State Lets Plan Work To 4 Firms

Dept. Official Says Actual Work Date Remains Indefinite

A Department of Transportation official said last week, in response to an inquiry from The Times, that he could not predict with any degree of accuracy a date in the future when contracts will be awarded for the reconstruction of KY 20 from Hazard to its junction with US 23 at Water Gap, but could affirm that preliminary engineering work is ready to begin.

The engineering on which work orders have been issued, according to Stuart Victor, of the department's Frankfort office, involves the locating of a center line for the route and establishing a tentative grade.

Three contracts have been awarded consulting firms on the Lackey-Water Gap corridor. Adam K. Grafe and Associates, of Lexington, have the contract from Lackey to Langley; Bluegrass Engineering, Louisville, from Langley to Martin; and Hazlett and Erdal, also of Louisville, for the Martin-Water Gap sector.

The preliminary engineering from Hazard to Lackey will be done by Brighton Engineering, Frankfort.

3 Jailed After 3-Month Probe Of Drug Traffic

An investigation into illegal drug traffic in the area, begun by state police and narcotics officers in January, began paying off during the past week as two Floyd county men and a juvenile were arrested on charges of trafficking in marijuana.

Mike Halbert, of Martin, was arrested Thursday night on Rock Fork, near Garrett, on a warrant which was issued after Halbert had allegedly sold marijuana to a police officer some two weeks earlier. Halbert, who was charged with possession of marijuana as well as trafficking, was released on $1,000 bond.

Monday afternoon, Quentin Henry Scott was arrested at his home at Garrett on a trafficking charge. Scott, who had prior charges of trafficking in LSD as well as marijuana, was released on $1,500 bond. A juvenile was arrested the same day in the Garrett vicinity. Monday's arrests also came after the accused allegedly sold marijuana to police officers.

State Police Detective Danny Stumbo, who, along with state narcotics officers made the arrests, said the months-long investigation in the area had resulted in eight drug arrests in Johnson county and he added that additional arrests were expected in Floyd county.

Prior to the initiation of the investigation, a circuit court grand jury had expressed alarm at the prevalence of drugs, especially in Floyd schools, and had emphasized the need for such a probe by law enforcement officials.

Goble Is Victim Of Roof-Fall

Adrian Goble, 49, of Ivel, was dead on arrival at Our Lady of the Way Hospital, Martin, shortly after he had been crushed by a "kettle bottom" which dropped onto him at 8:30 a.m. Tuesday from the roof of the Hite Preparation G-3 mine.

He was a coal drill operator and was at work at the time of the tragedy. The mine was operated by Ivel Moore.

A son of Oliver Goble, of Ivel, and the late Jessie Endicott Goble, he had been a lifelong resident of the Ivel community and was a member of the Pentecostal Church of Christ.

Survivors include his widow, Reba Lewis Goble; three sons, David, Ronnie and Adrian Goble, Jr., all of Ivel; four daughters, Mrs. Wanda Lou Osborne, LeBaron, O., Mrs. Barbara Stone, Somerset, Ky., Misses Norma Sue and Sherry Lynn Goble, both of Ivel, one brother, Burns Goble, of Ivel, and three sisters, Mrs. Clara Ellen Bolden, Pikeville, Mrs. Jeanne Goble, of Ivel, and Mrs. Edith Faye Goble, of Ivel.

The funeral will be held Friday from the Pentecostal Church of Christ at Ivel on Daniels Creek, and burial will be made in the family cemetery under direction of the Hall Brothers Funeral Home.

Brief Session Of Grand Jury Is in Prospect

Monday marked the opening day of the criminal term of circuit court and the 12 persons named to the grand jury may conclude their work by the end of the week.

A single murder case was investigated this week by the grand jury, and an indictment is expected in the Abbott Creek slaying of Vernon Hopkins.

Foreman of the grand jury is Paul Philip Hughes, of Prestonsburg. Trials slated during the month include that of Gene Salisbury, who is charged with the slaying of Crit Butler, and Ed Wright, Jr. and Diana Rector, as accessories after the fact in the Butler murder. The trial docket will begin next week.

Motion was made Monday to dismiss the murder charge against Richard Tackett, who is charged with the slaying of Claude Hamilton. Commonwealth's Attorney Harold J. Stumbo moved for the dismissal on the grounds that a previous trial resulted in a "hung" jury and the fact that two of the Commonwealth's witnesses had died since the first trial. He also pointed out that Circuit Judge Holle Conley is of the opinion that, if they must bury their own garbage on their own property.

Fiscal Court Votes Franchise Protection

The Floyd fiscal court at its Wednesday meeting voted to make mandatory the use of services of franchised collectors of solid waste in the county.

The action was taken to forestall a situation such as has arisen in Johnson county where competition from independent collectors was threatening last week to close the county landfill at Meally. The Floyd court's order provides that all individuals and business firms must abide by the franchise policy service provided by the franchise holder, or they must bury their own garbage on their own property.

These people who are running a temper about what the CIA knows about Americans would do well to consider how much the CIA's Russian counterpart knows about us. . . . Funny things about that Russian submarine incident we've made so much of. The Russians haven't mentioned it—for the simple reason that the Secret Police there haven't let anybody know that the sub is missing.

Four Fires In Area Result In Moderate Damage, No Injuries

A fire which damaged the home of Lon Neely on the Auxier Road last Tuesday apparently started from the water heater in the bathroom of the three-bedroom frame dwelling, Prestonsburg Fire Chief Tom Blackburn reported. Blackburn said the fire "totalled" the bathroom and damaged the adjoining kitchen area.

The home of Paul Chaffins in the Goble-Roberts Addition sustained smoke damage in a blaze which originated in one bedroom of the frame house, April 4. Other calls received by the department during the week included a brush fire at Trimble Branch Saturday, and a automobile fire Thursday. Blackburn said the car of J. B. Goble, of West Prestonsburg, apparently backfired through the carburetor and blew up as Goble attempted to start it. The fire was restricted to the engine area of the car and Goble escaped without injury.

Jury Verdict Lowers Airport Land Values

Blockhouse Bottom Land which was taken by condemnation for Combs Airport by the Prestonsburg-Paintsville Airport Board was valued 10 years ago by a jury at $250,000.

Late last Wednesday, another jury set a price of $45,000 on the five tracts comprising 23 acres, in all.

The case was heard in Johnson circuit court, beginning last Monday, by a jury of six women and six men, with Special Judge Caswell Layne, of Mt. Sterling, presiding. The jury held that the land before airport construction was worth $92,800 and after construction, $47,400. The case has been in court since the property was condemned in 1963. At-

Net Coach Dismissed; Name Gym

Co. Board To Notify Frasure of Action By May 15 Deadline

The gymnasium-auditorium structure now under construction at Allen Central High School was officially named by the Floyd County Board of Education last Saturday, and at the same time the board notified the present coach there that he will not be re-employed in that capacity, the coming school year.

The multi-purpose structure was officially designated the John E. Campbell Athletic Center in memory of the late John E. Campbell who served as member of the board of education 23 years.

The board of education voted unanimously to notify Gene Frasure, basketball coach at the school, not later than May 15 that he will not be re-employed in his present capacity next year. No official reason was given for the action.

The first knowledge that all was not calm at Allen Central reached the public recently when a daily newspaper published a brief item to the effect that Frasure had resigned and the school was looking for a basketball coach. Later, Frasure denied that he had resigned.

Basketball coach at Maytown High School until its merger with the new Allen Central, and the only coach Central has had, Frasure was generally recognized as one of the most successful net coaches in the area, although his team had a low rating this year. It was emphasized that the coach is eligible to

Workman Kin Says He Was Not Fugitive

Bobby Workman, the former Floyd county man who is under indictment in the slaying of James Chaffins, has not been a fugitive and there was never any need for a federal warrant to be issued for his arrest, his sister, Mrs. Betty Daniels, of Stanville, declared this week. Mrs. Daniels claims that Commonwealth's Attorney Harold J. Stumbo knew of Workman's whereabouts, that her brother is at the same Ypsilanti, Mich. address he has had while employed there.

The Stanville woman said this week that her brother appeared before Michigan authorities when he learned extradition to Kentucky had been asked. The murder warrant, however, had not been received at that time. Later, she said, when the warrant was received he and his attorney appeared before a Judge Thompson in Ann Arbor and he was released on his own recognizance of $100,000 bond.

A polygraph test made by Marcy Consulting Service in Dearborn indicated that Workman had no knowledge of the murder, Mrs. Daniels said. Commonwealth's Attorney Stumbo said recently he had asked that the polygraph test be made at Frankfort where both the defendant and the Commonwealth could be represented but that this request was rejected. Workman's sister said her brother declined to come to Kentucky for the test because he knew he would be jailed and would have no opportunity to prepare his defense.

Stumbo said he had guaranteed Workman immunity from arrest if he would return to the state for the test.

Workman apparently is fighting extradition.

Miss Floyd County, 1975 Candidates

Sung, instrumental dexterity, dramatics, and baton twirling will provide enjoyment to the audience Saturday evening at the Miss Floyd County Pageant in the Prestonsburg Fieldhouse.

The program, sponsored by the Prestonsburg Junior Woman's Club, will begin at 8 p.m. and will lead to the climax of the evening when the auditors total the judges' final ballots and Miss Floyd County, 1975, Sharon O'Quinn, crowns the new Miss Floyd County.

There are eight outstanding young ladies participating in the contest. They are:

Miss Susan Johnson, 18, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Taubee Johnson, of Wheelwright, sponsored by the Prestons-burg Kiwanis Club. She will present a piano selection.

Miss Leslie Kay Blackburn, 19, daughter of Glenn and Kathryn Blackburn of Betsy Layne, sponsored by Vance Volkswagen, will display vocal talent.

Miss Melinda Lee Lafferty, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bennie Lynn Lafferty, of Allen, sponsored by the Allen Woman's Club, will give an organ performance.

Miss Melinda Kathryn Damron, 18, daughter of Jeffrey and Grace Damron, of Betsy Layne, sponsored by the Prestonsburg Chamber of Commerce, will present a piano selection.

Miss Burnetta Lynn Hall, 18, daughter of Luther B. and Janice Hall, of Blair-town, sponsored by the Prestonsburg Community College Chess Society, will play the guitar and sing an original composition.

Miss Gwen Evelyn Clark, 18, daughter of R. B. Clark, Jr. and Thelma Clark, of Betsy Layne, sponsored by the Prestonsburg Jaycees, will give an exhibition of baton twirling.

Miss Suzanne Keathley, 20, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Keathley, of Allen, sponsored by the Floyd County Emergency and Rescue Squad, will recite a monologue.

Miss Sharon Branham, 18, daughter of Edgill and Shirlee Branham, of Prestonsburg, sponsored by the Prestonsburg Woman's Club, will demonstrate with a musical fashion skit.

Criders' Suit Asks $400,000

The injury here March 28 of a sanitation department employee resulted this week in the filing of a $400,000 damage suit against the woman driver of the car which struck him.

The circuit court action, filed by Norman Cridler, former Floyd teacher who was working with the sanitation crew, and his wife, Artie, names as defendant Faye Reed of Endicott, whose negligent operation of her auto, plaintiffs allege, caused Mr. Cridler's injury.

Both of Cridler's legs were broken and he suffered pelvic and other injuries described as permanent.

Alleging that his earning power is permanently impaired, that he is currently losing wages of about $500 a month and will have $5,000 hospital and nursing care expenses, Cridler asks $350,000. His wife asks $50,000.

(Reports of such court actions cover only the allegations of the plaintiff or plaintiffs.)

Honored on 93rd Birthday

T. B. Connors, of Estill, a retired coal miner, was given a surprise birthday party on his 93rd birthday, Easter Sunday, by his daughter, Regenia Hillman, at his home.

He received several gifts and boxes of candy and said he was surprised to know so many of his friends could bake cakes.

