Father, Son, and Holy Ghost—Three In One 3 Men, 3 Days, 3 Weeks And 3 Years

I am deeply interested in the story of the three men, the three days, the three weeks and the three years. It is a story of a man who was a judge of distinction anywhere he appeared, in the service of our beloved country the 3rd month, 3rd day, 1945. Twenty four years later, on the 3rd day of the 3rd month, he was reborn at Zachary Taylor National Cemetery, Louisville, Ky. I am holding up to you a picture of Dr. Judge Bert T. Combs whom I called my Bible Neighbor 1951. On Nov. 4, 1951 I was alone. A voice spoke to me and said, "Your neighbor will come to see you today," and about 2 p.m. I heard a knock on my door, and sure enough, it was Bert Combs. As well as I remember, two other men were in a car with him and did not come in. So when God calls a man my neighbor I fear no man to repeat it.

You know he was elected Judge of the high Court of Appeals, and on Nov. 2nd, 1953 he and two other men came to my house. I was looking for him, for I had a vision that Judge Bert T. Combs will visit you and told the day, and said, "And he is a judge that wears a badge of distinction anywhere he appears among the judges. And on Nov. 2nd, 1951 I read in the paper where he was in a hospital, stricken suddenly, and I got Nov. 3rd on my mind in 1954 and began to search for something about that date, and on the wall in this picture is the flag-raising at Camp Zachary Taylor, Nov. 3rd, 1917, and that is a date before I ever met the father of my beloved son, Sgt. Roy Hall, who was a World War I veteran.

Let's see now if I can make our leaders believe God and the Bible and that God surely has raised a man to work together as mother and son. In 1956 I had a vision and it was repeated and I am sure it came from God. That white spot of hair in the forehead of Judge Bert T. Combs is to make him remember you (myself) everyone he looks in a mirror.

Esaiel 9:1 — And the Lord said unto him, go through the midst of the city of Jerusalem and set a mark upon the forehead of the men that sigh and cry for all the abominations that be done in the midst thereof. Verse 8: And to the others he said, in mine hearing go ye after him through the city; let not your eye spare, neither have pity. Verse 6: Stay utterly old and young, both maids and little children and women, but come not near any man upon whom is the mark and begin at my sanctuary. Then they begin at the ancient men, which were before the house some spared, some destroyed.

Three men, friends of Job (Job 38:3); 3 days, 3 nights (Josh 1:17); Daniel mourning 3 full weeks (Daniel 10:3).

Three years, a fruitless tree (Deut 13:7-9). Read and then count 3, 3-4, 4 years—Count Elijah 3 1/2 and only one widow he visited (1st Luke 4:25-26).

I am sure you have heard the story very few women know about a man named I have shed corn and ridden wild mules to waterfalls. I know corn grows on a cob. Mutual love of Christ and His church—Solomon 2:1-3: I am the Rose of Sharon and the Lily of the valley. As the lily among thorns, so is my love among the daughters; as the apple trees of the wood, so is my beloved among the sons. Isaiah Chap. 1 Verse 8: And the daughter of Zion is left as a cottage in a vineyard, as a lodge in a garden of cucumbers, as a besieged city.

Any Bible reader knows the first recorded work was in a garden, and Christ rose from the dead in a garden. Christ talked to the woman at the well. She carried the first message between Jews and Samaritans. He talked to a woman early in the morning in a garden. She talked to men. Too many homes, widows and gardens neglected today, and God is not pleased.

The unmarried and widows do things to please the Lord while wives do things to please their husbands. So you all know that I am the Lord's Free Woman.

God bless you all to watch, read and pray.

Sincerely and prayerfully

EVA MEADE HALL

Sim Combs, 80, Garrett,

Victim, Friday, at Auxier;

Burial, Martin Cemetery

Sim Combs, 80, of Garrett, a retired carpenter, died at 4 p.m., Friday, at Auxier. The infirmities of old age were given as the cause of death.

Mr. Combs was twice married. His first wife, Martha Southern Combs, preceded him in death in 1948. His second wife, Mrs. Alice Robinson Combs, survives.

Surviving children are Dolph Combs, Albion, Mich.; Silas Combs, of Lackey, Ervin Combs, Wayne, Mich.; Mrs. Clarence Frazer, and Mrs. Della Perry, both of Albion, Mich.; and Mrs. Pearl Combs, of Garrett. Two brothers, Joe Combs, of Patterson Field, Ohio, and George Combs, of Lebanon, survive.

Funeral rites were conducted Sunday at 10 a.m. at the Steneo Regular Baptist church, and burial was made in the Martin cemetery at Garrett under the direction of Hall Bros. Funeral Home.

CLUB WAS ART-MUSIC

PROGAM

The Lackey-Garrett-Wayland Woman's Club met in the Club House at Wayland, Monday, 7:30 p.m., for a program and business meeting.

Club president, Mrs. Earl McCord, conducted the meeting. Mrs. L. B. Frick, vice-president, read the Club Colloid. The devotionals was given by the secretary, Mrs. Delbert Stinson.

Miss Thelma Daniels gave an interesting program on "Art and Music". She discussed the many ways we express ourselves. Art records were played to illustrate the use of our imagination to see a picture as we listen to music, because it speaks, emotionally, amusingly, thoughtfully and exciting. On display in the Club room were about 140 drawings done in the art class of Miss Daniels. Some of these were wax, crayon and pencil done in the display was a small original linocut block-print made by David Donohue, a former student and graduate of Wayland high school, and now teaching art in his own studio in Hollywood, Calif. Also in the collection was a pencil sketch of Sax Rohmer's Chinese character, Dr. Fu Manchu, done by Senator Doug Hays' son, Stanley, a career army man.

At the business session, an election committee was appointed to report at the next meeting for nominating officers for 1958. Mrs. C. H. Wells, Mrs. W. T. Halcher, and Mrs. Eugene Mullins were named to serve.

Mrs. Thomas Hatcher informed the Club members that the Wayland P-T-A. would sponsor a "Book Fair", Tuesday, April 23, beginning at 9 a.m.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses, Madamess Rudolph Spencer and Otis Kilbarn to the following members: Madamess Earl Castle, George Evans, P. E. Totten, Thomas Hatcher, Glenn Pack, C. H. Wells, Fred Hall, G. M. Martin, Mike Staley, M. M. Collins, Hannel Bradley, Eugene Mullins, Milton Trust, L. B. Price, Delbert Stinson, W. T. Hatcher, Earl Hughes, Charles Horvath, J. E. Miller, and J. T. Spillman.

DAVID

An essay on the advantages of entering the teaching profession was heard by 16 members of the David Woman's Club who met Friday at the home of Mrs. Len Hill. The essay, written by Mrs. Earl McCord, a club member and teacher of algebra and advanced mathematics at Prestonsburg high school, was read to the group by Mrs. Ray Bradbury. In the business session the club voted to schedule a square dance later in the spring, and plans held from 3 to 5 p.m. on Friday, March 15, at the David Club House to which members of six clubs have been invited.

