This Town... That World

A correspondent reminds me that it does a man no good to sit up and take notice if he keeps on sitting.

I HAVE FOREBODINGS

Well, I have my driver's license, my fish and game club membership card and have good intentions about my license plates. So it may be that I'm safe for a few days longer, if it doesn't suddenly turn spring-like and I go fishing without my '78 license, as long as there's no water in the lake I'm in the clear about my boat license, but odds are I'll come a cropper, somewhere along the line.

Glad to see that Uncle Sam is collecting only about 20% on income tax claims. The rest of us would like to see a refund.

OF RETORTS

—Fellow folks—here and elsewhere—your office open? And I solemnly assure him that it is, regarding the temptation to reply that, no, it isn't—that I'm talking to him from a grapevine hanging in an adjoining elm tree. Such occasions, some how remind me of the time when "Theodore" got himself into a night for refusing to pay poll-tax and was visited by his friend, Sherman. His conversation is recorded as having taken place:

"Henry, what are you doing out here?"

"The problem," replied McCall in his excellent colloquialism, "is that I'm a Christian and two young Peace Corps teachers, husband and wife, sent home after teaching in the Cameroons. The mission is in the form of an imaginary statement by one of their students."

"You say the problem is surplus food. But my child suffers from malnutrition. You say the problem is medical care for the aged. But 40 percent of our children die before they are five. You say the problem is automation. But I don't know what the word means. You say the problem is living together. I say the problem is living. But tell me about America. And when you finish—Explain Christmas."

GOOD FUNCH, NO FOLLOW-THROUGH

The Lexington Leader writer who wrote in his "lead" paragraph that the community college program is a "public assistance gimmick" should one rule of journalism and flouted it. He arrested the reader's interest with a striking statement, even if it isn't true, but then took off in all directions, none of which led to anything to show that what he said in the first place belonged in the second.

I could hire an eyebrow or so by leading off with the statement, "I fought with Guster," or the reader would be led to hear from me how come I'm here and if, here, how much or how little of that disagreement on the Little Bighorn, but then took off in all directions, none of which led to anything to show that what he said in the first place belonged in the second.

JUDGE STUMBO VIEWS IMPAIRMENT OF ROADS

RURAL AREAS HARDEST HIT BY WEATHER

Pupil Transportation Concern Is Expressed; Public Impatience Noted

"We don't have a rural road in the county that is in good condition, and as long as the weather remains as it is there isn't much to be done about it."

So said County Judge Henry Stumbo here Tuesday as snow and cold weather again curtailed travel and closed schools of the county.

Judge Stumbo said that as soon as the weather improves the county will do everything possible to restore these roads. "I can understand the impatience of the parents of pupils to school."

Hale and County Judge Henry Stumbo went to the reported hiding place they found that somebody had been there before them.

The youths were scheduled for detention during the week. Others jailed within the week and charges on which they were booked.

REWARD IS INCREASED IN SCHOOL VANDALISM

Board Sets New Reward For Looting

Clark Issues Appeal For Citizens To Aid; McDowell Is Hard Hit

A rash of break-ins into school buildings, with attendant heavy property damage and loss of materials, has caused the Floyd County Board of Education to raise from $50 to $100 its standing reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of persons guilty of such offenses.

Announcing the higher reward figure, County Schools Superintendent Charles Clark appealed to citizens of the county to help protect school properties in their communities.

Clark pointed out that the rural school lunch program is already in financial difficulties and that if funds of foodstuffs by thieves continue it may be necessary to discontinue the service.

Last looting occurred over the weekend when the McDowell and Prestonsburg high schools were burglarized. The loss at McDowell was particularly heavy. An $800 vending machine was ruined and materials were taken. Clark said two gas stoves were turned as high as they would go by the thieves and that it was a miracle everything wasn't burned.

The principal's office and lunchroom of the high school here were looted.

At Wayland, a week earlier, the door to the principal's office was broken and a number of windows were broken. All vending machines in the building were broken open and rifled, it was said.

Numerous break-ins into rural school lunchrooms have taken place this year, the Superintendent said.

Clark said the county and food-stuffs, the thieves in many cases have resorted to vandalism.

The Most Modern

... in 1900

This coal stove was considered modern in 1900. Today, it's as outdated as the horse and buggy.

