Airport becoming a deer 'cafeteria'

by Scott Perry
Times Editor

Anyone who has ever flown in a small aircraft is familiar with standard landing procedures. The pilot will radio the airport for a weather report, wind direction, traffic conditions, deer check...

Hold it.
A deer check?
If you're flying into the Big Sandy Regional Airport, a deer check is a must.

There are so many of them on the airport property, in fact, airport officials are thinking about hiring a full-time employee just to shoot the critters off so pilots can land their crafts.

The airport, a joint venture operated by Floyd, Johnson, Martin and Magoffin counties, is a "deer cafeteria" airport board chairman John Crum, of Inez, said Thursday.

"Our grass is too good," he said.

The airport, built on a reclaimed stormine adjacent to Route 3, is the gathering place for large herds of deer and that's a big, and potentially expensive problem for airport officials. Two near misses have occurred between pilots, including State Representative Greg Stumbo, of Prestonsburg, and deer, with the deer getting the worst of the encounters.

Efforts to reduce the deer numbers through special hunting permits did not even provide "temporary relief," Crum said and a federal wildlife specialist was called in for advice.

Crum said that advice consisted of a recommendation to construct a 10-foot high fence around the airport and the board has asked for Federal Aviation Administration permission to do that, at an estimated cost of $168,000.

"We don't know what else we can do," Crum said.

"These deer have become accustomed to our efforts to scare them off," Crum added, "and it's getting harder to get them to move along. They just don't care if they move or not."

The problems usually multiply in the fall months, when the weather cools, and Crum said he has seen "as many as 120 to 150 deer in one trip up and down the runway."

"We have deer spotters out every day and every night," he added, "and we warn all approaching pilots to be on the lookout. Now we also have people lining the access road just before dark to watch the deer come out. This place has become a tourist attraction."

Contributing to the high deer population, Crum said, was the fact that the airport property abuts the Dewey Lake Wildlife management area, where hunting is restricted to Agip Coal property, where hunting is usually prohibited.

"These areas have basically never been hunted and the population has grown unchecked," Crum said. "We've been fortunate so far that they haven't contributed to a serious accident."

Deputy witnesses wreck that injures his mother, sister

Tuesday afternoon Floyd County Deputy Sheriff Fred Myhier watched as his mother and sister were involved in a serious traffic accident at the mouth of Cracker Bottom at Martin.

Myhier was following his sister, Vickie Chaffin, 44, and his mother, Marie Myhier, 65, out of Cracker Bottom when Chaffin's vehicle pulled into the path of Helwig Meyers truck on Route 80.

Myhier notified the sheriff's department and then proceeded to provide first aid to the two women.

Myhier applied a tourniquet to his sister's arm to stem the flow of blood from a deep gash. She had to be extricated from the vehicle by the Floyd County Emergency and Rescue Squad using jaws of life. Both women were knocked unconscious, Myhier said.

A worker from Michigan Recycling of Saginaw, Michigan watched as a bulldozer prepared to crash into a section of the Allen depot last Friday. "An historic landmark bites the dust," one onlooker said. The workers finished razing the building Tuesday. Glen Morey, trainmaster, said that the depot was torn down because it was no longer needed. The site will be cleaned up and left vacant. Property corp. meeting may have violated 'Sunshine' law

Times Editor

Despite claims to the contrary, meetings of the newly-formed Floyd County Public Properties Corporation held Friday, August 20 and Monday, August 23 appear to have been in violation of state Open Meeting laws.

At the center of contention is a dispute over whether the meetings of the property corporation were special-called sessions subject to strict guidelines or regular meetings open to general discussions.

County Attorney Jim Hammond has insisted repeatedly that the property corporation meetings were regular sessions, but a videotape of the meeting announcement, made by Hammond himself, contradicts that stance.

Hammond is quoted on videotape during the August 11 meeting of the Floyd County Fiscal Court announcing the August 20 meeting of the property corporation as a "special-called meeting." No notices were received by members of the media after that public announcement changing the meeting type.

According to state Open Meeting laws, special meetings of public agencies may be called but matters may be discussed or voted on that are not included on the special meeting agenda.

During the August 20 meeting of the property corporation, which was recessed to Monday, August 23, members voted to declare an emergency situation in relation to bids for the construction of a convention center/grandstand complex at the site of a proposed harness racing facility in Floyd County. The emergency was reportedly declared to allow a single bid, submitted by Simpson and Associates, to be accepted for the project as a show of commitment that officials said had been requested by the state racing commission.

That issue was not among those listed on the meeting agenda and legally could not be discussed or approved under special meeting restrictions.

The property corporation also approved...

Report scalds management of Head Start

by Susan Allen
Staff Writer

The state's Office of Education Accountability has released the results of a probe concerning allegations of mismanagement in the Floyd County Head Start program to Floyd superintendent Steve Towler Wednesday.

Though OEA's findings were reportedly highly critical of the director and bookkeeper for Head Start and the school administrator who oversaw the program, superintendent Towler said Thursday that several allegations in the report were unsubstantiated.

Towler declined to discuss specifics of the OEA report and said that the findings of the probe will be forwarded to the Big Sandy Community Action Program in Paintsville, the regional agency that administers the Head Start program in Floyd County.

On Wednesday, OEA investigator Steve Yates and Phil Austin presented the report to Towler and deputy superintendent Gary Frazier, Towler said.

Last month, Head Start director Jamie Bailey and bookkeeper Ruth DeRossett were suspended without pay because of allegations of misuse of Head Start equipment; misuse of funds; and improper conduct.

Towler did say that he would discuss the report with former assistant superintendent Pete Grigsby Jr., who oversaw the federally funded program for the local school system.

"Mr. Grigsby was interviewed very thoroughly and I think anytime something happens in a program it lends itself to some questions of the supervisors," Towler said. "While we didn't feel it necessary to delve deeply into that situation, they (OEA) chose to. It's just natural to look at who supervised the program. I intend to talk with Mr. Grigsby. It's all in my hands."

Towler did not indicate if any disciplinary action would be taken concerning Grigsby, but he said that any information in the OEA report about the former assistant superintendent would be addressed by the superintendent because Grigsby was employed directly by the school system.

Allegations concerning Bailey and DeRossett will be addressed by the Ouster doesn't sway Towler on personnel input stance

This week's removal of a Clinton County school board member by the State Board for Elementary and Secondary Education for stating opinions about hiring decisions didn't seem to sway Floyd County superintendent Steve Towler who said last week he welcomes opinions from board members.

The state school board ousted Clinton County Board member Larry Craig Tuesday for misconduct for allegedly trying to influence the hiring of nine people by the school system. It was reported that Craig gave his opinion about personnel in response to questions asked by the superintendent.

During Craig's removal hearing, state board member Tom Gosh said the law prohibiting a board member from influencing hiring personnel was illogical because it doesn't prohibit a superintendent from asking board members their opinions.

"It seems to me that if it's logical

Allegations made, state says, but no formal complaint filed against Owens

by Susan Allen
Staff Writer

State school officials have received an allegation that a Floyd County School Board member tried to interfere with a personnel decision, but no formal complaint has been made regarding the claim.

James Meade, who has applied for a substitute bus driving position, reportedly alleged that board member Hattie Owens tried to interfere in the hiring process by asking him about his qualifications.

It was reported that Owens had seen his name "on a list" of apparent applicants and that she allegedly approached him about the issue.

Sandy Gubser, director of assistance and intervention for the Kentucky Department of Education, said Thursday that Meade had complained to her office about the incident, but no formal complaint has been filed.

"The gentleman called my office and alleged that the incident happened," Gubser said. "But, it was not substantiated. We instructed him how to proceed with the proper steps to lodge a complaint. At this time, no formal complaint has been made. We also told him, because it is a classified position, that if he has any concerns that the process was unfair, he should report it to the superintendent."

Gubser explained that someone who is alleging that a school official has acted improperly needs to put their allegations in writing and submit them to the proper agency. She added that once a written complaint is received, a determination is then made whether or not the issue warrants a review.

