1 cup sugar
1/2 cup baking powder
1/2 cup salt

1 1/2 cups grated orange 3 cups melted shortening or salad oil

1 egg
1/2 cup milk
1/2 cup orange juice
1 1/2 cups sugar

SPOON flour (not sifted) into dry measuring cup. Level off and pour measured flour into a mixing bowl.

ADD sugar, baking powder and salt to flour (not sifted) and stir to blend.

ADD orange rind and mix well.

COMBINE egg, milk, orange juice and melted shortening.

ADD liquid ingredients to dry ingredients. Stir only until all flour is moistened.

FILL greased muffin pans 2/3 full.

COMBINE walnuts and sugar. Sprinkle mixture over batter.

BAKE ... at 450° for 15-20 minutes.

YIELD ... 1 dozen muffins.

A tantalizing flavor of orange and a crunchy topping of sugar and walnuts. You'll find these Orange Walnut Muffins are extra delicious because they are made with Silver Mist Flour.

(Continued from Page One) plans until at least January 1, 1964. B. Transfer these hospitals to the communities at no cost. C. Guarantee the purchase of medical care from these hospitals for U.M.W. Welfare and Retirement Fund beneficiaries.

"II. That the state government be petitioned to: A. Extend hospitalization coverage under the Medical Care Program from six to 10 days. We understand from our conversations here that this position is consistent with previous recommendations of the Kentucky Hospital Association and the Emergency Advisory Committee on Medical Care. B. Explore the possibility of extending hospitalization coverage to the dependents of unemployed fathers under the Aid to Dependent Children Program. C. Consider the introduction of legislation, during the coming special session to permit these four counties, and any others, to join in cooperative activity for the purpose of continued operation of these hospitals in the best interests of the people they serve.

"III. That the counties of Bell, Floyd, Letcher and Perry be petitioned to: A. Immediately act about the task of critically evaluating their ability to support a community hospital, and to begin the organizational process necessary to the successful operation of a hospital. B. Designate representatives from each county to meet together for the purpose of determining what these four counties, and any others, might do jointly that they can not do alone, to enhance the continued operation of these hospitals, and to facilitate current efforts with the U.M.W. Welfare and Retirement Fund and other agencies in working out the future status of the hospitals.

"IV. That the state-medical society, the Kentucky Hospital Association, the State Department of Health and Economic Security, and the University of Kentucky Medical Center be petitioned to: A. Provide technical assistance or staff to the separate counties in their endeavors cited above. B. Provide technical assistance or staff to assist the representatives of the counties working jointly as cited above.

"V. That Mr. John Whisman be requested to immediately assist us in the implementation of the above points, and that he particularly assist us in the petition to state government."

Arthur Bradbury, of Wheelwright, signed the resolution as the Floyd county representative.

Commented Gov. Bert Combs after reading the resolution:

"The resolution addressed itself in part to the U.M.W., partly to the communities in the area and partly to federal and state government. I have already directed several persons in state government, whose responsibilities relate to points in the resolution, to work immediately to learn what can be done by state government and to take the point of view that we will do everything possible to assist the people of the hospital areas to deal with this difficult and urgent problem. I will probably have a more specific response for you and the citizens of your areas within a few days."

Attending the Harlan conference from this county, in addition to Mr. Bradbury, were County Judge Henry Stumbo, County Attorney Burkley J. Sturgill, County Clerk C. Otto Robinson, Dr. George F. Archer and Frank H. Laine, Prestonsburg; J. R. Camlica, David, Dr. J. L. Patterson, George E. Patti, Willie R. George, Jim Thornberry, all of Wheelwright, and Thomas M. Patti, administrator of the McDowell Memorial hospital.

Bar Group Condemns Waves of Violence Plaguing Coal Fields

Hazard, Ky., Jan. 12—The Perry County Bar Association has condemned the wave of violence that plagued mountain coalfields from September through December.

The association extended its support in a resolution passed Friday to the Perry County Committee for Law and Order, Inc. The committee was formed by the church, business, and civic leaders shortly after the November Perry County grand jury failed to return any indictment in connection with the labor unrest.

Two members of the grand jury were involved in picketing in the coalfields. In resolution the bar association said, "Many acts of violence and unlawful acts have occurred throughout Perry county, including the dynamiting of a church house, railroad property, schools, homes, coal tunnels, and other personal property. The resolution noted that the grand jury failed to make any indictments, and persons responsible for the violence have not been brought to trial."