More and more, housewives are turning over daily chores to electricity. In fact, the average home now has 15 to 20 more electrical appliances than it did just a few years ago to make life more comfortable. . . more pleasant.

With all the time and work electrical appliances save, it's also comforting to know electricity has not gone up in price. In addition, the more you use, the lower the unit cost becomes.

Folks live better these days . . . electrically, and more than ever, electricity is the biggest bargain in the family budget.

WOODROW BURCHETT MAKES PREDICTIONS TO KIWANIS AT RECENT MEETING HERE

(Editor's Note: Woodrow Burchett is the Prestonsburg Kiwanis Club's Old Man. He has been making predictions for the new year for many years. He was at the club's 50th anniversary meeting last night, and he was looking back over the past year and making predictions for the new year.)

Look at some of last year's predictions:

1. It will cost a nickel to mail a letter.
2. Khrushchev will land a man on the moon but Kennedy won't be able to get a Negro through the White House.
3. A big talk in politics will be the gubernatorial. Two major candidates—one 18 years younger than I and one 13 years older.
4. Four-lane bridge at Prestonsburg will be under construction and Lexington will be half an hour closer.
5. Plans will be under way for ground-breaking ceremonies for a Junior College at Prestonsburg.
6. Plans will still be flying over Prestonsburg.
7. Some Prestonsburg business men will have telephones in their automobiles.
8. You will hear a lot of talk about safety belts.
9. Jenny Wiley will become a lady. Some of these things have come to pass, and this year has a lot of new things in store for us.

We are living in a changing world. Time was when we cooked in the house and had our privies in the back yard—now we cook in the house and have our privies in the house. Our great-grandfathers were worried about water coming down the chimney—now we worry about our picture tube burning out.

Fifty years ago we had our first income tax law and it has increased every year. Now 100 years later we are going to say old the national debt by reducing taxes. Philosophy of economy has changed. Now we can reduce taxes on borrowed money. When the Indians find this country we paid no taxes and the women did all the work, and the white man came along and tried to improve on that.

On the International Scene. Every politician has a year when his stock goes down. This could be the year when Khrushchev's stock hits rock bottom.

Pakistan will be hot spot and if we war, or come to the brink of war, it will begin there.

Russia and Red China will be at odds.

Relations between England and the U. S. will be more strained, and France will be glad of the situation, but England will be permitted to join the "Common Market."

France will have its own nuclear power, but England will get its nuclear power from the U. S. and will be unhappy about it.

West Germany will have a more liberal government and the Reds will loosen their grip on East Germany.

The South American elections may not result in victories for democracy. The decade of the U. S. will be swift and strong and filled with confidence as a result of the victory in Cuba.

There will be no invasion of Cuba unless Castro signs a Negro. Sports. Willie Mays will earn a larger salary than the President of the United States. The Cincinnati Reds will have a better team.

The New York Yankees will not win the World Series. "Prestonsburg will win a couple of football games, and I will defeat all the teams they play on their home field."

The young set will be saying goodbye to the Twist and Rock-and-Roll and hello to a new Rhythm and the Blues.

Doctors will get a little longer, but doctors will have trouble trying to find a place to vacate where the scar won't show.

Locally. New courthouse and Junior college will be under construction. Families will be moving into the new housing project.

The road to nowhere will be completed, and it won't be necessary to take foot stumps for the road.

There will be a need for reform in drivers' licenses. The blank space provided for "color of hair" will have to be arranged so that it can be changed with each trip to the beauty parlor. Some ladies' hair will be the color of a dove.

More and more organs of the human body will be transplanted from one person to another, and within the year someone will try a human heart transplant.

There will continue to be an imbalance of doctors and lawyers in Prestonsburg. Ordinarily, there are about an equal number of each. But there is a reason for this. The general impression is that it takes twice as long to get a doctor as it does to get a lawyer.

The name "lawyer" appears five times in the Bible; each time in the catalogue of evils, and they serve as a warning to all generations.

The Savior was tempted on this earth three times—twice by lawyers and only once by the devil.

Then had you stopped to think that I talked at least three lawyers to try a case, and one doctor or even a nurse can give you a tranquilizer or a bottle of morphine.

You will see one of the longest, hardest-fought gubernatorial races since 1894. Photograph records and music will be the major notes that in previous campaigns. The old rule of a Republican governor every fourth year will be broken, and in December one of the youngest men ever to hold the office will be inaugurated governor.