On Thursday, Floyd Superintendent Steve Towler said he was unaware Meade had accused Owens of trying to interfere in the hiring process. Towler said no formal complaint has been made to him concerning the issue.

'An atrocity'

Doug Collins, left of Johnson County, and his attorney, Terrance Keosse are accusing three police officers of severely beating Collins during a routine traffic stop earlier this month. Collins has filed a $100 million lawsuit against the officers, two Johnson County Deputy Sheriffs, a Johnson County Constable and a Kentucky State Police trooper. Collins held a press conference Wednesday at the Holiday Inn in Prestonsburg to discuss the case. (photo by Susan Allen)

Counseling program to fill void for older citizens

by Polly Ward
Times Feature Writer

The Benefits Counseling Project (BCP) of the Appalachian Research and Defense Fund of Kentucky has a program designed to knock down roadblocks that hinder citizens 60 years of age or older in Floyd, Johnson, Martin, Magoffin and Pike Counties from receiving state and federal benefits.

The BCP, which is funded by a federal grant, acts as a liaison between the applicant and the agencies that approve or deny the benefits.

"The government is trying to reach people in the hollows and branches who may not know they are eligible for government benefits," said Beverly Carroll, who was recently hired as benefits counseling coordinator for the BCP. "We want people to know what services are legally and rightfully theirs."

"We really want to help people," she added. "We don't want to abuse the system. But you still see people who need help but don't get it."

She said that many older adults are not aware that they may be eligible for government assistance. Others may have been denied benefits due to technicalities that could be resolved with legal assistance. Still others, frustrated with confusing and complicated application forms and red tape, give up before their applications are processed. To get word of the benefits counseling to older adults, the BCP is placing trained volunteer benefits counselors in the 15 senior citizens centers in the five-county area.

"Our office and volunteer counselors in the centers will be there to assist older adults and/or to direct them to the proper agency," Carroll said.

As director of the BCP, Carroll's responsibilities are "to supervise the volunteers and counselors of the benefits program in the five counties and to act as a liaison between the senior citizens and agencies or when neces-

Amanda scores

Amanda Beth Gaskins, six months old, won first place for prettiest baby presented by the Cadetsburg Volunteer Fire Department. This entitles her to be in the Labor Day "Miss Flame" parade.

Recently she won the honor of being Little Miss Tri State.

She is the daughter of Robert and Georgianna (Kandi) Gaskins of Cadetsburg and granddaughter of Hazel George of Ivel and the late Curt George.

Program features different styles of fiddle music

Just Fiddling Around, airing on KETV at 3 p.m. Sunday, September 5, traces the roots and history of fiddle playing from its early Scotch-Irish origins to modern bluegrass performance. Carol Stokes, a world-class bluegrass fiddler, hosts the program, which will be repeated at 11 a.m. on Friday, September 10.

In authentic settings, the program brings to life fiddle tunes from the Civil War. Bill Monroe's "Uncle Pen" and fiddle music of early radio programs and the Grand Ole Opry. Dance fiddling, display fiddling, and Cajun and Western swing fiddling are also demonstrated.

Stokes performed her original bluegrass breakdown, "Carol's Twinkle," with the Lima Symphony Orchestra to demonstrate the variety of the form.

Among the guests are Bill Monroe and The Bluegrass Boys, Jimmy C. Newman and the Canyon Country Band, Grant Turner, Jimmy Atkins and the Cedar Hill Band, the Foxfire Band, The Little Fiddlers, Charlie Smith, and Rufus Thibodeaux.

Their sister Lania Beth Meade planned a Bambi and Baby Bop party.

They are the children of Thomas and Beth Simpson Meade of Allen, grandchildren of Rush and Justine Meade of H. H. Fox Simpson of Martin and the late Monroe Fox Simpson, and great grandchildren of Duke, Lillian of McDowell and Mabel Meade of H. H. Fox.

Community spirit

Civic club gives from the pocket—and the heart

Credit the Prestonsburg Kiwanis Club with really putting the "community" in Prestonsburg Community College.

The club, celebrating its 70th anniversary this year, has funded and physically worked on a gazebo on the college's new River Walk, a kilometer-long trail on the campus which is used by the community.

"It seems like it's going to be a community gathering place," club member Lane Dutton said of the walking trail, which she and husband Johnny use regularly. "And we (Kiwanians) wanted to contribute to it."

Club members gathered at the decorative shelter for their August 19 meeting and put the finishing touches on the bandwork of college employee Tim Cooley, who built the gazebo with materials paid for by the club.

"One of our goals is to serve the community," said Bob Lewandowski, club president. "This is a good thing for us to do in the line of community involvement, especially since a lot of our members walk on the trail."

So far, Kiwanians have contributed about $1,000, in addition to members' labor in painting the shelter.

To commemorate the club's anniversary and to show appreciation, the college will place inside the gazebo a plaque recognizing the club's contribution, said PCC President Dr.

Deborah Floyd.

The trail, which is used by several hundred college and community people every day, has been built completely by donations from businesses and individuals. It winds along the river at the edge of the campus and has several benches or "rest stations." More are planned.

Volunteers patrol the trail in the evenings to ensure walkers' safety.

Charles Martin, 39, accused slayer of Walter and Reginald Larar, 151st brothers, has been transferred from McDowell Appalachian Hospital to an undisclosed hospital for treatment of an abdominal bullet wound he sustained in the affray in which the brothers died. Two state agencies sue the estate of the late County Clerk C. Ollie Robinson claiming he owes $288,989.78 in unpaid registration fees and penalties and owes $116,398.31 in delinquent taxes. Clerks' strike ends after the fiscal court gives them a possible yes on pay raises. There died: James C. West, 63, of Hueysville, last Wednesday at his home; Harve Stone, 66, of Melvin, Tuesday at McDowell Appalachian Regional Medical Center; Tilda Ray, 81, of Teaberry, last Wednesday at her home; Matt Johnson, 63, of Goble-Roberts, on arrival at Highlands Regional Medical Center Friday.

Twenty Years Ago

(August 29, 1973)

Bids on franchises for cable television service in several areas of this county were received last Wednesday by the Floyd Fiscal Court but were not opened at that time and in all probability will not be opened until a hearing is held on a complaint by the Akers Cable System, Inc., of Martin asking the Floyd Circuit Court restrain the fiscal court from selling and issuing franchises. Three persons have been arrested on liquor charges over the past week and two on "pot" counts. Miss Sharon O'Quinn, 18-year-old daughter of Mrs. Lacy O'Quinn, of Garrett, was crowned Miss Floyd County of 1973 Saturday night at the state park amphitheatre. A clothing manufacturer's location of a plant here depends upon the so-called KAT building at West Prestonsburg becoming available through sub-lease from Irving Industries, it was said here this week. Born: to Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Quinley, of Drift, a daughter, Aug. 18; to Mr. and Mrs. William J. Powers, a son, James Scott, Aug. 11; to Mr. and Mrs. Ronald D. Montgomery, of Winchester, formerly of Prestonsburg, a daughter, Lisa Dawn, June 28. There died: Mrs. Rhoda Victoria Allen, 77, of Eastern, Sunday at Our Lady of the Way Hospital, Martin; Emery Kiser, 79, of Teaberry, Saturday at Pikeville; Dillard D. Kilgore, 60, Saturday at his home at Hippo, Mrs. Fannie Hamilton, 66, of East McDowell, last Monday at Martin; Elmer (Bud) Carroll, 70, of Martin, Friday at Our Lady of the Way Hospital; Emmitt B. Vance, 65, of Denna, Wednesday here; Ronald T. Allen, 65, of Prestonsburg, last Friday at Highlands Regional Medical Center.

