field. With front springs tailored to the weight of each model, longer rear springs and diagonally mounted shock absorbers, Ford's Automatic Ride Control gives you the smoothest, easiest ride of them all—a level ride on straightaways, or even keel on curves.

Out-sizes them all!

George S. Owsley Post To Sponsor Air Program

The George S. Owsley Post No. 226 of the American Legion, Garrett, Ky., is sponsoring as a part of a nation-wide program a religious movement emphasizing church attendance, prayer and religious training for the young people.

The movement will start Sunday, Feb. 3, as this is the ninth anniversary of the date when four chaplains representing Catholic, Protestant and Jewish faiths gave their lives to enlisted men and went down praying together on the torpedoed transport "Dorchester," said Shelby Draughn, assistant adjutant of the Garrett Post, this week.

The Post and its Auxiliary Unit will sponsor a half-hour radio program over station WLSI in Pikeville, entitled, "Christian Brotherhood," and will be heard from 5:30 to 6 p. m., Feb. 3.

"This program is already heard on the 170 radio stations and reaches the Rev. W. Dale Oldham, well-known author and composer," Draughn added.

The Holland Homemakers Club in Allen county cooperated with the school board in installing a water system in the local school.

About 2,000 articles of leather have been made by Marion county homemakers, many of them being used for gifts.

Accused Rapist Fails Execution of Bond; Held to Grand Jury

Bert Hicks, 21, the accused Knott county rapist, has yet been unable to obtain the necessary bondsmen to effect his release from jail at Hindman because the bond candidates have failed to satisfy the court. They are worth the amount of the bond, according to the latest reports from the Knott county court.

The bond required is $10,000 appearance and $1,000 peace bond, and was agreed upon by both sides in the case at the preliminary arraignment.

Judge Mord Shum's court last Saturday, Jan. 26, when he was bound to await action of the Knott county Circuit Court in February.

The alleged rape occurred Monday, Jan. 14, near the mouth of Hall at Mabel Sue Thacker, and a friend of about the same age were baby-sitting for her mother and step-father, who were attending church about 600 or 700 yards away. Hicks came to the house, which was locked, and obtaining entrance under the pretense of getting a drink of water, induced the girl to go into another room with him to look at a radio. Here he allegedly assaulted the child. Arrival of the girl's mother and step-father in answer to the play-mother's errand to seek help 'tote late to permit the crime. Hicks was gone but was arrested later that night at his home near Porter.

Rufus Edgington of Carlisle county built a tobacco barn for a cash outlay of $700, home-grown timber being used for it.

Roads and Illnesses Cut Down W.Wright's Contribution of Blood

Teachcous roads and the common cold played havoc with the well-laid plans of the Wheelwright community to equal for the third time its blood quota Tuesday on the visit there of the bloodmobile from the regional Red Cross blood center in Huntington.

Travel conditions kept many at home, and colds caused an unusual number of rejections. Mrs. A. H. Mandt, county recruitment chairman, said. As a result, Wheelwright's contribution Tuesday was 75 units instead of the expected 125.

"The failure to meet the quota was not the community's fault," it was pointed out. "Conditions beyond their control went against the folks."

Next visit of the bloodmobile will be to W.Wright, Feb. 12, it was announced.

The recent census shows a gain of 1,041 in the number of cows in Bullitt county over five years ago.

template additional litigation.

The unions also said the court erred in not allowing union attorneys to poll the jury after the verdict to determine whether any of the jurors had read the editorial.

In the trial, the company said an agent of the U.M.W.'s United Construction Workers had on Jan. 26, 1948, demanded that Laborum employees building a coal preparation plant in Breathitt county, become U.C.W. members, threatened that unless they did they would not be permitted to continue their work.

Upon their refusal to become U.C.W. members, the company said, the employees were driven from their work by the agents, William O. Hart, and U.C.W. members by threats to them and their families.