Board members who would keep in office the administration of Superintendent Claude Farley. The county superintendent, who says he knows nothing of a political fund and that the only monies his administration ever used were voluntary contributions that never amounted to over $250.

Rumson said his troubles started when one of the checks to the fictitious party got into the mails in December and was returned with the postal notation, "Address Unknown."

It was for $450, made payable to Curtis Auto Parts, Williamson, West Virginia, purportedly representing Rumson's new business.

Because Rumson had submitted the invoice for board approval, he was called upon for an accounting. He declined comment until the indictment was returned.

By Rumson's estimate, some $15,000 to $20,000 in school money had not been obtained. Curtis Auto Parts, the nonexistent firm, was identified to the board as the supplier.

When the invoice was approved for payment, the authority to pay was taken to the finance officer, who later delivered the check to Rumson.

Rumson then deposited the check with an endorsement in the name of a fictitious T. C. Curtis, to the account of Curtis Auto Parts, First National Bank at Williamson.

For withdrawals, the signature of the fictitious Curtis was used on checks made payable to Rumson. "I have taken as much as $2,000 in cash in my brief case and helped move it out to my own private premises for board runs," Rumson said.

Concerning his involvement in the check-writing plan, he declared that he trusted his friends too much. "I could have covered up my mistake by using a stamp endorsement instead of my signature if I had wanted to, get by with anything," he said. "I didn't think this was necessary because I wasn't stealing."

"Anybody who wants to can find out that I haven't accumulated as much money. I don't own any property and, in fact, I don't own anything. I am paying for my furniture and am paying for my car. I owe the bank."

LEADERS PLAN DRIVE TO PLANT SEEDLINGS

Agricultural and forestry leaders of the county will open a drive February 1 to induce Floyd county landowners to plant tree seedlings. The seedlings, supplied by nurseries from the Kentucky Division of Forestry, are made available on a cost share basis.

No real has been set on the program as yet. It was said at the offices of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee.

The forestry club of seven southern states recently jointly announced the designation of "Plant Trees—Grow Jobs Week" as part of the largest, concerted regional reforestation effort ever undertaken. Six of the states—Alabama, Georgia, Mississippi, North Carolina, Tennessee and Virginia—designated the week of February 3-5. Kentucky designated the week of March 3-5.

"This is a time of dramatic opportunity for the South," the seven state forestry leaders said in a joint statement. "Barry has there been a chance for so many people to do so much, with so little individual effort and cost, to help make this region a good place for their children and grandchildren to live."

The Tennessee Valley Authority, which is participating with the states in the drive to complete the reforestation of 13 million acres in the next seven years, said that emphasis will be placed during the week on getting landowners to make definite plans to plant seedlings.

In each of the 101 Tennessee Valley counties teams are being organized to solicit landowners personally, provide them with applications for plant seedlings and encourage them to order and plant this winter. Additional teams will be organized in counties outside the watershed.

It was estimated that a "small army" of over 100 persons will be actively engaged during the week in making tree-planting arrangements.

John E. Harris, having fireworks in possession, $100 fine.

The judgment of September 13, 1962, setting the penalty of the Utilities Fuel Co. charged with street pollution at $400 fine was set aside last Thursday. Then, by agreement with the Commonwealth's Attorney, the defendant submitted "law and facts" and its fine was set at $100 and costs.

In addition to the indictments under which Hackworth, Quillen, Hill and Hall were convicted, true bills reported to date by the grand jury include these:

James Gordon May and Jack Sellers, discharging a deadly weapon and robbery of A. B. Meade, a total of $11,000 bond asked for the release of each. Turner Lafferty, Barbara Lafferty and Vernon Clay grand larceny, accused of taking tires and batteries owned by Turner Lafferty.

Other court sessions of the week: Planned Parenthood, accused of child desertion, $1,000 bond forfeited; Donald Ray Hall, seduction, under promise of marriage, dismissed for lack of prosecution; Ella Challen, charged with malicious shooting and wounding another, $1,000 bond forfeited; Anne Lee Duncan, breaking and entering, $1,000 bond forfeited; John Scott Cleverly, grand larceny, dismissed on grounds that defendant was in federal court at the time the offense was committed.