Thirty Years Ago

(August 29, 1963)

A moonshining outfit described by officers as one of the county's biggest sources of untax-paid whiskey was destroyed by ABC Agent Claude A. Flannery and federal officers Friday morning on the Kaccoon Fork of Salt Lick Creek. Southern Bell's Data-Phone, newest of electrocardiograph transmission devices, is now in full 24-hour operation at Prestonsburg General Hospital. The eleventh post-war Floyd County Fair will get underway here Monday at the grade school field. Four more liquor defendants were given trial Monday in the Floyd quarterly court, and all were convicted. Again the whiskey cases were followed to their conclusion by a large gathering. "Gunfight at the OK Corral" was showing at a local theatre this week. There died: Halter Boyd, 59, Monday at his home at Dana; Ollie Burgoyne, 61, Monday at his home at Price; Walker Hall, 70, native of Harold and a former deputy sheriff, Saturday at his home at Louisville; Charles Wesley Hunt, 37, of Boldman, last Tuesday after a box of dynamite caps exploded in his hands on Hurricane Creek.

Forty Years Ago

(September 3, 1953)

The homefolk marched here last Saturday in honor of Sgt. Raymond Shepherd, the first Kentuckian to be repatriated as a prisoner of war, exchange at Freedom Village, Korea. They marched again Sunday to honor Cpl. Fred Obhoff on his return after 27 months a prisoner, then on Monday afternoon here Cpl. Charles Ray Boyd, the first Prestonsburg prisoner of war, was likewise honored. Floyd school people moved this week toward an election fight by which they hope to pick up a big vote for amendment of Section 186 of the State Constitution and thus effect a Minimum Foundation Program. Otis Blankenship, 28, was killed at Manton by a rifle shot Saturday night. Robert Gordon Carr, 19, of Knoxville, Tenn., Sunday became the seventh person to drown in Dewey Lake. Sixteen-year-old David Allen scored a 98 in the National Casting Tournament at Toledo, Ohio Sunday afternoon in the three-eighths-ounce accuracy division. With his 96 in the five-eighths division he tied for top overall score and won a place on the All-American bait-casting team. The Rev. Ira McMillen Jr., successor to the Rev. L. W. Benedict as pastor of Irene Cole Memorial Baptist Church, arrived here this week from Lexington and will preach his first sermon from the local pulpit next Sunday. The Methodist Conference, meeting last week, named the Rev. Harold W. Dorsey, pastor of the First Methodist Church here to succeed the Rev. G. M. Haggard. The Rev. Joe Corbett, of St. Louis, Missouri, has been named pastor of the Church of God at West Prestonsburg and Martin, succeeding the Rev. Vernon Wright. There died: G. A. "Uncle George" May, 88, of T. C. L. L., Thursday at a Martin hospital; Mrs. Josie Conley Dalton, 72, formerly of this county, Friday at Ivyton; John Stratton, 77, Tuesday at Banner; Palmer Williams, 32, of McDowell, Sunday at Paintsville.

Fifty Years Ago

The Floyd County Board of Education has given rural school teachers a $10 pay raise, plus an additional $5 "allowance" which will cover travel expenses, and extra duties, such as running the school. Teachers are only required to do themselves. Instead of taking a holiday on Labor Day, approximately 60,000 miners in the Big Sandy and Hazard coal fields have made it known that they are willing to work Labor Day "to help win the war". The disappearance from the Floyd Circuit Court Clerk's office, August 22, of three election contest petitions this week remained a mystery to officials investigating the case. The War Department announced last week that Pvt. Jesse Urkine, 23, of Glo, had been killed in recent fighting in the southwest Pacific. Lieut. Burr P. Herelot, Jr., formerly of Cliff, who had been missing since June when his Flying Fortress was shot down over Europe, was reported last week as a prisoner in a German prison camp. Miss Frances Amburgey began work Wednesday as Floyd county's first home demonstration agent. County police destroyed a four barrel copper moonshine still on the head of T. L. Mud Creek, Monday night. Born: to Mr. and Mrs. James L. Spurluck, 26, of Prestonsburg, a son, James Thomas Spurluck, Jr., August 26, at the Paintsville Hospital; to Mr. and Mrs. John Pennington, of Lancer, a daughter, Tuesday. There died: A. L. Turner, 54, at his home on Turkey Creek, Thursday; Ronald Lee Little, one year old, of H. H. Hat, Tuesday, at the Beaver Valley Hospital, Martin.

Sixty Years Ago

(September 1, 1933)

A 13-year-old Clear Creek boy who had been a prisoner in a corn crib at the hands of his parents for months, was adjudged insane last Thursday and was taken to the insane hospital at the McMillan at Frankfort. George Leakey, 39 years old, was fatally injured Friday evening when his car collided with a truck near his home on Little Paint. There died: Akers, 22, died in the Beaver Valley Hospital, Martin, Saturday evening as the result of a knife wound in his abdomen. Isadore Johnson, of Melvin, died on his way to a physician, was killed late Tuesday as he walked, head down, too close to the railroad tracks and was struck by the Left Beaver passenger train. J. M. Whit, Jr., 10-year-old Garrett boy, died Tuesday morning in the Beaver Valley Hospital, Martin, from the effects of a bullet wound in his abdomen. Trapped beneath a ton and a half of slate inside a county "coal bank," Isaac Sammons, 19, was crushed to death near his home on Arkansas Creek, Friday. Born: to Mr. and Mrs. James Hyden, of McDowell, a son, at the Beaver Valley Hospital. There died: Mrs. Lucie Jones, 55, at her home on Town Branch, August 24.

Babbage names task force to assist in implementation of national "motor-voter" law

The specifics of expanded voter registration opportunities for the citizens of Floyd County will be examined when a task force on voter registration meets in Frankfort September 7. Secretary of State Bob Babbage said.

"Government is now required to advocate and to assist with voter registration," Babbage said.

"We expect nearly 500,000 new voters to register in the four-year cycle of the driver's license," Babbage said. "Since the potential for voter registration has grown under this law, it is essential that as many citizens and agency representatives as possible participate in its implementation," he added.

By virtue of his office, Babbage will chair the task force and lead the efforts to implement the federal law. Kentucky law names the secretary of state as the chief election officer of the Commonwealth.

The task force, composed of representatives of government agencies, private groups and citizens at large, will review the requirements and make recommendations for enacting the National Voter Registration Act of 1993 in Kentucky.

Dean is star performer at Apple Day

Billy Dean will be the headline performer for the 1993 country music show at the Kentucky Apple Festival.

Dean is known for such smash hits as "Somewhere in My Broken Heart," "You Don't Count the Costs," "Only the Wind," "Billy the Kid," "Only Here for a Little While" and "If There Hadn't Been You." His current single is "I Wanna Take Care of You."

Dean won the 1992 Academy of Country Music song of the year for "Somewhere in My Broken Heart" and Best New Male Vocalist.

Opening the show will be Darryl and Don. The two return by popular demand. They will also serve as Grand Parade Marshals. They were recently nominated for Country Music Association Vocal Duo of the Year. The awards show will be held September 29.

The group appeared at the Apple Festival in 1992 and their high-energy, entertaining show won them a return performance. Their single release includes "Goodbye Highway, No Sir," and their current release is "Ten Minutes 'til I'm Home."

The country music show will be held at the Johnson Central Fieldhouse, Paintsville on Saturday, October 2, beginning at 8 p.m.

Tickets cost $12 for reserved bleacher seats and $10 for general admission. Plastic surgery seminars being offered locally

Dr. Henry G. Wells Jr.

Anyone who has ever thought of plastic surgery as a means of improving their looks will have an opportunity to find out more about it and to ask in-depth questions of the experts.

It's part of a free seminar series being offered to the general public. The first seminar takes place on Monday, September 13, at 7 p.m. at the Holiday Inn in Prestonsburg. This session will concentrate on breast reconstruction procedures. Those interested in achieving a more youthful appearance. Discussion will center on brow lifts, eyelids, breast lifts, neck liposuction (fat removal) as well as reducing facial wrinkles through dermabrasion and chemical peels.

The second session will be presented at the landmark Inn, Pikeville, on Monday, October 25, at 7 p.m. Rescheduling the human form through contour surgery will be the main topic and will include rhinoplasty (nose shaping), facial implants, breast augmentation, breast reduction, abdominoplasty, liposuction, thigh lift and arm lift.