Dani denied he told the men in violent language that they would not be permitted to work unless they became U.C.W. members or that he threatened them.

electric

No matter where you want to put your water heater you'll be better off with an ELECTRIC...because that's one kind you can put any place!

Here's why: An electric water heater is safe enough, clean enough to install in a closed-in closet! Obviously an electric water heater is your best buy for any place at all. (That goes double where space is limited, or in new basementless homes.)

No flues, no vents, no chimney needed! That's proof of dependable performance that challenges comparison. It means economy, too: shorter runs of pipe from heater to where hot water's used!

In a report to Commissioner of Welfare Luther T. Goben, Stagner claims more than 9,500,000 pounds of vegetables produced and $21,539 gallons of milk during the period. In addition, the farms had on hand 215 head of hogs, 435 dairy cows, 722 beef cattle and more than 25,000 chickens.

How the People Can Rule

The odds are long in favor of "the politicians" again choosing the candidates on whom we will vote next November. In fact, many citizens would be surprised to learn that there is any other way to choose them.

Public apathy, as evidenced in the failure of millions of citizens to vote on vital important elections, has been widely deplored. Likely, however, this failure is attributable not so much to indifference to the responsibilities of citizenship as to the voters' sense of helplessness. Many have forgotten, if indeed they ever knew, the mechanics of making their influence felt, in the selection of candidates.

But there is a way. The choosing of candidates does not have to be left to the "political machines."

A challenge is sounded in an article by William Hard in the current issue of The Reader's Digest, and it's a challenge we cannot evade by trying to blame the politicians or the election laws. As Hard puts it, "We need something more than better machinery for citizenship. We need better citizenship."

Under the title, "This Year Help Nominate Your Presidential Candidate," Hard spells out exactly how any and every citizen can make this influence felt.

Of course, the procedure takes a little effort. For instance, one must find out how in his state he can vote in the primary election or at the party caucus at which the delegates who pick candidates are selected. Also, he should join a local club supporting one candidate or another, and he may even have to attend a few meetings.

But such an effort is slight compared with how much is at stake in selecting the people who run our government, who regulate our businesses and our unions, who draft our sons—who are, in fact, shaping our very destiny, individually as well as collectively.

Hard sums up his article's message by saying, "Every American should join the ruling classes." Up to this point in history, all of us may join the ruling classes. How much longer the privilege will be ours depends on whether and how soon we begin to use it.

Elsa McDermott of Taylor county has a Jersey cow which has produced nine heifer calves, none of which has sold for less than $200.

IT'S A GOOD WORLD

BY WILMA Y

Opinions expressed herein do not necessarily reflect those of The Times.

Friday afternoon, Martin high school had the pleasure of hearing the member of the Mormon Church from Wyoming trace its history. Pete Grigsby, Jr., introduced the speaker. Last week, the students enjoyed the program by Joe Paintsville Olden, so much so many have requested more of this type. Many are still reading the Testaments given. High school boys, particularly, show a keen interest in religion.

Martin citizens are commending Mr. Salisbury for presenting such programs and for promoting the student apathy high because he does not teach atheism, or evolution and seek to undermine their faith, at is sometimes done in schools and colleges. Parents believe individuals who wish to do this should build and maintain their own schools and not do so on state time and money. Denominations support their schools for teaching doctrinal matters.

Most children are at a disadvantage when anyone seeks to destroy their belief, but one well-versed in the Scriptures can instruct in a spiritual sense. It is truth itself, and has stood the test of time for ages. Men have tried to discredit the Bible, but it is still the Bible. It is difficult to find a teacher questioning the Bible who knows more than a few verses of it, and if one quoted it from memory he still could not know it in the truest sense, for the Bible makes clear that only saved persons understand the Bible in a spiritual sense.

A modern method for confusing children is to tell them the Bible has been rewritten so often we cannot be sure it is like the original. Some other great works of literature have also been rewritten and translated into various languages, but no one bothers to question their validity.

