Playground Opening Set, Little League Proposed

The Prestonsburg Playground will be opened next Monday to all children up to 16 years of age with a more varied play program than heretofore offered. Bill Gobel, Jr., new recreation supervisor here, said Wednesday.

Almost toward Floyd county participation in Little League baseball is being sought by Gobel, who said all boys 12 years of age and under who are interested in Little League play to report at the playground Monday afternoon at 2:30. This does not mean only Prestonsburg children, he said; any boy of that age group residing in Floyd county is eligible and welcome to Little League play.

West Liberty, Plainville, Morehead and other towns of this section already have begun the Little League movement. Although a league organized here this year would not be eligible to tournament of Little World Series play because of the belated start, it is hoped that work done this summer will have everything ready to be played the regular season (next year) with full participation in that youth program which has swept the country.

Four teams with a maximum roster of 15 boys each are needed to form a league. Gobel figured the first-year cost of uniforms and other equipment at $100. The next year, only equipment replacements will have to be made.

Little League is big league baseball, with all its organization and precision, except that it is adapted to the mental and physical capacities of boys 12 years of age and under. It has already served to cut down on juvenile delinquency and its effect will mount in this direction, it is explained.

The regular playground program outside of plans for baseball will include use of present playground equipment, running games, softball for both boys and girls, horseshoes, badminton and volleyball ball.

There is nothing as eloquent in speech or the printed page as facts well put together. Which warm-up in the pitchers box reads the for hurling at you some straight fast ones from a recent piece in KENTUCKY BUSINESS by Miss Dorcas Rutenber, script writer and speaker for the Committee for Kentucky when that organization was doing a wonderful job wailing up Kentuckians to the fact that our state was 47 among the 48 in just about everything that was important. KENTUCKY BUSINESS is a fine monthly magazine published by the Kentucky Chamber of Commerce. Getting that excellent organ of Kentucky business alone is enough to justify joining the KCC. Now for Miss Rutenber's lining. She is plucking nothing but strikes.

"Education—in 1946, Kentucky stood forty-sixth or seventh in education. Her common school fund of eighteen and a half million was among the lowest in the land.

"By 1952, educational expenditure had jumped seventy-one percent."

"In 1946, retail trade amounted to one billion, four hundred and twenty million dollars."

"Last year it came to almost four hundred million, a hundred and forty-three percent."

"Industrial employment added over three thousand jobs in 1946. Last year it added nearly fifteen times that many."

"Manufacturing plants were valued at sixty-eight million dollars six years ago."

"They're up for a gain of one thousand, four hundred and fifty-two percent."

HEALTH NOTES

Beating the Heat

If the heat doesn't bother you, you may find it hard to understand those who feel and "hate" miserable during the summer months and a caper during an intense heat wave.

There are people who "feel the heat" more than others, and suffer from it no matter how they try to keep cool. But many of us do not feel more comfortable during the stifling days with a little more attention to "summer health" rules.

Our eating habits these days can do much to restore energy as well as cool. Everybody needs a well-balanced diet no matter what the season. But heavy meals are difficult to digest in hot weather. More fruits and vegetables can be included in meals for hot days. They are easy to digest and are also rich in the vitamins and minerals necessary to well-being.

Perspiration is the body's cooling system, and since the body loses more moisture in hot and humid weather, it is wise to drink plenty of water throughout the day to replace the liquid. Fruit juices also help replace the lost moisture in the body and nourish it at the same time.

Frequent bathing is more important in the summer than at any other time. Extra baths not only keep the skin clean, but also remove the wastes that cause unpleasant odors and eliminate the dirt that clings to the skin in summer and makes it vulnerable to infection.

Sufficient amounts of restful sleep make the hot days more bearable. Many people find trouble sleeping on hot nights, but keeping the room cool and using fans usually helps.

Those who have reason to doubt their physical stamina—children who have had rheumatic fever, adults who have had scarlet fever, for example—do well to check with their doctors before indulging in summer sports.

Winners at Rally Day, Others Go to Lexington For Annual Junior Week

Some of the winners and others from this county in the contests at 6-ft District Rally Day at Plainville, May 20, left Monday for Lexington where Junior Week will be observed from Tuesday until Saturday. The group was led by Ova E. Boggs, county agent.

District Rally Day observed at Plainville recently was featured by contests in public speaking, foods, canning and clothing judging. Receiving top honors from Floyd county were Brenda Salvers, Maytown, who demonstrated how to make a salad and won a white ribbon. Roba Joyce Salvers, Maytown, who received a blue ribbon in clothing judging and Daphne Martin, same club, who won a blue ribbon in food judging and a red ribbon in canning judging. Attendance at this meeting of 4-H-ers at Plainville from this county were Mrs. Arnold Lowe and Mrs. O. S. Martin, Maytown.

Other winners in District Rally Day were Donald Lowe, Maytown, for his demonstration on how to take a soil sample, a red ribbon, and Roba Joyce Salvers, Maytown, a blue ribbon for her address on "The Advantages of Rural Life." Those leaving here Tuesday for the Junior Week activities are Daphne Martin, Roba Joyce Salvers, Brenda Gerhart, Donald Lowe, Palmer Keith Lowe, Tommy Martin, James Keene, and Chalmers Martin, all of the Maytown club.

Billy Ruth Siles, of Setae Layne, and Mrs. Grace Conn, Bonanza, president of the 4-H Club Council, and two other volunteer leaders are among the Floyd delegation.

BLADES OF BLUEGRASS

LEXINGTON, Ky. — Thirty-nine years ago J. P. Corn penned a poem for The Kentuckian, the student yearbook of Kentucky State University. Called "The Investigation," it is concerned with the report of an imaginary citizen bent on locking the condition of the school here is the way it goes:

"Though I've never been to college and I haven't a degree

In a pretty cunny 'olp and I seems quite plain to me

That our dear old University from assembly hall to dorms

Needs a raking and a scrubbing and a bunch of astra reforms.

Why the 'prof's are drawing salary for just eight hours work per day—

There are hands on my plantation who would work for half the pay.

And extraneous 'Theirs' break us; they will drain us to the dregs

Why a grocer said that one year bought a half a dozen eggs

In the dormitories also can be seen a shameful waste.

In each grand palatial roomer they have only three plates placed

And the discipline is dreadful; in some rooms I chance to pass

I did verily see students boldly whispering in class.