Each session will include a description of procedures and the extent to which they benefit people physically and psychologically. An open question and answer session will follow, and each seminar is expected to last from one to one and a half hours.

The feature presenter will be Dr. Henry G. Wells Jr. of the South Hill Clinic in Lexington and Chief of Plastic Surgery at Highlands Regional Medical Center. Dr. Wells is Board Certified by the American Board of Plastic Surgery and served four years on the Medical College faculty at the University of Kentucky.

He has practiced for over ten years and has conducted local seminars in the past two years at the For Women Conference. The seminar series is presented in association with Highlands Regional Medical Center.

Anyone interested in attending may obtain further information or register for either of both seminars by calling toll free 1-800-844-6877. Registration will be accepted at the door.

Compton earns Leadership Award

Morehead State University has announced that Stacy Dawn Compton of McDowell is among those students receiving a Morehead State University Award and a Leadership Award for the fall semester.

Compton, daughter of Gary and Beulah Compton, is a graduate of McDowell High School. Ranked seventh in the senior class, she was a member of Beta Club and participated in the organization's blood drive, recycling and big brother/big sister programs.

To be eligible for the Morehead State University Award, applicants must be admitted to MSU as an entering freshman or transfer student, have an admissions index of at least 550; transfer students must have at least a 3.00 grade point average (on a 4.00 scale) for the equivalent of at least one full term, and submit a completed scholarship application to MSU.

Dorsa Shantel Hall

Dorsa is one

Dorsa Shantel Hall, daughter of Anthony Wayne and Anita S. Hall of Drift, celebrated with a Barney birthday party at her 1st Paw's home at Drift on August 20. She received many nice gifts and a host of family and friends attended her party. She is the granddaughter of Chester Nelson of Drift and the late Dorsa Nelson, granddaughter of Dever and Peggy Hall of H. H. and great-granddaughter of A. B. Bryant and Gladys Hall. When she was born, she almost didn't make it. There were complications. She was in the prenatal unit at Pikeville Methodist for two days and then transferred to U.K. where she spent nine days. She is doing great.

Visually Impaired Preschool Services (VIPS) of Eastern Kentucky recently held its second Family Retreat Weekend at Camp Shawnee. Nine families having children who are blind or visually impaired participated in a weekend of family fun, support, encouragement and learning.

The retreat began with a Friday evening wienie and marshmallow roast around a campfire and swimming. Families interacted with one another and siblings made new friends.

Saturday morning activities included paddleboat riding on Dewey Lake, petting goats, swimming, and walking about the camp. After lunch families participated in a family craft project in which they sanded puzzle boards and then glued textured materials to the base and the corresponding puzzle piece. Doremy Chaffins and Donny Puckett of CAP cut the boards and puzzle pieces for this project. A toy and equipment exchange followed with items families brought which they no longer used or needed as well as from donated defective toys.

Special guest Joyce Coats, local coordinator for KY-SPIN (Kentucky Special Parent Involvement Network), spoke on effective communication and informed parents on how to advocate for their children's needs and from whom to seek assistance.

 Saturday night entertainment featured Curly the clown who presented all the children with animal-shaped balloons. A surprise juggler fascinated the children as he juggled balls, bats, knives, baseball bats and even the children themselves! Corky and his helper returned to perform skits for Sunday morning worship services accompanied with singing by Bill and Katrina Tussy.

This weekend event was made possible through a grant from the Kentucky School for the Blind Charitable Trust Foundation, many donations from within the community, and volunteers.

VIPS-Eastern Kentucky is a joint effort between VIPS-Louisville and the Christian Appalachian Project, known as the Appalachian Training & Outreach Project which is supported by the American Foundation for the Blind and the Hilton/Perkins National Program of Perkins School for the Blind, Watertown, Massachusetts.

Fun and friendship

Ethan Caudill, son of Danny and Jacquelyn Caudill of Morehead, and Makayla Compton, daughter of Rita and Darren Compton of Pikeville, played with toys distributed during a Family Retreat Weekend.

South Floyd to inaugurate season against Betsy Layne

By Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

When the Betsy Layne Bobcats host the South Floyd Raiders in tonight's season opener for both teams, it will present a little different angle.

The Bobcats are used to being the young kids. The new kids on the block. The up-and-coming program. But not this season.

South Floyd will play their first game as a high school team and this time they will be the "kiddie corps" going against a more experienced team.

Betsy Layne will be looking for win number one under coach John Derossier, who will enter his second year at the Bobcat helm. Betsy Layne finished 10-3 last season. The battle ground will be on the Hill at Betsy Layne and it has all the makings of a good high school football game.

When it's all over, the game last season, and came away with a 14-0 win over the Bobcats. But Coach Derossier's football feels that things will be different this year.

South Floyd will dress one of the largest teams in the county, 58 will don the silver and black uniforms for game one. Numbers, or the lack of them, have always been a problem at Wheelwright, but this year with the consolidation of McDowell and Wheelwright, Coach Kenne Daniels has the numbers that he needs to be successful with his team.

Raiders' scouting report
Betsy Layne does present some problems for South Floyd and that comes in their defense.

We are concerned about the track of the backfield, said Daniels. We feel they are stronger up front than what they have been.

Daniels said that because of a strong front line, this ballclub was going to have to mix it up more. We need to counteract that somehow," said Daniels. "We'll do some different things like running some slants and angles at them."

Daniels said that he hopes to use the numbers he has this year and run some fresh plays at Betsy Layne.

We are going to want them to win by a big margin. Fresh players at them, the experienced ones will take them to it.

Adam Roberts is a strong fullback and the running back. The Raiders' coach said that he had a strong fullback and a strong running back. They will be the first to see the action.

Chris is said that it was a tight, hard-fought game for the kids because they will be the first to see the action. It's a challenge for the kids and the program here at South Floyd," he said. "It's simple that we get off on the right foot."

The Raiders have impressed their coach in recent practices. They have been running hard to drive

"Monday and Tuesday I felt we had two very good practices," said the South Floyd mentor. Both days we went at it real hard. I mean, they were hitting with shoulder down."

Past Wheelwright teams were known for their hard hitting and Daniels has carried that over to the new school.

"We'll hit somebody," he said. "You'll never find us standing around. We've been running everything at full speed in practices."

Daniels said that his lineup will be the same as in preseason scrimmage games with Chad Stone and Adam Wright getting a close look.

The South Floyd coach said after last Saturday night's scrimmage that his team must cut down on turnovers.

"We're turning the ball over three and four times a game," he said. Grinding it out and eating up the clock will be on the list of things to do against Betsy Layne. "We want to be a good team not only on offense but on defense as well," said Daniels.

Cruse Caudill has been a pleasant surprise for the Raiders in the backfield, a position that he didn't

Prestonsburg faces Clay County in Appalachia Bowl Saturday

By Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

The Prestonsburg Blackcats will open their 1993 high school football season on the road in a place where other opponents have found hard to win — Clay County.

Prestonsburg, 12-2 last season, will face a young Clay County team that finished 10-3 last year.

"While Clay County has always been traditionally strong, it won't be so this season," said new head coach Wayne Napier.

"We had an awful lot of talent last year," he said, "but that is all gone. We are a very young football team this year. We have so many young people that it will be hard for us to match up against Prestonsburg."

Napier had been an assistant at Clay County for the past 16 years and former coach Eugene Henley, who resigned this past season.

Twenty-four of the 45 Clay County players will be freshmen, making it a very young football program.

"We have a lot of talent," said Napier. "But still they are fresh and subject to making freshman mistakes."

A freshman, Tim Rogers, will call the signals at quarterback for the Prestonsburg team. Napier hopes Rogers plays higher than his grade.

"He's a very talented young man," said the Tigers' coach. "He's smart and intelligent. He will have a big impact on him in Prestonsburg."

The money trail for Clay County is running. Look De Shae Henson, one of the leading candidates for Mr. Football in Kentucky.

Henson, a fullback, is a speedster who scored 25 touchdowns last season. He carried the football 225 times last year for 1,564 yards. He has amassed 4,267 yards in his three-year career.