Surely God, who divinely inspired men to write the Bible, has sufficient power to preserve it. The two latest translations, both the Revised and the American Standard version, go back directly to the most ancient copies, while the King James version is based upon the Geneva, the Matthews, Tyndale, and ancient copies, which followed the most ancient copies. Close comparison by the outstanding Biblical scholars of leading churches reveals that only minor changes in the choice of words have occurred, without change in the meaning itself. As some words become obsolete others are chosen.

The Bible has been under fire since its appearance, but it remains the best seller in the world, published in more languages than any other book. It has been the object of scorn, hatred, ridicule, and of scoffers and sinners, but it changes more lives than all other books combined. It has weathered every storm and is unlikely to suffer much at the hands of enemies who know little about it.

Teachers who are not Christians tell gullible youngsters the Bible contradicts science, when nothing could be further from the truth. Dr. K. S. Mather, Harvard University, ranks is one of the great scientists of the universe. He insists religion and science do not contradict, and is a staunch Christian. Dr. R. A. Millikan, Nobel Prize winner, one of the foremost physicists of all time, says there is a divinity shaping the destiny of man and that a materialistic philosophy is the height of unintelligence. Dr. Henry Link, psychologist for New York City, forsake Christianity for atheism, then returned to religion via science itself. Leoncine du Noy, author of Human Destiny, shows in it how, by mathematical process alone, men have to be the product of a Higher Power. Human Destiny is regarded as the greatest book of two centuries.

Darwin's "Missing Link" was never found. His book, Descent of Man, uses the phrase, "we may well suppose," over and over. But this phrase is not found in the Bible. Its writers did not have to suppose. The secular history of the great Jewish people alone should be sufficient to prove to any layman and to convince any skeptic that the Bible must be true.

May we suggest that students invite their college professors who spread poison on these topics, publicly but intentionally, to participate in a public debate with some minister or Biblical scholar. The results of such an invitation are generally rather interesting to note.

WOMAN'S CLUB MEETS

The Allen-Martin Woman's Club met Monday evening, Jan. 21, at the home of Mrs. George Laven, of Allen. Mrs. J. P. Sammons was appointed to act as hostess at the next meeting, which will be held Feb. 4 at the Martin high school library. The Armour Company will show a film on the company's products, and refreshments will be furnished by Armour's and Desmond's Grocery. Members of the Dight Woman's Club and the women teachers and Home Economics girls of the Martin school will be guests.

Tickets are now being sold to finance a delegate to the national convention at Minneapolis, Minn., in May. Kentucky delegates are especially interested in selecting Miss Olive Clifton as third vice-president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs. Some ticket-holder will be given an Elgin watch, March 15.

Mrs. William Martin, program chairman, gave an enlightening meaning of the title, "The American Home," describing it as the unit of social center formed by a family living together. She then introduced the guest speaker, Mrs. Edgar May, of Maytown, who gave a stimulating and thought-provoking talk on the American Home. She described the ideal home as being made up of four corners—physical, social, intellectual and spiritual, and interpreted these different phases of living. After thanking Mrs. May for her talk, Mrs. Martin recited a poem entitled, "Home," and then presented Mrs. May with Pulten Curses' book, "The Greatest Book Ever Written," as a token of appreciation from the club.

A salad course was served to the following members: Mesdames Belford Reitz, William Stintette, W. O. Huddleston, James Webb, Jr., Tim Martin, J. W. ## Floyd County Historical Notes

By HENRY P. SCALF

There was some interest in the story of Sept. 27, last year, entitled, "Dead Weight Plus Live Weight Makes Load Lighter." This story came to me as related to for some reason readers have connected it with the Hall-Wright-Jones feud. The story itself as related, or a variant of it, has been told in numerous instances connected with mountain funerals and is a part of our folklore. It may have been told about the transportation of the body of Tall Hall, for after he was hanged for murder at Wix, Bad John Wright, of Elkton, went to the Virginia county seat town and brought it back to Elkton Creek for burial. So I am informed, I gladly ignore the fact that the Wright-Jones feud may be ever reading the "Life of Bad John Wright." This book was written by a man who was living at or near Pound, Va. The author, and I can't recall his name at present, has a single copy, I am informed by Mr. Sexton at Lexington, who is a book collector for Kentucky. Interested people who desire to "run this book to earth" will have a difficult time, for Mr. Sexton informs the original edition was bought up and burned. At hand is a letter from Raymond Hall, of Trammell, Va., whose father was a first cousin to Tall. He thinks the story of the Wright-Jones feud may be found in a book entitled, "Kentucky and Border States." He gives no author.