And the citizens informed me—on it gave me quite a shock—

That the students would some times stay out as late as ten o'clock

Now in view of all this I do suggest a suggestion I would make:

Let us from the University try appropriation take;

Let us take all the resources left it use them foolishly.

Then we'll make it in the end a model University!"

By some twist of fate, three men who have since done much to make

Korn's alma mater one of the finest universities in the field were listed in the same issue of the annual as members of the 1944 graduating class. They are H. L. Donawick, president of the University of Kentucky, and Guy A. Rugeley and H. D. Palmore, trustees.

LEXINGTON, Ky. — Invariably book reviews are written about books which already have been published. However, here is a review of a book which has not been written—but one which many Kentuckians hope will be written sometime.

Historian friends of William H. Townsend, Lexington attorney and nationally-known Lincoln authority, long have urged him to write a biography of Cassius M. Clay.

Clay, the famous third-cousin of Henry Clay, it is felt generally that Townsend is probably the proper contemporary Kentuckian to undertake such a work since his Cassius Clay collection rivals even his Lincoln material.

Yet, few Lexington historians realized the full scope of Townsend's study of "The Old Lion of White Hall" prior to a talk he gave recently before a history honorary society at the University of Kentucky.

He left little doubt there as to his capability to write the full story of the man who is perhaps the most colorful of all Kentuckians.

Many hitherto unknown facts of Clay's life have been uncovered by Townsend, and some of these throw new light on Kentucky history of that day. With his usual sharp wit, Townsend delighted his audience of historians with events of Clay's life.

Among these was an account of how James Lane Allen, a young Lexington newspaper reporter who later achieved literary fame, covered the wedding of Clay, then in his 80's, and the 15-year-old daughter of Clay's tenant. Details of the ceremony performed at Clay's home near Richmond, were not available to Kentuckians of the present day before Townsend began his study.

Descriptions of Clay's anti-slavery speeches were included in Townsend's remarks. Standard equipment which the abolitionist placed in full view of his audience, as related by Townsend, included the constitution, "for those who respect the law of man," the Bible, "for those who respect the law of God," and two black-buried pistols, "for those who respect neither."

As a result of this talk, most of Townsend's audience are hoping that his law practice won't prevent him from writing this book in the next few years.

Three Floyd Seniors Receive Berya Degrees

Three of the 132 Berya College students who received degrees June 1, are Floyd graduates.

One of the three, Gene Howard Boyd, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Boyd, Prestonsburg, received the bachelor of science degree.

The others, Miss Marjorie Martin, Easton, daughter of C. B. Martin, and Miss Betty Lou Stephens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Stephens, Prestonsburg, received the degree of bachelor of arts.

Congressman Walter H. Judd, of Minnesota, was the commencement speaker.

Bear Facts-

By PAUL BRYANT
Urb. Kestell Coach

LEXINGTON, Ky. — Some of the leading supporters of the strange talk about de-emphasis of athletics have gone to great lengths to emphasize pointing up what they call the "bear" features of our athletic programs at our university. I understand one learned authority even has suggested the approach of having a stable of horses to represent a variety of inter-collegiate athletics.

It seems to me that all such talk borders on the ridiculous, understood in fact and even theoretically insensate. And the occasion of examination week here at the University of Kentucky provides an excellent opportunity to briefly point out some of the facts which readily dispute such talk.

Spice will not allow a complete rebuttal, but I believe one of the biggest arguments in favor of a major athletic program is that it affords an opportunity for advanced study to a very large number of boys who otherwise would never have been able to attend a university because of financial reasons.

And, as I have often pointed out, it is my firm conviction that athletics have just as much or more effect of university study as do non-athletes. We have found in football, for example, that the boys study harder and get more out of their studies (both higher-grade and general knowledge) during the season than when there is no competition to keep certain minds keen.

Of course, there are always key players on the borderline of passing or failing and the coaches sweat out their grades just like the boys themselves. We believe that the smarter athlete is a bigger asset to his team and will win more often than the "poor" player who is equal in ability and desire, but not as smart. This, we are certain, also will hold true in later life.

Contrasting to the coach and providing the emphasis in arguments against de-emphasis is the fact that there are a lot of athletes studying who we never have to worry about. Among these are the following footballers: Tommie Adams, football business administration; Roy Callahan, Leamon, education; Roy Correll, Somerset, agriculture; Bob Hardy, Paducah, forestry; Larry Hennessy, Paris, business administration; Ralph Padgett, New Castle, Pa., commerce; Bill Wheeler, Paducah, pre-medical; Tom Patton Owensboro, engineering; and Miles Willard, Vanderburg, Pa., physical education major and a "distinguished military student," about half several boys too numerous to mention.

"Sure, it has its faults, but what town hasn't?" comments Mr. Shaw. "We rather they like the people. And that taken are liked by the people."

Asked just why he feels about Prestonsburg as he does, Mr. Shaw said, "For one thing, it's this: It takes you a while to learn to know these folks, but once you do, you find that when you need a friend you'll never find this side of heaven find better friends than right here in Prestonsburg."

That'll do till a better reason comes along.

GAIN IN SCHOOL SPENDING OVER 5-YEAR PERIOD TOLD

LOUISVILLE, Ky. — Kentucky schools spent 77 per cent more money for current operating expenses in educating the State's youth in 1950-51 school year than in 1945-46. These figures were released today by the Kentucky Chamber of Commerce. The study revealed that operating expenses rose from $36,250,000 to $64,412,000 in the five-year period. The expense per pupil on average daily attendance jumped from $86 to $135 — an increase of 57 per cent from 1945-46 to 1950-51.

The survey, prepared by the Washington Research Office of the Kentucky Chamber of Commerce, shows comparative figures for all states. The study revealed that operating expenses for the entire U. S. rose from $2,707,000,000 in 1945-46 school year to $3,584,000,000 in 1950-51 school year — a national increase of 32 per cent. During the same period Kentucky's increase was 77 per cent. The average national expense per pupil on average daily attendance jumped from $136 to $142, or 65 per cent in the same period. A 57 per cent increase was registered in Kentucky.

The KCCO survey shows only five states which pay less per pupil in average daily attendance for current operating expenses. The five are Mississippi, $93; Arkansas, $117; Alabama, $126; South Carolina, $132; and Georgia, $133. Fourteen states registered smaller percentage gains than Kentucky.