But Napier confesses that the experienced running back will be running behind an inexperienced offensive line.

"We return only one starter back from last year's offensive line," said Napier. "So De-Shae will be running behind a line that doesn't have too much experience."

However, Coach Napier is excited about the backfield that will line up for the Tigers this season.

Seth Hyden

"We have a very talented backfield coming back," he said. "We have four very good backs coming in that I am excited about."

Steven Roberts, a junior, will also run at the fullback slot and, along with Henson, is expected to be the main ball carriers for the Tigers.

Two newcomers will join the backfield: freshman Travis Smith and junior Desmond Thompson.

"Both are very inexperienced but both can fly," said Napier. "Thompson has never played in the backfield before but he can run with the ball."

"In our two scrimmages that we had I couldn't have asked for a better effort from a team than what this team gave me."

Both lines, offensive and defensive, will be basically the same, according to Napier.

Thomas Ratliff

"Both lines will be the same — young and inexperienced. This is the youngest team that we have had in the history of the school," explained Napier.

But the last eight years have seen the Tigers put some impressive numbers in the column. Tigers have averaged 10 wins per season.

"We've never been hit this hard before by graduation," said the new Clay County mentor. "Then before the season started our right tackle moved. Next, one of our outside tackles broke his leg and, then on August 1, we had an outside tackle tear his knee. He's back but he won't be able to do much against Prestonsburg."

While 1993 doesn't look bright for the Tigers, Napier sees the tunnel brighter at the other end with all the talented freshmen he has, plus a strong middle school program.

"We feel that in two or three years we will be very strong again. We just want to get our numbers back up after we dropped down into the 30s last season."

Napier said that last season's 6-0 loss to Bell County in the semifinals of the playoffs was just because "We didn't have the numbers."

"This will be the toughest opener that Clay County has ever played," said Napier. "But we didn't have anything to do with the schedule."

It will be the fifth annual Appala-

Potter sinks first hole-in-one; Bobcats fall to Paintsville

By Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

In just his first golf match in high school, Shannon Potter showed the rest of the Betsy Layne High School golf team that getting a hole-in-one is not as difficult as other make it out to be.

Call it beginner's luck if you wish but Potter, who hasn't been playing very long, aceed the third hole (175 yards, par 3) at the Pleasant Valley Golf Course as the Bobcats were facing Morgan County in a high school meet.

Paintsville vs Betsy Layne

Matt Radtiff shot a even-par 34 at the Paintsville Country Club Monday afternoon to lead the Paintsville golf team past Betsy Layne 162-192. Chris Potter had a 5-over-par 39 for the Bobcats. He had a double bogey on the first and second hole before getting birdies on the fifth and seventh holes.

Mike Short shot a 5-over-par 39 also for the Tigers with Scott Hale finishing with a 7-over-par 41. Brian Pugh had a birdie on the sixth hole while finishing with a 7-over-par 41. Jamie Hyton thought he had gotten a break on the number two hole when his ball struck a wall and bounced to the green. But Hyton had to settle for a 48 as he had a double-bogey on the first hole and bogeyed on the next two.

Josh McKenzie shot a 48 for the nine holes as Paintsville took the 30-stroke victory.

Betsy Layne will face Prestonsburg at the Green Meadows Country Club in Pikeville Tuesday, August 31.

Youth League football signups August 30

Youth league (flag) football signups will be conducted at the Betsy Layne High School football field for students attending Harold, Prater, Stumbo and Betsy Layne grade schools.

The league will be for those in grades three through eight.

Signups will held Monday, August 30 beginning at 3 p.m.

For more information about the new league call 478-5001.

Sports Correction....

In an article that appeared in last Friday's Times sports section, it was reported that Brian Hall had fought in "eight bouts" in winning a national title.

Instructor Jim Porter reports that the actual number of bouts was just one after Hall had drew a first round bye.

The number of contestants in Hall's division was "eight."

Blackcats open season in road game at Clay County

by Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

The scrimmage games are all history and now it is time to play the game of football for real.

Every team, no doubt, would love to have another week to prepare for the season but some of the coaching staff would just as soon get it underway.

Coach Bill Letton's Prestonsburg Blackcats will open their season Saturday night when they travel to Clay County to face the Tigers in the Appalachia Bowl.

Opening with tough competition, especially on the road, has always been a tradition with the Blackcats. They faced Still County in the Engineer Bowl two seasons ago and opened last year at Johnson Central in the Big Sandy Bowl.

Letton brings a strong and experienced team to play when they travel to Clay County. Picked by many as odds-on favorite to repeat as regional champions again this year, the Blackcats must guard against any emotional letdown.

The entire backfield returns for what many expect to be yet another banner season. Dwayne Garza, Seth Hyden and Jody Cornette give the Blackcats one of the strongest backfields in high school football.

Garza, who will be returning from surgery following last season, is expected to be 100 percent and looking to get his hands on the pigskin. Garza was injured on the Russell game and had to miss the Danville game.

Hyden is a finesse type of runner and has speed to burn. A tough runner to get his hands on the pigskin.

Elkhorn City vs Allen Central at Eastern, 7:30 p.m.

Scouting Report

• The Rebels need to contain Aaron Blizard early. Allen Central has been suspect on the sweep and the Cougars will exploit that. The defensive front line for Allen Central will need to be aware of where Blizard is as well as Charles Dameron.

• Elkhorn City, no doubt, is concerned about the Rebels' backfield. Glenn Floyd, James Osborne and Shawn Howard give the Rebels a solid threesome in the backfield. Brad Blackburn has yet to show that he can throw with consistency.

Last Year

Allen Central finished 2-10 with wins over Betsy Layne and Magoffin County. First-year coach Glenn Reeves will lead the sweep.

Elkhorn finished 6-5 last season but had a strong finish down the stretch. New kid on the block is B.J. Elswick.

to defend, especially if he gets on the outside of the defense.

Cornette, while he did not carry the ball that much, is a strong head-on runner. He plays hard and is a good third down and short yardage runner. Matt Porter is another who can run the football.

Thomas Ratliff will replace the departed Aaron Tucker at the quarterback slot. Ratliff appears to be a natural at the position. He appears to have problems reading the defense but has a strong throwing arm.

The offensive and defensive lines for the Blackcats will be led by Brad Wells (5'10", 190), Kevin Farthing (6'3", 265), Kyle Fitzpatrick (6'3", 250) and Larry Morris (6'1", 210). Morris is a tough kid who makes things happen on defense. He enjoys getting to the opposition's quarterback. Throw in a Tim Lewis (6'2", 260) and Ryan Elliott (6', 250) and you have a very solid front line.

The Blackcats would like to get the season underway on a very positive note but may find the Tigers of Clay County unwilling to cooperate.

De She Henson will be a speedster whom the Blackcats may find hard to contain. Backs with good speed have been a problem for the Blackcats in past games and Henson is one of the quickest in the state.

A highly regarded candidate for Mr. Football, which will be an added incentive for a good showing, Henson will be wanting to start things off right.

However, he will be running against one of the biggest lines that he will — outside of Betsy — face this season.

Prestonsburg vs Clay County

at Manchester, 8:30 p.m.

Scouting Report

• Prestonsburg must stop the running game of Mr. Football candidate De She Henson, who scored 25 TDs last season in rushing for over 1,500 yards. Junior fullback Steven Roberts will pose added pressure for the Blackcats' defensive line.

• The Blackcats should be able to put pressure on an untested quarterback in freshman Tim Roberts. Must watch the sweep.

• Clay County must match up well against one of the best backfields in the state as Prestonsburg's dynamic duo, Dwayne Garza and Seth Hyden, team with another threat in Jody Cornette.

• The Tigers youth will be tested by the size, quickness and experience of Prestonsburg's. First game jitters could be a factor for both teams and turnovers could be abnormally high.

Last Year

Prestonsburg finished 12-2 and advanced to the final four of the state 2A tournament falling to eventual state champion Danville. Clay County posted a 10-3 season and loss to powerful Bell County in semifinal play.

play last season.

Patrick Tackett also showed that he could carry the football out of the Raiders backfield by his performance in the two scrimmages.

