William Petry, chairman of the Martin Municipal Housing Commission, points out the rough hillside and other areas being developed in a $287,000 urban renewal project.

URBAN RENEWAL WORK DEVELOPED AT MARTIN

What was once a hillside dotted with sub-standard frame houses at Martin is being converted into a parking area and city beautification development through the community's cooperation with the Urban Renewal Administration.

Entire cost of the project will be $287,000, and the work at this time has reached the stage where grading for the paving of a block-long parking area is practically complete. In this area 85 parking meters will be installed.

First of all, the back-street property, which included a bluff and 31 sub-standard homes, was purchased from private owners. The grading work followed. This included filling of low, swampy land as well as cutting into the hillside. Now, the State Department of Highways proposes to construct a street to lots which the city owns on the bluff overlooking the parking area. These lots will be for sale, and the city will use its share of the income to defray part of its local contribution to the general improvement project.

Of the $287,000 total cost, the federal governmental agency supplied $144,665 with an outright grant. The town of Martin made a cash contribution of $33,916 and will add a non-cash contribution of $32,693 to that. (This non-cash contribution may take the form of work or aid from the state, county and community.)

The undertaking will represent the first urban renewal project to be completed in the Big Sandy valley.

W. W. Burchett, secretary of the Martin Municipal Housing Commission, said Tuesday that preliminary documents filed by Martin in applying for 40 low-rent public housing units were approved this week. Representatives of the Housing & Home Finance Agency have selected the Amanda Dingus property, near the "X" formed by the junction of the Right and Left Beaver highways, as the site for the housing project.

Mayor, Ex-Mayor In Squabble At Paintsville Council Meet; Preston Orders Wells Evicted

Neighboring Paintsville is having "family troubles" as it plans sanitary sewers and a sewage treatment plant, with federal aid.

Site of the proposed treatment plant was hotly argued at a meeting of the City Council last week, and as a result of that contention—mainly between Mayor Ralph Preston and J. B. Wells, a former mayor of Paintsville—Wells was evicted from the meeting by city police at Preston's direction.

DOCKET LOAD LIGHT, SAID

Clerk Says 200 Cases Slated for Next Term; Lone Murder Case Set

Although upwards of 200 cases are on the docket, the work-load for the criminal term of the Floyd circuit court, which will convene September 4, is comparatively light. Circuit Clerk Henry Stephens said this week.

Only one murder case, that of James Hall, 15, charged with the shotgun slaying of his father, John M. Hall, is slated for trial. And a large number of other cases listed are not officially "before the court," since the defendants have never been arrested.

"Take out the child desertion, breaking and entering and theft cases and these old cases that have been continued from term to term because the defendants have not been found, and you would have a very slim docket," Stephens said. Another slaying, that of Andy Little by his daughter-in-law, Ruby Little, is slated for grand jury investigation.

For the term names of 64 persons have been drawn from the jury drum for jury service. Their names and addresses follow:

Norma Fraley, Auxier; Willie Clark, Harold; Mrs. May Puckett, Prestonsburg; M. V. Allen, West Prestonsburg; Elijah Collins, Harold; Pearl Akers, Dana; Jim Cramer, Cliff; Earl Campbell, Auxier; Mrs. Herbert L. Stratton, Betsy Layne; Mrs. John W. Price, East Point; Mrs. Edgar Sturgill, Harold; Rebecca Caudill, Auxier; Marion Moore, Minnie; Myrtle Akers, Dana; M. T. Begley, Martin; Kelly Jones, Betsy Layne; Nannie Leedy, Stanville; Willie Frasure, Bonanza; E. W. Hale, Harold; Dorothy Conley, (See Story No. 3, Page 6)

Martin Dental Clinic Serves 111 Children; Dr. Berry Cites Work

The Martin dental health clinic, set up at the Martin high school, gave dental service last week to 111 indigent schoolchildren of the area, Dr. J. C. Berry said.

The clinic is jointly sponsored by the Kentucky Department of Health, with Dr. Berry in charge, the Floyd County Health Department and the Floyd County Board of Education.

Floyd County Superintendent Charles Clark, in commenting on this service to indigent children, said this week that the sponsoring agencies were not trying to take professional service away from local dentists but were trying to reach children who are unable to pay for dental work.

A breakdown of the work performed last week by Dr. Berry shows $1,526.50 worth of professional service was given by the clinic.

One hundred eleven children had their teeth cleaned, 283 teeth were filled, 66 were extracted, ten were treated with silver nitrate and 222 other dental operations were performed.

Cost-Sharing Deadline Set by ASC Committee; Goble Urges Contact

Deadline for making requests for cost-sharing on restoring or repairing land damaged by the late winter flood has been set as September 1, Elder Goble, office manager of the Floyd County ASC committee announces.

"Farmers interested in doing this type of work practice on their farms should contact the office before that date," he added.

SCHOOLS SET OPENING DATE

Superintendent Notes 12,000 Pupils Slated To Enter Classrooms

Approximately 12,000 elementary and secondary school-children will enroll in Floyd county schools Monday to begin another year of instruction for which nearly 500 classroom teachers have been employed, it was said at the office of County Superintendent Charles Clark.

Actual enrollment at the end of last year was 12,202 pupils, which was a decline from the total at the beginning of last year's term, it is pointed out by the attendance department.