New officers elected and present were: President, Mrs. Ora Howard; first vice-president, Mrs. Gene Mathis, second vice-president, Mrs. Frances Harmon, recording secretary, Mrs. Oliver Marshall, corresponding secretary, Mrs. Tandy Shaver, treasurer, Mrs. Royce Mayo. Others present were: Mrs. John Stratton, Mrs. A. C. Wilson, Mrs. Pete Chapell, Mrs. Earl Willis, Mrs. Dawson Bussey, Mrs. Harry Hager, Mrs. Corlinda Dahlin, and the hostesses, Mrs. Len Hill and Mrs. James Camilla.

Mrs. Blevins' Funeral Is Conducted Tuesday; Heart Attack Victim

Funeral of Mrs. Violet Jean Blevins, 27, wife of Earl Blevins, who died suddenly Friday at her home in Middletown, O., was conducted from the Church of God at Garrett. Her death was ascribed to a heart attack.

Daughter of the late Luke and Lona Hancock, Mrs. Blevins, was a native of Garrett. She is survived by her husband, who is stationed with the U.S. Army in the Canal Zone, a daughter, Lelia Inetta, and the following brothers and sisters: George Hancock, Columbus, O.; Mrs. Bessie Craft, Evanson, Ky.; Lawrence Hancock, Mrs. Kathleen Cox and Mrs. Margaret Lewis, all of Fairborn, Ohio.

Officiating ministers at the funeral were the Revs. Green Allen and James Duff. Burial was made in the Union cemetery at Eastern, the Hall Brothers Funeral Home directing.

Area's History Reviewed By Wheelwright Speaker; Section's Great Named

"It is time Eastern Kentucky become a bit more appreciative of its great history," Henry P. Sealf, guest-speaker, told the Beaver Valley Kiwanis club, Wheelwright Monday evening. Naming a score of great Eastern Kentuckians, among them former Supreme Court Justice Fred M. Vinson and World Court Chief Justice Green Hackworth, he added that we should be a bit proud, too, of the section's contributions to America. Sealf reviewed the exploration and settlement of Northeastern Kentucky from the time Gabriel Arthur entered the state in 1674 to the founding of the county seat towns. He discussed the founding of Harman's Station, the Auxiers of Blackhouse Bottom, and the Leslie Settlement on Johns Creek, the latter being, he thought, the first permanent settlement in early Floyd county.

MANY LIVES HAPPIER

Many lives are made happier because Girl Scouts promise to "help other people at all times." Whether the girls raise money to buy a new wheelchair for a polio patient, bring home-made valentines to old folks in an institution, or baby-sit to enable a busy mother to vote, Girl Scouts develop sympathy and consideration for others by lending a helping hand whenever they see a need for service.

To The Voters Of Floyd County

I am not going to try to be elected County Judge of Floyd county by either trickery or vilification, and I am not going to talk about my opponents in order to get votes. We people must live together, and work together. I hope, after the election is past.

I hope the good Lord will let me live many, many happy days after the election, and to be happy one must not clutter up his life with bitterness and hatred.

If the good people of Floyd county have faith in me, and believe I will give them the administration of their affairs as they have a right to expect, I will be elected, and it is on that fair basis that I solicit their support.

Sincerely,
BILL COOLEY

Great Religions, Topic At Clubwomen Meet

A panel on "Five Great Religions of the World" was heard last Thursday by 28 members and guests of the Prestonsburg Women's Club at the home of Mrs. Wm. O. Goebel.

Religions whose outstanding features were discussed were Hinduism, Buddhism, Confucianism, Judaism, Islamism. Christianity was not included because of the length of the program; instead, prayer guides for World Day of Prayer were passed out at the close of the program by Mrs. Ira McMillen. On the panel were: Mrs. Muriel Wilson, moderator; Mrs. Fanny Runnels, Mrs. N. L. May, Mrs. Frank Layne, Mrs. Wm. Hunt and Mrs. W. W. Cooley. During the business session the club voted to sponsor a square dance, March 23 for Youth Center members and guests. It also voted to instruct the corresponding secretary to write to the Rural Highway Commissioner asking his help in the construction of an access road to Dewey Lake which passes through Trimble Branch to Stratton Branch. It was decided that due to the setback caused by the flood and the nearness of Spring, the workshop class in textile painting would be postponed until next fall.

Also present were Miss Alice Harris; Mrs. R. V. May, Mrs. R. D. Francis, Mrs. Victor Hale, Mrs. Lon Hill, Mrs. Goble Tinsdale, Miss Fanny Mae Howell, Mrs. Wm. Brown, Mrs. Zella S. Archer, Mrs. Edw. The Osborn petition claims Dr. Sherman operated on his right leg to remove a tumor or cyst and in sewing up the incision left in his leg a large piece of gauze.

Pain and swelling continued, the plaintiff alleges, till he was hospitalized at Ashland, O., Feb. 18, 1956. On April 2, 1956, a piece of gauze was removed by a competent physician, the suit says.

Fire Department Here Does Clean-Up Work; Equipment Is Missing

The fire department devoted three days this week to washing away mud and other debris left on streets and buildings here. First and Second avenues, Court street, a section of Lake Drive from Town Center south past the bus station, and the high school buildings and grounds benefited from the clean-up job.

Fire Chief Vernon Blackburn reported that several items of fire department equipment are missing, and he asked that those be returned if they are in the hands of local persons. Among the items missing are five hand lanterns, six raincoats, six pairs of boots, and one helmet.

DEWEY ROBERTS for County Judge

Voters, if I am nominated and elected your County Judge, I will deal out justice to all. I will endeavor to make Floyd County a better place to live and rear our children. I will give full cooperation to all organizations that are working for the betterment of our county. My only purpose in being a candidate for County Judge is to help the people of Floyd County in every way possible. This I can do by taking care of your tax money and working to get the county out of debt. If you don't elect a county judge that will do this the Lord only knows what will happen next. I know this can be done and I am promising you I will do it.

The office belongs to you and only you can make this choice. I will have the county roads maintained twelve months out of the year. I will have money in the treasury to purchase right-of-way for roads when the state agrees to build them. I will assure you that I will have a good road program. I know that the county has many obligations, but I will handle them so your county will be operated on cash basis. I will hold Fiscal Court once each month and pay all just claims. You will not have to come in to get your claim allowed if it is a just one. Fiscal Court will be held open to the public and not behind closed doors.

I have never sought a county office before. I only want one term. I don't want to stay there term after term. I realize there are other people who would like to hold office. If one crowd is going to hold these offices all the time why should any one else run? Voters, we must save our county and this is the only way we can do it. Help me and we will change this system and some day you will have a chance to hold office. Now is the time to make the change.

2. That he drank between 7 and 9 p.m. February 4, at a meeting with Pikeville city officials in the City Hall.

As to the Hazard incident, Trooper Grover Schooner, Jr., and Thomas Marshall testified they not only smelled whisky, but that the appearance of Watts indicated drunkenness. They said he was red-eyed, that his blouse was open at the neck, he had on no necktie, and presented, in general, a disreputable appearance.

Watts testified that he drank no whisky on that occasion. At the time, he said, he had been on continuous night-and-day duty for 72 hours with only 90 minutes of sleep. Moreover, he added, he had not been able to shave, comb his hair, brush his teeth, or change clothes for four days.