What all this new year brings? Well, we cannot assume that it will bring a stable world or a release from international strife. It will undoubtedly be a year of wars and crises, but we must not believe in living trouble before it happens. The decade of the new year will give us a lot of the freer-soil breeze of May with lilacs and apple blossoms. Life is rich and rewarding, provided we accept it. The snow drifts will melt away and the sun may come out tomorrow. Although we bring nothing into the world, we will have nothing with us.

100 YEARS AGO THIS WEEK

The Civil War in Kentucky

By JOE JORDAN (Kentucky Civil War Commission)

"The snake of secession for a long time has lain comparatively torpid in Kentucky, but under the vivifying influence of the Administration's present course, the reptile is reviving." So wrote Editor George D. Prentiss, 100 years ago this week in the Louisville Journal.

A Democratic party cell for a convention to select candidates for state officers was what made Prentiss, a strong Unionist, suspect that sentiment for secession was reviving in the Commonwealth. And when he put the blame for it on "the Administration's present course," he referred to the Emancipation Proclamation that President Lincoln had issued the first day of the year. The proclamation had shaken a good many of the slaveholders of the Commonwealth who had remained loyal to the Union in a belief that the Lincoln Administration would do nothing to interfere with the institution in the states in which slavery existed, although it was well understood that the Republicans were opposed to its extension to other states.

The Democratic Central Committee had called for a convention of the party February 18 at Frankfort for the purpose of nominating candidates for governor and other state officers, to be elected at the next August election. "In the 18th century, as in the 20th, the year '63 was a time for choosing a new governor and all other elective state officers. In those days, however, the general election was in August, not in November as at present."

Members of the Democratic committee, calling the convention were Joseph Dudley, who had married Green Clay's widow and thus had become the stepfather of Major Gen. Cassin M. Clay of the Union Army; G. W. Craddock, who at the inauguration of Confederate Gov. Richard Hawes was reported to have described himself as "the first secessionist" that arose in Franklin county; State Auditor Grant Green; and Attorney General A. J. James, both elected in 1855; A. W. Dudley, who had a son in the Confederate Army; and S. M. Major, editor of the "Yankee" newspaper.

B. C. Cline, operator of aillery stable, and T. N. Lindsey, attorney, both of Frankfort, and J. W. South, keeper of the state penitentiary, who had two sons in the Confederate Army.

"Every member of the committee is a secessionist," Prentiss declared. The editor himself was bitterly opposed to the Emancipation Proclamation, but was even more opposed to secession. He denounced a resolution offered in the legislature by Sen. Asa Grover of Owen county. It began, "The maxim that governments derive their just powers from the consent of the governed is one which we ought never to forget" and went on quoting the Declaration of Independence, which presumably no one would repudiate, in a way that seemed to compare Confederates to American Revolutionary patriots. Prentiss called it a parody on the Declaration of Independence.

IFTE TELLS OF PANAMA

ASK MORE ASSISTANCE FOR STATE'S ECONOMY

Washington, D. C., Jan. 20.—Kentucky has received a $7,500,000 allotment in its economic arm from the four-month-old accelerated public-works program.

But whether the state asks further big doses of such fiscal tonic for its ailing areas may depend greatly on a meeting Friday.

Congressional advocates of the works program from 14 states, including Kentucky, will be asked to caucus then to consider strategy for achieving two goals:

1. Approval of a $500 million appropriation to fill the project's depleted coffers.

2. Extension of the program beyond June, the present statutory cutoff date.

The plan to speed up job-creating public-works projects received Congressional approval in September, and $500 million was authorized to pay the federal share of their cost.

Only $400 million of this was appropriated. Much of this has been committed with a large backlog of fund requests remaining.

Now the Administration must ask for the rest of the money with opponents standing ready to renew attacks on the program. In last year's debate they called it a political slush fund, a boondoggle, and a complete phony.

The caucus call for supporters of the works plan is being made by three Minnesota Democrats, Senators Hubert Humphrey and Eugene McCarthy and Representative John Blatnik.

They are asking Congressional delegations from these states to attend: Kentucky, Minnesota, Tennessee, West Virginia, Michigan, Wisconsin, Pennsylvania, Illinois, Missouri, Ohio, New Jersey, Rhode Island, New York and Oklahoma.