A census of the pupils will be taken, the second week of the new term, to determine the actual number of pupils to be taught.

As of last year, 175 days of teaching will constitute the term. Teachers will be paid on an annual basis with ten monthly checks.

Charles Clark, county superintendent, in commenting on the new teaching staff, noted that fewer emergency teachers were employed this year. Approximately 40 were hired last year but only 20 were placed this year, chiefly in isolated areas.

PLAY SLATED SECOND TIME

Realism Is Feature Of Historical Drama; Gov. Combs To Attend

Last summer when The Proud Heritage was being presented at Prestonsburg and the scene in which the body of Pvt. Nelson Boggs was laid down before Col. James A. Garfield, a spectator, Dr. J. P. Boggs, of Hazard, relative of the deceased soldier, remarked: "That's the way Uncle Henderson Boggs said it was."

The late Dr. Boggs did not know it but he was offering upon the play one of its highest compliments for he was noting the realism and strict adherence to history in the acting. He had been told the story by his uncle, William Henderson Boggs, portrayed this year by Eddie Worland.

Realism is the keynote of the historical drama, written chiefly from memoirs of the veterans who soldiered with Garfield in the Big Sandy valley in 1862 and who participated in the Battle of Middle Creek near here, a century ago.

A new scene in the drama recalls vividly the division of the Big Sandy River in the Civil War. Dr. J. H. Hereford, Sr., goes into the Union Army and his son, J. H. Hereford, Jr., joins the Confederacy. A moving scene is an argument between the two in the presence of the doctor's wife.

Another scene, added since last year, depicts Garfield consenting to allow an astrologer to foretell his future. When she prophesies his death by an assassin, the Ohio colonel, makes a short speech to his staff and adds:

"We must go, gentlemen. America has a rendezvous with destiny."

A crowd of 2,000 persons is expected to view the second presentation of the play, Sunday at 3 (See Story No. 4, Page 6)

BATTLE TO THE DEATH. A 34-inch blacksnake is shown here putting the squeeze on a 28 1/2-inch copperhead at David recently when the two did silent battle. Everett Hager, who snapped this shot of the struggle in its final stage, with the blacksnake coiled about the body of its poisonous adversary, said the victor later put on the finishing touch—he swallowed his victim. The battle between the two and the swallowing act required three hours, Hager said.

This Town-- That World

Just sweatin' it out.

Why I wait till Wednesday afternoon, till the very last minute, so to speak, to do this stunt I cannot explain, for I do not know. It could be habit, or the quiet stalking of an idea . . . or just plain laziness. I am inclined to think all three factors are involved.

The moon was so big against the sky last night that you couldn't imagine anybody missing it with a "moon-shot." Why, a boy could have hit this one with an oversize pea-shooter.

INFLATION AHEAD?

A periodical sales pitch received at this desk yesterday says that the next few years will see history's greatest boom in the United States. It adds that inflation is coming, too.

Ever since, we've been wondering what this is that we already have. And we're not referring to the first part of that prediction, either.

BY WAY OF CONTRAST

The Russian astronaut declared the earth "so beautiful" from his perch 150 miles up. A young Communist in an orbiting space ship is a far cry from the innocent fantasy of the child-loving Robert Lewis Stevenson. Yet the statement and the man who made it and the conditions under which it was made recalled to us, somehow, some of those lines of sheer delight from "The Swing." Remember?—"How I like to go up in a swing Up in the air so blue . . ." The child of the poem spoke of a garden wall and the wonder that lay beyond. And the young man from Russia looked down and may have thought of a wall in Berlin and the horror it may hold for the world he thought so lovely.

BID IMPASSE ON JOB HERE UNRESOLVED

Higher Than Estimate Construction Figures Stalls Start On Sewers

Although low bids received here from two contractors bidding on sewer and sewage treatment plant construction are generally recognized as too high, the Community Facilities Service has made no formal ruling to that effect.

Pending that formal ruling, no official action was being taken locally to meet the situation to be created by the expected bid rejection.

The bids offered were originally $270,000 higher than estimates made of the cost of the overall project by Howard K. Bell, consulting engineers, Lexington, who had done the engineering work and prepared specifications for the work. But alternate bids later reduced the total to $233,000 above the estimate.

At that, Prestonsburg is powerless to proceed with the undertaking unless further federal aid is made available. A tax on water bills amounting to a 70% increase on present bills was voted to amortize $710,000 worth of bonds acceptable to the federal agency. Further than that, it is held, the community cannot go.

Which—unless more federal aid does come along—creates a situation that leaves the community in a quandary. The federal government becomes more insistent by the month upon compliance by communities of the stream anti-pollution statutes. Meanwhile, Prestonsburg has pledged adequate sewage facilities to serve the proposed Prestonsburg Community College, the low-rent housing development on which work was begun last week and the Jenny Wiley State Park lodge and cottages which are nearing completion.

It is not definitely known if an increased grant can be procured, in the face of the community's inability to finance the job at prices quoted, through Area Redevelopment Administration or some other agency. One hope lies in the Public Works legislation now pending in the lower house of Congress, but, even if that bill is passed, months may pass before its provisions are converted into the reality of aid to individual communities.