The best source of obtainable material on this feud seems to be Old Claib Jones' Autobiography. It is biased, of course, but does give the essential events of the war. This little pamphlet is out of print but Lexington rare-book dealers will offer to look for it. This column was two years in obtaining a copy.

Mrs. James E. Garrett, formerly of Prestonsburg, now of Hazard, is looking for the Wright book as she is a collector of Eastern Kentuckyiana.

In going through the files a letter from the historian, William Rouse Jilison, of Frankfort, to W.C. Biggers of Prestonsburg, was found. The letter from Jilison to Biggers was given to this column because of the reference to Judge John Graham, of early 1860s. The paragraph of the letter referring to Graham is such a striking example of the state's Jilison phrase that it is hereby reproduced:

"I am in receipt of your kind invitation to deliver one of the principal addresses during the co-coming Floyd County Sesquicentennial Celebration, July 1-4 inclusive, next. It is with a feeling of much regret that I find myself unable to accept this honor, as I should have to talk at some length on the life and accomplishments of Judge John Graham, a great-grandfather of my wife, and perhaps the outstanding man in early Floyd county affairs. For a good many years I have been unable to find any record of his life."

Over a year ago something was said in this column about the Tussys family. Since then additional data has been added to this information and it may be well to re-consider it. The Tussys were originally French and the first settler of that name, Jonathan Tussy, came to Floyd county from Tennessee. He was a son of Jacob and Jane Tussy. Jacob and Jane also had a daughter, Mahala, who married Edward Walker, Jr., descendant of Dr. Thomas Walker, the early physician who reached the Big Sandy in 1750. Jonathan Tussy, son of Jacob, was the father of another Jonathan who married Mary Bradley, Oct. 12, 1848. It seems this Jonathan had a middle initial, the letter C.

Most of the early Tussys moved to Missouri, but Jonathan C. lived near the present Goodloe on Lived Creek. He died in Carter county, Ky. He was the father of four sons: Elias, who married Elizabeth Haywood and died at Dock Ky.; James, who married Aurelia Flannery and died at Martin; Billy, who married Polly McGuire, and Butler, who married Lou Hall. The last two lived in Carter county. Jonathan C. Tussy, who married Minerva Jane Bradley, Dec. 1st, 1839, and this column is under the impression that Cobb was a younger brother of Jonathan C. If not, correction is invited.

Ann Walker Burns, descendant of Dr. Thomas Walker, the explorer, is descended through Edward Walker, Jr., and Mahala Tussy Walker. Mrs. Burns, a competent genealogist, now of Washington, D. C., found in the old records of Frankfort, particularly those of the DAR membership, between 1862-1869 which are preserved at that decade, certain Tussys records. Jacob Tussy, the first we think of the name in America, made his oath of allegiance at Hazard, Kentucky. This would qualify his descendants for DAR membership.