Representative Carl Perkins, Democrat, who represents Kentucky's economically hard-pressed Seventh District, said Tuesday he planned to introduce a bill extending the accelerated works plan and providing money for it. He said Blatnik and other representatives are expected to propose similar legislation.

The accelerated public-works plan was designed to give a quick economic life to areas of high unemployment by creating and speeding up projects that provide needed jobs.

Under it, the federal government bears the full cost of work on its property or under its jurisdiction.

On other projects, federal grants meet from half to 75 percent of the cost, with local and state governments paying the rest.

The Area Redevelopment Administration coordinates the program, but funds are given through six departments and agencies.

Forty-four federal grants totaling about $7,500,000 have been approved for Kentucky. More are expected before the $400 million appropriation has been fully utilized.

Individual amounts range from $20,000 to $151,000. Projects include construction of courthouses and a city hall, extension of sewers, the renovation of a water reservoir, and the building of a home for a city street superintendent.

An older, slower-moving economic-assistance plan, the Area Redevelopment Program, has pumped another $4,500,000 into Kentucky.

This program was set up in May, 1961, to help hard-hit sections diversify and rebuild their economic bases.

It has a four-point plan for doing this:

Industrial loans to help new firms establish or expand, loans and grants to communities for extending water and sewer systems for industrial development, technical assistance studies for reviewing resources and planning programs, and job training.

Area redevelopment assistance in Kentucky has ranged from a $1-166,800 combined loan and grant to the City of Princeton for providing water and sewer service to two new plants to a $7,500 technical-assistance contract for the study of the timber industry in 23 Eastern Kentucky counties.

In addition, $381,470 has been spent on tuition and subsistence allowances to give 653 Kentuckians new job skills. The trainees have been schooled for such positions as sewing-machine operator, assembler, cutter, and jewelry bench hand.

In fiscal 1962 the A.R.A. program had a budget of $16,875,000. This was cut back to $16,225,000 for fiscal 1963. But President John F. Kennedy is asking $23,800,000 for A.R.A. in the fiscal year starting July 1.

Biologists Say Streams In State Are Teeming With Overlooked Fish

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 6 (Sp.)—When practically all the words of fiery aimed at the game fishes of Kentucky, some of the better edible fishes not included in that category are overlooked. According to fisheries biologists, Kentucky streams are teeming with fish from the sucker family. This, they say, is not good for the bass population but since they do inhabit the streams and are considered the food they should be harvested.

White and black suckers are the most desirable of the sucker family so far as food is concerned. They run upstream to spawn just as the white bass and walleye do and it is during these runs that they are easiest to harvest. Since Kentucky permits gilling in most of the streams they can be taken by this method or by pole and line.

These fish do not necessarily go to the head of a stream to spawn. They often will stop at any point where the water is shallow and the bottom of the stream is of sand or gravel. They prefer the riffles to spawn on and are easily taken with a gig at these points. Pole and line fishermen are most apt to find them at a point below a natural barrier such as a small dam.

Although referred to as suckers they are not always that when the angler decides to catch one with them. They take food away by sucking them by utilizing. Many anglers find their hooks void of bait without having detected the slightest movement on the line.

The suckers' diet is made up mostly of insects and larvae but they are quick to go for small earth worms when presented to them in the proper manner.

Expensive tackle is not necessary. Common cane pole and line will take its share of the catch. Some people prefer the spinning or casting outfit but only because of the ease of handling and transporting. Small hooks are very essential the just enough weight to carry the bait to the bottom and leave the rest to the fish.

February and March are months of activity for the sucker family. It is during this period that they can be harvested in great numbers.

KENTUCKY'S FIRST CONSTITUTION was framed and adopted in a log courthouse at Danville in 1792. Today a reproduction of that courthouse stands in Constitution Square State Park at the site of the state's first seat of government. The original post office—the first one west of the Alleghenies and replicas of the courthouse, moving house and jail can be seen here and were recently renovated. One of the new attractions of the park is a large painting depicting the work of the first Kentucky Constitutional Convention. Kentuckians first met in Danville in 1784 to discuss the matter of becoming an independent state. At the 10th meeting, eight years later, the new Constitution was signed. Soon after the signing, Kentucky was admitted to the Union. Constitution Square State Park, reconstructed and opened to the public in 1942, is open year-round with a self-guiding tour available to visitors.