PLANE FOUND IN KNOTT-CO.

Object of Long Search Discovered by Turners On Knott Mountainside

The light plane which carried to their deaths a family of three, and which had been the object of a 12-day search in the several counties of the area, was found last Friday afternoon on the Bill D. Hall Branch of Right Beaver Creek, near Kite, Knott county.

The missing plane, whereabouts of which had been the object of a wide-scale search by air and land since the evening of July 29, was found by Mr. and Mrs. Carl Turner, of the Kite community.

"The plane was under a ledge, with one wing sticking up through the tree branches," Mrs. Turner said. "I reached through the window and picked up a book with a name in it. The name was D. M. Byers."

Thus ended a search marked by a flood of rumors, at least two of which reported that the plane had been found. The Floyd County Emergency & Rescue Squad, one of several organizations having a part in the search, had checked two or more such reports.

Near the plane were the bodies of the pilot, D. M. Byers, who was flying from Atlanta to Huntington for the funeral of his father; his wife, Thelma, and their 15-year-old daughter.

Mrs. Turner took the pilot's log book to a Whitesburg radio station shortly after 5 p.m. Friday. A search party was organized and the finding of plane was confirmed.

Rescuers working gingerly on a narrow ledge of a sheer cliff removed the bodies Saturday.

The plane smashed into the cliff, part of a high mountain near Kite, then fell back down to the ledge.

John Everage, deputy Knott county coroner, said it took about seven hours to get the bodies out. Rescuers used axes and cutting tools in the task.

The bodies were then carried down from the mountain—off State Route 7 near Kite—and taken to the funeral home, participating in the recovery were State Police, the Civil Air Patrol and the Cumberland and Tri-City Air Squads. (See Story No. 5, Page 6)

A NEW VILLAGE will be added to Prestonsburg when a low-rent public housing project is completed in this triangle formed by the old and the new roads to Auxier. Photo was taken when early earthmoving work was under way at the site last week.

ASK $10,200 IN DAMAGES

Auto Collision Suit Brought by Injured; Smith Seeks $12,000

Brenda and Dorothy Sue Wright seek to recover from a James Carter, Sr. and his son, James, Jr., a total of $10,200 for injuries and medical bills incurred as the result of an auto collision here, March 31.

Claiming permanent injuries were suffered, the plaintiffs assert that the younger Carter's negligence in the operation of his father's car caused the collision.

In another circuit court action, which was filed August 7, Clara Messer Smith asked a total of $12,000 damages of Robert Griffith, claiming that Griffith removed earth from two parcels of land which she owns at Garrett. As a consequence of Griffith's alleged action, the plaintiff contends, the lateral support of a building on each of the lots was weakened.

STATE OKEHS CLASSROOMS

Temporary Schools Set Until Bridges Repaired; Transportation Changed

Two temporary elementary classrooms will be opened Monday and several changes in the pupil transportation schedule have been found necessary as a result of the recent collapse of the Knotley Hollow bridge and the state of disrepair of the Town Branch bridge here.

Floyd County Superintendent Charles Clark made the announcement this week after conferring with a representative of the Division of Buildings and Grounds, Department of Education, Frankfort.

Pupils of the Goble-Roberts addition on the south side of the Big Sandy River have heretofore had access to bus transportation by using the Knotley Hollow bridge, and both elementary and high school pupils of the Bull Creek and Town Branch section have been transported across the Town Branch bridge to Prestonsburg.

Temporary classrooms will open at the Goble-Roberts addition in the Baptist church, and a classroom will be organized in the Community church on Town Branch. Teachers for the classrooms have not been designated, Clark said.

All high school pupils of the Bull Creek and Town Branch areas will be transported via Dwaile and Allen to Prestonsburg and high school pupils of the Goble-Roberts addition (See Story No. 7, Page 6)

She had no surviving children. Three sisters, Mrs. Gladys Mann, Mrs. Cora Reed and Mrs. Siddle Hughes, all of Hueysville, survive.

Funeral rites were held Saturday at 10 a.m. at the Wilson Creek Regular Baptist Church, the Revs. Banner Manns, M. C. Wright and others officiating. Burial was made in the Davidson Memorial Gardens at Ivel under the direction of Hall Brothers Funeral Home.

TWO CHARGED WITH ASSAULT

In Separate Actions; Martin, Bailey Jailed After Women Complain

Two Floyd men were jailed here Tuesday, accused of inflicting wounds upon women.

Joe Martin, of the Estill vicinity, was booked on a charge of malicious assault with intent to kill after Elizabeth Wells had signed an affidavit stating that he broke her arm with a blow from a mattock and also struck her daughter, Jo Ann.

Manis Bailey, of the Middle Creek section, was jailed on a warrant sworn out by Louise Patrick, who said he stabbed her in the back.

Sheriff's deputies jailed Jim Miller Tuesday afternoon when 14 cans of beer were found in a building which he occupied on the Midway road, near West Prestonsburg.

Others jailed within the week and charges filed against them follow:

Carl Bentley, reckless use of a deadly weapon; Harman Isaacs, child desertion; Chester Newsom, permitting an unlicensed driver to operate a vehicle; Anthony Akers, drunk driving, all arrested by Sheriff's deputies; Grant Adams, drunk driving, arrested by Ray Click and Woodrow Salyers, Prestonsburg policemen.