Quita from boys in army:

Pfc. Dick Chaney wrote from Korea: "So you like the Marines better than any branch of service? It is a pretty good outfit at that, even if it is rough. I guess I'm glad I'm one." Pfc. Foss Frazier, of Shepherd Air Force Base, Texas: "There isn't anything happening around here to write home about. The same old thing—get up at 5:30, go to chow, clean the barracks out, linen exchange, fix drill, go to chow at 4:00, clean the barracks up, fall out for school at 5:30, come back at 12:30 to chow, hit the sack, next day get the same thing all over again. It doesn't do it!" Pfc. Donald Holm, of the Marines, San Francisco, Calif.: "There's nothing out here to write about with the exception that I now am on mess duty. What I get married my wife will say, 'What did you do to help win the war?' and I will say, 'served chow for 30 days.' What a laugh!" Marine Pfc. Harry Gray, of the Marines, Ft. Totten, Santa Ana, Calif.: "I've gone down here for you—I've got no mail, except from you. Then there was a plane leaving for Quantico, Va., and they needed a radio operator, so I was elected. I made the run and the Major said he was very pleased. Then I had I got a square duty for 30 days!" Pfc. Jack Ward writes from England: "Howdy, neighbor. Guess what I'm listening to right now? 'The Great Old Country' it's a re-broadcast, of course, but it sure sounds good to me. It's coming from AFN, (Armed Forces Network), in Germany. We get plenty of good state-side music from there." Pfc.

John Ward, Jr., from an army hospital in Tokyo, Japan: "I'm well enough now to walk around. I've had movies downstairs. I go down once in awhile. I get awfully tired going through a show but it keeps my mind off the hospital." Sgt. James Kessell, of Texas, Air Force: "I'm about eight months I'll be discharged. Boy, I'm counting the days. I'll be the happiest person alive. I always thought I'd stay in, but now that's out!" Pfc. Neil Click, Air Force, Macon, Georgia: "The weather here sure is nice and warm and by blackberry-picking time it will be so warm I'll melt. I hate to think of those long hot days, but if I can pull the right strings I won't have to stay here all summer." Pfc. Eugene Thwait, late of Fort Knox, writes: "Thanks for remembering my birthday. By the way, did you get your two front teeth for Christmas?" Pfc. Nick Zatezalo, also late of Fort Knox, writes: "I wish I had been there to be your dinner guest and drink good cold beer and eat ham."

Plymouth's Cranbrook Four-Door Sedan for '52

Here's the new Plymouth for 1952, a more beautiful, smoother operating, easier riding, safer car which features important improvements. There is new beauty in the car's new-looking, sweeping appearance, and color harmony perfection in the new interiors, which are Tone-Tailored with quality fabrics. The luxurious interiors blend beautifully with the exterior colors. The car has all the features for comfort, economy, safety and durability which have become traditional with Plymouth. Shown above is the new four-door Cranbrook sedan.

Smooth, Easy Performance Featured in New Plymouth

The new Plymouth for 1952 will go on display in dealers' showrooms throughout the United States, Friday, January 4.

A long list of improvements, 40 in all—has been incorporated in the engine, the brakes, the electrical system, the chassis, and to the inside and outside of the body.

The new car, according to D. S. Eddins, president of Plymouth, has been improved and refined to provide "the most gentle ride, the smoothest steering, the most responsive engine performance and the greatest safety ever built into a car for the lowest price field."

Exceptional engine smoothness is produced through a newly designed combustion chamber; brakes are stronger and longer-lasting; Plymouth's famous Safety-Flow ride has been made even more comfortable by improvements in the springing and to the Offroad shock absorbers; and the car's beauty is enhanced by numerous styling refinements.

The Plymouth has a road-hugging, sweeping appearance, accentuated by changes in the external alignment.

A new luxurious standard for the Belvedere is attained with the high quality upholstery fabrics in harmonious colors which blend beautifully with the instrument and door panels.

The smart hardtop club coupe, the Belvedere, is the pace-setter in the lowest price field with its new contours in styling and beauty. The car has glistering, lively two-tone colors and a new "floodlight" grille, and the continental look. The color used on the roof follows the Belvedere's streamlined contours around the spars, rear window and front fenders. The rear deck, Sparkling chrome molding outlines the top and carries moldings to separate the two colors at the rear quarter and front quarter panels. Interior of the Belvedere is luxurious, with colorful quality fabrics and vinyl blended in perfect harmony with the shades used on the exterior. Low-wearing carpeting—also in complementary colors—rounds out the ensemble. The new color combinations are available for the Belvedere: Suede Tan with Sable Bronze top; Belmont Blue with Sterling Grey top; Mint Green with Black top.