Cakes were sent from Mrs. Jack Weitz, Lebanon, Ohio, Mrs. Ballard Connors, Centerville, Ohio, Mrs. Mitchell Nichols, Mrs. Preston Boyd, Mrs. Riley Crabtree and Mrs. Regenia Hillman, all of Estill. Attending the party were Mr. and Mrs. James West and son, Kevin, of New Carlisle, Ohio, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Connors, of Dayton, Ohio, his son, Ballard Connors, wife and daughter, of Centerville, Ohio, Bess Cooley, Helen Vanhoose and daughters, of Prestonsburg, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Hall, of Somerset.

He also was visited by several friends and neighbors and received almost 100 birthday cards.

UMWA Loses In Martin Co.

The United Mine Workers apparently lost their bid Monday to unionize the Martin County Coal Corporation.

The vote, held under National Labor Relations Board (NLRB) supervision, was reported as 135 against the union and 127 for it. The election was held at the Inez fire station, and it later was reported the union may contest the legality of 26 of the 262 votes cast.

The vote culminated six weeks of organizing effort which was marked by picketing and mass arrests at three deep mines and one strip-mine operation. The UMWA had reported that more than 80 per cent of the miners had signed union cards. The election results, however, indicated that only 48.4 per cent of those voting were for the union.

Arnold Miller, UMWA president, and other union leaders have declared that the UMWA is "here to stay" and that unionization efforts will continue.

Scouts To Have Part In Slogans Contest

A special competition for Cub Scouts, Scouts, and Explorers has been announced as part of the national SLOGANS USA contest, according to John Fischer, president of Lonesome Pine Council, Boy Scouts of America. Youth members of the Boy Scouts of America may send an original slogan along with a note expressing why the slogan has importance for America now.

Fischer explained. The address for slogans and letters is Boy Scouts of America, SLOGANS USA, North Brunswick, N. J. 08902, and the deadline for entries is September 1.

Authors of the 10 best slogans and their unit leaders will receive a trip to Washington, D. C., and the winning slogan will be entered in the overall SLOGANS USA contest which is open to all Americans, Fischer said.

Reynolds Says Planning Needs To Be Area-Wide

FRANKFORT, Ky.—A legislative advisory committee on the distribution of the coal tax last week approved 10 projects totaling $311,750.

The committee also heard one of its members call for more state assistance in recruiting industrial sites to Eastern Kentucky.

This prompted chairman W. J. Reynolds, D-Allen, to suggest that a permanent commission for area-wide planning should be created to help Eastern Kentucky develop its resources.

Of 10 projects in eight counties approved, a proposal to buy a 225-acre site in McCreary county drew special praise. McCrory County Judge R. H. Anderson said the site contains 52 acres which will be developed for industry. The four legislators present—Sen. Kelsey Friend, D-Pikeville, was absent—unanimously approved $40,750 for the project.

"Congratulations... this is what we have been waiting to see," Reynolds said. He indicated such steps toward industrial development are what the legislators had in mind when they passed the coal revenue sharing bills.

Other Eastern, Southeastern and South Central Kentucky projects approved by the committee were:

Bell County, $25,000 for a recreational area.

Breathitt county, $5,000 for a recreational area.

Harlan county, $30,000 for solid waste facilities at an industrial site.

Pulaski county, $4,000 for two recreational area projects.

Rep. Glenn Freeman, D-Harlan, requested help in attracting industries to Eastern Kentucky.

"We need somebody to assist us—particularly in Harlan county—with locating industrial prospects," he said. At Freeman's suggestion the committee decided to meet with Commerce Department and other state planning officials immediately after its May 6 meeting.

Freeman said he has been frustrated in his efforts to give local officials help in this area. "I am at a loss who to go see," he told the committee.

Reynolds then broadened the discussion, expressing concern that there is no uniform policy on how the returned coal money is to be used.

"It's (planning and development) got to be done on an area basis," Reynolds said. "You have to have some kind of commission to plan," he added.

Reynolds, who is retiring after serving in the House since 1964, suggested this is something the next session of the General Assembly take up.

He said the advisory committee should review how coal money returned to counties is utilized and have specific recommendations for a prelegislative conference in December.

Reynolds said afterwards the commission is just a possibility he suggested and any specific proposal should be reviewed. He said that problems in Eastern Kentucky are not strictly local in nature, but can be solved only on a regional basis.

Asked about whether the state's 15 area development districts (ADDs) aren't designed to do this function, he said this is what they were intended to do and that any proposal may involve a modification of the ADDs.

The coal producing counties receive half of the severance tax revenues above the budget estimate.

The committee again expressed its concern that all recreational projects funded in whole or in part with the revenue coal sharing funds be open to the general public. It made approval of projects subject to this condition.

At its last meeting it asked the Executive Department for Finance and Administration, which must give final okay to all of the projects, to make that part of the regulations. Department officials said the proposed regulation has been drafted and is presently awaiting approval of Commissioner William Sent.

Stumbo and Hale To Head Campaign For Gov. Carroll

FRANKFORT, Ky.—State Campaign Chairman William M. Cox announced here today that Commonwealth's Attorney Harold J. Stumbo will head up the Carroll for Governor campaign organization in Floyd county.

Cox also said Floyd J. Lawrence will serve as co-chairman and Prestonsburg attorney Richard E. Fitzpatrick as campaign treasurer. Constituency group chairmen will be named by the county organization at a later date.

Outlining plans for the campaign, the state chairman, a former Madisonville legislator and chief assistant to Governor Carroll, said, "The people of this state and this country are hungry for integrity and competence in government. That's the kind of government the Carroll Administration is going to give them. That's also the kind of political campaign we are going to run."

Kentucky, under the act of March 3, 1879.

A Burden All Would Share

One of the succinct remarks credited to the late President Truman runs to the effect that if you can't stand the heat, say out of the kitchen.

Well, the heat's on the Kentucky delegation in Congress. Coal trucks this week are running Washington streets, their drivers and others protesting the recently voted strip-mine law.

Both Kentucky senators and all the House members from the state, with the lone exception of Louisville's Gene Snyder, voted for the federal control bill. Now, it would appear the word has come down to the strip-miners that if they can weaken a sufficient number of congressmen to give a veto a chance, President Ford again will veto the bill.

We trust the representatives of Kentucky who are in Washington will stand fast. They have showed, time and again, their friendship for the coal industry. They do not want to destroy it. Instead, they want it to flourish. But they want to strike a needed balance between coal production and preservation of the land and water. They know that what they do now will affect the lives of people even after the coal is gone.

Arnold Miller, president of the United Mine Workers of America, has courageously thrown his support in favor of the legislation. Other UMW leaders, including District 30 President Squire Felner, have taken the same position.

Opponents of the legislation contend the cost of reclamation as required by the federal act would close most surface operations. It is nothing new to hear the gloomiest predictions of ruin at the hands of the law.

We have a feeling that the enterprise and the ingenuity of the coal industry will be challenged by this law but that the challenge can and will be met, that greater responsibility will be exercised, that better reclamation will be practiced, and that the cost of it all will be added to the price of coal.

This would mean that the general public would share the load. And why not share the burden now? Why wait a few years and then pay the piper by having our tax dollars spent on reclamation at public expense of thousands of spoilbanks left orphan and unwanted by anybody?

Our Yesterdays

(Items taken from The Floyd County Times, 10, 20, 30 and 40 years ago)

Ten Years Ago

(April 8, 1965)
Elzie Thomas Spears, 17-year-old Abbott Creek youth, who was found March 28 near death of asphyxiation in an automobile on the Middle Creek road, was taken Tuesday to the University of Kentucky Medical Center, Lexington, still unconscious. "All our major crimes go back to whiskey," Circuit Judge Hollie Conley told the Floyd circuit court grand jury Monday morning in his instructions soon after it had been empaneled. Prestonsburg will receive a $3,193 federal grant to aid in the purchase of 20 acres of land for park and recreational purposes. It was announced Tuesday by the Urban Renewal Administration. County, and possible state help is available to Floyd county residents who will join in a countywide cleanup campaign this month, County Judge Henry Stumbo announced this week. Married: Miss Barbara Montgomery, of Ada, Ohio, and Mr. Leonard Earl, of Ada, March 6 at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Montgomery. There died: Mrs. Jesse Crum Adams, of Detroit, Mich., formerly of Auxier, March 19 at West Van Lear; Kermit E. Stone, 57, Friday at his home at Wayland; Egbert Patton, formerly of Hueysville, April 1 at Marshall, Michigan; Gomer Gibson, 59, of Wayland, last Thursday at the McDowell Appalachian Regional hospital, Mrs. Louise Allen Howard, of Eastern, last Wednesday at Lackey.

Twenty Years Ago

(April 7, 1955)
A fifth typhoid case in this county was officially confirmed this week, and yet another was reported, County Health Administrator M. V. Clark said. Highway accidents claimed the lives of two Floyd county youths within the week, including Donald Miller, 17, of Cliff, Friday, and Billy Eugene Little, 19, of Melvin, Tuesday. "I invite inspection of my record as governor," said A. B. (Happy) Chandler in a speech at the courthouse here last Friday evening. April 1 marked the completion of a quarter-century of coal mining operations at Wheelwright and Price by the Inland Steel Company. Verlin Isaac, year-old son of Howell and Lily Wright Isaac, of Wheelwright, died in a fire that consumed the home of his parents last Thursday. There is a strong possibility that the United Fuel Gas Company will establish its Southern division headquarters in Prestonsburg, it was indicated this week. A little desperate for feed and food after the recent record rise in Dewey Lake isolated the Buffalo Creek valley, several farmers climbed the Paw Paw mountain to Mare Creek and bought supplies at a grocery there. "Bringing a 100-pound bag of feed and poke of flour on a mule over that mountain isn't my idea of a snap," one resident said. Born: to Mr. and Mrs. Bill S. Day, of Prestonsburg, a daughter, Deborah Susan, March 28 at the Paintsville. There died: Floyd Akers, 86, Monday at his home at Harold; Ira Luther Adkins, formerly of Mare Creek, Tuesday at Albion, Michigan; Mrs. Bertha Osborne, 81, of Garrett, Saturday at the Paintsville hospital; Nick Zanzonico, 66, of Wayland, last Friday at Stunt Memorial hospital; Mrs. Lacie Hamilton, 35, formerly of Big Mud Creek, last Thursday at Eosore, Michigan; Robert Henson, 71, of Beaver, last Saturday at the home of a son.

Thirty Years Ago

(April 5, 1945)
Winston Ford has the walls of a 60 x 110-foot building going up in what heretofore has been swampy land lying between the Mayo Trail and the hillside at the upper limits of Prestonsburg. In the same stretch of low-lying land, J. D. Collins and C. F. Rinehart are having fills made for possible post-war building. The week's casualty report: Killed in action—Sgt. Vignus M. Steele, formerly of this county, March 7 in Germany; missing—Pfc. Forrest Williams, of Banner, and Pfc. Bernie Spradlin, of Bull Creek; wounded—Sgt. Robert L. Carver, of David, in Germany; Sgt. Joe T. Blackburn, of Orkney, on Luzon; Pvt. Riley E. Reynolds, of Beaver, on Luzon; Pfc. John Pennington, of Langley, in Germany; Pfc. Elmo Johnson, of Martin, in Italy. Pfc. Calver R. Robinson, of Garrett, in Italy. J. J. Hatcher, Prestonsburg insurance man, this week became West Virginia manager of the Kansas City Life Insurance Company. Troy Hughes, 45, was killed Saturday when hit by an auto near Lackey. Joe Cronin, manager of the Boston Red Sox, predicted this week that big Ray Patton, of Estill, will be a great baseball pitcher if he amounts to anything in the sport. Patton hurled the Louisville Colonels to a 3-4 victory recently over Baltimore in the Little World Series, and the Colonels' parent team, the Red Sox, are high on the Floyd county's ability. Burl Spurlock last week sold the Union Wholesale Grocery Co. at Lancer to Charles Moore, of McDowell. Married: Miss Jeannette Gardner and Mr. Jewell D. Fitzpatrick, both of Prestonsburg, here March 31. There died: Rollen Shepherd, 17, formerly of David, March 20 at Rensselaer, Indiana; Allen Patton, 66, Wednesday at Maytown. Born: to Mr. and Mrs. Willie B. Boyd, of Garrett, a son, Keith Bradley, April 9, at home.