PARK SHELTER POPULAR AREA

Music Says Meeting Scheduled To Discuss Recreation Facilities

One of the most popular new features of Jenny Wiley State Park is the shelter house erected in the Stratton Branch recreation area, and it is possible that two others will be built to meet the demand for such structures there.

Marvin Music, secretary and member of the Kentucky Park Commission, said a meeting was scheduled at the park Wednesday to consider this and other work projects, including a new bath-house at the Stratton Branch beach.

The one shelter house at the park has been in almost constant use since it was completed last spring, and it alone is not enough to accommodate all would-be users.

The contracting firm of Akers & Akers is making such headway on the new lodge at the park that it will be ready for the installation of furniture by September 10, Music said he had been assured. Furniture for the lodge and new vacation cottages has arrived here and has been stored against the day of installation.

The 10 vacation cottages being constructed by Tom O. McGuire and Clyde Vanhose are under roof and may be completed by September 1.

Dedication of the new lodge will be held September 22, and the next day the Kentucky Dental Association will move in for its annual convention.

Construction of a pro shop at the new nine-hole golf course at the park is well under way. It is not known yet if the course will be opened to play this year, but a decision is expected this week.

The next major project seen at the park is the construction of an amphitheatre for the staging next year of a pageant written by Paul Green, Pulitzer Prize-winning dramatist. A meeting of officials of the Jenny Wiley Drama Association with Governor Combs and Green has been scheduled for Friday of this week.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white brocade sheath dress. She carried a white Bible, topped with white carnations and satin streamers, caught in lover's knots.

Miss Peggy Ross was her sister's maid-of-honor. She was attired in blue and wore a corsage of pink carnations.

Mr. Carl H. Brickley, of Morris-town, Tennessee, served his brother as best man. The candles were lighted by Mr. Donald Ross, brother of the bride.

The bride's mother wore a sheer silk print with matching accessories and a corsage of white carnations. The mother of the groom wore a light blue cotton sheer with matching accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

A reception was held at the home, immediately following the ceremony. Assisting were Mrs. Con Bailey, Miss Sharollet Ross and Miss Dona Sue Ross.

ANNIVERSARY OF VJ-DAY FINDS VETS DOING WELL

Seventeen years ago today, —on August 17, 1945 — millions of GI's were "sweating it out" in fox holes, gun turrets and almost every conceivable place from Adak to Australia. Our combat teams were poised for an invasion of Japan.

Then the war was over. The GI's started counting their "going home points," commenced planning just how to take up in civilian life where they left off. Could they carry the handicap of such a time loss in the very prime of their young lives?

They could and they did.

Today, the 17th anniversary of VJ-Day finds the average ex-GI of World War II to be 44-years-old, married with three children, an annual income of just under $6,000 —and if he purchased it under the GI Bill's home loan guaranty plan —living in a home costing $14,500.

"It began before the war had actually ended with passage of the GI Bill and continues to the present day in a series of laws passed to benefit veterans and their dependents.

"Congress has aided veterans in the fields of education, housing, medical care and hospitalization, vocational training and a host of other categories ranging from specially-equipped automobiles to burial expenses," the VA head said.

The scope of the various programs administered by the Veterans Administration—for veterans of all wars—becomes apparent from some of the following statistics:

The largest hospital and clinic system in the nation. On an average day, 112,000 veterans can be found in VA's 170 hospitals. Between 500,000 and 600,000 veterans are patients in VA hospitals in any one year and another 1.5 million are treated at VA outpatient clinics. VA hospitals and clinics are conducting more than 7,000 research projects in geriatrics, mental disease, heart and blood vessel conditions, cancer and virtually every disease and disability of man.

A $40-billion life insurance business — one of the largest in the world.

An educational and training program that already has more than 11 million alumni and is still in operation.

The nation has gained and its reservoir of trained manpower increased by: 460,000 engineers, 360,000 school teachers, 130,000 doctors, dentists and nurses, and 150,000 scientists.

A GI loan program that has already made more than 6.2 million loans valued at more than $54.5 billion. Under this program have been made more than one-fifth of the home loans granted in the United States over the past ten years. Nearly two and one-quarter million of these loans have been repaid in full.

Nearly $14-billion has been repaid by GI's who purchased homes and farms under the loan guaranty plan, and the loss sustained by the government has amounted to only a fraction of one percent of the principal amount of the total loans made.

A compensation and pension system that makes payments of over $300-million each month to more than four million disabled veterans, and widows, children and dependent parents of deceased veterans.

Many other programs, relating to the blind, the maimed, the mentally ill and, finally, the family of the deceased veteran.

To handle these veterans programs VA has:

An annual budget of $5.5 billion and more than 170,000 employees spread through every state in the Union, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, and an office in the Philippines.

170 hospitals, 91 outpatient clinics, 67 regional offices, 18 domiciliarys for elderly veterans, three insurance centers, and the most modern automatic data processing equipment to carry on major programs with efficiency and speed.

A total of 18,000 full and part-time physicians connected with the medical program, more than 1,000 dentists, and some 14,000 nurses working in the largest organized nursing service in the world.