In addition, Watts said he had had nothing to eat but snacks for four days, that the clothes he had on were not only a part of a summer uniform, but that they were muddy, wet, and crumpled.

His red eyes and filthy appearance, Watts said, were not due to drinking, but to physical fatigue arising from conditions beyond his control.

This testimony was corroborated by 11 defense witnesses who either were with him at the telephone office, or saw him later in the morning.

As to the Pikeville incident, Trooper Shannon Corman testified he walked into a crowded room at the City Hall and saw Watts with a whiskey bottle to his lips.

But, the trooper added, he set it on the floor under a desk when he saw the trooper come into the room.

Trooper Thomas Kiger, Corman's companion, testified there also was a half-pint bottle of whisky on top of the desk behind which Watts was sitting.

The trooper denied that he drank any whisky during the meeting with City officials.

His denial was supported by defense witnesses including Robert L. May, chief of police; H. B. Hall, city manager; Blaine H. Rutherford, police judge; and Robert Holcomb, a contractor, who had volunteered to supervise clearing the streets of debris. The chief of police had this explanation for the half-pint bottle on top of the city manager's desk behind which Watts was sitting: Pikeville being dry territory, the chief said, he discarded it from a drunk he found on the street that afternoon. Moreover, Chief May added, there were 51 other bottles of confiscated whisky in a closet in the same room at the time.

home at Banner had burned. We got busy, did some telephoning and got the fire failed to get away from the minister's residence we decided perhaps it indeed had burned.

Well, we watched for Ralph Edwards and his television show that night. And the next Wednesday night, no sign of Floyd county's "brother" Stratton. Meanwhile, we learned he had suffered no fire loss. Now, how can you explain a rumormongering like that? But we do like this: Ralph Edwards is missing a good story in this man who has spent so much of his life in a consecrated labor of love for the spiritual and physical well-being of so many of his people.

BRING ON THE MEDAL

Had an out-of-town invitation to speak at a dinner gathering, a few days ago. And as thoroughly and frankly as I could explained why it would be impossible for me to do so. In short, I said, "It scares the pants off me to stand up on my hind feet in a crowd."

Normal people will never be able to understand this sort of thing, but I know, anytime I make "a few random remarks" in public they thought to award me the Purple Heart.

A PRIMITIVE, NO LESS

Now they've come up with a chipmunk who does finger painting. His performance on TV reminded me of a baby given freedom in a mud-puddle, but at that I'd say he produced something that is just as intelligible as some of these words I'm scribbling here. Moreover, I doubt if that chipmunk's behavior is any more "let's say, eccentric" than that of Dali and some of the other boys.

FISHING REPORT

The experience of a foursome of us had on Cumberland Lake last March and that of Yester and I on Center Hill Lake last week were painfully alike. Rain and wind and chubheads and no fish.

My venture on Dewey Lake this year brought down rain and wintry blizzards. Verily, I am a "Jonah."

We do not print this to make some of the boys who have been wondering far afield to other lakes feel badly about it all, but at Dewey Tuesday John Johnson, of Pikeville, brought in a 7½-pound bass; Renee Troddy landed two of 3 and 3 pounds; and George Alley caught two, one of four pounds. All three Alley's were taken by the jigging method.

WELLS FOR REPRESENTATIVE

Legislative District No. 96

Democratic Primary, May 28

During these times when our area of Kentucky needs so much, and with a feeling that I am in better position to bring more of this much-needed help to our District, I am asking your support and help to enable me to be your Representative in the State Legislature during the next two years.

To all of you I will say I am not seeking this office for hope of any personal gain, nor do I aspire to anything political, but since I have been interested for years in civic affairs, the betterment of my community and locally, to which I have devoted much time, I feel that by representing this District in Frankfort I will be in position to do those things which will be helpful to us all.

I am in business at Bell and am in position to give necessary time to the office which I seek. In order that I may truly represent all the people of the District after I am elected I will hold open forum meetings, prior to sessions of the Legislature, to which you will be invited. At such meetings I will endeavor to learn those things most needed throughout the District and which may be pushed into realization by my efforts in Frankfort.

I will work for my District and with the fifth District Representative of this county, by putting my best foot forward to achieve worthwhile projects to bring help to the most people of the district. Of course, every straight-thinking citizen has a challenge to work for better roads and more modern schools, for our schools are largely responsible for what our children contribute in future years to their community and their country. I will strive to give them the best by working for more money which may be spent on the Education and Better Roads programs.

I married the former Aveline Cooley, daughter of Frank and Byrd Allen Cooley, of Bell, but presently in Wabasso, Fla. I am a charter member of the Wayland Lions Club and on the official board of the Wayland Methodist Church. I was graduated from the Paintsville High School, completed courses at Mayo College and attended Morris Harvey College in Barboursville, W. Va. Aveline and I have many relatives and friends in this District and throughout Floyd county. I earnestly solicit the help of everyone in my bid for this Representative post.

Sincerely

Let's Not Fight the Last Battle First

As deeply interested as we are in canalization of the Big Sandy river, we are more vitally interested in dams in the headwaters of the rivers and some of its tributaries as flood control and water control projects.

Our interest in upstream impoundments is greater just now for two reasons:

First of all, the physical existence of whole towns and communities and farms depends on flood control. A repetition of the recent flood disaster — and none can predict how near or how far distant such a disaster may be — and Kentucky might have a "ghost valley" on its hands.

Secondly, storage of water by means of such dams will mean a steady, consistent supply of water in the river during the drouth months of every year. Water so provided in steady volume would erase the argument that the Big Sandy lacks industrial water in sufficient volume to attract new industry to the valley.

And more important still, such a supply of water during seasonal "dry spells" would kill, once and for all, the strongest argument opponents of canalization have used in past fights for realization of that old dream of ours. This is the argument that the river dries up to a mere trickle in spots and that water would have to be pumped back upstream to provide a navigable pool behind some of the locks and dams in the proposed system.

Given flood control and water control dams, the fight for canalization will be won. To urge canalization right now to the neglect of such impoundments might be as vain as before.

On both projects our future greatly depends. We must have flood control as a defensive measure, both physically and economically; we must have canalization if our economic potential ever is to be realized.

But wars are won, one battle at a time. Let's not try to fight the last one first.

UNCLE LEM

Adding to the atmosphere of My Old Kentucky Home is Uncle Lem, who entertains visitors to Kentucky's most famous shrine. Kentucky Negro spirituals resemble those of other Southern States. So characteristic are the Negro's own harmonic arrangements and words, that his songs may be considered native folk music. Beautiful, simple, and generally plaintive, the spirituals are the unique expression of the Negro's experience, and a distinct contribution to the development of Kentucky music.

APPRECIATION

The Committee for the World Day of Prayer, on behalf of the Council of Church Women, wishes to take this means of thanking all those who contributed to the observance of the Day and made it possible for so many people to participate in it.