The study pointed out that this is a record the States and localities have made on their own, not with federal aid. It added, "It is almost certain that current spending for schools is greater than it would have been under a federally assisted program. And equally important is the fact that control of education is still in local hands with no federal strings attached."

Reviewing the effects of so-called "poor" states, the study reported that eight southern states increased their per pupil expenditure 70 per cent or more in the period compared, whereas the average increase for the nation was 65 per cent.

Noting that advocates of federal aid to education "now believe the scope of federal aid can be driven home by the championing the use of federal funds to erect new schools and expand additional facilities," the study also showed that the states themselves have substantially increased expenditures for school facilities every year since the end of the war. It said:

"From a national total of $111,000,000 in the school year 1945-46 they rose to $204,730,000 in 1946-47, $312,467,000 in 1947-48, $363,917,000 in 1948-49, $104,176,000 in 1949-50, and $123,068,000 in 1950-51. This upward trend is likely to be accelerated with the improved materials and labor supply situation which can be expected when national defense spending begins to recede."

Homer Childers, Lookout, Faces Trial in Pike-co. On Woman-Murder Charge

PIKEVILLE, Ky. June 9 — Homer Childers, 19, Lookout, will be tried here in November on charges of murder in the death of Mrs. Josephine Childers, 44, wife of Homer Childers, also of Lookout, on July 18, 1949.

The case was continued today in Circuit Court due to the absence of defense witnesses now serving in the armed forces. Childers' $5,000 bond was continued.

The 38-year-old Mrs. Childers was killed by a shotgun blast. Childers, who was 18 at the time, said he had been squirrel hunting and had fired twice into a bush thinking a movement he saw was made by a squirrel. He said when he ran to the spot to retrieve his gun, he found Mrs. Childers wounded critically. She died a few minutes later.

and races of the globe. I want them to realize that the entire world is their responsibility and that America is safe only as the entire globe is safe. I am depending on my newspaper friends to get other colleges to install their students with this same global point of view."

Mr. Hanson said in a prepared statement:

"I feel that newspaper publishers have not been appreciated when they are entitled to far greater respect and consideration. They certainly are more important to the future of America than are the bankers, the manufacturers, and the shopkeepers. Newspapers not only have the opportunity of guiding their nation's leaders, but they are a great factor in electing the right leaders. The advertising columns of these papers determine the employment conditions of the country while the editorial writers determine largely what the preachers and teachers say."

When I mention newspapers I include everyone connected with them, including the workmen who cut the trees; the mill workers who turn logs into pulp; and the paper and ink, the printers and their reporters, writers and printers; and, in fact, all employees, including the boys and girls who deliver the papers. Yes, and I must not forget the advertisers, without whom our whole industrial system might collapse. To all these I am dedicating this — The World's Largest Daily at Melvin, Ky.

Mounting Airpower Costs
Unjustified, Expert Holds

(In Reader's Digest Article)

Stamford, N. Y. — Costs of military aviation have skyrocketed in the past few years, and for one-third of all tax money collected by the federal government, the War Department is now spending more on aircraft than on all other military equipment, according to a study by the War Department's own experts, published in the June Reader's Digest.

Behind these excessive costs is the fact that every pound of equipment added to an airplane means nine pounds more airplane to carry it. This added weight averages in cost about $40 a pound. Electronic equipment is overloading modern planes. Bomb devices are installed even if their use might be limited to five minutes in 100 hours of flight. If a new gadget may fail in a crisis, a standby is put in. Each gadget needs a control, each control needs an automatic regulator, each regulator needs a warning light to show when it is working.

Partly because of such complex equipment, today's single-seat fighters weigh almost as much as yesterday's two-seat fighters. In bombers, both size and cost have mushroomed. The new B-36 jet bomber will cost $40,000,000, after development expenses. The modern bombardier, with all its accessories, weighs a ton; the Norden bombsight of World War II weighed 50 pounds. Today's bombsight weighs 30 miles of electric wire and thousands of electronic tubes.

The Russians get along without many of our devices, Langenscheidt says, and our own pilots are beginning to question the need for much present-day equipment.

Not only is the cost of airplane getting out of hand, but our national inventive genius is being stifled by administrative red tape, the article charges. "Our Research and Development spend produces data by the ton but a few new basic ideas. Our system has become cumbersome, with too many non-research minds in research, too many administrators in engineering. Though our planes are bigger, more complex and more expensive, our position as preeminent in military aviation has been taken by the British.

Magazine Article Pleads
Need of Conservation

"I love my rocks and hills, my woods and temples hills." So runs one of our most popular national songs.

I have seen Americans stand and stare at the Grand Canyon with tears of emotion in their eyes and selfish emotion in their hearts. But I just don't believe it. The more I see of our blasted rocks, cut and burned woods, and leveled hills the more convinced I am that the average American has no consideration for them whatsoever. Or if he does, he is more apathetically unmoved by the destruction around him.

We love wealth, prosperity, and growth. We take pride in a high standard of living. We thrill to automatic gadgets, deep freezers, and jet planes. We boast of a mechanical, electrical, atomic civilization wrapped up in a package labeled "Liberty, Democracy, and the Pursuit of Happiness—Bland with Care." There may be a super-streamlined "Frankenstein" inside. But God bless America. We love it. However, there is another America. It is under our feet. It is around us. It is the land we live on: the forests, hills, valleys, mountains, and deserts we took from the Indians.

Do we love this America too? Well, maybe. But it looks to me as if we were so dissatisfied with its general appearance and arrangement that we are trying to change everything about it in the shortest possible time.

For all over the country powerful interests, representing themselves as the majority, are clanging in, bent on despoiling and cluttering every last vestige of original America. Although national parks preserve less than one per cent of our land in perennial condition, even dams are proposed for four of them, and lumbermen demand the finest forests in a fifth. National forests provide less than one per cent of the nation's cattle-feed requirements, yet embanked stockmen are asking for the forests as their private preserve. Miners and sheepmen want the national monuments, game parks are succumbing to commercial interests. Marshes are drained, lakes emptied, and predators exterminated so that wildlife suffers from unbalance. Each year thousands are enlisted in the battle to preserve the wilderness, and the character of our country. But they are still woefully in the minority.