Sluggery-Mollie, grand larceny, dismissed because he had been acquitted in a companion case; Paul and Grace Burke, breaking and entering, continued to January 29; Ballard Harris, falsifying, dismissed for lack of prosecution; Thomas E. Barnhart, child desertion, probation from one-year term revoked; Carl James Tackett, child desertion, dismissed; Duane and wife Irving, continuing a woman against her will, not guilty; Don Hoover, seduction under promise of marriage, dismissed with the notation that defendant had asked corroborative witness to marry him.

Trial of James Gordon May and Jack Sellers, charged with the robbery of A. B. Meade, was set for January 21.

Because the youths had no previous record, the case was tied away, subject to being redocketed.

Another youth, 16-year-old Johnny Prater, was convicted and committed to the Kentucky Youth Authority. He admitted breaking into Sammons' Drive-In and the Presque Isle high school, also to taking two bicycles. Police also accused him of these breaks: the Black Cat Drive-In, the home of Mrs. Bruce Conley from which $200 in cash was taken, the Black Manor home from which about $300 was taken, and Janet Whitten's auto from which $22 was missing.

Jailed within the week were Romaine Shepherd, arrested by Deputy Sheriff H. Stone on a grand larceny charge, and Dennis Joseph, who was booked by State Trooper W. B. Clark on a drunk driving count.

During his military career he has been awarded the Good Conduct Medal with four Bronze Leaves, National Defense Service Medal, Army of Occupation Medal and the Air Force Longevity Service Award Ribbon with two Bronze Oak Leaf Clusters.

Sgt. Belcher is a son of George W. Belcher, Sr., of Allen, and is a graduate of Prestonsburg High School.

Seven days past his 11th birthday, he won the turkey which he holds at a turkey shoot using a .22-caliber rifle. He hunted squirrels with a .410-gauge shotgun and in his 10th year bagged eight. The youngster is a straight-A student, a leader in the Cub Scouts, plays Little League football, is a member of the school band, and regularly attends church and Sunday School.

It was reported that an arrangement had been made whereby certain of the clergy members of Pikeville College faculty could supply, on a regular basis, the smaller churches of the Big Sandy Parish.

About 55 ministers, elders and lay leaders of the churches in Eastern Kentucky attended the meeting.

Wrong Body Is Returned To Pikeville: Officers Seek Whereabouts of Justice

As a result of an argument on a farm near Cotton Wood Point, Missouri, in late November two men fought a death duel. Ralph Roy, 47, of Polk, Arkansas, allegedly pushed up an axe and fatally injured Adam G. Justice, 31, of Pikeville. Justice was identified by papers in his pocket.

Key was lodged in the Pemiscot county, Missouri, jail and the body of Justice was shipped to relatives at Pikeville. Relatives declined to identify Justice, pointing out differences in weight and height of the body and that of Justice. A check of fingerprints at Washington by Kentucky State Police found that the body was that of Robert Earl Wood, Willis Spring, Missouri.

Perplexed officials agreed to a return of the body to Cabool, Missouri, where Wood, a Marine veteran of two Jims in World War II, was buried. How Justice's papers got into his pocket is a mystery. Key is now held in Pemiscot county jail awaiting charge for first degree murder of Wood. Sheriff Clyde Orton has asked the FBI to check on the whereabouts of Justice. It is said that he has not been in Pikeville for several years. His wife, Mrs. Audrey J. Justice, resides in Pikeville.

GRADY SELLARDS ENDS 41-YEAR UK SERVICE

Grady Sellards, for 41 years the University of Kentucky's Agricultural Extension Service swine and meats specialist, retired last week following a distinguished career. He has been acclaimed the South's outstanding authority on swine husbandry.

Sellards, a native of Floyd county, was graduated with distinction in 1921 from the University's College of Agriculture, Lexington, and went to work with the service the next day. He is a son of the late John and Maggie Clark Sellards, proprietors of the old Valley Inn here.

With few definite plans except to travel and pursue his hobby of collecting short stories, he said that he wants to do the things he always wanted to do but never had the time.

"My biggest regret on retirement," he added, "is saying goodbye to my friends."

As a veteran of the service, Sellards—like many of the other pioneer agents and specialists—has traveled every county of the state in his 41 years. He has also used every mode of transport available—horse, mule, auto, train, bus, boat, foot and plane—except motorcycles or bicycles. He also was of the era when the traveling specialists or agents frequently took meals and lodging with the people of the rural counties they visited. He estimates that in 41 years he traveled a half million miles in this state.