Our special thanks go to The Floyd County Times for giving us so much space in its columns; to WPCF for the time we had on the air; the spot announcements, the Bulletin Board notice, and in the morning; to Mayor Sandage for his proclamation; to the pastors who announced the Day to their congregations; and particularly to Rev. J. B. Stiles and the members of the Community Methodist Church for their cordial hospitality; to Rev. H. C. Church who used the theme of the day for his morning radio devotional time; to John Hendley and the First Methodist Church for the music at the noon hour; to the Baptist Church for offering us the use of its broadcast facilities; to the principal and teachers of the grade school whose cooperation made the Children's Program possible; to the high school students and their director for their special music; and to all the Christian people who attended the services or joined with us in any way and with Christians around the world to ask of God the blessings of divine guidance and peace for ourselves and all nations.

Very truly yours,

Mrs. R. V. May

For the World Day of Prayer Committee

To the People of Magisterial District No. 1

I am appealing to you, for your vote and support in the May 28 Primary. I am 36 years old and have never held public office. I was born and raised in this county and God has blessed me with health and strength to make an honest, decent living in this county and to take care of my family of six children. In all my business transactions I have never taken one five cent piece dishonestly and if elected your Magistrate I promise to see to it that your tax money will be protected and spent where it should be.

We know that a lot of people in this No. 1 District and their children to school over roads that are not fit to drive a hog over and then we read in the papers where some of our officials have to be used in the courts for thousands of dollars of tax money. Then it is up to us taxpayers to pay that plus interest and court costs and this includes our present Magistrate, Mr. Holbrook, and then they take what is left and hire a certain bunch at a large salary and put them out on an old grade or some other kind of broken-down machinery, let them go and burn a lot of the taxpayers' gas and leave our little sheep paths in worse condition than they were without a ditch or drain pipe or small culvert to take care of the water. The people that live up the creek where the county is supposed to keep up the roads has to park their cars out on the highways and walk home after doing a hard day's work and if you are a taxpayer they sure will collect or sell your property from under you.

So think it over and I assure you that when I am elected your Magistrate I will perform my duties as a Magistrate or any other sworn official should be sure and vote as that is your God-given right.

Children's Clothing Need Pointed Out by Church

"The need for children's clothing in this area is still acute in many places even though the outside world has been generous in contributions," Rev. H. C. Church, head of the Goodwill Mission which has been in operation for 11 years and has been the means of enabling several hundred school children in return to remain in school.

The residue of the Red Cross clothing was turned over to the Mission after the flood emergency needs were met, but Church says this clothing was primarily for adults. The Mission needs children's clothing, particularly shoes.

Right now, the Mission head says, he is completing the distribution of the last seven tons of clothing given by people outside the flood-stricken area.

It is not necessary to shrink 100 percent. Dacron fabrics, as they do not shrink. If Dacron is blended with wool or cotton, the material should be shrunk.

40 and 8 In Election Of Officers Last Week

Officers of Floyd County Vulture 1899, La Societe de 40 et 8, were elected at a Promenade Speciale of the Vulture, last Wednesday evening. The new officers are: Chief de sacre, James J. SPEARS FOR JUDGE

I was born on Buffalo Creek and have made my own living since I was 12 years of age. I don't feel a candidate for office should start making promises in order to win votes but I do promise, now, to make you a good, honest county judge. I will not at the beginning of the four-year term start spending your tax money in order to make another race. I am not interested in anything but Floyd county and the spending of the tax money in such a way that it will benefit the taxpayers and not a few politicians.

I am interested in the man who works for a living as I have labored hard all my life. I believe I have given more laboring men than any individual in the county. And as all of them will say I don't owe a man anything for his hire.

I served one term as Magistrate. Many people in my old district are coming to me and recalling the many good things I did for my district while in office. I pledge to you to make as good a county judge as I did as magistrate.

I believe in good roads. We need roads up the creeks, along the many little by-ways that people use to get to the main highway. On these roads live people who must have access to schools, churches and to places of employment. For them I pledge a dedication of my efforts.

Too long this county has been neglected in the matter of roads until it is shameful that in this day and time we still have a wholly insufficient system of roads. We have the resources, we pay our taxes and it is time we receive something besides mere promises.

A little change won't hurt! Vote for me and I will work for you.

TWO KENTUCKIANS KILLED IN HIGHWAY MISHAPS

Two Kentuckians were killed in separate traffic accidents in the state Sunday.

The victims were William Lathum, Mayhugh, 21, R. 2, Central City, and Mrs. Rilda Roark Steele, 41, of Lyndon.

State police said Mayhugh was killed when his car went out of control on a curve on Ky. 431 and hit a concrete drainage pipe. They said Mayhugh was trying to pass a car about nine miles south of Uida.

LETCHER JAIL ESCAPEE
CATCHED AFTER 2 WEEKS
Whitesburg, Ky. — Ralph Brown, 28, Sand Lick, was recaptured last night at his father's home after two weeks of freedom from the Letcher County Jail.
Deputy Sheriff Leonard Adams and other officers surrounded the house at Sand Lick and Brown offered no resistance.
He had been held at Whitesburg on a charge of storebreaking. He escaped February 24 with Bernie Miles, Marlow, by hacking out part of a jail window and lowering himself down on a rope of blankets.

PIKEVILLE AGAIN HEADS FOR STATE TOURNEY

Pikeville's rampaging Panthers, displaying determination and cool confidence, earned the right to represent the 15th region in the state high school basketball tournament by edging Paintsville's speedy Tigers, 71-65, Saturday night in Paintsville before an overflow crowd.

The underdog Tigers played brilliantly until the final two minutes and 16 seconds in holding the heavily favored Panthers to a 65-64 tie, but uncanny shooting Tommy Adkins, Howard Lockhart, and H. I. Justice each scored two-pointers to win the highly-prized championship for the Pike mountains.

Pikeville made its first trip to the state tournament in 1949 and lost in the second round to St. Xavier, 50-45. The following year they lost another two-pointers to Paducah Tilghman, 61-59. In 1951, they were defeated in the first round by the state's top-ranked team, the Kentucky State Normal School, 50-45.

Coach Trivette's change of strategy paid rich dividends as his team pulled in front, 21-18, in the first period, fell behind by three, three minutes later, then pulled ahead, 29-27, at halftime, after center Darwin Smith calmly guided the close Tiger defense for eight points.

From then on, Pikeville employed its famous all-court press and the faster Tigers fought back.

WALLACE LEADS NATION IN SCORING
Betsy Layne's Grady Wallace finished the 1956-57 basketball season last Saturday night with 28 points against Number One-ranked North Carolina in the finals of the Atlantic Coast Conference basketball tournament.

Thus Grady led the nation's college in the individual scoring race with a scoring average of 31.24 per game for 29 games.

BETSY LAYNE AND MAYTOWN HONORED
Floyd county's two entries into the 15th regional tournament in Paintsville last week posted two men each on the all-regional team. No doubt Betsy Layne center Charles Blevins would have also been named, if he had not been a victim of flu.

This is the complete team:
Betsy Layne, Maytown.
Alto Prater, Maytown.
Hallard Martin, Betsy Layne.
Ray Clark, Betsy Layne.
Charles Blevins, Maytown.
Bryan Hall, Paintsville.
Robert Stidham, Virgle.