Claims and benefits files of more than 26 million veterans of all wars —living and dead—in which there can be found nearly 8,000 "William Browns." Similarly, there are 11,000 "William Smith" listings and even 133 John F. Kennedy entries.

According to Administrator Gleason: "Credit for the tremendous record of readjustment by the veterans of World War II goes to the young men and women who served in the conflict.

"Because of them, the nation survived in time of war, and now they are providing strength and leadership in America's quest for a just and enduring peace.

"As Administrator of Veterans Affairs, I know full well the responsible ways the veterans have used their benefits to help themselves and to help America. They have made us richer and stronger at a time when we need that wealth and power."

Woodman Representative Wins Southern Vacation

Mrs. Ernest Turner, of Drift, wife of the Woodmen of the World field representative in this area, has a new mink stole, thanks to her husband's success in the Woodmen's recent membership contest.

He and his wife also were among 155 winners of an all-expense-paid four-day vacation at the Edgewater Gulf Hotel in Biloxi, Mississippi, August 2 through August 5. Mink stoles were awarded to the top 15 field men, the top five district managers and the four leading state managers in the contest. Each of the 155 winners was allowed to bring one guest. Sgt. Reffett Is Assigned To Air Force Map Service

Turner Air Force Base, Georgia—SSgt. Taylor Reffett has been assigned to the MATS Air Photographic & Charting Service's 1370th Photo-Mapping Wing at Turner AFB, Georgia. He is serving as an airborne radio operator with the 1370th's 1371st Mapping and Charting Squadron.

Staff Sergeant Reffett is the son of Mrs. Kathryn Reffett and the late Malcolm Reffett.

The 1370th, commanded by Col. David E. Daniel, is the Air Force unit responsible for precision photo-mapping and highly accurate intercontinental measurements. Its aerial photography is being employed by various agencies of the Department of Defense in the preparation of modern detailed charts of heretofore unexplored or inaccurately mapped areas throughout the world.

The 32-year-old airman entered the USAF on Feb. 10, 1948. Prior to this new assignment, he was at Hill AFB, Utah. He is married to the former Dorothy H. Thomas, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Thomas, R. F. D. 1, Marcy, New York. They have three children.

EXTENDED TOBACCO RESEARCH

Lexington, Ky.—Kentucky's number one cash crop—tobacco—soon will be the object of an intensive research program. The U. K. Experiment Station's agricultural engineering department, cooperating with full-time agricultural engineers from the U. S. Department of Agriculture, released this week its long-range program on tobacco research.

Miss Martin Will Be Countess In Denmark For Summer, Noted

Not a queen for only a day but a countess for the summer—that's Dottie Gay Martin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Martin, of Martin.

Her title was arrived at in this way: She is one of 40 American students in Denmark this summer as participants in the Experiment in International Living. There she is living with the Treschow family. She takes the role of a daughter to the father and mother. And the head of the family happens to be a Danish count—hence, her title.

Grave Marker Planned For Old Town Settler; Stuart Heads Committee

Frankfort, Ky., Aug. 11 (Spl.)—The grave of the first settler born west of the Alleghenies is at Old Town, Kentucky, and will soon be suitably marked, according to the Historical Sites and Shrines Committee of the Kentucky Historical Society.

The settler to be honored, Mrs. Lucy Virgin Downs, was born near Uniontown, Pennsylvania, in 1769, but is buried in Old Town, Greenup county, where she lived for about 40 years. She died there in 1847.

The late Miss Jennie Oeston, of Cincinnati, a fifth generation descendant of Mrs. Downs, is responsible for interest in the grave. Miss Oeston last year left a bequest of $3,000 to mark the grave of her great-great-great-grandmother.

Kentucky poet-novelist Jesse Stuart, of Greenup, who heads the committee to mark the grave, said plans call for a new gravestone, highway markers to attract motorists to the Old Town cemetery and landscaping and other improvements on the cemetery entrance.

U. K. WARNS FARMERS

Lexington, Ky.—Don't be stampeded into cutting your 1962 barley crop too early, says the U. K. Experiment Station. It will cost you money in lower yields and lower quality.

When Miss Martin, an interior design major at Cornell University, left the United States June 26 for life with a foreign family, she expected to be put to work, perhaps on a farm. Instead, she's living in a moated castle, and her hospitable Danish "family" has insisted on serving her breakfast in bed.

The Floyd county girl chose Denmark for her "home" overseas, and was fortunate enough to get her choice. She won the opportunity on merit, in the first place, but she is downright lucky, besides. After going overseas, she learned that she also has won a two-week scholarship to travel in France, after her Denmark stay is concluded, with a group of American and European students. The scholarship is a grant from the French government.

At the time of this killing he was being sought for the fatal wounding of "Red" Burnette, of Wayland. The state board of examiners has refused to report on results of the teacher examination held here in July, on the grounds that there are evidences of irregularities evident in manuscripts submitted. Willie King, of Bevinville, has been awarded $5,000 by the Kentucky Workman's Compensation Board which adjudged him totally disabled as a result of a slatefall injury suffered by him in a mine of the Superior Elkhorn Coal Company. Campbell Jeffries resigned last Wednesday evening the pastorate of Irene Cole Memorial Baptist Church. There died: William H. Herald, 56, of West Prestonsburg, August 10; Fannie Florence, 12-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Harris, August 6 at a Huntington hospital; Napoleon Jacobs, 42, at Lackey of injuries suffered in a slatefall; Mrs. Maggie Bentley, 63, at her Dwale home, August 5.