Forty Years Ago

(April 5, 1935)
Turman Isaacs, 65, and Bert T. Little, 24, were fatally wounded last Friday in a gunfight at Buckingham. Three hundred "relief workers" are to be employed at the task of removing slides and filling gulches caused by the recent flood in this county at a total outlay of $22,118. Within two days here last week Police Judge Alex H. Spradlin presiding at four marriages: Miss Carabelle Turner and Otis Mills, of Wayland, and Miss Mary Martha McCarty, of Paintsville, and Raymond Fraley, of Drift, on Monday; Miss Patsie Triplett and Marvin Dixon, and Miss Nettie Ray and Kyle Reed, all of Wayland, on Tuesday. There died: John M. Spradlin, 82, Floyd native, March 21 at the Paintsville residence, Bud Wallace, about 60, March 28 at a Martin hospital, Mrs. Susan Pennington, 82, here March 27.

Letters to the Editor

Likes Committee System But Opposes Secrecy

Here on Right Beaver we read in the Courier-Journal that the coach at Allen Central High School has resigned, and a few days later we read where he denied any such resignation.

Now we have a secret committee, meeting secretly, to screen applications for the coaching job at Allen Central, with plans to recommend chosen applicants to the Board of Education and superintendent, one to be hired.

I, personally, think the committee idea to be a worthwhile one. However, I believe that members of that committee should be chosen by all the people at a mass meeting for that specific school district.

For example, if it is to be Allen Central High School, have all the people interested in that school meet to choose a committee. This same method could be used for the recommendation of teachers, principals, supervisors, superintendents and other personnel. This way would definitely allow the Board of Education a means of showing their wish to follow the need and desires of all the people. And who better knows all the people than those who observe school personnel, day in and day out, and the kind of teaching and leadership they want.

The idea of a secret committee certainly doesn't appeal to me, and I doubt seriously to the majority of our citizens.

There would be drawbacks to this method, of course, but, since the County Board has sanctioned this method in one instance, it is hoped this method of choosing school personnel is not dropped, but will be explored as a possible means of an open, organized method of putting the responsibility of schools and education back into the hands of the people where I think it belongs.

The preliminary engineering was authorized last October while Wendell Ford was still governor. The KY 80 project was one which Ford had vowed to get started during his administration and he had unsuccessfully sought Appalachian Regional Commission help on it.

The highway, now a tortuous, two-lane trail that is heavily travelled—much of the time by coal trucks—is the only direct link between the Kentucky River and Big Sandy valleys. Its proponents argued successfully with Ex-Governor Ford that until it was rebuilt the network of modern mountain highways would be incomplete. The work planned for KY 80 includes widening and straightening and the three-laning of the route on hills.

employment by the board in a capacity other than that of coach for the coming term, if he desires such employment.

Noting that Title I funds available to the Floyd county school system will be reduced during the 1976 school year by $300,000, the board instructed Superintendent Charles Clark to notify all non-tenure teachers by May 15 that they may not be rehired for next year. Most of the 17 present Title I teachers will not be re-employed in their present capacities because of the lack of funds, but they are under continuing contract because they have four or more years' experience, and are expected to take the teaching places of some non-tenure teachers. The latter, however, must be given notice of such possibility before May 15.

The social studies textbooks recommended by the Textbook Selection Committee for the county elementary schools were approved by the board. Approval also was given of a new mining technology class next school year at the Garth Vocational School.

The board declared that an emergency exists at Prestonsburg High School where cracks in the unused smokestack present a safety hazard, and bids will be asked on the work of dismantling and removing it. The smokestack is no longer in use because the school has shifted from coal-burning furnaces to natural gas.

Resignation of Freddy Hays at McDowell elementary teacher was accepted, and Roland Jones was employed in his stead. Two resignations of teachers who will retire at the end of the current term also were accepted. The retiring teachers are Eugene Conley at Martin and Pauline Allen at McDowell.

I may get involved in a Congressional investigation as a contributor to a political campaign, but I think I owe the two candidates something. So I propose to give each a reasonable amount of space in which to dwell lovingly and long upon their virtues and several abilities, and short of libel, each to tell the public of his opponent's perfidies, skulduggeries and plain outrages, if any (I propose this, so that other candidates may have set before them a model for wielding the tar-brush on the other fellow, since there is no whitewash for their own dark blemishes.)

Meanwhile, start voting. The time is short. The office must be filled at once. Use the ballot now and return it to this office immediately, preferably before they tell the truth about each other.

Lemaster Receives Law Journal Award

David LeMaster, son of Mr. and Mrs. Payne LeMaster, of Warfield, formerly of Prestonsburg, has been named the recipient of the Kentucky Law Journal's Outstanding Note Award for 1975. It was announced in Lexington last Friday. A December, 1974 graduate of the University of Kentucky College of Law, LeMaster was selected for the award on the basis of his 45-page analysis of Kentucky's new capital punishment law. LeMaster, an honors graduate from the University of Kentucky and member of Phi Beta Kappa, has served two terms on the board of directors of the University of Kentucky Athletics Association, and during his law school years served as an aide to then-Lieutenant Governor Julian M. Carroll.

Floyd Counselors Meet

At the monthly meeting of the Floyd County Guidance Association, Woodrow Allen, supervisor, reminded the counselors that April has been designated as Careers and Vocations Month. He added that, while the activities of a counselor include class scheduling, personal problems and post-high school education, it is very important that careers and vocations in the entire guidance program be stressed.

"We have one of the oldest guidance programs in Eastern Kentucky, and I feel one of the best," Mr. Allen said. The guidance and counseling program was organized and implemented under the direction of Superintendent Charles Clark.

Montgomery Tells Park Plans

By PATRICIA MCELLEN
FRANKFORT, Ky. — Twenty-five years ago, Bruce Montgomery was hired to manage Kentucky Dam Village State Park. In January, Gov. Julian Carroll appointed the Danville businessman as commissioner of the Kentucky Department of Parks.

Montgomery returns to the parks system with the benefit of early training in wildlife conservation and parks management and with the experience of a successful business career. Both will be put to work, said Montgomery.

The new commissioner feels equal concern for the protection of the parks' natural environment and for the responsible management of the multi-million dollar parks system.

"Our parks have a two-fold purpose," he said. "They provide recreational opportunity for Kentuckians and they're a Kentucky showcase. They show out-of-state visitors what Kentucky has to offer. If you travel from Jenny Wiley to Kentucky Dam, you go from mountains to our delta country," he continued. "There's a tremendous variety of scenery available there."

He agrees with Gov. Carroll that state parks must be considered one of Kentucky's natural resources. "Our obligation is to improve this resource," he said. "I want to reduce the carnival effect in the parks and make them more natural. I want to develop the natural phenomena they were created for."

"With our parks, we have an opportunity to leave something for future generations," he added.

Montgomery plans an emphasis on the development of outdoor recreation. "We'll spend money on naturalists, the nature centers and on trails," he added. "We don't need junk—there's enough natural beauty and recreational opportunities in these parks to attract people without it."

Montgomery has directed that the department move to expand its outdoor recreation programs. At one park the department has begun a model trail project, which he would like to expand throughout the system.

"I'd like to make the parks more accessible to the handicapped," he explained. Trail planners have included provision for gentle paths which can accommodate the handicapped, he said, and he is investigating the possibility of placing braille markers at points of interest on these trails.

His emphasis on preserving the natural atmosphere of the parks will be balanced with fiscal responsibility, Montgomery said. "I would not be a responsible public official not to act in a business-like manner," management and administration is not simple business, asserted the commissioner, whose business interests have included real estate, insurance and farming. "The ideal background for someone who wants to be a park superintendent is to be a city manager," he said. "A park has problems like a small town—it has buildings, and people, roads to maintain, and water and sewer plants."

"We're going to try to extend our season where it's fiscally feasible," he said. The department's promotion of special-event winter week-ends has helped keep occupancy high in the off-season, he noted.

"We're hoping to keep more parks open longer," he said, "if it's good business."

The extended seasons help local economies, he added, noting that an extended season brings more business to private enterprise in park areas.

Montgomery cited a recently completed study of the economic impact of three Eastern Kentucky Parks. "It proves what I've known all along, that parks are a real benefit to the economy."

An Open Letter To The People of Floyd County:

Although I have never before desired or sought political office, I am now seeking the Democratic nomination for State Representative of Floyd County, for never in my life have I seen so much to be done for our county through the legislature, with no one willing to do it.

Do you realize that although millions of dollars were taken from this county by the coal severance tax last year, only a pauper's share was returned?

Do you also realize that of the pauper's share returned, we are not allowed by law to spend any of this to build roads and bridges, educate our children, or even supply minimum fire and police protection for our homes?

To me, the greatest shame that has ever befallen the people of Eastern Kentucky is the allowance of the exploitation of the God-given wealth of our region without Floyd County sharing in enough of this wealth to even supply the most fundamental government services.

If you see fit to send me to the legislature, I will fight for all Floyd Countians welfare by seeking A RETURN OF 50 PCT. OF ALL THE SEVERANCE TAX collected from our county, free to be used:

1. For construction and maintenance of our county roads and bridges.
2. For construction, remodeling and maintenance of our children's schools.
3. To supplement our teachers salaries which are now totally inadequate.
4. To supply adequate police and fire protection to our citizens and their homes.

The foregoing are only a few of the things that may be accomplished by hardworking, earnest representation of Floyd County's interest, and this realization is what forces me to seek this office. I honestly feel that whom you decide to support in this race could prove to affect what type of county we have for years to come.

Please consider what I say, and give me your support and vote. I will take that support and vote with me to Frankfort and repay it daily with hard work and dedication to your best interest and welfare.

Club Notes

The Prestonsburg Woman's Club met recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Burchett on Cow Creek. Mrs. D. L. Brown, president, opened the meeting, and Mrs. M. Robert Regan and the devotionals. Mrs. Brown announced that Sharon Brannan would represent the club in the Miss Floyd County pageant. The club will contribute $50 toward beautifying the courthouse grounds, a project sponsored by the Interclub Council. Two azalea bushes have been planted in memory of Margaret Archer in front of the Arts and Crafts House at Archer Park.

Mrs. James Donahoe, chairman of the nominating committee, presented a slate of officers. The following were elected: First vice president, Mrs. Jack Stumbo; second vice president, Mrs. Tom McGuire; third vice president, Mrs. Garland Godsey; recording secretary, Mrs. John Pitts; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Joe A. Burchett; treasurer, Mrs. Leo Weddle. The installation dinner will be held May 1 at the Arts and Crafts House. Several members plan to attend a special Derby Day, May 7, for Kentucky Federated Club members. Anyone interested call Mrs. D. L. Brown.

At the conclusion of the business meeting, Mrs. W. W. Burchett told the story of the log cabin which belonged to Mr. Burchett's grandfather on upper Cow Creek. The club members were then taken in small groups to view the cabin. The hostesses were Mesdames Clyde Burchett, Woodrow Burchett, Victor Hale, and Jack Asher.

Winner of the Sears 18-inch color television given away at last week's grand opening of the new Sears store here was Brenda Sammons, of Water Gap. She is pictured accepting the prize from store manager Dan Verga. In addition to the television, 10 table-top Sears appliances were given away during grand opening ceremonies which lasted from Thursday through Saturday. Verga said some 2,500 persons visited the store from 6:30 to 9 p.m. on Thursday.

SPEND WEEK HERE

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Samples and Mark, of Rochester, N. Y., spent last week here visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Brady Shepherd.

HAD SURGERY

Mrs. Arnold Clarke is a patient at Central Baptist Hospital in Lexington, where she underwent surgery last Friday. She is doing nicely.

SPEND DAY FISHING

Mr. and Mrs. Paul C. Tackett and Mr. and Mrs. Paul N. Allen spent Sunday trout fishing somewhere near the Johnson-Lawrence county line. After "striking out" on Green Giant nibble-style corn and subsequently switching to common garden worms, a single trout, several nice suckers, a large silver side and two chubs were taken. A "vienne" picnic highlighted the day.