Fort Knox, Ky. — Pvt. Doris E. Osborne, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Osborne, of Hunter, Ky., departed from the U. S. early in March for Germany as part of "Operation Gyroscopic" the Army's unit rotation plan.

Osborne is a member of the 11th Armored Cavalry Regiment, formerly located at Fort Knox, Ky., which is replacing the 6th Armored Regiment in southern Germany. The 17-year-old soldier entered the Army in August 1956. He attended Martin high school.

BASEBALL TEAM CANDIDATES HERE NUMEROUS THIS YEAR

If quantity means anything, the Prestonsburg high school baseball team will be "loaded" for 1957.

In a call for squad tryouts Wednesday, 87 candidates reported to coaches Don Sullivan, Jack Frost, Wells and Johnny Ellis. Of these only nine have had high school experience. 28 of the 87 are freshmen, which indicates that there is an increase in interest in baseball among the boys. Previously, only about 15 to 18 boys reported for the spring sport.

The team has six seniors, 10 juniors, 15 sophomores and 26 freshmen. The roster includes six pitchers, three catchers, 33 outfielders and 15 infielders. The team's weak spot seems to be its pitching staff. Only Buford Oranger remains from last season, and the staff will be built around him. Last season's squad are Lowell McKinzie, who transferred to Ohio recently, Lowell Hughes, now at U. S. and Henry Hughes, who is not permitted to play due to illness. The tentative schedule calls for a total of 14 season games, E.K.M.C. playoffs, and tournaments begin. Student team manager is Eddie Stennett. Two assistants will be selected to assist him.

Capitol Notebook

Frankfort, March 11 (Sp.)—Whoever heard of Missouri? Yet, some Missourians are questioning the matchless flavor of the famous old Kentucky ham with the challenge that theirs is "more matchless."

Says an editorial in the St. Louis Post-Dispatch: "An elegant and interesting magazine entitled in Kentucky, published by that state's Department of Public Relations, deals in its winter edition with the 'matchless flavor' of Kentucky hams."

The editorial quotes the in Kentucky expert as saying the Commonwealth's famous ham is salted down one day for each pound of weight. But, asserts the newspaper, quoting its own ham expert, "for each pound of ham there should be two days of curing."

Then the newspaper gloats, "there you have it—the whole matchless matchlessness of Missouri country ham. For before turning the ham over to the essential hickory smoke and before airing them thereafter for a year or two, the Missouri hams are salted down twice as long and twice as much as the hams in Kentucky."

Well, history says we miss Missouri's stick to mules, the waits and Harry Truman, lest someone tell them the porkers probably require twice as much curing, twice as much salt and spice, just to make them edible as plain old Kentucky "haz meats."

Well, history says we miss Missouri's Daniel Boone and those "down right Missourians" sent us back his bones. There's an example of Missouri "curing."

INCIDENTAL INTELLIGENCE
In the home of Mrs. B. M. Goldsborough, Georgetown, there is a rare old desk that once belonged to Aaron Burr. The handsome mahogany inlaid secretary was imported to the U.S. by Burr after it was made by R. P. Mallet, cabinet maker of Yorktown, Va., London, England. The piece was bought by Judge Bryce J. Goldsborough, grandfather of the present owner's husband, from the estate of Luther Martin. The desk had been given by Burr to Martin as a token of good will for his celebrated defense of Burr on the charge of treason.

Served as health officer in Pike, Wayne and Meigs counties from 1931 to 1940.

ATTENDED UNIVERSITY OF KENTUCKY
He is a 1929 graduate of University of Louisville medical school, received master's degree in public health from John Hopkins University, studied public health administration at School of Hygiene and Public Health, taught public health at the University of Pennsylvania, Harvard and University of Pittsburgh.

TEMPORARY PASTURE
If permanent pasture is not available for poultry, temporary green feed may be provided. Oats and rape or kale may be sown together from now until hot weather; after this June is eaten, Sudan grass may be sown but not earlier than corn-planning. Sudan makes good summer pasture when the weather is not too dry; it should be kept clipped so chickens can reach it.

Engineer 'Steamed Up' When He Gets Diesel

Columbus, Miss.—Veteran engineer, Bernie Diskus said he has quit railroading after more than 50 years on the Southern Railway because "they took away my steam engine."

"They took my 6531 and cut her up for scrap," he said mournfully. "They gave me a diesel. There's just no comparison between a steam engine and a diesel."

Jaywalker Defends Self As Less of A Target

Pittsburgh—At least one Pittsburgher believes in percentages when crossing traffic-clogged streets.

Asked by police why he had crossed a busy downtown street in the middle of the block, the unidentified pedestrian said: "It's too dangerous to cross at a corner. That way you can get hit from four ends—this way you only take a chance at two cars hitting you."

MORE ABOUT "PROGRESSIVE" EDUCATION

By Wilma Gunn May
Several months ago the Council for Basic Education (CBE) was organized in Washington by some of the greatest educators in the U. S. and other prominent people interested in better schools. Among charter members were Mark Van Doren, father of Charles, also Mrs. Barry Bingham, wife of the editor of The Courier-Journal. The Council began to issue a monthly Bulletin. Random excerpts from various issues are quoted here:

Ed Keller: Why Johnny Can't Add (Parade, Oct. 1954).
Uncovered recently by the Ed Testing Service, followed by an account of solutions offered by teacher college experts. One said, "If it makes them feel secure to count on their fingers, let them count on their fingers."

Dr. A. W. Griesold, President of Yale: Better Men and Better Monstrous (Nat. Review, Nov. 10).
"The fountainhead of the whole teaching profession is drying up at the source." (The source referred to is a high one. The following quote may help explain that view.)

Dr. E. E. Morrison, Professor Emeritus of American History, at Harvard: FREEDOM IN CONTEMPORARY SOCIETY (Little, Brown & Co.) "I venture to say that professional educators are the greatest enemies not only to academic freedom but to academic excellence in the U. S. today. No one who has not read some of the stuff printed in educational journals would believe the nonsense that those people write, or the horrible jargon in which they express themselves, the shabby mediocrity of their minds."

It's not the only one who feels that way, and he does not mean the ordinary teachers but some of the top-bracket educators! But how blindly some of us followed them for two decades.

CBE suggests that there are ways to teach all children to read and that there is no justification for the number of non-readers in our schools. CBE quote: We have tried to justify our predicament by over-emphasizing the readiness needs of the pupils. We say children do not learn to read because they are immature, poorly fed, uninterested, pampered at home, have too much money, too many toys, radio, TV, etc. And we are fully in error. There is nothing wrong with our children. Let us not be afraid to admit that the fault may lie in the instruction rather than in the instructed.

CBE quote: An Einstein with no teaching certificate could not legally plan or conduct a public school math class. (Or any other.) But children can and do. Modern education says use the advanced pupil to help teach the others. This is a good way to curtail the progress of best students, who should be progressing at their own rate of speed, while star pupils of other nations are pushing forward at their maximum ability. (Read The International Brain Race, Nov. Parsons Magazine.)