Ten Years Ago

(August 14, 1952)

The county purgation board estimates it will clear 3,500 names from the voter registration lists; says that in one precinct, Prestonsburg No. 1, names of 18 persons who are dead remain on the list. The number of Floyd police cases has risen to 12 within the week. Two men arrested in Charleston, West Virginia, have confessed breaks into the Harold and Betsy Layne businesses of Magistrate Edgar Howell, Bill Hall and John Hall. Ed Hicks, 44, Martin store owner, was shot and critically wounded Tuesday evening. The draft board here has called for the induction of 13 men. Married: Miss Leslie Judith Allen, of Hueysville, and Mr. Harry R. Haywood, of Wayland, at Louisville, August 2; W. T. Smallwood, 65, of Weeksbury, and Liza Little, 68, also of Weeksbury, at Whitesburg, Saturday. THANKS
We have a nice letter from Sgt. Denny Stewart, of the U. S. Army, who pulls guard duty on the East-West border and gets pretty lonesome doing it. What makes the letter so nice is his appreciation of this newspaper you're reading. Says all his Yankee compatriots read it, including the mail clerk, to see how many stills have been cut.

DISEASE GERMS FOR SALE

A speaker estimated, the other day, that there are 37,000 alcoholics in the city of Louisville and Jefferson county, with thousands of others who are borderline cases. Said that in 1930 there were 6,000 arrests for drunkenness made in Louisville and that it cost $65 a head to process them; added that it has been estimated that welfare work necessitated by drunkenness in Jefferson county costs $790,000 a year. "So," he concluded, "the taxpayer is spending $1,000,000 on an illness which we must learn to deal with more effectively."

Alcoholism may be an illness — we don't know. But, if it is, it certainly is the only disease known to man which has the germ advertised in the finest magazines and newspapers (see "The Men of Distinction" series, etcetera).

The Byers family was last heard from July 29 when Mr. Byers radioed the Tri-State Airport control tower at Huntington that he was lost between two cloud layers and had but 90 minutes of fuel remaining.

That bowling can be a lucrative pastime has been proved by the Crown Lanes Amateurs, a five-man team from Prestonsburg, who in recent weeks have won a total of $6,300.

Entering the regional handicap tournament at Parkersburg, West Virginia, of the Bowling Proprietors Association of America, they finished in the top five, they earned $3,000 and won their way to the national BPAA tournament at Owensboro. Besides, they had the assurance upon finding their way into the national finals that they could not finish with less than $2,000 prize money there.

At Owensboro they wound up in sixth place in a field of 14 regional championship teams and won $3,300 in cash. The Prestonsburg bowlers—Harold L. Patton, Ray Wilcox, Effert Reynolds, Lloyd Burton and Jay Settles—had a score of 8,873.

Parkersburg, the host for the regionals, won the national title and $7,500 prize money at Owensboro.

In the Parkersburg regional tournament Ray Wilcox ranked 12th in individual scoring among the hundreds entered.

AREA REDEVELOPMENT PLAN AIDS KENTUCKY ECONOMY

Projects approved by the Area Redevelopment Administration of the U. S. Department of Commerce since the start of the ARA program 15 months ago will help create nearly 1,200 direct and indirect jobs in the State of Kentucky, Acting ARA Administrator Harold W. Williams reported last week.

Summarizing the activities of the new Federal agency—created to work with private enterprise, local communities and the states in helping to solve local economic problems—Mr. Williams said that ARA had invested more than $15 million thus far in the State of Kentucky.

A total of 23 ARA projects have been approved in the state to date. These include three industrial loans for plants in Harlan, Paintsville and Sandy Hook; two public facility loans connected with job-generating projects in Breathitt county and Lewisburg; two technical assistance projects designed to provide economic development answers in Eastern Kentucky; and 16 training programs to fit more than 500 workers with new skills for identifiable employment opportunities in the state.

Eighty-one of Kentucky's counties have been designated as eligible to take part in the ARA program, on the basis of substantial and persistent unemployment, or because of underemployment as measured by low farm or family income.

The ARA official pointed out that the projects already approved are "only the beginning" as far as Kentucky's participation in the Federal program is concerned. An additional 14 loan and grant applications are currently being processed either by ARA, the Small Business Administration or the Community Facilities Administration of the Housing and Home Finance Agency. The projects could lead to a Federal investment of $13.8 million, and could help create more than 4,800 additional direct and indirect jobs.

Another 10 projects are currently in the redevelopment stage at the local level, Mr. Williams said. These projects could involve an additional $15 million in Federal funds and nearly 1,400 more employment opportunities in the state.

Mr. Williams paid tribute to Governor Bert T. Combs and to Commissioner E. B. Kennedy, of the State Department of Economic Development, coordinator of redevelopment activities in the state, for the way in which the Area Redevelopment program has gotten underway in Kentucky. Liaison with state officials and local communities is being handled in Kentucky by three ARA Field Coordinators—William E. Davis, in Frankfort, William G. Glascock, in Hopkinsville, and H. H. Smith, Jr., in Hindman.