Kentucky has 1,382 business firms processing agricultural products, employing more than 50,700 people with a payroll of 201 million dollars.

TURBULENT 15th REGION HAS NO PRIME FAVORITE

Kentucky high school basketball fans who annually enter the "Pick-the-Steele Contest" will have a wide range of teams to select for the 15th regional title.

With less than a month before the district tournaments get under way, the turbulent 15th line no clear-cut favorite but backers of Martin, Paintsville, Virgie, McDowell and Wheelwright feel that their respective teams have the best opportunity.

A look at the four districts:
5th (Pike county)—Defending regional champion Virgie has beaten every Pike county foe except Heller, and that was a 62-61 upset loss over a neutral court. Virgil Osborne's Eagles have conquered Pikeville twice, 69-59 and 73-60; had a close 62-61 win over Elkhorn City; topped neighboring Norton, 72-68, and rolled to easy wide-margin wins over Phelps, Johns Creek and Beltry in compiling an overall 16-4 mark.

Aside from the two losses to Virgie, the Pikeville Panthers have split games with district opponents winning by seven over Norton and losing 78-79 to Elkhorn City.

Elkhorn City has split with Beltry, each winning at home, 11-10 and 12-11. Norton and Phelps, Jim Hutchins' Beltry Pirates are 6-3 in district play.

36th (Floyd county)—Wheelwright has won the district title for three consecutive years, but Don Walker's all-junior quintet is felt to be a season away from another title, as they have won only one game in county play while suffering losses to McDowell, Martin, Garrett, Wayland and Betsy Layne.

Any one of the district's eight teams is capable of grabbing the championship, although McDowell has beaten every team except Garrett for a 10-3 county mark.

Prestonsburg Defeated By Blaine Bob Cats, 83-75

Prestonsburg had its upset hopes quelled in the final period Saturday night by Blaine as the Bob Cats rallied for a nine-point advantage in the fourth period to win 83-75.

The game had been nip and tuck all the way with the Bob Cats getting a one-point first quarter advantage and holding it until the final two minutes. Then the Blaine Cats, paced by 6-4 Bill Lewis' 33 points and 6-7 Terry Young's 22 markers, hit their stride.

The win was the 18th in 29 games for the Bob Cats. It was the ninth loss in 18 games for Prestonsburg.

What's Going On in FISH & WILDLIFE

by MINOR CLARK, Commissioner

Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources

Q I am 14 years old. Do I have to have a fishing license to fish in my father's farm pond? J.B.S. Warsaw, Kentucky.

A Boy boys or girls under 16 years of age no fishing license is required in any pond, stream, or lake. Even if you are over 16 years of age you are not required to have a fishing license to fish in your father's pond if you are a resident on the farm on which the pond is located. Also, persons 65 years of age or older who reside in Kentucky are not required to have a fishing license, although they must have a certificate showing their birth date and place of residence.

Q I have a fairly good size farm on which there is a great deal of cover and food for quail, but there are few quail on my place. How do I go about obtaining quail for release? J.H.H., Lexington, Kentucky.

A Most sportsmen clubs of Kentucky obtain quail chicks from the Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources and send them to six or eight weeks of age. At that time the quail are distributed throughout the country for release on plots of land favorable to their survival. We suggest that you contact your club and request that they release a number of quail on your farm. Most usually these clubs are anxious to find suitable places to release these birds.

Q Roadside has told me that there is a new limit on black bass at Lake Cumberland. Is this true? J.W.V., Louisville, Kentucky.

A Yes, it is true. There is no size limit on black bass in this lake, but there is a creel and limit of 10 per day or 20 after two or more days of fishing. Some of the state-owned lakes have size limits as well as smaller creel limits on black bass but these fish are placed in convenient places for the benefit of the fisherman. Also, on Elkhorn Creek, for instance, where there is an experimental period underway, the size limits have been set at 12 inches.

Garrett Thumps Meade At Williamsport, Tuesday

Williamsport, Ky.—Garrett's height paid off in the final quarter as the Black Devils broke a third quarter tie to smash Meade Memorial 74-51 here Tuesday night.

The score was tied 45-45 going into the fourth period when Garrett outscored the Red Devils 20-6. Meade managed only seven shots during the fourth period against the taller Black Devils whose back line averaged 6-4.