Wm. Benton, The Cold War in Education, (College and University, Fall 1956) said: "Every youngster in the Soviet Union gets a better scientific grounding than any youngster in the United States." CBE quote from the New York Times: The Soviet Government has made advanced scientific training in the Soviet Union more rigorous, according to new regulations published recently.

In the same issue of The Times was another statement: (In the U.S.) Drills are taken out of mathematics to give it more adult appeal.

The gravity of the school crisis becomes apparent when readers learn that Dr. M. H. Trytlen, director of the Office of Scientific Personnel of the National Research Council, Dr. H. A. Myerhoff, director of the Scientific Manpower Commission, Dr. H. H. Army, chairman of the U. S. Office of Education are charter members of CBE, while Dr. M. M. Botts, chairman of Engineering Man Power Commission of the Engineers Joint Council, is a director of CBE. All favor a return to emphasis on the fundamental subjects which train the mind by demanding real thinking.

Watch The Times soon for a condemnation of a speech on Modern Education by an eminent U. S. Senator.

To The Voters Of Floyd County:

The voters' registration books are now open and will remain open until fifty-nine (59) days before the May 28th Primary Election. When any registered voter moves from the precinct in which he is registered to a different precinct in Floyd county, the law requires that he shall make application to this office to have his voter's card transferred to the proper precinct.

If you are seventeen (17) years of age and you will become eighteen (18) before the November General Election you are eligible to register and vote in the May Primary. Any voter whose name is changed by marriage or otherwise is required by law to re-register. Any question you may have concerning your voter's registration, please do not hesitate to call on us. We are always glad to be of service.

The David Girl Scout and Brownie troops gave a silver tea, Friday, in honor of the 45th anniversary of the founding of the Girl Scout organization. The tea was held from 3 to 5 p.m., at the David Clubhouse, which was decorated for the occasion.
About 35 guests were served refreshments by the hostess, Mrs. Ora Howard, chairman of the troop committee. Donations were presented by the guests for the Juliette Low fund.

At least 124 million women and girls have belonged to the Girl Scouts since the organization was founded 45 years ago.

Colorful Draperies Add To Room Interest

Well chosen draperies are one of the ways to add new interest to a room. The right color can provide an accent note that changes the entire effect, or a patterned piece can pull together the principal color already in use.

Whether to use plain or patterned draperies is determined largely by the floor covering and wall finishes. If they are patterned, then plain color draperies that repeat one of the colors used in the room will be best.

When the walls and floor covering are plain color, the use of patterned draperies in texture or color may bring pleasant relief, although they too may be without design, says Miss Marian Bartlett, UK Extension home furnishings specialist. With plain color walls and floor covering, patterned draperies and furniture covering are often effective, but care must be taken in arrangement so the furniture is not placed against the draperies.

The room exposure, the number of windows, and the use of the room deserve consideration when the color is selected. The larger the room the more contrast in color may be used. If there are many windows or if they are poorly placed, they will be less conspicuous if the draperies blend with the wall. A small room can be made to appear larger by having the draperies, window treatments and the wall finish closely related in color.

Although it is a temptation for the home decorator to make draperies without linings, they will hang better, wear better and give a more professional appearance if they are lined.

Girl Scout Week
You can read about democracy and talk about it, but it becomes personally important only when you learn to live within its framework.
Girl Scouts, observing this week their 45th birthday, learn how democracy works within their own troop. Each girl learns to accept her share of responsibility, to give as well as take, to respect the desires and opinions of others. Adults call this "growing up." Girl Scouts call it fun.

GIRL SCOUTING OBSERVES A BIRTHDAY

This week marks the 46th anniversary of the Girl Scouts of the U.S.A. and Scouts of the Sandy Valley Council are taking a prominent part in the nationwide observance of the milestone. In two generations this youth organization, founded by Juliette Low, has influenced the lives of 12½ million American girls and women.

In the accompanying photos Girl Scouts in two Floyd towns are shown taking part in activities typical of the character-development of the organization. The week will be marked by individual troop functions to mark the founding of the Girl Scouts through which they have been introduced to active, healthy, responsible living.

Twenty senior Girl Scouts in Wheelwright recently completed the first "Baby Sitting" course sponsored by the State Health Department. The course, given to girls 16 and over, is designed to help them in taking care of infants and children of four or five years of age. The first of several to be given in this area. The course was given by Mrs. May Frazier from the Louisville office. She was assisted by Mrs. Regina Mayo Roberts of Prestonsburg.

Senior Scouts, girls who are in high school, stress community service in their program. The troop which completed this course is led by Mrs. R. L. Hall and Mrs. Sarah McQueen, both of Wheelwright. The course consisted of ten days of training given two hours per night, Monday through Friday of week ending and dispersing of infants and caring for more than one child at a time were stressed, since many girls are left at home with more than one child.

Two Nice River Road Farms

NEAL'S POULTRY FARM located about halfway between Catlettsburg and Louisa. About 50 acres of ground with about 1,200 ft. of road frontage, some nice bottom and rolling hill ground. Improvements consist of a four-room house and a three-room house, 30 by 120 ft. hen house, 20 by 30 ft. brooder house, 30 by 40 ft. two-story barn and an egg cellar. This place has wonderful sub-division possibilities as it is just one mile from the Tennessee Gas and Transmission plant and about 8 miles from the Ashland Oil Refinery. Property in this neighborhood is getting more valuable all the time and this should sell at once. There is a firm price of $17,500 and some terms may be arranged.

THE BALL FARM—the first on the west side of the new bridge across Blaine as you come from Catlettsburg. There are about 103 acres including some 25 acres of bottom. There is a four-room house with running water, a large combination barn and corn crib, some fruit trees and a fresh pond, some horse-drawn implements go with the place. House is now vacant and owner says that if it doesn't sell this month it will be taken off the market. There is a firm price of $10,000, and some terms may be arranged.

DEAR FRIENDS AND FELLOW VOTERS:

I am very thankful for the kind interest that you have shown me in the past. I will greatly appreciate you and your support in this primary election.

I have always conducted my political campaigns on a high level. I have always been aware of the feelings of my opponents and their friends and their loved ones. I have never knowingly wounded anyone's feelings, or spread unkind gossip about any of my opponents or their loved ones. It has always been my desire to be kind and considerate of others.

I have always tried to live a good clean life; to do my level best for the good of my Country and my Country.

I have faith in humanity, and I have always tried to see the good that there is in everyone, and to help them achieve success and happiness in this life, and hope for a better world in the Great Beyond. Never will I lend my thoughts or my conduct to the tearing down or the destroying of the good that there is in the life of anyone, whether they be my colleague or my adversary. I firmly believe that no man can build himself up by tearing down his fellowmen. I will always work for that which is good, right and honest.

Your County Court Clerk's Office has been well kept during the period of time I have had the Honor and Privilege of serving you. I have tried to secure and to keep the very best help that I could find. We have worked long and hard and been faithful and true to your trust. We will do our best to serve you well during the next four years. Your interests will be our interests, and your welfare will be our welfare. We desire to serve you well. We will be honest and faithful, and strive to save you money and time when you have business to look after in the County Court Clerk's Office. No job will be too large or too small. It will be a pleasure if we can please you. When you are pleased with our service, we will be happy.