"What is happening under the Area Redevelopment program in Kentucky," the Acting ARA Administrator said, "is typical of the way in which redevelopment areas across the country are using ARA assistance to supplement local private and public investment and planning." To date, he pointed out, the agency has approved 358 projects from 43 states, involving nearly 35,000 direct and indirect jobs, $47.5 million in Federal funds, and more than 11,000 worker-trainees.

The Area Redevelopment Act, signed into law by President Kennedy on May 1, 1961, provides low-interest, long-term loans to help new firms establish or existing firms expand in redevelopment areas; loans and grants for public facilities directly associated with new or expanding industry that will generate new job opportunities; technical assistance to help break economic bottlenecks; and job retraining, including subsistence allowances, for jobless workers acquiring new and marketable skills. The Act specifically prohibits Federal aid to assist any firm relocating from another area.

"Although the Area Redevelopment Act provides 'seed money' and other new tools to help in economic redevelopment," Mr. Williams pointed out, "the emphasis throughout the program is on local initiative. Nothing happens under the ARA program unless redevelopment areas organize representative local groups, plan their own long-range recovery programs, and initiate the projects that are designed to create new employment."

"This reliance on local self-help efforts is one of the outstanding features of the Area Redevelopment program."

The three-day conference covered problems relating to students, faculty and budgetary analysis.

Hayes and Hughes also attended a conference at Florida State University on Creating the College Climate, July 30 to August 3. tion will have bus service to Prestonsburg from near the residence of Floyd Goble, Clark, in announcing this part of the schedule, pointed out that under no circumstances will the bus be permitted to cross the railway there.

The temporary classrooms and the revised transportation schedule will continue in operation until the Knotley Hollow and Town Branch bridges are repaired.

Lawrence Mattingly, of the Mattingly Bridge Company, informed Clark this week that a work order on the bridge here has not been received and said ten weeks would be required to repair the span after the go-ahead was received.

"If parents permit high school pupils to walk the improvised pontoon bridge at Knotley Hollow they will be picked up by bus on Highway 23, but this office assumes no responsibility for this means of negotiating the stream," Superintendent Clark said.

Adequate Use of Milk
Provides Calcium Need

If those persons in the U. S. who don't get enough calcium in their diets were to use enough milk to raise their calcium intake to the recommended level, this country's population would consume 9 percent more milk. This would furnish a market for 10 billion pounds more milk each year.

HOSPITAL FAMILY CONTACTS ASSIST MENTAL PATIENTS

What kinds of plans do Kentucky's state mental hospitals make for patients returning to the community?

In most cases, the patient's family keeps in close touch with the hospital so that it is ready to take him home when the hospital says he can go. Social workers on the hospital's staff work with the families from the day of admission to prepare them for the patient's homecoming. The social workers help the family understand the patient's illness and his treatment; they help its members understand any changes in family attitudes which will help the patient adjust better or any special arrangements that should be made when the patient returns.

In some instances, the family is unable or unwilling to have a patient return home, and sometimes there isn't any family to which a patient may return. When this occurs, we try to find other families who will let the patients live with them, for frequently there is financial help available to patients from the Department of Economic Security under the old-age assistance or aid to the totally and permanently disabled programs. Sometimes these patients go to boarding homes (personal care homes) or to nursing homes if they need skilled nursing care, but very few need special care.

If patients are able to work, they are referred to vocational counselors of the State Bureau of Rehabilitation Services for counseling, job placement, special training or whatever is needed, and some are tried in job placements before discharge.

In all instances, social workers help make the arrangements and check to see that all is going well after the placement.

Kentucky now has a few halfway houses—places in town where patients may come to visit during the day or perhaps live while they are making a gradual readjustment to living in the community. This step back into the community should take only a few weeks to a few months.

All of the state hospitals—Central State in Lakeland, Eastern State in Lexington, Kentucky State in Danville and Western State in Hopkinsville—now have follow-up clinics which are held at the hospitals or in communities scattered throughout the hospital districts. Patients are expected to return to these clinics on schedule for help in their adjustment, to change dosages of medicines, etc. Family doctors and public health nurses help in these tasks, and when these people are available, the former patient may be spared long trips to the clinic. Records and recommendations of the hospital staff are available to help in the follow-up program.

If it should be necessary for a patient to return to the hospital he may do so at any time. If it does become necessary, the patient usually comes back, voluntarily, for a short time. Then he goes home again whenever he is ready.

In those instances when a patient has been declared incompetent by a court upon being sent to the hospital, he must go back to the court after he has received his certificate of discharge to be restored to full citizenship. Restoration is a court proceeding which is quite simple, but it must be taken care of before any major business, such as buying or selling real estate or cars or getting married or divorced can be considered legal.

THE FEMININE SIDE OF BOWLING NEWS

By IMA BOWLER

Plans are getting under way now for a big, exciting fall season and I think we've made some changes which will appeal to all of you. The executive board of the association met last Wednesday night at Pikeville, and we had a long, good meeting, with many things discussed and acted upon. There will be an open meeting this week at Starlite Lanes, Pikeville, at 2:30 Sunday afternoon, and we urge those of you who can to attend this meeting. By now, all of you should have received your letters, and I hope are making plans for your meeting.