Meade in 30-37 and Garrett 13-4.

Don Bolen and Jim Cox paced Garrett with 24 and 21 points, respectively. Jack Nevins topped Meade's scoring with 15.

CHEVROLE TRUCK QUALITY

You can see the difference wherever you look

If you believe various makes of trucks are pretty much alike, you aren't doing justice to your pocketbook. There are differences.

A Chevrolet truck wears more comparison. Look at the little things on it—hatches, hinges, stitching in the upholstery. Notice how strong the tailgate is, the rubber encased chains that keep it from sagging. The body that is made of solid steel to eliminate the rust problem and give you better looking. The lower side panels are made of steel, not light duty metal that won't stand up to the wear and tear of your work. The light-duty type is strong on handout. Another look at heavier trucks shows up as you increase your load and your work. May we send you a booklet on Chevrolet trucks? If you are going to buy a new truck this year, you should look at the quality Chevrolet has to offer. May we bring over a new 1963 to you for examination?

COURT SAYS GROUPING OF COUNTIES LEGAL

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 5 (S.P.)—The Kentucky Court of Appeals has ruled that the state Constitution permits grouping of more than one county into a single House district of the Kentucky General Assembly.

The ruling, which removes one stumbling block in redistricting state legislative districts, came during the first week of the special session of the General Assembly called by Gov. Bert Combs to undertake redistricting to bring the legislative districts into line with population shifts since 1942.

Another court decision several years ago held that the two-county rule is secondary to equality of representation and other provisions of Section 13 of the Constitution.

Following Gov. Bert Combs' opening address on Monday, in which he urged the Legislature "not without delay to reorganize Kentucky's legislative districts," the state Senate immediately called public hearings to help them with the districting task.

In separate hearings, the two chambers heard each of the four authors of redistricting plans explain his plan.

The four included three University of Kentucky political science professors—Dr. J. E. Reeves, Dr. Malcolm Jewell and Max Milam—plus Louisville Mayor William D. Weber.

The plan now previously submitted their plans to the now-dissolved Kentucky Commission on Reapportionment.

Major Combs' plans for Senate and House reapportionment were introduced in both chambers by the Kentucky County representatives.

The plan for Senate and House districts was introduced Thursday in the Senate.

The other plans—a House proposal by Reeves and a Senate plan by Milam—have also been drafted into bill form, as recommended by the Reapportionment Commission.

Plans drawn up by the U. S. professors allow for some deviation above and below the ideal population per district, and therefore disturb two of the present districts.

Also appearing at the public hearings was E. W. Keeler, legislative director for the Kentucky Farm Production, made up of 70,000 families in 15 Kentucky legislative districts that they plan to redraw for a "federal" plan which would draw State Senate districts on the basis of land area. This is similar to the practice of electing U. S. Senators from such state.

The federal plan would necessitate an amendment to the State Constitution, a measure which cannot be introduced during the present special session.

Gov. Combs limited its business to (1) reapportionment of present legislative districts and (2) the possibility of primary election in the event the changing of the date of the May 28 Legislature is unable to enact a reapportionment bill before the filing date for primary candidates in their districts (April 4).

In his opening address, however, Governor Combs urged the Legislature to avoid changing the primary date if possible.

Using the 1960 Census figures, each state Senate district should contain 79,951 persons — 1/38th of the state's population. House districts should contain 33,882 persons — 1/100th of the total population.

Because of population shifts since the last reapportionment in 1942, many districts now fall far below or far above these averages. Jefferson and Fayette counties, which have experienced the greatest growth, show a 1960 population of 61,947 and 131,965 respectively.

House plans by Jewell and Reeves now held by Warren, Christian, Boyd and Hardin, as does the plan submitted by Mayor Cowger.

In Jefferson county, however, Mayor Cowger would increase the House seats from 11 to 20, in addition to the same increases for the counties above. Cowger would also increase Jefferson county's Senate seats from five to eight, compared to a total of seven under the Jewell and Milam plans.

The legislator may fail to pass any of the plans already submitted to them and can originate new bills if they wish. The new State legislative districts were decided in a special session in 1942. At that time, each chamber introduced bills to proportion itself. Each bill was then approved by the other chamber.