Having been in every precinct in the County in the past few weeks, I know that you too are well satisfied with the service we have been able to give you. I want you to know that I am deeply grateful for the hard work so many of you, my good friends and relatives, are doing for me in my race for the Democratic nomination for County Court Clerk.

May God be our keeper and our guide in this campaign.

Your friend,

DuRan Moore

WHAT HAPPENS TO CAUSE ORDINARY HEART SEIZURE

When we speak of a heart attack we usually mean an acute condition that doctors call coronary thrombosis, a sudden blocking of one of the coronary arteries that supplies the heart muscle with blood.

Although the heart attack itself is sudden, it is the result of a slowly developing disease process of the coronary arteries.

As this disease develops the passageway through the arteries becomes roughened and narrowed by fatty deposits that harden into patches along the inner lining of the artery much as lime deposits form in a water pipe. Around these patches, scurvy fibrous tissue forms in the artery wall so that the channel is narrowed and there is less room for the blood to flow through.

When the artery channel has become narrowed, a blood clot may form in the narrowed artery to block the channel and cut off the flow of blood to the part of the heart supplied by that artery. When a clot (thrombus) cuts off the blood supply to a section of heart muscle, the result is a heart attack—physicians call it a coronary thrombosis or coronary occlusion. The usual symptoms of a heart attack are: severe painful sensation of pressure under the breastbone, often lasting for hours (mild attacks are sometimes mistaken for acute indigestion); sudden intense shortness of breath; sweating; and occasional loss of consciousness.

When a heart attack occurs, the central part of the area deprived of blood may die. The affected area must heal to form strong scar tissue. At the same time, a new blood supply to the area develops as new arteries get wider and even open up new branches to deliver blood to the area of heart muscle that needs it.

Treatment following a heart attack consists mostly of giving the heart time to mend itself. Even though the patient feels well after the first week, he must continue to rest in bed or chair to give the heart time to heal. The time required for the patient to get back on his feet will depend on the extent of the heart injury, the rate of healing, the patient's cooperation and understanding, and whether or not complications develop.

If you are a bystander when a heart attack occurs, you can be of great assistance if you:

1. Call the doctor at once.
2. Help the patient take the position that is most comfortable for him (this will probably be half-way between lying and sitting—he usually cannot breathe comfortably if he lies flat).
3. Do not attempt to carry or lift the patient until the physician arrives.
4. Loosen tight clothing such as belts and neckties.
5. See that the patient does not become chilled, but do not induce sweating with too many blankets.
6. Do not give stimulants such as whiskey or brandy.

Remember to keep your head and you may help to save someone's heart!

Handle Perennials With Tender Care

Your success in growing plants in a new location will depend largely on how you handle them. Perennials and annuals have dense fibrous root systems and should be moved with as much soil on the roots as possible, says M. E. Elliott, landscape authority at the University of Kentucky. Transplanting may be done in late March or early April.

Lift an entire clump of perennials with a spade when they are moved from one place to another in the border or garden. If the clump is to be divided, cut the roots and soil with a sharp spade to make a clean cut without breaking the roots from the soil.

The stems of both annuals and perennials are tender and crush easily. Hence, care should be taken not to handle the plant by the stem, but instead by the top or by placing the hand under the roots. Press the soil gently around the roots, but not enough to crush them. Finally, protect the tops from the sun until they have recovered from the effects of transplanting.

Fertilizer Produces Results
A phosphorus fertilizer application costing the farmer only $7.00 per acre brought him an additional 45 bushels of corn last year in a fertility test on Nelson county land low in phosphorus.

CERTIFIED ALFALFA CONSISTENT
Certified alfalfa varieties assure Kentucky farmers more consistent and higher production than uncertified common lots, a 10-location yield test conducted by the UK Agricultural Experiment Station agronomy department has shown.

PIG-FEEDING TESTS
Pigs fed from weaning time to 200 pounds weight on alfalfa pasture took twice as much supplement when a "simple" supplement was used as when a "complete" supplement was fed, says the UK Agricultural Experiment Station swine department.

ROADS:

I am not sure what yardstick is used to determine where roads are needed and where roads are to go in the state but I shall find out for you and I shall work to inform those who are in charge of highway planning that Eastern Kentucky is most certainly a part of the "Bluegrass State". I am sure that one important factor in deciding where the road dollars are to be spent should be NEED and our section has plenty of NEED.

A relative to one of the candidates for Representative called me some time ago and asked me not to run and when I said that I was determined to stay in the race, he said in so many words: "We will state you out on election day." To him and any others who feel that they can thwart the wish of the voting public by some "age-old" trick I have this to say: THE VOTERS OF FLOYD COUNTY ARE INTELLIGENT AND WILL RESIST WITH ALL THE MEANS AT THEIR DISPOSAL ANY EFFORT TO DICTATE ELECTION RESULTS NO MATTER WHO MAKES THE EFFORT.

Fiscal Courts Should Require County Records

The duty of requiring county officials to keep proper records and reports rests upon the fiscal court. Miss Mary Louise Faust, state auditor, declared last week.

She cited an opinion by Assistant Attorney General M. B. Hollifield which said the fiscal court has the duty "unless the question of the amount of excess fee or collections and distribution of the county funds is before the courts."

This was pointed out by Miss Faust in a memorandum to all Kentucky county judges and fiscal court members. The memorandum stated: "It is evident in most instances that the county officials are doing to serve the people in a competent manner and those charged with the responsibility of handling public funds are desirous of correctly accounting to the county and state. We urge all of you who are not requiring an accounting to inaugurate the practice. Improved accounting records should result in a reduced cost to the audit to the county because the time required for the audit would be less."

"An important item that is being overlooked in some cases is making the action of the fiscal court a matter of record. In instances relating to a financial transaction it will be necessary for us to take exception if the fiscal court approval of the transaction is not a matter of record."

if your husband had to do this today ...

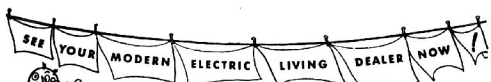

... guess what he'd do tomorrow!

Up and down, bend and stretch ... that's the way it goes when you hang out the family wash the old-fashioned way.

If your husband did these wash-day exercises just once — struggling with unwieldy baskets full of heavy wet clothes, hanging each piece up one by one — we'll bet he'd buy an electric clothes dryer.

Then, on wash days, there'd be no more unnecessary drudgery for you ... no more backaches ... no more clothespins to bother with ... no more unsightly clotheslines. You'd just toss a washer load of clothes into your electric clothes dryer, set a dial, and they'd be fluffy dry pronto! And your family would save money on clothes, for you'd actually need fewer changes for children. With an electric washer and dryer, you can have clothes sparkling clean and dry — ready for use — within two hours.

If this sounds wonderful to you, see if you can get your husband to go through the wash-day lifting, bending and stretching routine just once. Odds are in your favor that both of you will soon be seeing your modern electric dryer ... on your way to Living Better Electrically with an electric clothes dryer.

STUDENT NUMBER RISES AT PIKEVILLE COLLEGE

Pikeville, Ky., March 11 (Sp.) — A total of 80 Floyd county students is included in the enrollment of 442 students for the spring semester at Pikeville College, exactly equal to last fall's registration. It was announced today.