Participate in New Program

These and others were part of a group participating in a program, "It's Your Money," presented by the University of Kentucky and Kentucky State Cooperative Extension Service.

Mrs. Lohelen Hambrick, of the Extension Service, Frankfort, led the discussion. The meeting took place in the mobile education unit, a new method of teaching being introduced in this area. Others attending were Ola M. Colvin, Dorothy May James, Elsie Lewis, Alberta Rhea, Katie Little, Bill Smith, Brady Colvin, Linda McCoy, Kathy Bullen, also with Kentucky State, Sharon Keach, Area Agent, Frances Pitts and John Sparks.

Cleary Tells How Theatre Benefits Highlands Region

Thomas J. Cleary, Jr., executive producer of the Jenny Wiley Summer Music Theatre, commented on direct benefits resulting to the area from the theatre performances last year.

Said Mr. Cleary:

"The importance of the Jenny Wiley Summer Music Theatre to the Kentucky Highlands region is substantiated by the fact that over $400,000.00 of direct revenue was funneled into the area in a 10-week period last summer. All this as a result of tourists who purchase goods and services, the lumber, paint, and fabric purchased by the company, the payroll and sales tax paid, local advertising purchased, housing accommodations rented for the company, and motel and restaurant trade from visiting playgoers and members of the company. It is only fair to say, then, that theatre is a business that 'gives as good as it gets.'"

This year, he predicted, the number of people who will attend the theatre will exceed that of last year by several hundreds. "Family entertainment is our watchword because these people are constantly arriving and departing in quest of it. This entertainment is provided by presenting a theatrical experience of the highest calibre through productions blending music, dance and the spoken word."

"Our goal this year," Cleary said, "is to bring a half-million dollars into the area. Such a goal requires the help of everyone interested in the economic growth of Eastern Kentucky."

Jim and Jesse, Goins Bros. Headline Show

Jim and Jesse and the Virginia Boys will be joined by the Goins Brothers for a Blues and concert Thursday, April 10 at 8 p.m. at the Betsy Layne Fieldhouse. Jim and Jesse are regulars on WSM's Grand Ole Opry and the Goins Brothers, Melvin, of Prestonsburg, and Ray, of Pikeville, are well-known Jessup and Rebel recording artists. The show is being sponsored by the Betsy Layne Band Boosters Club.

DAUGHTER BORN

Mr. and Mrs. Robert V. May, II, of Lexington, announce the birth of their second child, a daughter, April 4 at Central Baptist Hospital, Lexington. She has been named Shelton Alexander. Mr. and Mrs. R. V. May, of Prestonsburg, are the paternal grandparents.

RETURN FROM ENGLAND

Mrs. Virgil Goble and Miss Pamela Goble have returned from England where they attended the funeral of their father and grandfather, Mr. Ernest Shaw, at St. Peter's Church, Eccleshall, England. After visiting friends and relatives they spent a short time in London where they attended Good Friday services at St. Paul's Cathedral.

A.A.U.W. MEET SET

The Prestonsburg branch of the American Association of University Women will meet Thursday at 7:30 p.m. at the Floyd County Library. Business will include the election of officers for the coming year, and report on the state workshop held April 4-5 in Campbellsburg, Ky. will be given by Betty Mahaffy.

HERE FROM FRANKFORT

Judge and Mrs. Edward P. Hill, of Frankfort, visited their daughter, Mrs. Jack Stumbo, and family here last week while he was here as a special judge.

ENTERTAIN GUESTS

Mr. and Mrs. Gledis Beverly had as guest last week family members, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Beverly and sons, David, Dana and Brian, of Columbus, O., Lowell Beverly and children, Jennifer and John, of Gahanna, Ohio. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. George Queen and Corbin Peters of Columbus, and Mr. and Mrs. Martin Beverly, of Allen.

Clinic Pharmacy Hit Second Time As Drugs Taken

For the second time in as many months, thieves broke into Reid's Pharmacy at Archer Memorial Clinic here Saturday night and stole a quantity of drugs and pills.

Police said the building was apparently entered between 8:30 and 9 p.m. after a window at the rear of the clinic had been broken out. The thieves also broke out a window in the pharmacy section and made off with an estimated $65 to $75 worth of drugs, mainly consisting of diet pills. The pharmacy was also broken into on the night of March 20 and $1,500 worth of drugs were stolen. No arrests have yet been made in connection with either incident.

Another breaking and entering incident occurred last Wednesday night at West Prestonsburg where a number of uniforms were stolen from the F. W. Means Clean Towel Service.

Health Notes

A nurse from the Floyd County Health Department will conduct an outpost clinic Monday, April 14, in the basement of the Methodist Church at Wayland, Kentucky. Clinic hours will be from 10:30 a.m. to 2:00 p.m. with the following services being available: Immunizations, TB skin tests, blood pressures, diabetes screening and hemoglobins.

The health department urges all parents to check with their doctor or the health department to see if their children have had all their required immunizations. Every youngster should have had all his shots by the time he is two years old. In which case only booster doses will be required before he enters school.

Meals-on-Wheels Brings Food to the Needy

CATERING TO NEEDS—"Peg" Campbell of Prestonsburg (above) comes forward to greet Meals-On-Wheels driver Mary Lou Horn (center) and volunteer Mary Lou Lane as they deliver his daily meal. Alice Cornett (left) and Alice Meade (below) also look forward each day to the meals and visit provided by the program operating in Floyd and Johnson counties. Meals-On-Wheels provides a hot meal to the elderly, the housebound and the handicapped at minimal cost.

By ROBERT HOLLINS
Each day at the First Presbyterian Church here, Phil Price, director of the Meals-on-Wheels program, unlocks his office door and starts the routine which soon brings meals to nearby elderly and handicapped persons.
Today it was to be a hot meal of chicken breasts, mashed potatoes, carrots and broccoli, or, a second meal consisting of a sandwich, lemon pie, milk, coffee or tea, juice, cranberry sauce, bread, jelly, soup and a cereal. Both of these meals would be delivered to the more than 60 recipients scattered throughout Floyd and Johnson counties. Price had been on the phone all morning, checking the food reports. It was something of a relief to find that only one meal would not be delivered that day. One of the recipients lives near Wheelwright, and rising waters made entry into that area difficult. "Fortunately," said Price, "we train our recipients to set aside some of the cold food items for just such an occasion. We show them how to preserve food and explain the necessity for sanitation and refrigeration. I assure you that the recipient we miss today will not be going hungry."

Meals-on-Wheels is a unique, humanitarian program, patterned after one started in London during World War II. It is an effort to help the elderly, the housebound and the handicapped. Meals are prepared under the supervision of a nutrition consultant from the Mountain Comprehensive Care Center serving Floyd, Johnson, Martin, Magoffin and Pike counties. Careful attention is given to meals for recipients who may be suffering from diabetes or convalescing from recent hospitalization. All meals are prepared without salt, eliminating the possibility of delivering a salted meal to one for whom salt is forbidden.

Most recipients have come into the program because they have heard about it through word-of-mouth, from church representatives, the Mountain Comprehensive Care Center, the local Social Security office or because they have been referred to the program by the Department for Human Resources (DHR).

Those benefitting from the program pay for the meals, but the price is determined on an adjusted monthly income scale after all shelter costs (rent and utilities) and legitimate medical expenses have been deducted. The charge is for raw food and does not include the cost of paper products, salaries or car allowance. In addition to local funding and community donations, DHR, through its Bureau for Social Services, supplies federal money under the Title VI-VI program. It is this pooling of state and private resources that has been making the Meals-on-Wheels such a success.

Volunteers often accompany those who deliver the food. In many cases, these people are the only contact the recipients have with others. Director Price gave specific instances where this social outlet has given meaning to the program. Price said, "The problem of sight is a major problem for the elderly. One of our recipients is nearly blind. She is 79 years old and is using two of her other senses—touch and sound—to give one of our employees piano lessons."

Price continued, "We serve one gentleman who is totally blind. The volunteer and employee assist him in reading his mail. This recipient does proofreading of braille materials for the Association for the Blind."

Recipients of the program, which went into full operation on Jan. 1, range in age from 22 to 86, with the average age being 68. Of the total being served, 54 per cent live alone.

At Our Lady of the Way, Martin, and at the Appalachian Regional Hospital, McDowell, other drivers and volunteer visitors—like those in Prestonsburg—also prepare meals and go through towns, delivering cheer and comfort to the lonely, the elderly, the ill. Recipients like Maude Filpatrick, Vernon Rice, recovering from a stroke and heart condition, Alice Meade, bedridden and a diabetic, James Estep and others wait for the cheerful greeting and the warm handshake. The experience says by deed and the unspoken word, "We care; Meals-on-Wheels cares."

Conservation Corps Plans Told

By KEN HAMPTON

Federal officials recently announced that around 8,500 youths of both sexes, ages 15 through 18, will get eight-week summer jobs starting in mid-June working on conservation projects under the 1975 Youth Conservation Corps (YCC) program. The youths working out of YCC camps located on federal, state, and territorial lands across the country will be paid $12 per day, this amount adjusted when food and quarters are provided.

Young people from the 50 states, District of Columbia, American Samoa, Guam, Puerto Rico, Virgin Islands, and Trust Territories are eligible if they meet the age requirements, have no history of serious criminal or anti-social behavior, have a social security number, and possess work permits in states where these are required.

Each residential YCC camp will house from 24 to 50 young people. Some camps will be co-educational, others will be all-male or all-female. There will also be non-residential projects, where the youths live at home and commute to work.

The program is financed by $10 million in federal funds, $2 million of which goes to states as matching grants to conduct YCC projects on non federal lands and waters. The federal camps will be located on lands managed by the U. S.

Forest Service, Bureau of Indian Affairs, Bureau of Land Management, Bureau of Reclamation, U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service, or National Park Service.

Corps tasks, as in previous years, will include improving wildlife camp sites, planting trees, and other projects designed to enhance environmental quality. Such improvements largely offset the costs of the program.

Fishtrap Roads, Sifting of Lake Pose Problems

Pikeville, Ky.—Replacement roads the Army Corps of Engineers built for residents near its Fishtrap dam and reservoir east of Pikeville are falling apart and the Army is considering relocating 140 families at a possible cost of $3 million.

Huntington, W. Va. District Engineer Col. Scott B. Smith said last Friday a meeting was scheduled the following day at the Grapevine Elementary School to discuss alternative solutions to the road problem.

Additionally, Smith revealed that the dam is sifting up at a rate six-and-a-half times faster than Army engineers anticipated. Sediment control measures, which could involve purchase of mineral rights, were also discussed at the meeting.

The valley communities affected include land owners in Upper Pompey Branch, Jonikan Branch, Hurricane Creek, Millers Creek and Island Creek. All are located on the north side of the dam and reservoir. Residents of those areas have difficulty getting to Pikeville and nearby schools.

County Judge Pro-Tem Joseph W. Justice charged that replacement roads built under contract to the Army according to Corps specifications were poorly constructed. Many of the mountain roads are unpaved and built on an incline of 15 or 20 degrees, making them easy victims of erosion from spring rains. In some cases the road slips away from the mountain, and in other locations the mountain slips onto the road, Justice said.

The Army plans to offer three basic alternatives to the landowners at today's meeting, and listen to their desires. The problem has developed over five or six years, and could take years to correct. Both Smith and Justice said housing is extremely scarce in Pike County, complicating any attempt to relocate the families.

Justice said he favors the relocation alternative, because if they reconstruct the roads, the county may not have funds to maintain them. In the mountains it could cost $1,000 a mile per year," he said. Smith said the area affected by the road problem is about 10 miles by four miles.

Other alternatives include construction of new roads and attempts to repair the existing road network. Repair would include realignment and ditch cleaning.

"It would have been cheaper, for the Army to buy out the families at the time the dam was built in the 1960s," Justice said. He admitted the Pike Fiscal Court approved the road system when it was presented to the county several years ago.