The front-line "Unionism of the Revolution" fought at Lexington and Concord for the America they loved. These historic patriots won against great odds. It can be done again. But don't wait for orders. Start firing now! Join the present-day patriots by thinking, talking, reading, and creating. The importance of CONSERVATION. God bless America—and let's save some of it—Weldon P. Heald in "The Living Wilderness."

Webster county homemakers used about 300 pounds of hog kong and credit on great in waving seats for 180 chairs and stools.

SPORTS AFIELD

The sportsman preparing to buy a binocular is confronted with a confusing problem. He is faced with hundreds of specifications, makes, models and prices. Even if he goes the binocular and takes a quick look through them he can't detect everything on the inside.

Pete Brown, associate editor of Sports Afield magazine and expert on guns and games, has examined hundreds of binoculars and has talked to a lot of binocular geeks. He has examined binoculars he has interviewed a number of repairmen to get their ideas and he reports that he has yet to find anyone who has seen, tested or repaired all or even nearly all of the various binoculars on the market.

Seeing one binocular is not sufficient. One must see a number of general in regard to construction in general. In addition to the possibility of getting hold of a particularly good one of a generally poor make, and vice versa, there is the possibility that a manufacturer has greatly improved his product since the last time you saw one. Frequently, it is futile and decidedly unfair to try to list the hundreds of binoculars and evaluate them. The purpose of this article is to give you some up-to-date data on all binoculars is to be found anywhere.

In general, from what I have seen, the American-made binoculars are the finest on the market today. Some German binoculars are very good. English binoculars in general are well made, but the majority of the imported French binoculars are cheaply made and not what you call good glasses. Japanese binoculars are the most controversial. Some call them junk, others praise them highly. The answer, of course, is that some of the Japanese imports are good values and give good performance while others are poor throughout.

You should buy a binocular in much the same manner in which you would make a careful purchase of a good watch. Both are lifetime investments, you might say. In the final analysis you had best on the reputation of the manufacturer of the dealer. If you don't know of a manufacturer, then rely on a dealer who knows his product inside and out and has the reputation for being reliable. It is also worth knowing if you can get repairs and replacement parts in case of breakdown.

Installed As Moderator Of Presbyterian Youth

Bill Baker Burke, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Burke, Prestonsburg, was installed last week as moderator of Presbyterian youth in Area Five which embraces all Presbyterian churches in southeastern Kentucky. He, William Ernest Osborne and Dennis Lynn Smiley attended the Area Youth Conference held at Blackey, Ky., June 1-8. They were accompanied by Mrs. Orville Pearson, who served on the conference staff.

Mrs. E. R. Burke, Mrs. Frank H. Layne and Mrs. Orville Pearson will represent the Prestonsburg Presbyterian Church at the summer training school of the South to be held in Maryville, Tenn. June 15-21.

An estimate of the damage suffered by Meade and McCurry was unavailable.

Kross Turner said he had completed installation of improved equipment and redecoration of the theatre only a few days ago. Origin of the fire could not be fixed, although the belief was expressed that it may have been caught from electric wiring.

The Martin fire department on its arrival at McDowell met difficulty in finding a source of water, but volunteers firefighters fall to with shovels and hose to dam up death-dealing Left Beaver Creek to form a pool from which to pump.

Mr. Burke said plans for deepening the lake will not affect the proposed program of the Department of Fish & Wildlife Resources to do plantings in the area for migratory waterfowl. The dam was closed now to impound additional water, it is doubtful if the additional feet could be gained during the summer, it was said.

Chambers and Perkins expressed satisfaction at news of the Engineers' decision. They said raising the level of the lake by five feet would increase its recreational values and improve fish propagation. Local interests in Pike, Floyd, and Johnson counties are solidly behind the proposal, they added.

Furkins said 4,000 persons daily attend the reservoir area and that it is the only public improvement in Eastern Kentucky affording recreation to all the people.

appropriated for education at all levels for the coming fiscal year. That leaves $2,000,000 more to be paid down later in all departments.

Out of that $1,975,000 lost in the fiscal year is the common school fund loss $1,014,000, and that is the amount which was designed to increase the equalization fund next fiscal year to $6,367,500 from this year's $5,352,500. The per capita fund will stand unchanged.

"This is where we would be hit," commented Superintendent Turner. The equalization fund appropriated to the needy counties will be the fund to set the cut, if there is any, and Floyd county is in that group.

Even if there is no cut in equalization below the present figure, the funding program will be affected materially, Mr. Turner said. He has hoped to build some lunch rooms and to do some consolidation of schools, but he said that the increased equalization fund will be exhausted with the present situation.

The county board's capital outlay fund will be exhausted with the present situation, Mr. Turner expressed the belief the cut-back will not affect teachers' salaries. "But we don't know," he added, "we want to hold salaries at least to their present level, but this, of course, will depend on what comes out of the situation."

The Governor ordered the budget cut to keep within anticipated revenues. The five state colleges and the University of Kentucky will lose the extra money the new budget would have given them. It will cost U. S. $250,000, Western State College $20,000, Eastern $22,000, Murray $23,000, Morehead $18,000, and Kentucky State College $17,000.

Other cancelled increases for education in 1953-54 include $9,300 for West Kentucky Vocational Training School, $8,000 for the School for the Blind, $10,000 for the Kentucky State School, $6,000 for the schools for the deaf, and $108,000 for the teacher-retirement system.

The Department of Welfare, which operates the state prisons, handles probation, and parole matters and child welfare, will lose the $25,000 increase it would have gotten from the 1953-54 budget.

The Department of Mental Health, which operates the four mental institutions, suffers a $300,000 cut—$75,000 each for Eastern, Western, Central, and Kentucky State Hospitals.

The Department of Health loses $50,000 in increases it would have gotten from the 1953-54 budget. Of this total, $106,000 is in administrative funds, $175,000 in county health-unit funds, and $25,000 from the Medical Research Commission. The tuberculosis sanatoria at Madisonville, Paducah, Hazlewood, Ashland, London, and Glasgow will suffer a total loss of $42,000. The Department of Economic Security will be out only $25,000 in this first cut.

Among the general government agencies, those scheduled to receive budget increases, now cancelled, are attorney general $20,000, treasurer $15,000, finance $19,200, revenue $61,700, aeronautics $2,000, state police $37,300.