Sellards devoted his time to promoting improvement of the swine industry—from farrowing of pigs through sale of market hogs and their conversion into table cuts.

He emphasized use of purebred stock for breeding purposes, and development of the famed Kentucky country ham as a commercial enterprise. At one time, he says, the swine industry in Kentucky had a net annual worth of close to a hundred million dollars.

He helped develop the freezer-locker and plant system in Kentucky and made sure the products so stored were high quality. He pushed the use of purebreds despite the fact about 90 percent of Kentucky market hogs are from crossbreds, since purebred foundation stock is fundamental for good crossbreds.

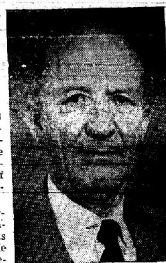

He recommended adequate equipment on swine farms by co-operating with county agents in such a program, concentrating on revising existing structures to keep down expenses. Many thousands of such structures have been remodeled cheaply into efficient, useful, swine feeding and farrowing structures.

In the late 20's and early 30's Sellards helped Kentucky be one of the first states to concentrate on swine sanitation as a prerequisite for good production. USDA parasitologists visited this state to tell, in rural meetings, how sanitation can prevent costly outbreaks of disease.

He has helped develop swine shows in the state, stressing 4-H Club member participation. For eight years he was manager of the Kentucky State Fair swine show, helping build it to its present sizable status. Sellards stressed showing by Kentucky breeders.

He worked hard with 4-H Club pig chains, and there are now 30 to 40 such chains in the state in efficient operation. This taught youngsters good swine management and promoted dissemination of purebred breeding in numerous areas. One such chain has "turned" 1,000 purebred sow pigs in a five-year period to members and others; these in turn were "chained out" to new youngsters.

The meet-type hog was recognized early as the consumer's (See Story No. 1, Page 2)

The day of the "turned" shirt collar may be gone forever. USDA scientists have found a way to make long-lasting collars and cuffs for men's cotton wash-wear shirts. An interliner of wash-wear fabric is bonded to outer layers of untreated cotton cloth. Together, these give shirt cuffs and collars the wash-wear quality of the interliner and the high resistance to fraying and abrasion of the untreated cotton.

with by Sellards, who says "all feeds" can produce meat-type hogs. The University of Kentucky's stable feeder-pig operation in Kentucky by four, meetings and cooperation with livestock marketing specialists and groups. One Blue Grass market now sells about 100,000 feeder pigs a season, Sellards noted.

He was an early cooperater with the "Top-Litter" program by which farmers were encouraged, through proper management, to have a litter weigh a ton by the age of six months. It was so successful the age limit eventually was dropped to five months, Sellards recalled. He said the program was "an epoch" in Kentucky hog production because it showed farmers how efficient, good management improved profits and returns.

Sellards over the years has either written or been a contributing writer to many Extension Service bulletins, national agricultural magazines, pamphlets and circulars teaching farmers how to raise swine. He is a member of the American Society of Animal Science, president of its Extension Division, one year of Alpha Zeta, honorary agricultural fraternity, Epitome Sigma Phi, honorary extension fraternity, and of Sigma Alpha Epsilon, social fraternity. Sellards was in the Army from 1942 to 1946 as a Quartermaster Corps property officer, and was separated with the rank of Major.

He is married to the former Dorothy Arnold of Oklahoma, a graduate of Oklahoma University. He has one daughter, Mrs. Harold Snowden, of Lexington, and one son, Grady Sellards, Jr., who is due to graduate in June from the University of Tennessee Medical College at Memphis, Tennessee.

The second large women's dormitory constructed in two years at fast-growing Eastern Kentucky College is scheduled for completion in May. McGregor Hall, a six-story residence hall for women and named for Judge Thomas B. McGregor, Frankfort, a long-time member of the college board of regents, will be occupied for the first time by 448 coeds when the summer session begins June 10. It will be the second completely air-conditioned dormitory completed this year and it will mark the third of six major construction projects finished during this school year. Earle Combs Hall, five-story men's dorm for 233 students, is expected to be completed in March.

The first major project completed this year was Martin Hall, which has housed 404 men students since the fall semester began in September. Other projects to be completed include Alumni Coliseum, the James E. Van Pelt Music Pavilion and an eight-apartment faculty housing unit. The new dormitory will be served by two elevators. Cost of the hall will be $1,958,500. Architects are Watkins, Burrows and Mills, Lexington.