Adams is one of the area's strongest runners and Betsy Layne no doubt will key on the senior fullback.

Aaron Hall will need more time throwing the football than his offensive line afforded him last Saturday night. But he connected on four completions against Magoffin County.

Betsy Layne scouting report
Coach Derossett likes the attitude of his team this season but believes that South Floyd is a solid football team.

"They are a solid team," he said, "and they have Arnold Adams, who is very strong and was I-KM's Player of the Year last season."

The Betsy Layne mentor said that his team is ready for the challenge of the invading Raiders.

"South Floyd is a very aggressive football team," said Derossett. "Cruse Caudill is a hard runner and gives them depth in the backfield."

While the Rebels will miss the services of running back Rocky Hamilton, Derossett believes the key to winning over South Floyd is ball control.

control.

"We have to control the football," he said, "as well as the line of scrimmage up front. We have put in a hard week of practice and I just hope it reflects on the field tonight."

"I've always heard that the way you practice is the way you will play. If that's the case then this team should play hard."

It will be an exciting night of football for the Rebels. They open their home schedule against a new school that has gotten a lot of attention this year.

Heading up the offensive line, who Derossett said he has been blessed to have, will be Brandon "Bubba" Combs, Tim Hunt, John Hall and Shannon Hall.

The Betsy Layne field has been painted and excitement is in the air.

"I just want to thank those who helped with all the work here," said Derossett. "We want to thank Unisign for the sign they painted, and the parents for painting the field. We also will have a new athletic concession stand. I think people will be impressed with what we've done."

Game time is 7:30 p.m. at the Lloyd Hamilton Athletic Complex. The game will be taped-delayed on WPRG-TV, channel 5.

A running Rebel!

Allen Central has come a long way since practice began and one of the reasons for the success of the Rebels in their first two preseason games has been Glenn Floyd. Floyd has rushed for over 200 yards in the two scrimmage games and will carry the playoff hopes of the young Rebels. Allen Central faces Elkhorn City tonight at home. The Rebels look to improve on last season's 2-12 mark.

Shelby Valley dance team to hold independent basketball tourney

Local independent basketball teams will be able to enter a team in the Shelby Valley Dance Team's Independent Basketball Shootout September 9, 11, 12. The tournament will be held in the Shelby Valley High School gymnasium (new one) under the direction of Wildcat's assistant coach Rodney Rowe.

Entry fee for the tournament is $80 per team with no limit on the number of teams that can enter. Awards will be given to the winning teams. Proceeds will help send the dance team to the nationals in Orlando, Florida.

"We have a nice bowl here at Clay County," said Napier.

Scouting report...
Coach Napier said that he had seen Prestonsburg in a scrimmage this season. Plus, the two teams have exchanged films of each other.

Prestonsburg is a very impressive football team," he said. "They are big and their backfield is very quick. They run hard and I look for them to go a long way."

"I don't see any weak points in their game and that goes back to the fact that they are very experienced. I am very impressed with the team. They know how to play football."

Napier said that the key to this game will be for his line to stop the running tandem of the Blackcats' backfield, namely Dwayne Garza and Seth Hyden.

"That's going to be hard for us to do," he stated. "They are all quick and they run so hard."

The game will be the second of a doubleheader scheduled for 8:30 p.m.

Rebels to host rebuilding Cougars in season opener

by Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

When the Elkhorn City Cougars and Allen Central Rebels take to the gridiron tonight, they will have one thing in common — both will be under new coaches.

Elkhorn City saw last year's head coach Royce Mayo depart for Pike County Central as an assistant. B.J. Elswick, who found much success as the Cougar girls' basketball coach, resigned the position and took on the head football coaching job.

Elswick is no stranger to the gridiron. He coached the sport at Mullins before it was dropped.

Allen Central will be looking to improve last season's 2-10 record under new head coach Glenn Reeves. Reeves has come in preaching defense to a group of inexperienced kids. The Rebels have been impressive in their two preseason games.

Leading the rushing game for Allen Central will be senior Glenn Floyd, who has been awesome in preseason scrimmages. Floyd is a hard runner and has deceiving speed.

James Osborne helps to form a solid tandem in the backfield. He will run the halfback slot. Osborne runs for short yardage while Floyd will break a tackle and run the length of the field. Shawn Howard makes the third person in the backfield for the Rebels. A finesse type of runner, Howard runs the halfback.

Calling the signals will be fourth year quarterback Brad Blackburn. Blackburn is a much improved QB and runs the option as well as anyone.

Austin Shelton will anchor one end position as a target for Blackburn. Adam Coleman will be at the other end. Freshman Thomas Jenkins will see some time at the end position as well.

Shawn Robinson will lead the Rebels defensive side of the line. A hard-nosed player with a smell for the quarterback, Robinson will team with Kevin Dye, Scott Bellamy and Austin Shelton on defense.

On the offensive line, Matt and Mark Varney will try to open the holes for the backfield.

Jy Shepherd will be at the line-backer position coached by Lee Wells. Wells will also carry the football on offense.

The Cougars return 12 seniors from last year's squad led by Aaron Blizard (5'9", 165) and Charles Dameron (5'8", 177). Both Blizard and Dameron like to run the football to the outside where the Rebels seem to be the weakest.

Coach Reeves stated after his two game preseason scrimmages that his team doesn't handle the sweep as well as he had hoped and that could pose a problem.

Allen Central has shown steady improvement since the first day of practice and by midseason could be a solid team.

Coach Elswick lauded his team's work ethic and said it is showing in practice.

"We have improved drastically since the first scrimmage game we played at Wheelwright three weeks ago," said Elswick. "The kids have worked real hard and have a good attitude."

Quarterback will be played by sophomore Isaac Sweeney but there is a freshman, Jason England, who is waiting for his chance and Elswick said he would get it.

"We'll start with Sweeney, but we'll get playing time for Jason," said the Cougar coach.

Elswick said that he planned to alternate between the two until one stepped forward to take the best job.

Elswick will run the wishbone on offense and play the five on defense. Joe Rowe, Gary Ratliff and Kam Kiser will work the defensive line along with other starters.

Kentucky Rifles close out regular season this weekend

by Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

It has been a rocky inaugural season for the Kentucky Longhorns in the first year Frontier League. It has been a rocky season for the entire league.

The Rifles will close out their first season of organization by playing two games in Paintsville this weekend. The Rifles will face Lancaster both Friday night at 7:05 p.m. and again on Saturday with the first pitch scheduled for 2 p.m.

The Rifles are under new manager Johnny Lemaster with Paul David Brown as a new coach. Both are eager for the final two games in Paintsville to be successful.

Lemaster and Brown urge all area fans to come out to the park this weekend in support of the team. "Let's show these kids we do appreciate them coming to our town from all over the U.S. to play baseball," said Brown. "We would like to have a large turnout for both dates."

Fans will be allowed to come by and get free autographs from all the players. "You never know," said Brown, "one of them may be the next Henry Aaron or Johnny Bench."

There will be special drawings for gifts throughout the games.

We want to keep professional baseball alive in Paintsville," Brown stated.

The Longhorns are assured of a place in the playoffs that get under way next week.

BACK TO SCHOOL.

I doesn't take a mental giant to know what and who is happy when school begins. No question about it—clothing and shoe stores and school supply retailers.

When most of us were growing up, a notebook and a few pencils saw us through nearly one semester of school. Today it's mandatory that my son have a portable notebook so that when he turns in a paper it won't have those jagged-edged, spiral shreds hanging from it. He also has to have ink pens and lead drafting pencils. At least this is what he tells me he has to have, and I, being the dutiful mother, believe him.

After the first day of school, my son becomes our son because he reports that he needs a protractor, slide ruler, note pad, standard ruler, and scientific calculator for math class.

"Why do you need a scientific calculator for math?" I ask.

"To help me figure out problems," he announces indignantly.

"What happened to figuring it out in your head?" I stupidly ask.