Pike-co. Jailer Indicted On 15 Separate Charges; Goodman Alleges Enmity

Judge Lucy Goodman of Pike county, who is a candidate for sheriff, was indicted 15 times by the Pike county grand jury last Saturday. Six cases were for negligently permitting prisoners to escape, three were for malfeasance in office and six for either false swearing or negligently assisting. The five men and the woman permitted to escape jail were also named in separate indictments, charged with escaping custody.

The false swearing indictments against the jailer grew out of his testimony before the grand jury this week. He swore that none of the six had been permitted to run at large over the city of Pikeville while under sentence.

The malfeasance indictments charged that Goodman "collected" from Pike county certain sums "for boarding and detaining" three prisoners who were at large when they were supposed to have been in jail. Those indictments charged further that the jailer "did attempt" to change the books and records kept by the jailer to fraudulently conceal his illegal collections.

All of the prisoners mentioned in the indictments had been sentenced to jail for misdemeanors. Their terms ranged from 30 to 90 days. A candidate for the Democratic nomination for sheriff, Goodman said he was not guilty of any of the charges against him. "The foreman and various members of the grand jury," he said, "are not only my personal enemies but my political enemies as well. The indictments against me are a result of bias and prejudice."

Kiwanis-Sponsored Bouts By T-V Wrestling Stars Attended by Large Crowd

The wrestling matches sponsored by the Kiwanis Club here Tuesday night at the athletic field were attended by a crowd of about 1,500 to see Don Arnold and Ruffy Silverstein wrestle to a draw and the red-head, Joyce Reed, disqualified in her bout with Violet Vanni.

Only two of the anticipated bouts materialized, due to the absence of Jules Laranza who was slated to wrestle Lou Klein. The draw bout between Arnold and Silverstein went the full hour, with one fall credited to each. Arnold's knocking Silverstein out of the ring was the highlight of the bout.

The Ford-Vanni bout went about 20 minutes of the slated 45 minutes. Arch Turner, referee, had a rough time. At one time as he knelt to observe the legality of a hold, he was pinned under the wrestling girls and had to wrestle his own way out. It was only after Joyce Ford had shoved Vanni out of the ring three times and topped it off by doing the same to Arch Turner that she was disqualified.

It was said confidently that the gate take was approximately $1,000. Herbert L. Ley, who attended to the financial end of the bouts, cannot say yet what the net proceeds of the matches will be. However, a government amusement tax of 20 percent and a take of 60 percent by the T-V wrestling stars will leave a lot less than the gross take.

The matches were for the benefit of the Girl Scouts and underprivileged children.

mainly $4,800 has been contributed during the Red Cross fund drive, a figure far short of the $9,500 quota assigned the county. The communities of Whitesburg and Wayland and a part of Prestonburg, have not reported however, and these are being depended upon to add substantially to the county total.

SOIL CONSERVATION By L. R. JOHNSON Soil Conservation Service

William M. Diagus and son, Philip, have completed 750 feet of tile. The field is dry now and they can grow corn or anything on the field. It is needless to say they are well pleased.

Ernest Raffitt, of Turkey Creek community, has just completed his second field of drainage. He installed 300 feet of tile.

Luther and Lawrence Hicks, of the same community, are planning to do tile drainage in the near future.

The supervisors of Floyd county Soil Conservation district advocate draining wet land to develop good pasture, good woods and more permanent meadows.

It pays to plan and then do. If you are interested in soil conservation see one of the supervisors or contact L. R. Johnson, Box 428, Prestonburg, Ky.

Thomas Joel Martin, 71, Succumbs at Fallsburg; Was Native of Floyd-co.

Thomas Joel Martin, 71, a former resident of the Johns Creek section of this county, but living at the time of his death at Fallsburg, died at 8:30 a.m. Friday of last week at his home. Injuries received in an automobile wreck on May 18 near Fallsburg was given as the cause of death.

Mr. Martin was born here Feb. 20, 1882, a son of the late Joel David and Mary McDouly Martin. He was married to Josephine Corbett Martin who survives.

Surviving also are three daughters, Mrs. Henry Music, Prestonburg, Mrs. W. T. Lafferty, Allen, and Mrs. Otto Blackburn, Woods. Three sons, James and T. J. of Van Lear and Joel David, of Ashland survive also besides 31 grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

Funeral rites were conducted at the home, Sunday, the Rev. Grover Fanning, officiating. Burial was in the Martin cemetery at Fallsburg.

NOTICE Should E. Allen be filed application with the Floyd County Court for roadside license in the operation at Wayland of Allen's Grocery.

LACK OF JOB BALANCE HURTING COAL REGION

Special to The Times

Frankfort, Ky., June 8 — The coal region in the area, according to the report. Mining employment in eastern Kentucky declined by 24 per cent since mining payrolls by 20 per cent in the two-year period 1950-1952. This compares with a nine per cent increase in all jobs covered by Unemployment Insurance in the state during the period and a 24.5 per cent increase in wages in the state as a whole.

Aggravating this lack of balance is a steady decline of employment and payrolls in the mining industry. In the counties studied, the report says. The report covers Harlan, Perry, Floyd, Letcher, Blount, Pike, Mingo, Johnson, Bell, Knott, Leslie and Martin counties and says that there is only a smattering of jobs available in manufacturing industries. Since 1948, mining jobs have been steadily dwindling in nearly all counties in the area, according to the report. Mining employment in eastern Kentucky declined by 24 per cent since mining payrolls by 20 per cent in the two-year period 1950-1952. This compares with a nine per cent increase in all jobs covered by Unemployment Insurance in the state during the period and a 24.5 per cent increase in wages in the state as a whole.

DRIFT

WOMAN'S CLUB MEETS

The Drift Woman's Club held its June 1 meeting at the home of Mrs. Dick Showers. A brief report on the kindergarten was made by Mrs. Claude Martin. It has enrolled 17 pupils and will run for four weeks, after which it will be decided whether or not to hold another term in July and August. Mrs. Claude Martin is teaching the kindergarten. Bible School, under the direction of Mrs. Prestonburg Presbyterian Church, will be held from July 6 to 17 at the Drift school. Amendments to the constitution were read and will be voted upon at the next business meeting which will be the third Monday in July. It was again announced that members should bring 25¢ dues for Korea, and Greece to the next meeting which will be a program meeting at the Turner-Elliott office building, with Mrs. Claude Martin as hostess.