Ground will be broken next month for two 12-story men's dorms, recently named by the board of regents Dupree Hall and Todd Hall in honor of F. L. Dupree, Harlan, and Dr. Russell L. Todd, Richmond.

FIFE AND CLARK

A letter from Mrs. O. F. Welser, 931 Vine street, Paso Robles, California, seeks information on a Henry H. Fife and contributes a bit of data on the Fife family.

"I want to learn something of Henry H. Fife, of Lawrence county, Ky., who received a land grant of 40 acres, Feb. 1, 1865, in that county.

This note was published in Jilison's Virginia Land Grants in Kentucky, published in 1925. I have just bought from Goodspeed in Boston a copy of his book, Early Kentucky Grants and Estates, published in 1928. In that book is a chapter of the warrants for land in the Virginia territory where I found my Captain John Clark who had three years service in the Virginia Continental Line. He was the father of my Jacob Clark, born there (Ky.) in Nicholas county, April 17, 1791. He married April 23, 1815, Dorcas Fife.

"I had not found, any Fife name near enough to Lawrence county until I found this Henry H. Fife. . . . They did not continue to live in that county (Nicholas) but by 1820 they had moved to Parke county, Indiana, where my grandfather, John P. Clark, was born April 1, 1820."

Mrs. Welserberger will welcome correspondence relative to the Fife or Fife family. She notes that she is descended from Ephraim and Isabella Roy Musick, an old Virginia family, with many branches in Eastern Kentucky.

STATE CLOSES RECORD YEAR

In Road Construction;
Contracts Are Awarded
At $3 Million Per Month

Princeton, Ky., Jan. 8 (Sp.) — The Kentucky Department of Highways closed out another record year by awarding work contracts totaling $13,403,000 during 1962. The new record surpasses the 1961 record figure of $122 million by more than $3 million—an average of nearly $3 million more per month.

Some 2,500 miles of roads and highways—new and improved—were placed under contract. Third quarter figures released by the U. S. Department of Commerce showed Kentucky had awarded contracts for work on more miles of road during the year than any other state except Texas, which had only 50 miles more.

Of the contract totals, some $5 million in state funds and federal participation went for improvement of state projects, including rural roads.

At present, 237 miles of Interstate and Turnpike routes are open to traffic and another 221 miles are under construction. These 458 miles of multi-lane, divided highways represent 44 per cent of the state's planned 1,051 miles of new, modern highways.

During the year, 56 miles of modern highways were opened to traffic, including such key segments as the Frankfort Bypass (194); additional Lexington Bypass; the Henderson Bypass (U. S. 41); the Mountain Parkway (43 miles between Winchester and Campbell); the Kuttawa Bypass on U. S. 60; and Interstate 75 between Florence and Covington, between Clays Ferry and Richmond and between Sycamore and the Tennessee line.

The Mountain Parkway will be opened to toll traffic on January 1 with a charge of 80 cents for the 43-mile stretch.

Contracts were awarded during 1962 for segments on all Interstate routes and both turnpikes under construction in the state. "The new record in itself is not important," said a Commissioner of the highway department. "The significance of this busiest year ever is that for the first time in Kentucky's history a modern system of highways interlaced with adequate connecting roads, is being constructed to serve all the citizens of the state."

43 miles of modern concrete now open to traffic on the Kentucky Mountain Parkway!

From Winchester to Campton, 4 lanes of safe, smooth-riding concrete will carry you through some of the most beautiful natural scenery in the nation. Driving this new toll road in Eastern Kentucky will show you a whole new world of driving pleasure. When they give you modern concrete—they're giving you the best.

Laid flat to stay flat, concrete has a grainy surface for safe stops. Its light color lets you see better at night and in bad weather. And this concrete is "air entrained"—billions of tiny bubbles in it prevent surface roughening from freezing. Unkept of this modern concrete turnpike will be as much as 75% less than for asphalt.

All these advantages work for highway progress in Kentucky. Modern concrete provides safe, economical and dependable routes for citizens and industry.

HANEY HEADS PROGRAM FOR YOUTH FITNESS

The Lincoln country of Kentucky is again feeling the Presidential touch—a touch blamed for many sore muscles and aching backs among the school-age population of LaRue county where a former Floyd resident is superintendent of schools.