Thirteen Kentucky counties, seven other states and the Republic of Korea are represented in Pikeville's second semester since becoming a four-year college last fall. Eighteen of the seniors in the group will be among the candidates for Pikeville's first baccalaureate degrees at commencement June 2. Dr. A. A. Page, college president said.

The Korean, who came to this country last fall, is Bo-Kyung Chai of Seoul.

Widespread flood damage in the Big Sandy area did not weaken the resolution of mountain young people to secure a college education. Dr. Page added. Although many had to arrange for delayed payment of their school expenses, he said, the drop in enrollment which was greatly feared simply did not come to pass.

Pikeville students at Pikeville are M. R. Akers, Lancer; John Allen, Jr., Prestonsburg; Chester Bell, Garrett; Frank Bailey, Garrett; Delmar R. Baldridge, Prestonsburg; Tommy R. Revenue Official Warns of Errors On Tax Returns

Frankfort, March 11 (Sp.) — The majority of errors made on Kentucky income tax forms are the direct result of taxpayers' failure to read instructions, Revenue Commissioner J. E. Luckett warns.

Errors made in the return, which includes complete instructions, will result in needless correspondence and delay of any refund due taxpayers, Luckett added.

He said the most common errors are failure to attach all withholding statements to the return; failure to list names of dependents claimed; failure to enter the correct amount of Kentucky income tax withheld; and failure to submit the appropriate schedules.

He listed the schedules as those listing farm income and expense (form 760P), income from business or profession (schedule C), gain or loss from sale of capital assets (schedule D) and child care payments.

Luckett said a very common error is failure to enter federal income tax refunds as income on the Kentucky return. He added, "Any of these errors could delay the processing of your return or of any refund that may be due. For instance, if you should file your Kentucky return and fail to attach a withholding statement or appropriate schedule, the processing of your return would be delayed. In order to complete the processing of such returns, the Department of Revenue must write the taxpayer requesting additional information. In some instances, it is necessary to prepare a tax bill when withholding statements are not furnished."

FARM NOTES

PLANNING YOUR GARDEN

The home garden is a means of supplying the vegetable needs of a family. If properly planned and cared for, a garden will supply vegetables from early spring to late fall with a surplus for freezing, canning and storing. Not only is a garden valuable in that it supplies the fresh vegetables to balance diet, it will return $1.00 or more per hour spent of labor.

Your garden site should be near the house, free of large trees and located on the best soil possible. The size of garden needed is determined by vegetables needed by the family. Quite often families start out with a large garden that is too large for them to care for.

A garden 100 feet wide and 140 feet long if properly planned will supply the vegetables for a family of five.

Time spent in planning your garden now will mean a better garden this summer. To make a plan, first determine what vegetables you want to grow and how much will be needed of each. Then make a map of your garden showing where each vegetable will be planted. When making your plan, keep in mind the permanent crop such as asparagus, rhubarb and strawberries should be put along one side. Other vegetables should be grouped according to maturity date, planting date, and height of plants. Early maturing vegetables should be followed by fall vegetables, if they are located together it is much easier to tend. Plant corn and pole beans to one side to avoid shading smaller vegetables.

If possible the position of each kind of vegetable should be changed each year. Rotation of crops help to control nematodes and various insects, leaf spotting and root diseases.

Once garden information is available at the County Extension Office. This is first in a series of garden articles. Next week's article will include preparing seed-bed and fertilization.

VEGETABLE WEEKLY FOUND

Southern Kentucky counties along the Tennessee border are warned of a new insect pest which, while not a major hazard to barley plant beds, has done considerable damage in years past further south. The pest is the vegetable weevil.

Milk treated by radioactivity will not lose its flavor and can be kept in good condition 10 days, recent British research shows. The process has not yet been adapted for commercial use.

RULES FOR EGG CARE

Clean, covered, and cool are the three C's for retaining the delicate flavor of fresh eggs. Their minute packaging is a wonderful protection providing the eggs are kept in a covered container to keep the moisture in and the odors out.

RAY HOWARD

Candidate for County Court
Clerk

In order that the people of this county may know more about who I am and who my relatives are as I ask them for their support in my race for the Democratic nomination for County Court Clerk, I give the following family connections:

I am a son of F. P. (Chick) Howard and Nora Allen Howard. My grandparents on my mother's side of the family were Reps. Allen and "Aunt" Martha Hall Allen. On my father's side my grandparents were Dan Howard, a Confederate veteran of the Civil War, and Martha Handshew Howard. My wife is the former Josephine Ellis, daughter of Mrs. Belle Lafferty Ellis and the late Tilden Ellis.

Numbered among my relatives are these well-known Floyd county families, in addition to the Allens, Howards, Handshews and Halls:

The Stumbos, Osbornes, Pattons, Sizemores, Stephenses, Moores, Mays, Baileys, Shepherds, Cooleys, Turners, Martins, Harberts, Sallibury, Haynes, Gearhearts, Oaulders, Laffertys, Ellises, Grays, DeRossetts, Calhouns, Messers, Spradlins, Hugheses, Triplett, Watkinses, Griffiths, Wallens, Warrickes, Roses, Hammonds, Hinton, Hatchers, Clicks, Hales, Bingham, Crisps, Fitzpatrickes, Webbs, Prestons, Nicholls, Scuttsfields, Shorts, Praters, Dyes, Sloons, Dempseys and others.

Some of those to whom I am related, by blood or marriage, may not know me personally. I invite you and all others to inquire about me, to determine if I am qualified and deserving to the position of honor and trust that I seek. And I respectfully ask each of you for your support in this, my first campaign for county office of any kind.

Sincerely,
RAY HOWARD
Democratic candidate for County Court Clerk

FOOD NOTES

Two heads would be better than one when it comes time to plan how you are going to spend your money. One to look ahead and one to look behind!

Your grocery shopping list offers a good example for two heads. A look behind can tell you such things as (1) What your family has or has not liked, (2) when certain foods are likely to be abundant or scarce, and (3) what you can expect of certain foods. A look ahead will help you decide (1) how much you need, (2) when you will need it, and (3) why you will need it.

Shopping lists will vary among families. In some families, both husband and wife work, thus work and time saving features may be all important. In other families economical costs per serving may be the riding concern. Still others may have special dietary needs.

With all these things in mind, you all down and plan menus for the shopping period. Choose foods to fill out the menu checked against a nutrition guide, on the basis of:

1. Seasonality and abundance of food.
2. Foods already on hand.
3. Facilities available.
4. Meals to be served.
5. Money available.
6. Family preferences.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of my father, G. L. Calloway, who passed away March 10, 1955:

Deep in our hearts lies a picture more precious than silver and gold; it's a picture of you, dear Dad, whose memory will never grow old. Peacefully sleeping, resting at last. The world's weary troubles and trials past.

In silence you suffered, in patience you bore, till God called you home to suffer no more. Memories are treasures no one can steal. Death is a heartache no one can heal.

Some may forget you, now that you're gone. But we will never forget you, no matter how long.

Sadly missed by his wife and children.