The new officers were installed by the district governor, Mrs. O. J. Williams, and a whole discussion was presented to each outgoing and incoming officer. A gift was also presented to the outgoing president, Mrs. Ruby Akers. Mrs. Akers then took charge of the meeting. Mrs. Alvin Reed and Miss Jackie Hall gave excellent reports on the KKK convention in Louisville. A link on the Federation was given by Miss Alice Williams, corresponding secretary of the district. She said "The Federation gives greater strength to accomplish common ends, broader vision, and the inspiration of united effort." She also gave three main reasons for federating: education, representation, and contacts.

The new president announced the appointments of the various departmental and standing committees. Chairmen of these are as follows: Public Welfare, Mrs. H. D. Hewlett; Education, Mrs. Alvin Reed; American Homes, Mrs. W. L. Reed; International Relations and Safety, Mrs. F. T. Jones and Mrs. Dick Showers; Spiritual Life and Fine Arts, Miss Catherine Reed; Youth Conservation, Mrs. Alan Reed; Americanism, Mrs. O. J. J. Cahill; Program, Miss Betty Turner; By-Laws, Mrs. Joe C. Moore; Scrapbook, Mrs. Lloyd Slumbo; Press and Publicity, Mrs. Rex Ankrom. Mrs. Williams presented the club with a 100% Honor Certificate for the second consecutive year. The delegates were unable to remain at the Louisville convention to receive the award there.

A salad course was served to Messdames C. J. Cahill, Oliver Elam, Bobby Hall, H. D. Hewlett, Claude Martin, Joe C. Moore, Alan Reed, Alvin Reed, Ward Reed, Lloyd Slumbo, Fred Cochran, Rex Ankrom, Dick Showers, and O. J. FLOYD COUNTY DEMANDS GOOD GOVERNMENT

II. OUR NEED FOR A GOOD SHERIFF

Last week I talked to you about deputy sheriffs and now I proposed to administer law enforcement in this county. This week I want to discuss a matter that at first blush has little to do with law enforcement but does have a lot to do with making Floyd county a better place in which to live.

To begin with we are living in a county with a declining economy. Our coal fields are in the doldrums as never before since the depression. The Courier-Journal carried an article recently in which it was said that 7,000 miners in Eastern Kentucky lost their jobs last year. Our young men and women are leaving for other states. Is there anything the office of sheriff can do to make Floyd county a better place to live? There is.

To begin with Floyd county needs small industry. It needs little factories in our towns to keep our young people here for work. But men with money are not attracted to a section except a section that has promise. Like the men who created the towns of David and Wheelwright, to mention only two, they want model communities in an atmosphere of good living and good life.

The sheriff's office can assist in giving that to a county. The first impression of a county is often through its sheriff department. The office can develop for the county it serves a good neighbor policy with other counties and with men who visit us or who come to see the possibilities of industrial development. This is just one of the details of the office that the old-line sheriff had no cognizance of nor cared. But a new day must be brought to this county and the whole united will of the people and their officers must be enlisted to assist. This is a part of my platform.

BASEBALL-STARRING HALLS CONFUSE SPORTS WRITER

Editor's note: Although Wheelwright's school baseball team lost in the quarter-finals of the state tournament at Louisville last week, Newport, Catholic, the Floyd County school and its coaching staff, and I can also say it is a shame that we Floyd County have to leave our homes in order to find work.

My home is at Princeton, Ky. which once was a mining town, but now a dead hole. We were forced to leave our home for a two-room apartment and couldn't have got it if we had any children. But still we have to be called hill-billies and have our state talked about because we are forced to leave home for work.

There are so many large and small factories here, why can't we have some back home, so men won't have to leave their families or bring their children and have to live in basements or an attic and at that have no privileges at all for their children?

While reading in the Detroit News where they were criticizing us, saying that before we left the school to come here we had to eat molasses and corn bread, I then after we got a few dollars then we were ready to go back, then say never will I set foot in Detroit again. Just as soon as our money was gone and we were back on corn bread and molasses back to Detroit we would come.

That's the way we are talked about, but can you blame them? No, for we do have to leave home. So I am saying, as Mrs. Perrell says, we have said, why don't they wake up in Floyd county, so we all can come back home and be so near to our friends and relatives for a week-end but always?

MISS SADIE HALBERT
Detroit, Mich.

TO CANDIDATES:

Having read most of your campaign promises, I am convinced Floyd county needs all the help you can give. In my opinion, none of you have said how you are going to accomplish any of these things. (Promises without foundation mean nothing.)

Here is how I think some of these things can be accomplished. First, you must have money. To get money, you get to have taxes. To have taxes, the people must have income and for that they must work. In other words, the answer is industry. This cannot be done by refunding an authorized fee or proclaiming yourself honest and of good stock.

I think it can be done. If every body works hard and together, appoint a committee for purpose of soliciting new business and spend your extra money from free to advertise in newspapers of the larger cities, industrial magazines, etc.

You will encounter many problems such as water and sewer facilities. The larger of your problems will be the people of Floyd County. The policy of many people is "You give me the job or I'll smoke you out." That is a very ignorant way of thinking. I will give my opinion on anything and have the people who care to ask for it.

This letter is not intended to influence any voters or discredit any candidate in any way.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

THE OLD QUESTION—AGAIN

I have been reading the letters to the editor in the Floyd County Times, and I can also say it is a shame that we Floyd County have to leave our homes in order to find work.

My home is at Princeton, Ky. which once was a mining town, but now a dead hole. We were forced to leave our home for a two-room apartment and couldn't have got it if we had any children. But still we have to be called hill-billies and have our state talked about because we are forced to leave home for work.

There are so many large and small factories here, why can't we have some back home, so men won't have to leave their families or bring their children and have to live in basements or an attic and at that have no privileges at all for their children?

While reading in the Detroit News where they were criticizing us, saying that before we left the school to come here we had to eat molasses and corn bread, I then after we got a few dollars then we were ready to go back, then say never will I set foot in Detroit again. Just as soon as our money was gone and we were back on corn bread and molasses back to Detroit we would come.

That's the way we are talked about, but can you blame them? No, for we do have to leave home. So I am saying, as Mrs. Perrell says, we have said, why don't they wake up in Floyd county, so we all can come back home and be so near to our friends and relatives for a week-end but always?