"But there are no engineers on the fiscal court. We trusted the expertise of the Corps," Justice said.

Smith would give few details on the sedimentation problem. He also said he did not have figures on the cost of relocating 140 families, but Justice said he had heard the figure is about $3 million.

East Kentucky Agencies Receive Federal Funds

Gov. Julian Carroll and C. Leslie Dawson, secretary of the Department for Human Resources (DHR), have announced the allocation of federal funds to two Eastern Kentucky agencies for housing renovation in five counties.

The Eastern Kentucky Housing Development Corporation at Whitesburg was awarded $750,000, and the Big Sandy Community Action Program headquartered in Paintsville received $19,000. The funds are awarded under the Economic Opportunity Act.

The Big Sandy Community Action Agency (CAA) will use the funds for general agency maintenance expenses and to continue programs already in operation.

The funds for the Whitesburg Corporation will finance a 12-month program for rural housing development and repair. Some new homes will be built and older homes in need of repair will be renovated for low-income families. The elderly will receive priority.

Gardens To Feature Broccoli

Inspecting broccoli plants to be planted at Weeksbury this spring are, from left, Mrs. Elbert Gibson, Elbert Gibson and Mrs. Ida Burke.

The Floyd County Extension Service and the Weeksbury Community are sponsoring the growing of a new vegetable in the community of Weeksbury.

Two hundred ten broccoli plants will be planted. Those attending a recent Weeksbury meeting were given information on growing broccoli and raising a home garden by John Sparks, county Extension agent. Home Ec Agents Frances Pitts and Sharon Keach, using the Kentucky State and University of Kentucky Cooperative Extension mobile unit, gave lessons on how to cook and prepare broccoli to add new flavor, color and texture to the meat.

Those attending were Mrs. Causby Branson, Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Gibson, Donald Spears, Mr. and Mrs. Buck Rogers, Ida Burke, Molly Bryant, Grace Little, Virginia Hopkins, Carol Little and Peggy Bradford. For more information on growing and preparing broccoli, please call the County Extension Office 886-2668.

Attorney General Opinions

Delbert Hudson, Carrollton chief of police, asked who, other than the coroner, has the duty to request an autopsy of a person who died of questionable causes. The coroner, in this instance, refused to authorize a post-mortem. The office of the Attorney General held that, upon agreement of the coroner, an autopsy may be conducted when written consent has been given, prior to his death, by the deceased or when consent has been given by the individual in charge of the body's legal disposal. After the inquest, however, the coroner's duty is completed and an attending physician can procure an autopsy, again provided written consent is acquired. Also, after the body has been buried, the coroner, county judge or justice of the peace—or city judge in first or second class cities—can order the body exhumed for purposes of a post-mortem.

Bobby Hubbard, chairman of the Russell Springs planning commission, stated that city merchants have been asked to discontinue the display of merchandise on sidewalks in front of their stores. Many have protested that their property boundaries extend to include half the existing sidewalk, and Hubbard requested an opinion on what constitutes public property in commercial areas. It is the opinion of the Attorney General's office that a "sidewalk" is a public thoroughfare, which includes all the area from the street's curbing to the store front, and that the city, therefore, has the right to prohibit placing or storing merchandise on it.

Bert A. Bennett, superintendent of Covington public schools, requested an opinion as to whether public school students wishing to take moral instruction in the Catholic Church may be released from school five days during the year, rather than being released one hour per week, as is usual for most students. The office of the Attorney General expressed the belief that releasing pupils for moral instruction on such an accumulated basis cannot be authorized because the students would miss a whole day of class and a substantial segment of instruction which their fellow students would receive. This would be substantially different from being released one hour per week.

District 11 Nurses To Meet at College

District 11, Kentucky Nurses Association, will meet April 17 at 7 p.m. in the Pike Auditorium at Prestonsburg Community College. The guest speaker will be the president of the state association, Miss Martha Lyon. A reception will be held after the meeting for the 1975 associate degree nursing graduates class of the Prestonsburg Community College. All registered nurses and 1975 nursing graduates are invited to attend.

Jenny Wiley Park Is Ready—Opens New Campgrounds

By HELEN PRICE STACY
The campground is ready, grass is green and water is reflecting the sky with patches of white clouds. Birds are singing, buds swelling and flowers blooming. Early morning quiet is broken only by the muted hum of a faraway plane and two bluejeans arguing over where to build a home.

This idyllic place is Jenny Wiley State Resort Park, east of Prestonsburg in Eastern Kentucky, and the park is ready for spring visitors and campers.

"Preparation of the Jenny Wiley campground, at a cost of approximately $400,000, has been under way more than a year," stated Norman Allen in The Floyd County Times. "Work involved 12 camp pads, a water and sewage system, two bath houses, camp store, grills, picnic tables, a fully equipped central playground and access roads."

Beginning June 18, the park will offer outdoor musical entertainment in the amphitheater, with "Godspell" as the first production, followed June 25 with "Brigadoon" and subsequent summer theater through Aug. 24. "Godspell" also will be performed Friday evenings and Sunday afternoons during the season.

The stage is located in a cove of trees, native shrubs and wildflowers, but has comfortable seating and modern conveniences.

May Lodge, as is the case in all resort parks maintained by the Commonwealth, is handsome, friendly and offers excellent food in delightful surroundings. And there are hospitable workers and personnel.

An important feature of Kentucky's parks in this time of bicentennial celebrations is an aura of history. Here, books tell the story of the pioneer heroine, Jenny Wiley, and in the lounge area are displayed permanent art works, done by Ashland students, depicting her capture by Indians and her later escape. What could be nicer than a camp site, or a room in a lodge or cottage so centrally located as to provide fishing, boating, swimming, golf and summer theater.

Campton To Get $773,600 Grant

Approval of a $773,600 grant to help stimulate long-range economic growth and create jobs in Wolfe county was announced last week by Wilmer D. Mizell, assistant secretary of Commerce for Economic Development.

The city of Campton is the applicant for the grant from the Economic Development Administration. The project involves the development of a new water-supply system to serve the entire community. It includes construction of an intake structure at Lake Campton, a water-treatment plant and a water line linking the treatment plant to the city's distribution system.

The project will provide an ample supply of quality water for the community, including the Computer Peripheral plant where some 250 persons work. The project is expected to encourage other firms seeking locations for new plants to establish operations at Campton, city officials said.

The city of Campton will provide $183,600 to complete the $957,000 total cost of the project. The EDA grant includes a $96,700 bonus because Campton and Wolfe county are participating in the planning program of the multi-county Kentucky River Economic Development District. The district organization is working to overcome regional problems and to create jobs through the development of local resources.

Speaker Discusses Major Floyd Park, Crime Prevention

Wayland, Ky.—Speaking on "Public Affairs," County Attorney James R. Allen appeared at a recent meeting of the Lackey-Garrett-Wayland Woman's Club at the home of Mrs. Bobby Joe Castle, Wayland.

Mr. Allen outlined in some detail and presented a map sketch of the proposed public park at Allen. In his capacity of chairman of the Floyd County Parks and Recreation Board, Mr. Allen was well informed on the plans not only for the larger park at Allen but also of three planned mini parks to be located at Bosco, McDowell, and Mud Creek. The

Allen recreational facilities, as planned, would be on a large scale to include baseball, basketball, softball, tennis, swimming, a playground for young children, a play field for any type of sport, whitening benches for older citizens, picnicking facilities and a nine-hole golf course.

Mr. Allen pointed out that a large tract of land is necessary for the type park planned at Allen and the land under consideration is large enough for present plans and future expansion. The mini parks would have no swimming pool but would have some of the other facilities on a smaller scale due to the lack of available space and necessary funds. The speaker emphasized that good recreational facilities are needed for this area to attract industry.

As chairman of the Big Sandy Regional Crime Council, covering the counties of Pike, Floyd, Magoffin, Martin, and Johnson, Mr. Allen also mentioned some of the things the council has been doing in the field of crime prevention. He especially pointed out that the interconnecting communications system has been improved. It is the Council's plan to tie in with the State Police for faster communications in apprehending lawbreakers. He also stressed the need for juvenile detention facilities.

Mrs. James E. Martin led the Pledge to the Flag at the beginning of the meeting, with devotions by Mrs. Floyd Tackett on the Easter theme. Mrs. Otto Martin read the Club Collect.

During the business session following the program, Mrs. Don Hughes, club treasurer, reported that $274 had been collected for the Heart Fund. The club also voted a contribution to the Red Cross. Mrs. Wells, club president, reported a contribution had been made to KET (Kentucky Education Television). Several of the members also made individual contributions.

An election of officers was held to fill the posts of recording secretary and second vice-president, vacancies having been created in these offices due to resignations. The new officers elected were Mrs. James E. Martin, recording secretary, and Mrs. Bobby Joe Castle, second vice-president. Mrs. Otto Martin was re-elected trustee for another four-year term.

Those attending were Mrs. Earl Castle, Mrs. J. C. Wells, Mrs. S. M. Martin, Mrs. Eugene Mullins, Mrs. Floyd Tackett, Mrs. James E. Martin, Mrs. Felix Coburn, Mrs. James A. Duff, Mrs. Mervil Dixon, Mrs. Stanley Bamer, Mrs. Don Hughes, Mrs. Otto Martin, Mrs. E. E. DeCoursey, guest, and the hostess, Mrs. Bobby Joe Castle.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Charles Hughes, Prestonsburg, April 21.

GRETHEL NEWS

The Grethel Homemakers Club met March 31 at 7 p.m. at the John M. Stumbo school. The president, Mrs. Glenna Evans, presided. Devotions were led by Mrs. Cosetta Newsome, who used the theme, "Fear Versus Faith." The lesson for the evening, "Safeguarding Your Home," by Mrs. Frances Pitts. The next meeting will be May 12 at 7 p.m.

PEYTON-CLARK

Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Peyton announce the engagement of their daughter, Sharon Marie, to Mr. Jon Darrell Clark, Lexington, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Clark, Garrett.

Miss Peyton is a graduate of Mercer County High School and is attending the University of Kentucky where she will graduate in May with a B.A. in business education. She is a member and has served as secretary of Chi Omega sorority.

Mr. Clark is a graduate of the University of Kentucky with a B.S. in civil engineering. He has served four years of active duty with the United States Air Force where he attained the rank of captain. He is currently employed as a traffic engineer with the Kentucky Department of Transportation.

The wedding will be an event of May 24 at the Ebenezer Church of Christ in Mercer County.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to especially thank Dr. Hall and the staff of the McDowell Regional Hospital, the Hall Bros. Funeral Home, the Martin Harmonizers and the ministers, Lee Music, Randall Vanhoose and Doug Burkett, and all the friends and relatives who showed such kindness and loving sympathy at the death of our dear wife and mother, Malta Cole.

Nurses Conference Set To Study Heart Disease

A conference for registered nurses on cardiac arrhythmias will be held April 28, 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., at Prestonsburg Community College.

The conference, co-sponsored by the college and District 11, Kentucky Nurses Association, is designed to provide an opportunity for registered nurses with basic or advanced knowledge of coronary care nursing to interact with Evelyn Geller and Carol Caples, clinical nursing faculty, about recognizing and interpreting cardiac arrhythmias. It will focus on the nursing aspects of a person with an acute myocardial infarction. Registrants are encouraged to bring a written list of the nursing problems they have experienced in caring for this type of patient.

0.4 Continuing Education Units will be awarded. Pre-registration is requested for planning purposes. Anyone interested in registering for this conference should call the Nursing Department at Prestonsburg College, 886-3863, Extension 260.

Mrs. Waneta P. Newsome Honored

Mrs. Newsome receives from Paul S. Stark, administrator, gifts of appreciation for her long service.

Mrs. Waneta P. Newsome, veteran employee of Our Lady of the Way Hospital, Martin, was recently honored with a reception by the employees of the hospital at which she was presented a watch and a dozen roses by Paul Stark, administrator.

A banquet was held at Jenny Wiley Lodge by all department heads at the hospital in honor of Mrs. Newsome. There she was presented a gift of $120. The nursing staff gave a tea and presented her with an AM-PM radio tape player.