"That would take too long!" he exclaims. Of course, he can stump me on this point because I wasn't a math whiz. In fact, I recently read where 1 out of 4 adults were deficient in math. Just think, fifty percent!

All totaled, math materials cost slightly less than our monthly mortgage, but we still have other classes to consider—like English. English also requires a notebook, but my husband's son—I'm the one writing the checks so he's losing ground—requires a dictionary.

By the time he purchases materials for his chemistry, history and typing classes we begin to have imaginary gas pains produced by the large quantity of soaps we're going to ingest for the next six weeks.

Just when we think we have pushed enough capital into the palm of his outstretched hand, the person that lives in a bedroom of our house (he's really lost ground) proclaims he needs a new pair of shoes. Not just any shoes mind you, but the type of chlodopper that gives men the ability to catapult their bodies through glass backboards with barely any effort at all.

"I need a new pair of shoes."

"What's wrong with the ones you have on?" we ask.

"I've worn them all summer."

"They've still got soles on them, don't they?"

"Hardly."

"Well, Son," my husband says, thereby actually admitting his paternity, "if we purchased you a pair of shoes would you do us the courtesy of facing them?"

"You mean all the way up?"

"J.R., it's not abnormal to face your shoes."

"It is if you're my age!"

This statement made me think. As one gets older, it gets harder and harder to tie shoes. It should be that young people have to tie their shoes, and older persons should tie theirs much more logical.

"Son, you could face them up when you run," I said calmly.

"Oh, that type of shoe isn't."

THE TIMES' WEEKEND

Gingerbread gospel sing

If you like to clap your hands and praise the Lord, then plan on attending the second annual gospel sing of the Knott County Gingerbread Festival, Sunday, September 12.

The nationally known, "Singing Cookies" and "The Cooke Brothers" of Kingsport, Tennessee, and the "Freemans" of Hendersonville, Tennessee, will provide three hours of inspirational music. The music will begin at 4 p.m. and last until 7 p.m.

It will be held outdoors on the Hindman Settlement School campus. There is no admission charge. Please bring your own seating. In case of rain, the program will be moved indoors.

"The Singing Cookies" are a legend in gospel music. For over thirty years, Hubert and Jeanette Cooke have taken their ministry of music to thousands of people.

Their down-home approach to their audiences and wonderful music has made them one of the most popular gospel groups in the United States.

"The Cooke Brothers" music is very much like "The Singing Cookies" but with a little more contemporary sound.

The "Freemans" were officially formed in 1985 by the members of the group have a lifetime of experiences in musical ministry.

Their single "Going Back" reached number one on both the Singing News and Gospel Voice national reporting charts. With some two hundred concert dates a year, ministering in the church sanctuary as well as the numerous fairs, and festivals, the "Freemans" fully intend to keep extending their ministry to all who will listen.

For further information, call Mike Mullins at 785-5475.

MICHAEL, WE HARDLY KNOW YE, OR LIFESTYLES
OF THE RICH AND TWISTED

I don't know about you folks, but I'm crushed. MICHAEL JACKSON, believe it or not, the self-styled "King of Pop" (who earned the title when a can of Pepsi set him on fire), has been accused of being a delinquent, bad little perv. What a surprise.

In case you don't know what I'm talking about (and, as I've said before, I usually don't), Michael Jackson is currently under investigation for having some, well... IMPROPER relations with children. Guess he took his baby sitting job a bit too seriously (and before the phones start ringing off the hook, please read the entire column before passing judgment and/or canceling your subscription).

Now, I'm all for this "innocent until proven guilty" stuff, but let's look at the facts: according to Associated Press reports, the charges against Jackson stem from a 13-year-old boy's confession to a therapist that the singer had accosted him;

police raided Jackson's mansion and ranch and confiscated videotapes and other materials which they called "evidence," but said everything would remain confidential pending further investigation; and an eleven-year-old child who was with Jackson at the ranch at the time of the police search said that Jackson had taken him (and his mother) on trips all over the world, slept in the same bed with him and had given him "many affectionate hugs and kisses."

Jackson's underlings, of course have reported that the whole thing is just part of an elaborate scheme to get even with Ol' Flanicehead for not knocking under to a multi-million dollar blackmail attempt.

And of course, bloop have wings so they don't bump their behinds when they hop.

Correct me if I'm wrong, but I believe blackmail attempts only work if you have something worth which to actually BLACKMAIL the person. And police generally don't make a habit out of investigating persons, particularly FAMOUS persons, without a little thing called "probable cause."

I don't know. Maybe I'm being too tough on poor widdle Mikey. Maybe this is all some new publicity stunt designed to induce America's seemingly millions of pedophiles to buy his new album. Or, maybe he's trying to make Brooke and Bubbles jealous. I just feel sorry for poor little Webster.

First his career fades and now this. But my point (and I actually have one this time) is that, regardless of guilt or innocence, any go, whatever they do,

someone, somewhere will know what ALLEGEDLY happened to them.

Hushed whispers and furtive glances will plague them for years to come. And a year or two from now, they'll be prominently featured in a "Victims to the Stars" segment on Geraldo and maybe actually make a couple hundred bucks while TV movie producers and gag T-shirt vendors will reap a whirlwind of profits.

It ain't funny, but it's the truth. It ain't justice, but it's CERTAINLY the American way.

What about the kids? Even if this is a sick get-rich-quick scheme orchestrated by some unscrupulous extortion scoundrels, the names of at least two of the children involved involved have been revealed by the press. Where's the outpouring of public sympathy for THEM??? If Michael's found guilty, he'll get a slap on the wrist and his career will slump for about six months until he finally does another interview with Oprah and talks about how miserable his deviant behavior made him and how he's well again and ready to release another sell-out record. If he's found innocent, the whole incident, for him at least, will become a Trivial Pursuit question. Sure, his reputation will be a little tainted, but look at all the free press.

The kids won't be that lucky. Wherever they go, whatever they do, someone, somewhere will know what ALLEGEDLY happened to them.

Hushed whispers and furtive glances will plague them for years to come. And a year or two from now, they'll be prominently featured in a "Victims to the Stars" segment on Geraldo and maybe actually make a couple hundred bucks while TV movie producers and gag T-shirt vendors will reap a whirlwind of profits.

Poperri

The entertainment industry has this new invention called "virtual reality" which, for a few sacks full of cash, gives video game players the sensation of being right where the action is.

Just goes to show you that we'll spend money on anything.

In most places, there is no charge for reality.

Then again, "real" reality isn't all it's cut out to be.

The best we can figure, virtual reality is defined as darn-near real, which covers a lot of ground.

For instance, politicians have used virtual reality for a long time to enact laws and regulations that sometimes come darn near to addressing real issues.

Like the all new deficit busting plan just passed and signed into law.

In real reality, that plan would eliminate taxpayer funding for a lot of goofy programs...like government funded research on the proper way to prepare french fried potatoes.

By shifting into the virtual reality mode, though, Congress can keep that program intact and get extra ketchup by deciding that the best way to stop spending so much is by spending more.

Most of us would consider that approach to be VIRTUAL NONSENSE, but then most of us aren't congresspersons who must make important decisions on things like this and whether or not we should allow convicted serial killers to be exposed to the harmful effects of secondhand smoke.

The development of virtual reality equipment by the entertainment industry could be the means we average Joes need to get into the game.

We could all use it, say, on April 15 to get the sensation of actually paying our taxes without really shelling out any dough.

Better yet, we can use virtual reality when election time rolls around to cast votes for all those yahoos who promise us milk and honey during their campaigns and then deliver curds and whey after they're elected.

Just as these guys are getting the sensation of really being elected officials, we pull the plug. Sorry fellows...nothin' beats the real thing.

Julia, meanwhile, asked Katherine to represent "Deception" at a convention in Montreal while she (Julia) was away. Sean, Mac, and Felicia were upset at the way Jagger handled the case against Ryan. Wait To See: Ryan's jury reaches a decision.