By virtue of a judgment and order of sale of the Floyd Circuit Court rendered and entered at the November term, 1962, in the above styled cause I shall proceed to offer for sale at the Courthouse door in Prestonsburg, Kentucky, to the highest and best bidder, at public auction, on the 28 day of February, 1963, at 10 o'clock a.m., upon a credit of six (6) months, the following described property, to-wit:

SAID property will be sold to satisfy a judgment in favor of plaintiff for the sum of $198.42 and the cost of this action.

Given under my hand, this February 4, 1963.

Who Speaks The Truth About The Pope?

Shall we take the word of 20th-century critics who scoff at the Holy Father and deny that he is the Vicar of Christ?

Or shall we believe the New Testament and the clear testimony of scholars dating back to the first century of Christendom?

Catholics believe that the primacy of Peter is clearly established in the words of Jesus: "...thou art Peter, and upon this rock I will build my church... and I will give unto thee the keys of the kingdom of heaven." It is a fact of history... also confirmed by the Bible... that the other Apostles accepted Peter as their head.

Some who reject this view say Peter was not the first Bishop of Rome, which is historically an office held only by the Pope.

Others assert Peter was never in Rome. Yet Eusebius, faithful chronicler of many of the events of the second century, wrote: "Peter the Apostle, the first Pontiff of the Christians, when he had first founded the church at Antioch, proceeds to Rome, where, preaching the Gospel, he continues 25 years as Bishop of that city." Peter himself established his presence in Rome in his very first epistle, which closed with the greeting: "The Church which is in Babylon (Rome) salutes you."

Those who would deny the apostolic origin of the Catholic Church, and the succession of the Pope, can find no support for their view in the writings of the early-century Christians. In contrast, St. Irenaeus, Bishop of Lyons, who died in the year 202, wrote: "We must obey those in the Church who have received succession from the Apostles, for with their episcopal succession, they have received the gift of certainty in the truth according to God's will." Third-century scholars Tertullian and St. Cyprian were equally firm in calling upon Christians to "hear the Church."

The Church, according to the New Testament, was to be a visible thing—an organized society. This is evidenced by Peter's instructions to the Christian preachers of Asia Minor to "...tend the flock of God which is among you" (1 Peter, 5:1, 2); also St. Paul's address to the presbyters of Ephesus: "Take heed to yourselves and to the whole flock in which the Holy Spirit has placed you as bishops."

If you would like to know the truth about the Pope from Peter to John XXIII... how the Papacy has survived through nearly 2,000 years against powerful enemies who sought to destroy it... why an overwhelming majority of Christians throughout the world regard the Holy Father as the duly appointed Vicar of Christ on earth—write today for our pamphlet: "A Short Story of the Pope." It will be sent free in a plain wrapper. Nobody will call on you. Ask for Pamphlet No. KC-11.

the "maneuvering of the legislative process, the Democrats should all unite and get behind Senator Martin and return him to the State Senate where he can be of great benefit to the people.

If you want a man who can have confidence in a man who will stand and fight for the interests of the common, laboring class of people, a man of experience and untapped ability, a man who, at the last session of the legislature, was named by a pool of the newspaper as an outstanding legislator, I urge all Democrats and Republicans alike to get behind Senator Martin and request that he run for reelection.

We Are For NED BREATHITT for GOVERNOR!

Why I am for Ned Breathitt . . .

DR. JOE T. HYDEN, CAMPAIGN CHAIRMAN for BREATHITT

"Our schoolteachers are being paid decent salaries . . . More money is being used on our schools than ever before."

I am a former school teacher. I taught and coached in Floyd county for four years. During those years the educational system was at the very lowest. School teachers were poorly paid, school facilities were lacking because not enough money was available, and many of our better qualified teachers were leaving, going to other states for better paying jobs. I had to go to Oregon to teach, and get a better job. During this time the school teacher was in pretty bad shape and little hope for the future.

Today things are different! Our school teachers are being paid a decent wage. In a two year period our teachers received a wage increase of $1,100.00. More money is being used for our schools than ever before in history. Our Governor, Bert Combs, and his administration have made all this possible.

I know that Ned Breathitt is a part of this great program, that has meant so much to Floyd county. Ned Breathitt has always been a friend to teachers and education. As Governor, education need not fear that anything will be done with the present system.