Mrs. Newsome has served the hospital as director of nurses for 28 years. She has been with the Sisters of Divine Providence from their beginning in Martin, and was the only registered nurse employed by the hospital for many years.

Of her a hospital spokesman said, "In her 28 years of service she has never become angry with her patients, but always showed kindness and understanding. Her dedication and loyalty could never be replaced or repaid." Mr. Stark refers to her as "Our Lady of the Way." She has come to symbolize Our Lady of the Way, always there day and night to assist those in need. Many employees and Sisters came on left, but Mrs. Newsome remained, faithful and dedicated to the hospital and all humanity.

At present Mrs. Newsome is recovering from surgery at Central Baptist Hospital, Lexington.

From the Roar of a Shotgun To the Quiet of Knott County

(From The Knott County News)
Hiram Bradley is an easy going store owner and gun salesman from the West section of Knott County. His wife, Pat, is the Postmaster at Vest and helps run the grocery and small scale department store with her husband. Their thirteen year old son, Chuck, is a Beckham Combs Elementary School student and an avid sports fan. It all sounds normal and routine until you put a competition shotgun in the hands of any one of them. All three are crack shots in the ever-growing sport of trap shooting.

Trap shooting is a real marksmanship test based on hitting a flying trap (or clay disc) as it sails through the air after being flung from a machine. Over 100 Americans engage in trap shooting as attested to by the swelling membership rolls of the American Trap Association (ATA) of which both Bradley and his son are lifetime members.

The 28-year-old Bradley began his now-famous trapshooting career in 1963. He mastered the sport in just one year and has been named to the ATA All American team every year since 1964. In 1968 he was chosen captain of the All-American team. Last year in August, Bradley walked away with the North American clay target championship—sort of the "grand daddy of them all" for trap shooters. On top of this honor he also holds two national records: Most consecutive singles broken, 1,469; most 100 straight broken, 43.

The singles record indicates the number of consecutive hits without missing while the straight indicates the number of times Bradley has 100 targets in a row without missing.

Mrs. Bradley (better known as Pat to her friends) met her husband while a student at Pikeville College and in the latter days of their high school careers at Hindman High School. After college the Bradleys traveled fairly extensively teaching school in Ohio, working in Houston, Texas, and finally after his shooting fame spread working with the Garcia Arms Company in Chicago.

The Bradleys came back to Knott county because, as he puts it, "life here is slow and easy." "I saw all of the world I wanted to see." And so the man who has made shooting films with Roy Rogers, Prince Ranier of Monaco, and appeared several times with Curt Gowdy on American Sportsman didn't trade it all for the peace and quiet of Knott county. "When I taught school," Bradley says, "it was my job. Shooting was my hobby. Few people can make their hobby their job—I've been lucky."

The Bradleys have built a new home near the site of their Sutton's Store which they run and where Bradley sells and repairs guns.

Thirteen-year-old "Chuck" Bradley seems to be following right in his father's footsteps. The younger Bradley has been shooting since he was about 10 years old and already he is a contender in the Junior and sub-Junior ATA categories. Even though he says he still gets nervous, Chuck has walked away with trophies all across the nation from Ohio to the Carolinas including the difficult Grand American Handicap Championship. One of Chuck's main goals this year is to join his father on the All-American Team. The team, both Juniors and Mens, will be announced in a few weeks.

Pat Bradley hasn't done as much shooting this past year as she would like. Illness prevented her from competing often but even at that she managed to take on all comers to win the Ladies Open Trophy at the Kentucky State Trap Shoot. Mrs. Bradley says she began to shoot trap because of her husband's intense interest in the subject and he since fell in love with the sport herself.

The Bradleys plan to add another room to their home in Vest just to accommodate the dozens of trophies already there and the ones sure to come.

Accepted To Art School

Eric Warren, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Warren, of Prestonsburg, has been accepted as a student by the A-1 Art Instruction Schools of Minneapolis, Minnesota.

His main interest is in cartoons and the cartoonist that has dominated his interest most is that of Charlie Schultz, creator of the Snoopy and Charlie Brown characters who was also a student of A-1 Art Schools.

Eric's work will be sent around the country by the school in their magazine, "The Illustrator," and the school will act as his agent in the selling of his art.

Upon graduation of the course, Eric will be considered a professional.

City of Prestonsburg, Kentucky

Sealed bids will be received by the City of Prestonsburg, Kentucky, at the office of the City Clerk in the Ford Building, at Prestonsburg, Kentucky, until 7:30 p.m., April 17, 1975, at which time bids will be publicly opened and read aloud, for furnishing labor and materials and performing all work as set forth by this advertisement for bids.

The equipment to be furnished is as follows:

A Vacuum Pick-up Sweeper, four-wheel truck type with each rear wheel being dual self propelled and shall be the manufacturer's latest model. Copies of specifications may be obtained from the office of the City Clerk in the Ford Building, Prestonsburg, Kentucky.

Bids received after the scheduled closing time for reception of bids will be returned unopened to the bidder. BIDS MUST BE ACCOMPANIED BY BID BOND PAYABLE TO THE CITY OF PRESTONSBURG, KENTUCKY, IN AN AMOUNT NOT LESS THAN 5 PCT OF THE BASE BID.

In event an award is made and the successful bidder fails to execute contract for performance of the work under the award then the bid bond shall be forfeited as liquidated damages for such failure.

Bids and bid bonds shall be in a sealed envelope bearing the bidder's identification, addressed to the City of Prestonsburg, labeled in the lower left hand corner:

"Proposal: Vacuum Pick-up Sweeper." The City of Prestonsburg reserves the right to reject any or all bids which bids shall not be withdrawn for 45 days subsequent to the opening of bids, without consent of the City of Prestonsburg.

BEVERLY M. HACKWORTH, Clerk, City of Prestonsburg, Ky.

It takes real dedication to be a musky fisherman. According to Dan Brewer, manager of the Department of Fish and Wildlife's Clark Hatchery, studies have shown that even good musky water, it takes an average of 50 hours of fishing to catch one fish.

But musky anglers aren't deterred by long hours of fruitless casting. For them, the thrill of hooking a fish that could weigh up to 50 pounds, one that strikes as viciously as it fights, is worth the wait.

Although musky can be caught year-round, the most productive months are March, April, October and November, according to Brewer. Stream conditions are important, with clear water and a low flow offering the fisherman the best chance of success. Lures should be large and tackle heavy.

In Kentucky, musky can be found in the Licking, Green and Kentucky River drainage areas and in Kinloch and Tygart's creeks. In 1973, the Department of Fish and Wildlife stocked approximately 4,000 in Grayson Lake, but these fish have not yet reached the legal 30-inch size, Brewer said.

Since its completion, Cave Run Lake has been stocked heavily with musky in an attempt to establish lake fishing for this "fresh-water barracuda." Spawning conditions are often unfavorable in lakes, so Brewer expects that most musky fishing in Kentucky's lakes will be on a "put, grow and take" basis, although he hopes that there will be some spawning success in Cave Run.

High, muddy waters often cause poor spawning in native musky streams, so the department also conducts what Brewer calls "maintenance" stocking in many of the state's musky streams. Studies show that, because of poor spawning, these streams have about half the musky population they could support, so they are stocked to fill the available habitat.

Musky for these stocking programs are raised from native brood stock at the Clark Hatchery, near Morehead. Raising musky under hatchery conditions can be a tricky proposition, Brewer says. Sometimes it is necessary to give the fish hormone injections to induce spawning and the eggs are then hatched artificially under carefully controlled conditions.

This year, Brewer hopes to raise between 12,000 and 16,000 musky. These will be stocked as eight-inch "fingerlings," with 4,000 designated for streams and the remainder for Cave Run Lake.

In addition to the 30-inch size limit there is a daily limit of five musky and a possession limit of 10. But going over the limit is something few musky fishermen have to worry about. At 50 hours per fish, a daily limit represents 250 hours, more time than even the most dedicated angler can manage to squeeze into a day's fishing.

Form Artists' Guild
At April 3 Meeting

Eight artists met last Thursday evening at Prestonsburg Community College to form with the purpose an Artists' Guild. Temporary officers have been elected to serve for approximately 30 days or for the period of time necessary to notify potential guild members of the organization.

Temporary officers include Nancy Campbell, president, and Brenda Music, secretary-treasurer. Others attending the meeting were John Paul Francis, June Joseph, Sue H. May, Charles V. Ormerod, Mildred Joan Whitt and Mrs. Ada Akers. Professional artists Russell May and Thomas Whitaker were present in an advisory capacity.

The guild will function as part of the Community Service Program at Prestonsburg Community College. Those interested in joining should attend the next meeting which will be held in the "Art Room" (Room 106 of the Pike Technology Building) Thursday, April 17, at 7 p.m.

The guild will offer opportunities for meeting, workshops with professional artists and a place to expand and work. This is the third of an expanding arts and crafts guild program at the college. The other established guilds include the Potters' Guild and the Textile Guild. For more information, contact James W. Hatfield, coordinator of Community Services, Prestonsburg Community College, telephone 886-2863, Ext. 208.

Federal Suits Allege Negligence Against GM

The U. S. Department of Transportation has filed two suits against General Motors, alleging that in two separate cases the company refused to notify car owners of safety defects.

The government is seeking injunctive relief and $400,000 in civil penalties in each suit.

Faulty carburetor plugs in 1965 and 1966 Chevrolets and 1966 Buicks can cause fires by working loose and pumping gasoline directly onto the engine. DOT investigators said, noting that over 1,000 such fires had been reported.

The government said the fire hazard is in models equipped with Rochester Quadrajets carburetors, manufactured before March 28, 1966.

The safety question in the second suit involves engine mounts in 1965 through 1968 models of Buick Electra 225's and Buick Wildcats and Cadillacs—except El Dorados—made early in the 1970 production year.

The agency said its tests show that engine mount failure in these cars can result in sudden loss of vehicle control.

Most handicapped adults need vocational rehabilitation in order to qualify for almost any kind of job.

Facts About James R. Allen

Candidate for

Commonwealth's Attorney

I was born and reared at Risner, Floyd County, Kentucky, and attended Prestonsburg High School, where I played varsity football and basketball. Upon graduation from high school, I was awarded a football scholarship to the University of Kentucky. I presently hold a Teacher's Certificate as well as a Law Degree from the University of Kentucky.

I have done substitute teaching in the Floyd County School System and presently have two sisters who are teaching in Floyd County.

I have been active in the Democratic Party, having served as President of the Floyd County Young Democratic Club. I have actively supported all Democratic nominees, including Carl Perkins, and was Campaign Chairman for Senator Dee Huddleston.

I am Chairman of the Big Sandy Regional Crime Council, which includes Floyd, Pike, Johnson, Magoffin and Martin Counties.

I am Chairman of the Floyd County Parks and Recreational Board. This Board has planned a major recreation park at the Old Allen Golf Course; has planned and recommended to the Floyd Fiscal Court Mini Parks for Magisterial Districts 2, 3 and 4 and plans to assist further in the development of recreation facilities in Magisterial District 1.

As most of you are aware I am presently County Attorney, having been appointed to the office and then elected without opposition.

My entire interest has been in the development and promotion of the welfare of Floyd County and Eastern Kentucky and the preservation of law and order in Floyd County.

I have diligently investigated all major crimes and have attempted to act in such way to protect the law abiding citizens of Floyd County without persecuting any person. If elected Commonwealth's Attorney I will continue to investigate all crimes committed within Floyd County. I will prosecute all those who are brought before the Court for committing crimes, but I will never persecute any person. I firmly believe in justice tempered with mercy.

Classes To Stress Mine Reclamation

PIKEVILLE, Ky.—Pikeville College last week began a second series of night classes in surface mining reclamation.

Three of the initial series of courses in reclamation, started in January, have now been completed and certificates of competence have been issued as follows:

LAW AND PERMITS: O. L. Blackburn, Dan Cameron, Harry Campbell, Wayne Clark, Paula Ann Conley, Bruce Hopkins, Norma L. Malinowski, George Morgan, Jr., Alvin D. Newsome, Anthony Newsome, Ron Newsome, William H. Newsome, Jr., Roger E. Ratliff, William J. Williamson, Mike Blevins, Alvin B. Newsome and Homer Tucker.