GUIDING LIGHT: David came out of hiding and faced Kat and Hamp, and left without taking Kat with him. Later, a reluctant Maddy was forced to arrest Kat, while Kat and Bridget set David up in an unusual hiding spot. Ellen told Frank. Buzz paid for Maria's car surgery. Macauley se-cretely taped a conversation with Joe. Vinny's uncle. At her bridal shower, Julie found the stained glass she wanted had been shattered. Unaware he had planned to propose, Blake gave Ross an ultimatum about marriage. Mandy betrayed Macauley's confidence when she told Nick about his romantic past. Stavros revealed he had been badly injured by Vinny's beating. Wait To See: Mallet and Harley learn more about Macauley.

LOVING: Dinah Lee locked Ava and Jeremy in a wine cellar to try to get them to admit their true feelings for each other. Meanwhile, Shana decided the best way to get Ava out of Leo's life would be to have him pretend he wants her back. After freeing Jeremy and Ava, Leo "confessed" that he had made a mistake letting her go. Mac was upset when Trucker insisted his father consult a doctor about his serious (actually, phony) illness. Buck shared a close moment with Stacey as the two had dinner with Heather and JJ. Isabelle and Clay persuaded Cooper to seek Tyke's custody. Wait To See: Less and Trucker grow closer.

ONE LIFE TO LIVE: Dorian crashed Sloan's publication party, humiliating herself, and causing Cassie to fall. Although Cassie's unborn child escaped injury, the incident firmed up Cassie's decision to have nothing more to do with her mother. Dorian's pain deepened when Jason walked out on her. As Marty and her friends searched for the sweatband, Janner, a homeless man, stayed in his bag. Todd attacked Marty but was beaten unconscious by Luna. Angela returned hoping to win Cain back. Cord surprised Tina in New York. Viki and Sloan spent a romantic getaway in Maine where she said yes to his proposal. Wait To See: Dorian is determined to win back Cassie's love, no matter what she may have to do.

YOUNG AND THE RESTLESS: Liz returned to England, but assured Jill that Kay was wrong; her daughter had done nothing to alienate her. Brad had Jack evicted from Victor's office pending the final decision about who will run Newman Enterprises. Mitchell suggested Nikki and Brad should agree so that person should be. Ashley told Jack she won't support his bid for the job. Cole turned down Victoria's bid for a date after agreeing to have dinner with Nikki. Victoria, certain that he was meeting his "mystery woman," was determined to learn her identity. Neil insisted to Brad his promotion to assistant to the CEO of Newman didn't involve betraying confidences to Jack. Wait To See: Victor faces his real feelings about Hope.

NEWS OF THE WEIRD

South African Kw-Zulu leader Mangosuthu Buthe began his annual state-of-the-state policy address to the Kw-Zulu legislature on March 12, spoke continuously during week-day business hours, and finished on March 30 — reading 427 pages of text and waiting for the translation from English to Zulu.

INEXPLICABLE

In July in Baton Rouge, La., a 43-year-old man was found in a car with a dead woman in the trunk. He was transporting the woman in his trunk. She apparently became incapacitated at the time of the crash. The man was charged with the crime of premeditated murder. The man was charged with the crime of premeditated murder. The man was charged with the crime of premeditated murder.

The Chicago Tribune reported in June that lawyers for William J. Carson, 19, who is serving a life sentence in Illinois for killing his parents, were optimistic that they would be awarded the patents for the "Patent" in a patent lawsuit filed in federal court by his father, who died first. At the moment of his death, the father was passing to the mother, who was specifically in William, who had been charged with the crime of killing her.

The U.S. Treasury Department's Historical Association announced it is raising money this year by offering for sale historical Revenue Service gift ornaments for $11 that commemorate the 50th anniversary of the 16th Amendment, which authorized the income tax. The ornaments are "24-carat, gold-finished, three-dimensional" models of 1913 the state tax form.

In a June profile, the New York Times reported that New York City's National Labor Relations Board, which is responsible for enforcing labor laws, has accomplished the task of building an archive made of gloves decorated by city employees and a structure made of plastic shoes. The gloves and shoes were collected by a group of workers who were charged with the task of collecting the gloves and shoes. The gloves and shoes were collected by a group of workers who were charged with the task of collecting the gloves and shoes.

Police in Gonzalez, La., arrested (Gonzalez) "Lucky" Lewis, 26, in April on the complaint of a 21-year-old woman. The woman said Lewis broke into her apartment, forced her about the need to look for windows and doors, and left. About four later, Lewis broke in again and allegedly tried to rape her.

District of Columbia Superior Court Judge John Basely was forced to declare a mistrial in a child-beating case in July when the defendant's lawyer casually informed the judge in the middle of the trial that he was leaving on vacation that evening. Lawyer Clayton J. Powell Jr. cited a commitment to his family and to his non-refundable airline tickets. The other lawyer in the case told reporters that Powell was committing "professional suicide."

Neighbors in Kittery, Maine, the Hill and Cormier families, have been feuding for years over the noisy Cormier family dogs, with the Hills complaining that the police never take action to stop the constant barking. In April, the police issued the first summons in the feud — to the Hills' son, Henry Paradis, for creating a nuisance.

smiled by barking back at the Cormiers' dogs.

FIRST THINGS FIRST

— Testing in June: former St. Joseph, Mo., sheriff's deputy Tim Carder said convicted murderer Tim Fergusson escaped from his custody during a physical therapy session at a hospital in 1992 when Carder took a restroom break. "I just got to the point where I had to go to the restroom," said Carder. "At that point, I didn't have any other choice." Fergusson, 43, was a student at the University of Colorado. Three-hour final exams in June were canceled half-way through when women's basketball coach Ted Barry commanded the gym where the exam was being held for a team practice. All 500 test takers received an A because of the inconvenience.

NATASHA'S STARS

ARIES (March 21 to April 19): Misgivings about a personal relationship are ill-founded. You will meet with a challenging situation on the 10th of this week and may feel temporarily stymied. Patience, however, will win out. Watch overspending on pleasure interests.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20): Friends may burden you with their problems. A new business opportunity that comes now pleases you very much. Family interests prosper this week. Unexpected company drops by this weekend, and you may fall behind on chores.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20): You may be worried about a business matter now. Delays at work get you down. Social life provides you with a quick pick-me-up. Aperson who flatters is unwise. More information is needed about an investment concern.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22): Communication with a certain someone is like talking to a stone wall this week. There is no sense in arguing with an opinionated type. Social life is fun, but guard against costly expenditures. Share happy times with family this weekend.

LEO (July 23 to August 22): Money due you may be delayed in arriving this week. You sparkle with energy and will find the right words to get your points across to others. Reaching agreements about financial interests won't be difficult. Your routine at work may be upset in some way.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22): You are likely to meet with some opposition to your plans now. Sentiment is best to be low key and wait until a more propitious time. Feedback is likely to be negative if you don't give others sufficient time to make up their minds. Timing is very important this weekend.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22): Work priorities may take precedence over socializing this week. Still, you will receive a lovely invitation now. Pace yourself accordingly. Guard against overspending when socializing. Get-togethers with friends are short but sweet.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21): A problem related to child rearing may concern you and may interfere with your concentration for a while. A bona-fide career opportunity comes now. Coming out too strong with a romantic interest may cause this person to get cold feet. Be patient.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21): A home matter will have to be settled to your satisfaction for you to feel free to accept a social invitation. Times take a few days, but things will work out. A new friend meets this week and it may be difficult to keep up top of things.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19): Business developments will put you in a better position. You may be hesitant about a financial concern and have a right to be cautious. You can't be forced into making up your mind now. Tell the other party you need more time to think things through properly.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18): A financial matter straightened out will take a few days. Don't look for immediate solutions. A close tie is sensitive now and needs special consideration. Partner's report is a bright spot this week.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20): A tendency to sell yourself short will work against you now. A new career offering that comes this week is worth your while. Be up for the challenge! Partner's secret to be at odds about a personal matter. Avoid distractions.

for running. You can't train in them.
"I don't tell me. I say and reach for the arm bottle."
"You need another pair of shoes for running."
"Yah, Burton told me I'll have them."
"I can make do with what I have now, and under the hood we have until next payday. We can keep him in school."