22 Students from Floyd Enter Pikeville College; 15 in Teachers Course

Thirteen young Floyd county women and nine men are among the 22 students registered for the first term of summer school at Pikeville Junior College, it was announced this week.

Fifteen of the 22 Floyd students are enrolled in the teachers course at Pikeville. Dr. A. A. Page, college president, said. Others are registered for business, pre-engineering, scientific, pre-medical and general arts courses.

Of the 50 teachers-to-be now studying at Pikeville, nine are from Floyd county. The teachers course is expected to complete the two-year course for the provisional elementary certificate this summer. They will bring to almost 100 the number of "legal teachers" graduated there in the past year, since it qualified for the certificate this spring, Dr. Page said.

The summer certificate winners will be in the last group to earn the teaching permit before the requirements are raised this fall to include four years of college work. Johnson, Martin, Pike and Leitcher counties, Kentucky, and Wayne and Kanawha counties, West Virginia, also are represented among the summer students at Pikeville.

TIDBITS OF KENTUCKY FOLKLORE

By GORDON WILSON, Ph.D.
Western Kentucky Teachers College Bowling Green, Ky.

"I'M NOT SUPERSTITIOUS, BUT . . ."

In the series of tidbits that my readers have recently written about folklore in their own lives, I often found some such statement as this: "Of course, I am not superstitious, but I do think of signs when I see them. Maybe it is half in fun." It would be a real achievement of a psychiatrist to separate the actual superstitions from those who merely remember superstitions, somewhat nonchalantly. As I am not such a specialist, I will not attempt to make such an analysis. However, suppose we try to test ourselves if the questions I ask mean absolutely nothing to you, you are devoid of those superstitions, at least. However, if I were wise enough, I might keep on until I uncovered in your life some areas where superstition is very much alive.

Suppose we start with night. Are you equally as brave after dark as you are in broad daylight? Do night noises register in the same fashion as day noises? Is there nothing about the hoot of an owl that arouses in you a sort of strange feeling that approaches fear? If you do, how do you pay no attention to the hooting? If cats yowl in tones that suggest human voices, do you just accept this as a matter of course? When you are driving your car along at night, do you get no foolish thrill when the headlights show the gleaming eyes of some variant? And if left to your own devices, would you walk through dense woods as slowly after midnight as you would in the daytime?

How about luck? Is thirteen no more powerful than twelve or fourteen? Do you ever invite guests in such a fashion that there will be thirteen at the table? If you forget something and go back after it, do you perform some act to neutralize your luck or, at least, think about doing it? And, by all means, does a black cat mean nothing when it rubs across your road or path? Is Friday the thirteenth just another day? And would you dare to be married in some off-color, one that appears in rhymes, like:

"Married in red;
You'll wish yourself dead;
Or married in yellow;
Ashamed of your fellow?"

Now let's look at the weather. Is a katydid just a katydid, or a weather prophet? Have you ever kept a record of the first note of the katydid to determine whether frost will come early or late that season? Are corn shocks merely to cover up the ears, or do they hold secrets of what is to be in the following season? I would you risk losing all your meat for the winter by slaughtering your stock for the winter? And would you plant just anything in the field or garden when the ground was dry enough without realising the phase of the moon or the signs of the zodiac?

Now that your potatoes and corn

and be sure

You take a guess every time you turn up a flame. It can be too high or too low . . . you're never really sure. Not so with electric cooking.

For every top-of-the-range job from a slow simmer to a high boil there's a heat that's scientifically right. You set the control and your electric range does the rest. Oven cooking is just as easy—just as accurate.

Why guess when you can be sure? Everyday 3123 families switch to electric cooking. You'll like it better, too—see your electric appliance dealer real soon.

Floyd County Historical Notes

By HENRY P. SCALF

A letter comes to this column that recalls vividly the bitterness of the hand. You may recall this letter of Mark Twain who asked from the Lord of all the most terrible retribution upon the enemy that the mind of man could conceive. The prayer of Twain was in protest of war, the written letter is of the letter that made the agency itself. It is written upon stationary, widely used in the North during the Civil War. A design of the earth, the United States of America on the side, the Goddess of Liberty standing behind it holding aloft a torch. Behind it all the rising sun glows in blue and gold.

It is quoted almost in entirety below: "Notre Township, Shelby county, Indiana. Direct your letter to Wilburn P. Stanbery, Walden, Shelby county, Indiana."

"January the 27th, 1862. "Dear Brother-in-law, Dear Sir, I take the now offering opportunity sending you a few lines to let you know that we are all well at the present. Hoping that these few lines may find you enjoying good health. I have just received yours of December the 3rd 1862 which gave me great pleasure in hearing from you that was well and your family also. I have strangle to write to you at this time the health of this country is tolerable good at this time. Money plenty and every thing is high. Hogs are worth $3.00 and $3.50 per hundred gross. Whoops $1.00 per bushel. Corn from 30 to 40 cts. Potatoes 75 cts, ry 60 cents per bushel, beans $2.00 per bushel. Everything is high, groceries and cotton goods unreasonably high though money is plentiful and everything else but horses.

"We have sold all the horses that would go in to the army and some more than would do good but we have plenty of young ones coming on. Fight on John till the last man. Reebel is dead and in hell and the Devil will make fun of them coming to hell on such a pretense as they have for trying to overthrow this government.

"Tell the boys generally that they have the prayers of all the good men, women and children and such as do not pray for the success of the Union Army and the downfall of the rebel aristocracy (aristocracy?) will have their lot in hell, lake of fire and brimstone that burns for ever and ever and if I should happen to be there I believe God will send me to keep live coals of fire on the traitors heads.

"You requested to give how I am getting along. I have eighty acres of land well improved and have plenty to live on. I got crippled 6 years ago this January that prevents me from tending my farm. I hire near all my plowing done. You speak of getting land here. There is land plenty here for sale from $30.00 to $50.00 per acre cash in hand. You may develop this letter or again and send it to John Stanbery or Ira Stanbery. If you would like to know their sentiment I must close my letter but remain your affectionate Brother and Sister until death.

"To John Hammons, From Wilburn P. Stanbery and Hannah Stanbery, Right soon and direct to John Walton, Shelby County, Indiana."

Such is the letter and the prayer of Wilburn Stanbery.