According to Dr. Maurice Bailey, chairman of the Science and Technology Programs at the college, nine courses will be taught. "When a student completes the course," said Bailey, "he will have learned how to plan and conduct a surface mining operation from when the coal is found until the land is revegetated."

Persons interested, should contact the Mining Technology Department at Pikeville College.

The Master Is Coming!

They said, "The Master is coming to honor the town today. And none can tell at whose house or home The Master will choose to stay."

Then I thought, while my heart beat wildly, What if He should come to mine? How would I strive to entertain And honor the Guest divine.

And straight I turned to my tolling To make my home more neat; I swept and polished and garnished, And decked it with blossoms sweet. I was troubled for fear the Master Might come ere my task was done, So I hastened and worked the faster, And watched the hurrying sun.

But right in the midst of my duties A woman came to my door; I saw her come to tell me her sorrows, And my comfort and aid implore. And I said, "I cannot listen, Nor help you any today; I have greater things to attend to." And the plainer turned away.

But soon there came another, A lame man, pale and gray, And said, "Oh, let me stop and rest awhile in your home, I pray; I have traveled far since morning. I am hungry and faint and weak; My heart is full of misery, And comfort and help I seek."

And I said, "I am grieved and sorry, But I cannot keep you today; I look for a great and noble guest. And the lame man went away. The day wore onward swiftly, And my task was nearly done, A prayer was ever in my heart That the master might yet come.

I thought I would spring to meet Him With treat Him with utmost care, When a little child stood by me With a face so sweet and fair— Sweet, but marks of tear-drops— And his clothes were tattered and old; A finger was bruised and bleeding, And his little bare feet were cold.

And I said, "I am sorry for you; You are sorely in need of care, But I cannot stop to give it, You must hasten other where." At my words a look of pain and fear Swept over his blue-veined brow, "Some one will feed and clothe you, dear, But I am too busy now."

At last the day was ended, My toil was over and done; My house was swept and garnished, And I watched in the dusk alone; Watched, but no footfall sounded; No one paused at my gate; No one entered my cottage door; I could only pray and wait.

I waited till night had deepened, And the Master had not come; "He has entered some other door," I cried. "And gladdened some other home." My labor has been for nothing, And I bowed my head and wept; My heart was sore and longing, Yet, spite of it all, I slept.

Then the Master stood before me, And His face was grave and fair; "Three times today I came to your door, And craved your pity and care; Three times you sent me onward, Unhelped and uncomfited. The blessing you might have had was lost, And your chance to serve has fled.

"The poor are always with you; They are even in need of a friend; And as oft as you give them food to eat, Those gifts to your Master you lend. Whenever you give them cold water, Or what ever their needs may be, You are aiding not only my little ones, But you are also helping me."

"O Lord, dear Lord, forgive me; How could I know it was Thee." My soul and spirit is shamed and bowed In the depths of humility. And He said, "The sin is pardoned, But the blessing is lost to thee; For, failing to comfort the least of Mine, You have failed to comfort Me."

for State Representative
95th Legislative District

I do not believe in voting for a person just because of family or friends; however, I do believe you can get some insight into one's character by being acquainted with their family.

My mother is Gypsy Wicker, member of Bethel Church of Old Regular Baptists 29 years. My father is Millard Stephens, retired coal miner of 41 years' service, and a member of the U.M.W.A. since inception.

My maternal grandparents: Bess Wicker and Rosa Belle Hicks; paternal grandparents: Eli Stephens and Fanny Patton Stephens.

My wife is the former Sheila Ann Stewart, daughter of Mildred Begley Stewart and the late Roger Stewart. Her maternal grandparents are George Begley and Nora Mayo Begley, and her paternal grandparents, Viola May Stewart and Will Stewart.

4-H Center, where most of the conference sessions will be held.

Planned especially for Kentucky 4-H'ers who are freshmen and sophomores in high school, the conference will give these young people advanced citizenship-leadership training that they can pass on to other 4-H'ers and to their high school classes.

Conference speeches and discussions are planned to give the delegates a better understanding of the legislative process of their heritage as U. S. citizens. As background for their citizenship studies, the 4-H'ers will take field trips to national memorials and government buildings in the Washington area.

Carroll, Herndon, KEA Speakers

Louisville, Ky.—Governor Julian Carroll and National Education Association (NEA) executive secretary Terry Herndon will be the principal speakers at this year's Kentucky Education Association (KEA) convention here.

Both Carroll and Herndon—the latter is a native of Russellville, Ky.—will address the convention's state school session Friday, April 18 at the Kentucky Fair & Exposition Center.

KEA's annual three-day meeting will open Wednesday, April 16 with a Delegate Assembly meeting at 1:30 p.m. at Executive Inn West. Other delegate meetings are set for the same location at 7 p.m. April 16 and at 1 p.m. and 8 p.m. April 17.

The April 18 general session, starting at 9 a.m., also will feature the KEA's All-State Chorus of 350 students from 74 high schools. Chorus director will be James David Woodward, a Lexington native now dean of Oklahoma Baptist University's College of Fine Arts in Shawnee, Okla. The group will perform Ron Nelson's "What Is Man?"

During the same session the KEA's second annual Lucy Harth Smith—Atwood S. Wilson Award for Civil and Human Rights in Education will be presented by the KEA Commission on Human Relations.

At the close of the general session Mrs. Billy Pope, of Lexington, will take office as KEA president, succeeding John Basham of Owensboro. Mrs. Pope, a social studies teacher at Fayette county's Beaumont Junior High School, currently is KEA president-elect. Basham is a ninth-grade English and civics teacher at Davies County High School.

A dinner honoring retiring KEA executive secretary Dr. J. M. Dodson is set for 6 p.m. Thursday, April 17 at Executive Inn West. Dodson, who has been executive secretary for 23 of his 25 years at KEA, will be succeeded on July 1 by Robert Summers, now KEA director of program development.

FORT BOONESBOROUGH STATE PARK

Days of Daniel Boone and his Kentucky settlers are re-created at the new Fort Boonesborough, between Richmond and Winchester. Reconstructed from original drawings, the fort is as accurate in detail as history reveals. Costumed artisans demonstrate the making of soap and candles, weaving, and many another craft of the early 1800's.

Kentucky's heritage and tradition are preserved in other state parks and shrines across the Commonwealth... all within a day's drive of your own home. So whether you're out for a one-day jaunt or for a week's vacation, visit Kentucky State Parks this year!

Nature Trails

By Rufus M. Reed

Nature's Tonics and Vitamins

NATURE'S HAIR TONIC. At this season you can cut a large-size grapevine and catch a pint of the clear, watery sap. Use this as a hair tonic; it is one of the best and will make the hair grow rank and glossy, also stops falling hair.

NATURE'S STIMULANT AND REMEDY. Dig the roots of wild ginger, pour over them a pint of boiling water, let stand an hour or so. Then you have a valuable remedy for gas on the stomach, also a fine stomach-warmer and nerve stimulant.

Wild ginger is a member of the Birthwort family and one of our most handsome plants. It bears dark brown blossoms resembling the shape of a dwarf's cap. Inside the pretty blossom, there is inscribed nature's perfect hexagon.

NATURE'S BEST CATHARTIC. The bark of the roots of the butternut tree (white walnut) makes the mildest, most certain laxative known. Unfortunately, the root-diggers have killed many butternut trees, digging the roots to get the bark to sell. The nuts, shaped like a football, are among nature's finest edible nuts.

NATURE'S SALVE. Take two large tablespoons of mutton tallow, heat it in a pan and mix with it a half-dozen of Balm of Gilead buds, which the oldtimers called "balm buds." Mash the buds up while the mixture cools; strain and put in a jar. This makes a fine, clear salve for healing stubborn sores or old wounds.

Onion Poultice placed hot on the chest was the old remedy for pneumonia. And for a sore, aching back, an oatmeal poultice was used warm and with good results.

EARLY WOOD BETONY. This plant makes nature's best cordial. It is a member of the Snaggletooth and its tea makes a soothing cordial for the nerves and a stimulant for the heart. The plants appear in early spring and bear light yellow, sometimes red, flowers. The leaves resemble the fronds of fern, so the plants are often called "fernleaf betony."

NATURE'S BEST STIMULANT. For chills and exposure to bad weather, there is no better warming stimulant than cayenne pepper. The Mormons and pioneers used its tea to treat cholera. A British herbal states: "Cayenne pepper is the most certain of all herbal stimulants. It gives quick relief from chills due to exposure."

IRON IN THE BLOOD. More important iron, one of the most important blood salts, a builder of red blood cells, may be obtained by eating water cress.

Bailey, Allen Retire From Highway Jobs

PIKEVILLE, Ky. — Kentucky Bureau of Highways District Engineer Gail Mullins of Highway District 12 has announced two retirements in the Pikeville district.

Elia A. Bailey, of Allen, a civil engineer, is retiring after 22 years and one month of service. Bailey was a construction engineer in Pike county. The retirement was effective March 31.

After 15 years and one month of service, Brown R. Allen retired, also effective March 31. Mr. Allen was a principal automotive mechanic in Johnson county. He is a resident of Inez.

yellow dock, stinging nettles and drinking tea made of wild strawberry leaves. More calcium, magnesium and phosphorus may be had from eating okra, pods, garlic, marigold flowers, dandelion greens, black willow bark tea, kale, mullin leaves, carrots, sheep sorrel and watercress.

Sports Affield

By Ted Kesting

"Expertly towing a trailer is simply a matter of becoming familiar with the performance of the rig when accelerating, braking, passing and maneuvering—including in reverse," says Sports Affield's Recreational Vehicles Editor, Jack Seville. "Because of the overall length of the two vehicle plus trailer, and their combined weight, you first learn to swing wider on corners, allow more distance between you and the car ahead, and anticipate stops and turns."

Seville points out that backing is the real bugaboo for most drivers. With oversize side-view mirrors properly installed and adjusted, anyone can learn to back a trailer with a couple of hours of practice. Try to find a large and little-used parking area where you can start, stop, back and turn without interference. First, get a friend to carefully adjust the extended mirrors on each side of the two car while you sit in the driver's seat. They should be large enough and adjusted so you can see the roadway, the painted lane lines and the rear edge of the trailer, as well as follow traffic.

When turning you must swing wider and allow plenty of room for the trailer which will not follow the tow car's tracks but will make new tracks inside the curve. Give other traffic plenty of warning of your intentions with your turn signals, and make your turns smoothly and deliberately. By keeping an eye on traffic to the rear you can be prepared for and react to being passed by other vehicles. Large overtaking trucks will create air turbulence that can be disconcerting if you are not prepared, over-reacting with the steering wheel can cause the trailer to fishtail; panic braking can cause the trailer to jack-knife.

When you can see the overtaking truck approaching ease up on the accelerator and as you feel the first nudge from the air displaced by the passing truck, increase your speed slightly, holding your course on a straight line.

In theory, if your trailer is equipped with brakes, the stopping distance should be the same as for the car without trailer. But don't be misled by theory. Because panic stops are to be avoided and all maneuvers should be deliberate and smoothly executed, you have to allow more time and distance (up to eight times as much).

Crow winds will cause the trailer to sway. They are particularly bothersome when they are gusty. Don't react by jerking the steering wheel and don't hit the brakes. Keep the tow car on a straight course and the trailer will follow. Never overload the trailer. When adding equipment or putting your gear aboard, distribute the weight evenly, keeping heavier items low and centered near the trailer axle. The object is to maintain 15 percent of the trailer's total weight on the tongue.

Following Water Safety Rules Will Keep Fisherman Afloat

LOOKS LIKE A BIG 'UN! Now that the Spring fishing season is getting underway throughout the state, the state Division of Water Enforcement advises fishing enthusiasts to observe safe boating practices while catching their limits. The lucky angler above is correctly using the bow seat for fishing. Sitting in the bow seat when the boat is underway, however, is a violation of Kentucky's boating laws.