President John F. Kennedy's experimental program to improve the physical fitness of American youth was launched at the beginning of this school year in seven pilot school districts across the United States. LaRue county is one of the seven districts selected by the President's Council on Youth Fitness to pursue for the school year a vigorous program of daily physical exercises.

The program is designed to that every student from the fourth to the twelfth grade, except those excused for medical reasons, must take physical training for 15 minutes each school day.

How "soft" were the students when the program began? How are they reacting to the exercises?

Ora Haney, superintendent of LaRue county schools and a firm believer in the value of physical training, has nothing but praise for the program and says the students share his outlook. (Mr. Haney resigned for a time at Wayland where he married a daughter of Dr. and Mrs. M. V. Wicker.)

"After the first month of school, a marked improvement in the students' physical condition was apparent," Haney says. "They had sprung in their step, their bodies were straight."

Haney backs up his observation with facts. When school began this year all students were tested on three exercises: pull-ups, sit-ups, and squat thrusts. They were measured by standards that varied according to age and sex. Only 57.7 per cent of 1946 students taking the tests passed.

A month later the same tests were given. This time 65 per cent passed. Haney says a large part of the students who failed were overweight.

The most startling fact uncovered by the screening tests was the physical condition of the high school's football team. Football players scored slightly below the student average at LaRue County High.

Even more surprising, says Haney, was the discovery that several male students whose physical condition was rated excellent did not play football or basketball.

The school day had to be extended 30 minutes to work the exercises into the high school schedule, but Haney says so far no complaints have been heard from the students.

Haney admits the program is an administrative headache because of detailed records that must be sent to the Youth Fitness Council. Because of the program's experimental nature, each student is tested individually with a record of his progress kept by his instructor.

So far each student has been tested three times and a final test is scheduled for next spring.

Under the President's program, LaRue county is not required to continue its physical fitness program after the school year ends. But Haney says his district plans to stick with the daily exercises.

The program will be simpler to administer next year . . . individual tests and records won't be necessary," he says.

"We hope our success with the program will encourage other school districts to follow President Kennedy's lead in improving the physical condition of the nation's youth."

Paintsville Man Heads ABC Speakers' Bureau

Louisville, Ky., Jan. 17 (SPB)—Former Rural Highway Commissioner J. B. Wells, of Paintsville, today was named Speakers' Bureau chairman for the Democratic gubernatorial campaign of A. B. Chandler and his running mate, Harry Lee Waterfield.

The announcement was made here by General Chairman Muck G. W. White.

Wells, a native of Johnson county, served as Rural Highway Commissioner during Chandler's 1955-59 administration. He was an unsuccessful candidate for Lieutenant Governor in 1959. A World War II Air Force veteran, he has served as Paintsville's Mayor four times.

In addition to his wholesale hardware business, he is president of the Paintsville Finance Co., and vice-president of the Citizens National Bank of Paintsville.

MARTIN FOR STATE SENATOR

Without any solicitation from Senator Martin, we take this means of bringing to the attention of the general public and the Democratic voters of this county the immediate need of having Burris Martin return to the State Senate to represent the people.

His record in the state senate for the school teachers and the schools, for the establishment of the college in Floyd county and his record in the state senate of having never voted wrong on a labor issue should, especially under him to the Democratic voters of this county.

Senator Martin has had four years experience in the State Senate, would make a strong candidate in the two Democratic counties of Floyd and Knott, and knowing his way in and around Frankfort and the maneuverings of the legislative process, the Democrats should all unite and get behind Senator Martin and return him to the State Senate where he can be of great benefit to the people.

If you want a man you can have confidence in, a man who will stand and fight for the interests of the common, laboring class of people, a man of experience and unquestioned ability, a man who, at the last session of the legislature, was named by a poll of the newspapers as an outstanding legislator, I urge all Democrats and Republicans alike to get behind Senator Martin and request that he run for re-election.

RESOLUTION MAKERS

Are you making another resolution to "watch your weight," starting this very minute? You will need helpful authoritative information, too. Nutritionists and doctors advise following a plan of three well-balanced meals a day as the only way to get the important food needed—vitamins, minerals, protein and energy-giving foods. From many standpoints, breakfast is the most important meal of the day. So, when you feel the morning stir and want to get an energetic breakfast with your family, diet or no diet, go ahead. Scientific studies have shown that an adequate breakfast will enable one to turn out more work, to be more alert, and to be less fatigued.