There are ten body types in the new Plymouth line, available in an array of eight regular, and two special sparkling new colors. The traditional interior roominess and the many "high-priced car" features for which Plymouth has been distinctive have been retained throughout the new line.

SMOOTH PERFORMANCE

A new, smoother flow of power results from the newly designed combustion chamber in Plymouth's famous "dusting" power engine. The six-cylinder, 87 horsepower engine has a 7 to 1 compression ratio. Longer life for both the main and rod bearings is achieved through an improved type of base metal.

To further insure smoothness of performance and faster gearwearing, several refinements in the new Synchro-Silent transmission permit faster, easier shifting, and more rapid and positive engagement of gears. The rear axle is improved, and there are provisions which permit more accurate gear and bearing adjustments.

Operating temperatures up to an additional eight degrees without the hazard of losing water or anti-freeze result from further improvements to the pressure-vent radiator cap, which provides a pressurized cooling system.

STURDY BRAKES

The traditionally sturdy Safety-Guard Hydraulic brakes have been given greater ease of operation, and much longer life. New Cyclobrake brake linings provide better braking area and longer braking life. There are heavier backing plates on both the front and rear brakes; an improved drum design on the front brakes for smoother operation and better cooling; an easier operating brake pedal return spring; and a redesigned steering knuckle to provide more positive protection from road splash.

Passenger and driver comfort has been increased with improvements in the new "Safety-Flow" ride. New cushioning-type ports in the Offroad shock absorbers, increased travel in the front springs and a new interleaf for the rear springs provide quieter operation, reduced steering wheel shock, less friction and an improved ride. The new Plymouth line, available in an array of eight regular, and two special sparkling new colors. The traditional interior roominess and the many "high-priced car" features for which Plymouth has been distinctive have been retained throughout the new line.

BEAUTIFUL STYLING

Luxury and color harmony are the keystones of the beautiful upholstery and trim selected for the new Plymouth line. A fine selection of long-wearing, quality fabrics is available in shades which blend beautifully with the car's exterior colors. An attractive "Lustre-Tone" instrument panel features controls which are conveniently grouped and instruments which are colored and lettered for easy reference while driving. Newly designed to further beautify the Plymouth are the instrument, the top molding, and the meditation on the hood, and the license light and name plate on the rear deck lid. The sweeping, low appearance of the car is further accentuated by the lowering of the rear fender molding.

Select untold safety glass is available throughout the Plymouth line as optional equipment at small extra cost. The glass reduces interior temperatures on hot summer days, minimizes fading of upholstery or seat cover fabrics, and reduces sun glare.

Among the many features which have been retained in the new Plymouth are the wide, deep chair-height seats, the ease of entrance and exit, the combination ignition and starter switch, automatic electric choke, fuel-cushion tires, and safety-rim wheels.

There are ten body types in the new Plymouth line: the Concord series includes a two-door sedan, a three-passenger coupe, and the popular all-metal Suburban, and its country club cousin, the Savoy; the Plymouth "Safety-Flow" ride includes a four-door sedan and a club coupe; and the Cranbrook series includes a four-door sedan, a club coupe, a convertible hardtop coupe, and the pace-setting Belvedere.

NINTH DISTRICT TO HAVE SECOND JUNIOR CONSERVATION CLUB CAMP

Frankfort, Ky. (Sp.)—Plans for the construction of a Junior Conservation Club Building on Wolf Creek, a few miles from Monticello, have been approved by the Kentucky Building Commission and bids for construction work will be asked in a few days. The combination dining and recreation structure will be of concrete blocks and will be 60 by 26 feet with a wing added in which the kitchen will be housed. The floor will be of concrete. The building will be moved to a tract of more than 500 acres leased to the Division of Game and Fish by the U. S. Engineers Corps. The building is expected to be completed by early May in time for its use this summer for as many as 200 Junior boys a week.