Three years ago I served as co-chairman in this county for the Combs-Wyatt ticket. While I am sure there have been some mistakes made, they were honest mistakes. But the progress that has been made in Floyd county in the last three years far surpasses any mistakes that may have been made. I am proud that I worked for the present administration because it has kept the faith in Floyd county.

I have served on the Board of Regents at Morehead State College, I am now on the Board of Trustees of Alice Lloyd College (Caney Creek) and my interest in education and the future of our children dictates to me that I support and work for Ned Breathitt for Governor.

JOE T. HYDEN, Campaign
Chairman for Ned Breathitt

Why I am for Ned Breathitt . . .

C. OLLIE ROBINSON, FLOYD COUNTY COURT CLERK

"Our young people must have opportunity . . . The new Community College will mean they can get an education at home."

The past three years have taught me that with proper leadership and hard work a lot of progress can be made.

When Bert Combs was elected Governor, I was elected Representative and voted for every progressive measure that the Combs administration enacted. I know that more good things have been done in Floyd county in the last three years than ever before.

My particular interest is young people, because I know we must depend on them for the future. Our young people must have opportunity. Today our young teachers can come back home and teach—they don't have to go away from home to make a living. The new community college will mean our young people can get a college education and stay at home. I served on the education committee in the legislature that enacted the community college legislation. This has all been made possible by the work of the Combs administration. It means much to our young people and the future.

I believe that nothing should happen to this program because it would hurt our young people. Ned Breathitt is a young man, dedicated to the future of Kentucky, and its young people. I worked with him in Frankfort during the legislature and I know he believes in young people and will help us. Ned Breathitt thinks in terms of today, 1963, and the future—he does not think in terms of 1935.

I am happy to serve as youth chairman for Ned Breathitt and ask all young people in Floyd county to work and vote for a young man, Ned Breathitt, for Governor.

C. OLLIE ROBINSON, Youth Chairman
Ned Breathitt for Governor

Why I am for Ned Breathitt . . .

HARRY RANIER, CO-CHAIRMAN FOR NED BREATHITT

"In one short span of 3 years I have seen with my own eyes the greatest advance and progress."

I have been a resident of Floyd county and East Kentucky all of my life. Through the years I have watched other parts of Kentucky grow and prosper. I have seen good roads, good schools, and good progress made in other parts of Kentucky. Under all other state administrations I saw other parts of Kentucky get everything and we got nothing.

Finally, Bert Combs, a native of Floyd county and a mountain man, was elected Governor. In the short span of three years I have seen with my own eyes our greatest advance and progress in Floyd county in 150 years. We have a much-needed 4-lane road into our area, we have a new state park, we have a new community college under way, our school teachers are getting $1,100.00 more a year. Since Bert Combs took office, more miles of county roads have been built in three years than ever before in history.

I have been for Happy Chandler for Governor but in all his eight years as Governor he never did 1/100 as much for Floyd county as has been done in the last three years by Bert Combs.

I am in business in Floyd county, I employ several people. We all are aware of this great progress, and we are going to do the best thing for our families, our jobs, and our future. Help those who help us and vote and work for continued progress. Vote for Ned Breathitt for Governor.

HARRY RANIER, Co-Chairman
Ned Breathitt for Governor

Why I am for Ned Breathitt . . .

LAWRENCE HALE, FLOYD COUNTY JAILER

"Floyd county is getting more from State Government than ever before."

Almost two years ago the people of this county elected me their Jailer. I appreciate that and have tried to do a good job.

Since that time I have been very close to the workings of county and state government and what they mean to all the people. I was raised on a farm, worked on construction jobs, and I know how important good government and good progress are.

I know that today Floyd county is getting more from state government than ever before. Since Bert Combs has been Governor Floyd county has moved ahead in many, many ways. Our old people get more money. We have our food stamp program which gives our needy and unemployed families over $1 million in food a year. We have better schools because our good teachers are getting a decent salary for the first time, and we are getting a new college.

Ned Breathitt will continue to build on this great program that Floyd county has gotten so much out of. I am not much of a politician but I know that we have done much better the last three years than ever before. This Jailer Chandler has had his chance two times to help us and he never did. I am glad to serve as co-chairman for Ned Breathitt for Governor because I believe it is best for us all.

LAWRENCE HALE, Co-Chairman
Ned Breathitt for Governor