By JANE HILLARD

FRANKFORT, Ky.—Time to go fishin'.

After the uncertain weather conditions of the past winter, fishermen are understandably anxious to get out to their favorite lakes and streams. But in the rush to get to where the "big ones" are, anglers should not forget basic rules of water safety.

Kentucky Water Enforcement Director Doug Shoulters warns that the primary cause of fishing fatalities is falling overboard. The shock of the cold water, plus the heavy weight of clothing and boots, can cost lives.

Shoulters says it is advisable, especially in the spring, to wear a U. S. Coast Guard approved personal flotation device. He notes that many of the newest ones, which look like ordinary jackets, are not bulky and are even suitable for street wear.

"And you should wear one at all times on the water," he emphasized. "Just having one stowed away neatly on board is not good enough when you need it instantly."

Shoulters gives the following rules as safety musts for fishermen in boats. Never ride in the bow seat, if your boat is so equipped. You may, however, fish from it when the boat is traveling no greater than at idle speed. Riding on the bow seat when the boat is underway is in violation of Kentucky's boating laws.

Discusses Weapons Problem

FRANKFORT, Ky.—The growing problem of students arming themselves with knives and guns instead of knowledge was taken up by the State Board of Education during its quarterly meeting here recently.

Dr. Lyman V. Ginger, state superintendent of public instruction, told the board that he had received a complaint about armed students from a Woodford County woman. But he noted that "there is no way the state Department of Education can come into the county and enforce the regulations."

The board decided to advise all Kentucky school superintendents of complaints they had received and to remind them of a state statute forbidding weapons in the schools.

Ginger also told the gathering that a current study on suspensions and expulsions, conducted jointly by the state Department of Education and the Department for Human Resources, had encountered the weapons problem also. "It is spreading into rural areas also and is not just an inner-city situation," he said.

Education personnel said most officials suspend a pupil for three days if he is caught bringing arms into school, although there is no consistent action taken statewide.

In other action, a consulting firm recommended a reorganization of the Education Department's services to the blind, although members will await a complete report before reaching a decision.

The firm of Cressap, McCormick and Pagel, Inc. recommended either a full bureau in the education department of a merger of two present divisions in the Bureau of Rehabilitation Services.

In addition, the firm proposed transferring the headquarters of the Library for the Blind and Physically Handicapped from Frankfort to Louisville, where several similar facilities are already located, including the Kentucky School for the Blind.

The report also suggested that the library be returned to the state Department of Library and Archives, from which it was withdrawn last July.

Also, Floyd County Supt. Charles Clark and Leslie County Supt. Martha Levett explained why their districts encountered budget deficits last year. Both cited inflation and inadequate tax collections. However, since Mrs. Lovett took office two years ago, she has reduced Leslie County's deficit from more than $100,000 to less than $30,000.

Other groups appearing before the board included five representatives from the Concerned Citizens for Covington Schools, who protested the local Covington board's failure to renew Supt. Bert Bennett's contract. The state board noted they had no jurisdiction in the case, as local board members were legally elected representatives and were empowered to take such action without prior notice.

After hearing from Supt. Andrew Bird of Anderson County, the board decided to extend Western High School's standard accreditation for another year. Bird told the board that Anderson County High School in Lawrenceburg could not accommodate the extra 200 or so pupils should Western be phased out of the system. He indicated that land development in nearby Taylorsville should bring more people to that area and increase Western's enrollment. Before adjourning, the state board set a May 13-14 date to discuss school accreditation and the state plan for vocational education. Another quarterly meeting will be held June 17-18.

To Water Consumers

The Commissioners of the Beaver-Elkhorn Water District, John Milton Stumbo, Ray Fraley and myself, deeply regret inconveniences caused by "NO WATER" for several days in the Right Beaver area, due to a water main break affecting this section of our sprawling system.

Much concern was properly shown, but it must be known that diligence will always be used when, as and/or interruptions occur, to restore service.

Again, we regret any inconvenience caused in this instance, and ask that constructive communications be directed to those concerned and working for the betterment and advancement of the Beaver Creeks area—instead of the other-way-round.

Sincerely,
J. C. WELLS, Chairman

Mountain Manor Events

Bunnies—'Live and in Color'—pose for picture during Mountain Manor tour on Easter.

March was a busy month at Mountain Manor, Prestonsburg. St. Patrick's Day was observed with a party on March 17 with entertainment by Steve McDrew, who played the piano and gave a concert for the residents.

Good Friday services were enjoyed under the direction of the Rev. Dan Heintzelman, accompanied by a singing group, "Salt of the Earth," from Mt. Clemens, Mich.

"The dining room was decorated in keeping with the Easter Season. At one end of the chapel a tomb was made and the angel stood nearby. Hanging on the wall in the chapel was a picture of the three crosses. On Easter morning the stone was rolled away from the tomb. Bunnies were "Alive and in Color" on Easter morning. The residents were delighted when two bunnies hopped into their rooms and gave each a chocolate Easter egg. The bunnies were Paty Evans, activity director, and Joan Armstrong, a resident of the home. Some called the bunnies "Fat Man" and "Robin."

BAPTIST MISSION SLATES SINGING CONVENTION, SAT.

The Fitzpatrick Baptist Mission on the Parkway will have a Singing Convention Saturday night, April 12, at 7 p.m. On Sunday night, April 13, at 7 p.m., a film, "The Sound of the Trumpet," the story of the second coming of Christ, will be shown.

Everyone is invited and the church bus will run both nights. To schedule pickups, call John Woods, minister, at 886-9191.

Senator Backs Tax Guarantee From Severance

WASHINGTON—"If Eastern Kentucky is going to supply a major portion of the resources to meet this nation's energy crisis, then Eastern Kentucky has a right to share substantially in the wealth generated by that resource." So said Senator Walter Dee Huddleston in enunciating his philosophy on the economic development of Eastern Kentucky.

"The country needs our coal, and will for the foreseeable future," he added. "I think we should meet those needs—but I also think that we should do so in a way that when the coal boom is over we will have something of value left."

"I believe that coal production, properly handled, can provide the resources on which the diversified economy we are seeking can be developed."

Huddleston endorsed the proposal to guarantee the return of a set percentage of the coal severance tax to the coal-producing counties, and also urged that the new reclamation fund to be established by national strip mine legislation be spent primarily in the coal counties.

Huddleston also said he is exploring the possibility of using either the Appalachian Regional Commission program or the highway trust fund to help repair Kentucky's coal-haul roads.

"I believe in rural and small town development," he said. "I believe in coal production as a means to that end. And I believe that more of the resources resulting from such production belong to the people and counties who produce the coal."

May Democratic Primary (Floyd County)

James "Jitter" Allen

I am the son of Bill Allen, former owner of Allen Bros. Bus Co., and Ora Mae (McGlothen) Allen, veteran Floyd County teacher. I am married to Emily Martin, daughter of Murph and the late Herma (Hall) Martin. Emily is the granddaughter of the late W. J. (Boy Babe) Hall and Delle Hall and the late Tip and Sally Martin, of Huysville, Ky. We have one son, James Gregory. My paternal grandparents are the late (Preacher) Alex Allen, minister of the Old Regular Baptist Church and Mary (Allen) Allen. My maternal grandparents are the late Millard (Mac) McGlothen, former C&O section foreman, and Kate Swartz McGlothen, now residing at Printer, Ky. I am part owner of East Kentucky Marine, Inc., of Allen and Pikeville, Ky.

Your vote and support will be greatly appreciated.

IN VIRGINIA HOSPITAL
Mrs. Darlene Palmer, of Williamsburg, Va., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Hicks, of Langley, recently underwent a major operation in a Williamsburg hospital, where she is also employed. Mrs. Palmer was visited by many friends over the Easter-week-end, and by her sisters, Mrs. Ruby Bentley and son Richard, of Seaford, Va., and Mrs. Rochella Chaffins, of Williamsburg.

MAYTOWN NEWS

Miss Bess Ratliff was given a surprise birthday celebration on her 73rd birthday March 27 at her home. Refreshments, including a birthday cake, were furnished by Mrs. Lula Martin, Mrs. Minnie Howell and Mrs. Bertha Click. The guests also enjoyed some oldtime "cracklin bread," which the guest of honor had made. Guests were Mrs. Golda Salyers, Mrs. Millard Stephens, Mrs. Nora Hayes, Mrs. Bertha Click, Mrs. Minnie Howell and Mrs. Lula Martin. The honoree received many cards and gifts.

Rodney Click, of Dayton, Ohio, was the Easter week-end guest of his mother, Mrs. Bertha Click, and other relatives. Easter dinner and week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Millard Stephens were Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Justice and children, Stanton, Ky., Mr. and Mrs. Gorman Stephens, Lexington, Mrs. Stephens also visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cleatles Rowland, and children, and Mr. and Mrs. Danny Stephens and children.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Hayes and baby, of Baltimore, Md., have been here visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earnest Hayes, and other relatives. Easter week-end guests of Mrs. Minnie Howell were Mr. and Mrs. Jim Cook and sons, Charles, Chris and Dusty, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Roas and son, Jimmy, Mrs. Cecil Caudill and son, Tim, Mrs. Vada Caudill and Mrs. Nannie Hawkins, all of Sidney, Ohio, Mr. and Mrs. James Monroe Caudill and son, Todd, Blackey, Ky. Rev. and Mrs. Lee Caudill and children, of Lancer, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Collins, Mike and Ronnie and Mr. and Mrs. James Earl Moore and Stacie.

Sympathy is extended to Mander Moore whose brother, Wootsie Moore, passed away last week after an extended illness.

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Beebe and children, Johnny, Donald, Julia and Tammy and Bobby Moore, of Swanton, Ohio, spent several days during the Easter holidays with Mr. and Mrs. Bob Lewis and Tommy Moore.

Mrs. Ellen Clemmons returned home last Saturday from Lebanon, Ohio, where she had been visiting relatives. She moved to Hueysville over the week-end. Mrs. Delbert Goins, Dawn and Delbert Milton and Mrs. Claude Webb were in Lexington Friday on business.

In Stephens Fashion Show

Designed by Stephens College senior, Lynn Weddington, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Weddington, 303 Central Ave., Prestonsburg, is one of 30 Stephens College fashion design and illustration students participating in "Young Designers '75," a show of original designs, March 31-April 5, in Tulsa and Oklahoma City, Okla., and in Houston and Austin, Texas.

Sponsored by the alumnae clubs in each city, the fashion show will be presented for area alumnae, high school girls and guests.

The fashion group will visit informally with high school girls, high school counselors and others interested in the college at a prospective student party in Tulsa.

Designs included in the show are coats and suits, tailored gowns, sportswear and daytime wear. New York fashion designers, Frank Rizzo, Leamond Dean and Chuck Howard, came to campus to critique the student designs and to decide which designs would be made up for the show.

Students in Stephens Bachelor of Fine Arts program gain practical experience in fashion design and illustration through summer internships with top designers and manufacturers across the country. Biannual tours of European couture houses, textile and lace factories, as well as annual tours of New York fashion houses give students an inside look at the fashion world.

Stephens graduates are designing under such labels as Nelly Don, Howard Wolf and Cole of California. Other alumnae have started their own design houses.

School Art Fest Stated May 3-4

The Floyd County Elementary and High School Art Festival will be held May 3-4 at Archer Park under the auspices of the Prestonsburg Branch, American Association of University Women.

Registration will be on Thursday, May 1, from 1 to 4 p.m. Judging will be on Friday, May 2. All art work will receive an entry ribbon. Blue, red and white ribbons will also be awarded. Open house will be Saturday, May 3, from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. and Sunday from 1 to 5 p.m.

Mrs. James D. Adams is Cultural Interest chairman and John P. Sammons is co-chairman. Other chairmen are: Publicity, Mrs. Roberta Davidson; Registration, Mrs. Jean Rosenberg; Display, Mrs. Sandra Robertson; Hostesses, Mrs. May K. Roberts; Judges, Mrs. Carolyn Francis.