Weight reduction in the scientific Iowa breakfast studies gave another clue to the importance of including breakfast in any weight reducing diet. Young men and women, elderly men, and 12 to 14-year-old boys were subjects in the studies. The breakfasts were served through periods of skipping and skipping breakfast and of eating adequate breakfasts. Regardless of variations in breakfast regimens, subjects weight did not change provided the total number of calories for the day remained the same.

An adequate breakfast is defined as one which provides one-third of the total daily caloric requirement, and one-fourth of the total daily protein allowance calculated for any one individual. The meal can be a simple basic one, easily and quickly prepared—fruit, cereal and milk, bread and butter or margarine, and a beverage. The whole family can enjoy this same basic breakfast. For most people, average servings of these foods supply one-fourth of the day's food needs. Smaller quantities of foods should be served the diet and nondiet milk may be used.

WOMAN'S CLUB MEETS

The regular monthly meeting of the David Woman's Club was held at the home of Mrs. Ray Spears, Jan. 4, with the president, Lilla Mae Price, presiding. The devotionals were given by Mrs. Lena Mullins.

After a brief business meeting, an interesting program was given by Mrs. Bill Mullins on "Moral and Spiritual Values."

Refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. Ray Spears, and Mrs. H. B. Tiller.

An auction is planned for the Feb. 15 meeting.

Members present were Mesdames Otis Bussey, Pete Capelli, C. T. Dahlin, Alvin Francisco, Frances Harmon, Ora Howard, Fanny Mae Howell, Oliver Marshall, Bill May, Oak Mullins, Bill Mullins, Lilla Mae Price, Ray Spears, and H. B. Tiller.

Medalists Ora Howard, Virgil Howard, Bill May, Harry Clay and Lilla Mae Price were hostesses December 22 to the David Woman's Club Annual Christmas party.

Following the social greetings a buffet dinner was served to the husbands and wives. This was followed by an exchange of gifts by the Sunshine Sisters and gifts to the husbands.

A session of games was enjoyed and prizes awarded. Mrs. V. H. Kruse was a guest.

SILVERFISH AND FIREBRATS

When you looked for your Christmas presents in the attic you may have found a whole colony of small, silver insects. These are silverfish or firebrats, which often live in boxes stored in basements or attics.

These insects cause damage in homes by eating any paper on which they feed or paper, such as bookbindings and other paper including wallpaper, rayon fabrics, starch in clothing and various moist wheat flour and cereals. These slender, wingless insects are beetle-shaped, are covered with scales, and are about 1/16 to 1/8 inch long. A silverfish or firebrat has two long "hairs" at the head and three long, tail-like appendages, each of which is nearly as long as the body.

Although silverfish and firebrats are very similar in appearance, they are two different species of insects. Silverfish live in damp, cool places, especially basements while firebrats develop in hot, dark places, such

GARRETT TIED WITH TROJANS
 John Campbell's Garrett Black Devils lost an 86-57 decision to No. 1-rated Carr Creek last Friday. So what happens in the state-wide loss also moved Garrett promptly moves into a first-place position with Wheelwright at 576. The loss also moved Garrett into a 20th place statewide tie with Wheelwright. McDowell (14-4) meanwhile whipped Martin, 72-69, and the 13th regional's top team, Clay County, and dropped two points. Thus the mood of the ratings appears to be it's better to lose to a team in the top-twenty than beat two in the medium-class range.

Walter Hambrick, former Pikeville College cage mentor, and now chief scout and recruiter for the University of South Carolina, is interested in McDowell's Keith Howell and David Turner, along with Prestonsburg's Wayne DeBord for future play with the Columbia school. Turner, with a 26.7 per cent average, is waging an individual scoring battle with Maytown's junior guard, Bob Tallent, who sports a 26.5 average. Wayne DeBord, owns a 21.5 mark for ten outings.

Pete Grigoriadis, past Devil captain of the county with a 6-2 mark in basketball play, Garrett is second with a 6-2 slot. Oddly enough, both McDowell losses have been to Garrett.