EASTERN

Mr. and Mrs. Hollie Conley attended the Moore-Dobyns wedding at Paintsville, Sunday evening. Luella Martin left Monday to attend summer school at Eastern State College. She will be graduated at the end of summer school.

HOMER WICKER for COUNTY COURT CLERK

Sometime ago I announced for the office of County Court Clerk. Since that time I have received assurance of support from all sections of the county and this assurance of support has come not merely from my own relatives but from many people who are not related by blood or marriage. This support, all of it, is deeply appreciated, and I want to take this means to pledge you an efficient, and courteous administration of the office.

I was born on Night Beaver Creek, the son of William Wicker and Millie Davis Wicker of Lackey. My father's people were among the early settlers of Beaver Creek and by blood and marriage this family is connected with several of the many families of this county. My grandfather was Jesse Wicker and grandmother was Eliza Hayes Wicker.

I am a brother to Dr. M. V. Wicker of Wayland. Two sisters of mine, Mrs. Huey Hayes and Mrs. Louis Jones live at Garrett. I have people living in many other small towns and precincts of this county and these people, as I have said with many other people, have offered me their support.

I married Virgie Fitzpatrick, daughter of Cleve and Fanny Watkins Fitzpatrick of Maytown. Her people are the Allens, Howards, Stephens, Terrys, Mossers, Halls, Mullins, Bradleys, Webbs, Jacksons and many others of good old Floyd County names.

I am related myself to the families of Hayes, Hall, Johnson, Inman, Riddle, Chellins, Howard, Conley, Davis, Sizemore, Adams, Campbell, Stephens, Musleys and Hicks.

Homer Wicker endorsed for Clerk by Dr. M. V. Wicker

I want to take this opportunity to ask my friends in Floyd county to support my brother, Homer Wicker of Prestonsburg, for County Court Clerk.

He is qualified for the position, is honest and sober, will offer the people the courteous and efficient service they are entitled to have in the Clerk's office. Any support extended him will be appreciated.

Yours Sincerely,
DR. M. V. WICKER,

been blessed, and through my voluntary work other have been blessed. I have seen how many have been cured themselves.

God has caused spiders to write, mules to talk, dogs to bark, birds to talk, and suddenly to prove God is moving in a miraculous way to make believers out of ungodly men and nations.

Seven Special Blessings

Promised Abraham

Genesis 12:1. I will make thee a great nation and I will bless thee and make thy name great, and thou shalt be a blessing, and I will bless them that bless thee and curse him that curseth thee, and in thee shall all families of the earth be blessed.

You see, that did not leave me out.

Talking male (Numbers 22:28) surely did halt the false prophet, and it was a she-mule.

Spider works in king's palace and is exceeding wise and taketh hold with her hands. (Proverbs 30:38)

Wise man Solomon said, Let us hear the conclusion of the whole matter. Fear God and keep His commandments. For this is the whole duty of man.

It is the whole hog or none with me!

Sometime ago I saw a precious Democrat friend of mine in high authority, he and his wife, looking at a clean-groomed boy not cut. The man spoke to his wife and said, "Give the knife to Eva Meade Hall and let her cut it up. She knows how."

This was a vision and a good one. I always helped my father on the farm. In the blacksmith shop, behind the bell sheep—we always put the bells on the ewes.

To you United Mine Workers, you know I pray for you and your great labor leader, John L. Lewis. I named my little grandson John L. Meade in honor of your great leader, at a time when John L. Meade takes up the work of his grandfather and labor leaders.

People cannot understand my writing, being so personal. It is all individual, not selling anything, not begging for anything except TRUTH and JUSTICE. I give to others as God gives to me. I have presented the King James version of the Bible to the widow of my heavenly father, Mrs. John C. Hall, Prestonburg, Ky. To the wife of the man who killed my husband I presented a white Bible. To great multitude of graduates I have presented white Bibles and Bibles to members of my household who all now have homes of their own; to my mother, nieces, nephews and soldiers Heart Shield Testaments; Bibles to sons of pastors, merchants, miners and farmers, also to postmistresses at East McDowell and to some Boy Scouts.

In 1946, with divine guidance, I sent my first-class mail two students Bibles to my special witnesses, County Judge Henry Blum and County Attorney Woodrow Burdett. You see, I am deeply interested in the spiritual and material welfare of our nation, state and county, and especially East McDowell, Ky. where I have a permanent home. I am a homemaker and homemaker, a specialized prophetic, watchwoman and judge.

I prove all my points as I travel the straight and narrow way. I walk slow not I never do walk backwards.

Sincerely and prayerfully,
EVA MEADE HALL

Robert Honder, of Stratton, Va., was visiting here during the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Adams and children motored to Allen, Sunday evening.

CHICAGO — Chicago narcotics detectives made a dope raid and seized a man who confessed to taking $19,000 in jewels in a burglary of singing star Johnny Johnson's New York apartment. Detectives broke into an apartment, found empty dope capsules and arrested Harold Leffkowitz, 23, and his wife, Darlene, 23, Leffkowitz said he and a man he named as Larry Kay, 25, took the jewels last June. They belonged to Johnson's wife, hotel heiress Shirley Carmel. He said he sold his share of the loot to a "fence" for $3,200.

... In Fisher Body Quality! It's the only Body by Fisher in the low-price field. And now it's even more outstanding in styling, in comfort and convenience, in quality.

... In High-Compression Power! Most powerful engine in its field with 7.5 to 1 compression ratio—the new 115-h.p. "Blue-Flame" engine with Powerglide. Advanced 108-h.p. high-compression "Thrill-King" engine in grand old models.

... Powerglide and Power Steering! Powerglide is the newest, most advanced automatic transmission in its field. Power Steering—another Chevrolet exclusive in its field—lets you steer with finger-tip ease.

... In Economy and Value! You go much further on every gallon of gas (regular, gas, at that). You save on over-all costs of operation and upkeep. Chevrolet is again the lowest-priced line in its field!

... In Popularity Leadership! Again this year—in every single postwar year—more people are buying Chevrolets than any other car. For the first 5 months alone, Chevrolet is over 20% ahead of the second-choice car. Nearly 2 million more people now drive Chevrolets than any other make.

*Optional at extra cost. Combination of Powerglide automatic transmission and 115-h.p. "Blue-Flame" engine available on "low-low" and "low" models only. Power Steering available on all models.

The striking new Bel Air 4-Door, one of its beautiful models in 3 great new series.