In addition to the building on which bids are to be let, a swimming pool will be constructed on the property by the Division as well as a boat dock on the lake. In which eight boys and a counselor may be housed, will also be erected.

The purchase of property for the construction of a federal fish hatchery at Peaks Mill, 15 miles northeast of Frankfort, has been approved by the State Property and Buildings Commission, and work on the project is expected to be started during the summer. The hatchery will be located on a 132-acre plot with the buildings and pools to be constructed by the federal government. A bill authorizing $75,000 for this work was sponsored by the late U. S. Senator Virgil Chapman, and

One of the most successful duck and goose seasons in recent years in Kentucky came to a close Saturday. The season opened on November 22 and huge flocks of both ducks and geese were found by hunters, especially in the western part of the state. For a change, also, pond ducks and geese hunting was reported in other sections of Kentucky on the streams and lakes. The open season on rabbits and quail closed today (Thursday).

SPORTS AFIELD

By TED KESTING

With some people, musky fishing is a sport, but for all too many it becomes a disease—an obsession they try hard to cure, but can't. It's totally unlike any other fishing in the country, so the true thinking of taking it up should at least know what he's getting into.

Muskies are the rare, prize big-game fish of the continent. Nowhere are they common because no water could support many of the voracious beasts. Even where they are "plentiful" they have devilish tricks all their own which make especially designed to drive fishermen to cutting out paper dolls. All too often this is what takes place.

One day you feel a terrific strike, your rod bends and thrashes, your line screams, and your left thumb burns on the spool as line is torn away. You might as well try to stop a Diesel train with a fishing line. Suddenly it goes limp. Lost him. What did you do wrong?

Nothing—not a blamed thing. Here's what happened: He never touched your hook. He merely had a chisel-like nip on the tail end of your bucktail or pork rind while making those runs. That's muskies. Jason Lucas, who knows as much about muskies as he does about bass, insists that they do go over 100 pounds. He says: "Further, I feel sure that such a monster is occasionally hooked. But it should hardly be necessary to point out how slim would be the average angler's chance of landing such a powerful creature."

For the guy with limited time, and perhaps more limited patience, the best way to fish for muskies is—not to fish for them. By all means make it a point to go where they are. But in the same water you will always find bass or pike or walleye, perhaps all three. Fish for these with suitable lures, but use about the heaviest tackle that you can conveniently cast. Then, if a musky hangs on you're ready. If not, you're having sport with a smaller game fish.

Another suggestion: Why not combine a hunting trip with a little musky fishing? Note that the present record musky was caught on October 26. Midsummer fishing for muskies is dull. The very late fall in quite cold weather is by far the best time.

The Bank of Marshall county again purchased 100 Kentucky farm account books for distribution to farmers in the county.

By using stable manure and phosphate and priming lower leaves, Paul Hoover of Ohio county produced 2,400 pounds of burley on an acre, bringing an income of $1,481.

SEES LEGISLATIVE LOG-JAM AS ASSEMBLY WORKS SLOWLY

By TOM SMITH

A log-jam of legislation is fast developing in the Kentucky General Assembly with only one major measure passed by both houses in three weeks' session.

House Speaker Charles Burnley's urging last week brought several announcements of committee meetings to consider bills although the House turned a suggestion by Majority Leader Harry King Lowman for a Friday session.

Burnley warned House members that they were going to find many of their pet measures killed because of lack of time for consideration. The Assembly is scheduled to devote the last two weeks of the 60-day session to Congressional re-apportionment.

This means that the lawmakers have only a couple of more weeks before the Rules committees take over to push through legislation which the leadership considers essential.

The administration's budget measure passed both houses with only two opposing votes—both of them in the house and from Republicans. The Clay of Paducah and Henry Heyburn of Jefferson.

The budget measure becomes effective July 1 and appropriates $170,000,000 for the state's expenses during the following two years.