The drawings for the Floyd county district tournament will not be held until mid-February. . . Martin will represent Floyd county in the annual Palmetto Invitational tournament this week. Donald Halbert's club is the only one in the eight-team field capable of beating the Tigers, who are in the weak upper bracket. . . The Wheelwright-Prestonsburg game in the local gymnasium Friday night is a single attraction at 8 o'clock. . . Virtually all Louisville hotels are still accepting room reservations for the state tournament March 13 through the 16th. . . Regional tournament sites are expected to be announced Saturday by the Kentucky High School Athletic Association Board of Control.

FLANERY CATCH TOPS IN FISHING CONTEST

The "Thin Man" in the large-mouth bass division won the 1962 fishing contest sponsored by the Floyd County Fish & Game Club. This resulted when the club reversed fishing entries at the Maytown meeting Monday night and followed the printed rules of the contest.

So it was that the 6-pound, 12-ounce largemouth landed from Dewey Lake by Dave M. Flannery, of Allen, won in that division, although the second-place winner and four other entries were heavier. But Flannery's was longest, and it's length that counts in the contest. It measured 23 1/2 inches, a quarter-inch longer than the nearest competitor.

In second place was the 23 1/4-inch largemouth weighing 7 pounds, 4 ounces, caught at Dewey Lake by John D. Ward, of Prestonsburg. Both the No. 1 and No. 2 bass were caught on Bombers.

One bass weighed in at nine pounds but was disqualified because it was taken on a trotline. Rules of the contest provide that game fish must be caught on cane pole, casting or fly rod, using live or artificial bait. Other heavy largemouths figured in the contest, were: One of 8 1/2 pounds caught by Olin Elliott, of Allen, and one of nine pounds, 4 ounces landed by Steve Griggs, of Martin. All these big bass were taken from Dewey Lake.

Joe E. Bates Named Adviser To Breathitt; Is Former Congressman

Former Congressman "Joe E. Bates, of Greenup, has been named to the state advisory committee for the gubernatorial campaign of Edward T. "NeD" Breathitt.

Announcement of the appointment was made by Foster Cooper, Martin, Breathitt's state campaign chairman.

In accepting the campaign post with Breathitt, Bates said, "Any man who wants to lead the Democratic Party should act like a Democrat at all times. Ned Breathitt meets this requirement admirably."

Bates was an unsuccessful candidate for the Democratic nomination for the United States Senate in 1956. Backed by Ex-Governor A. B. Chandler, he ran against former Senator Earle C. Clements. Bates, an attorney, served 15 years as Congressman from the old Eighth district. He was Greenup County Clerk 16 years.

Mission Stores Founder Kiwanis Club Speaker

Wheelwright, Ky.—The Kiwanis Club of Beaver Valley opened its new year on January 7 with the Rev. John H. Lewis, of Jackson, as its guest speaker. Rev. Lewis, a native of Petersburg, Virginia, is founder and administrator of the Methodist Mountain Mission Stores, which serves the mountain counties of Kentucky.

Rev. Lewis explained that the stores, which sell used clothing, books and furniture, have been used as the instrument to provide employment and purpose to numerous mountain people and the profits are used to establish churches and Sunday Schools in remote areas. Five stores are now in operation at Jackson, Vaux, McKee, Elberts and Barbourville. These stores, which are operated and assisted by the Methodist Church, not only sell used clothing but provide clothing, furniture and other necessities to needy people. Some 16 churches and Sunday Schools have been founded or re-established over the years as a direct consequence of the stores.

A graduate of Asbury College, Bible Seminary of New York, and Emory University, he was chosen "Rural Minister of the Year" by the Kentucky Council of Churches in 1962.

The services of Rev. Lewis were obtained by the support of Churches Committee.

CHEVROLET...the Quality truck!

WALK AROUND IT. SEE THE DIFFERENCES.

Start at the rear of this Fleetside pickup. Grab the tailgate and pull hard. No give. Two heavy latches keep it tight. Now unfasten them and let down the gate. Jump up and down on it. Does it sag? Notice how the chains are wrapped in rubber so they won't rattle or mar paint.

Now look at the lower side panels. Two walls. You might dent the inside one but you won't show through. The floor will never rust. It's select wood, not metal.

Now please sit in the cab a minute. Comfortable? It also is double welded and the roof is insulated. Let's start over and look for a washboard road. Chevrolet coil-spring suspensions fight road shock better than other types, good for the truck, load and the driver.

There are other things. But you can see why this is a truck that does a job without a lot of pampering. It's built right. Which is why it's usually worth more at trade-in. When would you like us to deliver it?