Another administration measure started through the legislative mill with its first reading in the House on Thursday. This is the re-enactment of the income tax which was boosted two years ago.

Two soldier bonus bills have been introduced along with a suggested sales tax proposal on alcoholic beverages. Such measures have been introduced at various times since the end of World War II but have never found much support.

The idea of a general sales tax as a means of spreading the tax load over a greater number of taxpayers and to increase revenues for education is gaining some impetus at the hands of school people.

The school people say that 20,000 more children would enter public schools under a measure introduced by Edward O. Bridges and also signed by Chester Holscher, both Jefferson county members of the House. They say that more money will have to come from some place if this bill passes because more teachers and more facilities will be needed.

The bill would allow six year old children to enter public schools if they become six before January 1 and enter within 30 days of school opening. Under present law they must be six within 30 days after school opening in order to enroll in September.

The state's 700 chiropractors sent a strong lobby to Frankfort after the introduction of a bill to license them. The bill would permit inspection of hospital facilities for health and safety purposes.

The measure was introduced by Senator Richard P. Moloney, Senate Majority Leader, and referred to Kentucky Statutes Committee No. 2. This has been referred to the "grave yard committee" but this was denied on the Senate floor by Senator Moloney.

The denied came in a defense of referring a mine safety measure to the committee. Senator Julian Goldson of Bell county accused the upper house leadership of killing his mine safety proposal by referring it to Kentucky Statutes Committee No. 2.

The committee is made up of administration stalwarts: Louis Cox, president pro tem; Stanley Hoffman, Bert Hiser, Moloney, Leon Shuklin and Cortis Stacy.

After Representative Morris Weintraub of Newport had been absent from sessions for two weeks, Fred Morgan of McCracken county took the floor to introduce Weintraub to the House and ask for "privilege of the floor for him for today only."

Weintraub retorted that it is just as well that I wasn't here, the House apparently hasn't been busy anywhere. The truck and bus people say that House Bill 40, submitted by Edwin Newell of Carlisle county, to consolidate school bus purchases and operation in the State Department of Education is an effort to avoid carrying parochial school children in the public school buses.

Opponents of this measure declare that under a Supreme Court decision buses operated by a school board may carry a school bus children while a state school bus may not.

GET CHICKS READY

People that want to make a nice profit from their poultry enterprise should order their chicks now.

Every year the people that wait until April or May find that egg prices are low when their pullets start to lay. They miss the period of high egg prices from July 1 to December 31 and don't make the profit they expect to make. These are the people who say there is no profit to be made in chickens.

Another advantage of buying chicks early is that early hatched chicks grow and mature faster than chicks hatched in the spring. Late hatched chicks never produce as many eggs as early chicks. Also, you don't have to worry as much about diseases and changing temperatures in cold weather.

Three chicks should be started for each pullet you want to keep for a layer. If you want to produce eggs for home use only buy 100 chicks. If you want to raise chickens for profit start at least 1,000 chicks. The most economical flock for home use is 30 to 50 layers and 30 to 500 layers for commercial production. With a minimum of 300 laying hens you can afford automatic waterers and other labor saving devices. This will make it easier for you to take care of the larger flock.

Proper management and sanitation will pay off with poultry no matter what size flock you have. Take good care of them.

ABC BOARD CONTINUES DRIVE

Efforts of the Alcoholic Beverage Control Board to "crack down" on liquor-licensed premises where gambling has been prevalent continued to occupy public attention—especially northern Kentucky "hot spots."

The Board revoked licenses held by Club Hi-de-Ho—where recent raids were staged—and gambling found a second time. In addition to revocation of the licenses held by the Club it ordered the premises padlocked until June 30. Beverly Hills Country Club, another well-known night spot, obtained a court order to prevent serving its 30-day suspension until legality of the order is determined.

In Rowan county, 250 potatoes were seeded, 100 percent of tubers beds were treated with bluestone-100, and a carload of coke was hauled for curing tobacco.