Some other things coming up are a meeting for the officers of every league for them to get their supplies and some help on simple rules, and how to fill out the forms required of them. This is a thing we have been doing very poorly and at this meeting secretaries and presidents will get the necessary equipment to run their leagues, and any help they need that we can give them.

Secretaries now finishing up the summer leagues should turn in their unused material, forms and books to the city association so they can also be properly passed on. A copy of all final standing sheets must go to the city association.

Starlite Lanes in Pikeville reports that they have another big season getting under way with eight leagues already signed up to play. Things are going along swimmingly up there. Play starts September 3 at Starlite.

Lake Lanes' bowler of the week was Marty May with a 180. Lake Lanes reports their Coffee and Donut League will begin again on Tuesday, August 28, with the organizational meeting at 9:30 a.m. Join your friends at Lake Lanes and learn to bowl, join a league and you'll soon have the "fever."

Invitation To Bidders

Bids will be accepted until 8:00 p.m., September 1, 1962, by the Floyd County Board of Education for furnishing labor and material required to install a boiler and stoker in the high school and a boiler in the gymnasium at Wheelwright, Kentucky.

Plans and specifications may be obtained from George Lee Shannon, Architect, Prestonsburg, Kentucky.

All bids must be accompanied by a bid bond in the amount of 5% of the bid price. The successful bidder will be required to furnish a performance bond for 100% of the contract amount.

The board reserves the right to reject any or all bids.

FOOTBALL REGIONS

The Class AA Region 4 of the Kentucky High School Athletic Association football playoffs will be divided into two districts this season. The respective winners will clash at the season's end to determine the regional champ and the right to advance to the semifinals. Hazard and Corbin, by reason of a tie in the regional standings last season, met, with Hazard winning the championship.

In District I will be Bell County, Corbin, Cumberland, Evarts, Hall, Hazel Green, Knox Central and Middlesboro. District II has Belfry, Fleming-Neon, Hazard, Jenkins, Leslie County, M. C. Napier, Prestonsburg, Wheelwright and Whitesburg.

To be eligible for the district crown, a team must play four opponents within its own district.

Other Eastern Kentucky high schools are in Class A Region 3. They are Elkhorn City, Morgan County, Paintsville and Pikeville.

Pikeville and Elkhorn City are both members of the Eastern Kentucky Mountain Conference, although the other eight members are Class AA schools.

The past state high school basketball tournament was the richest in the state's history, figures released by the K.H.S.A.A. reveal. Total receipts were $148,423.31, with expenses amounting to $44,154.61, leaving a net profit of $104,268.70.

Biggest item in the expenses is $9,000 rental of the Fairgrounds Freedom Hall in Louisville for four days.

Something you should think about if you're about to buy a truck:

If all trucks were built the same way, cost the same to keep up, were worth the same at trade-in . . . then probably the price tag would be your only concern. It can't be, of course, because some trucks have more quality than others. And marks of quality are the real keys to low cost. Chevrolet trucks, for example, have double-wall construction, which gives bodies and cabs more strength. Cabs are insulated against heat, cold and noise. A big part of road shock, which shortens truck life, is damped out by Chevrolet's suspension system; it also makes riding in the truck a pleasure. Pickup bodies and cabs are separated to eliminate stress between them.

Value such as this has induced more people to invest in Chevrolet trucks every year since 1937.

This can be a good time to buy a modern new Chevrolet truck

Late summer traditionally is the season for all-around savings on a new Chevrolet truck . . . selection is still good . . . deliveries are prompt . . . and Chevrolet dealers are doubly anxious to put you into a new vehicle in order to make way for next year's models. Coupled with the efficient performance a new Chevrolet truck will give you, it seems evident that you couldn't buy at a better time.

Come in and take full advantage of it!

Telephone Talk

By GUY HISLE
Your Telephone Manager

TEACHING BY TV ... Closed circuit TV is becoming one of education's most vital classroom aids. This new educational medium is developing just in time to meet the re-awakened interest in mathematics, languages, physics, and chemistry from elementary school to college level. And wherever distribution of TV is needed, Bell Telephone companies are equipped to provide it. Your Bell System's facilities, manpower and know-how are on the spot to make possible the educational television network which brings teaching programs to schools and homes across the nation.

LATE VACATION PLANNING? For a happier time, more fun for the family, your choice of reservations ... go first by phone. Notify friends and relatives of your arrival, reserve rooms ahead of time, order theatre tickets in advance ... do it all by phone. You'll arrive with ready-made plans ... have more time for fun while you're there ... come home with happy memories of a telephone-planned vacation.

MENTION THE BELL SYSTEM and any of its associated companies and you'll probably think first of telephones and other communications equipment that are such an important part of life today. But did you know that an organization of more than 200,000 Bell employees (membership requirement—21 years of service!) maintains a program of service and fellowship in thousands of communities throughout the country? This organization's services are many, but probably best known is its program of transcribing books into Braille for the blind ... another evidence of telephone employees' spirit of service.

IN THIS HIGH-POWERED DAY AND AGE we've gotten used to reading and hearing about millions and billions. For example, the U. S. is in debt more than two hundred ninety-six billion dollars. But, to most of us used to thinking in terms of our personal income and budget, it's a bit difficult to realize just how much a billion really is. Comparisons help. For instance, from the birth of Christ through 1961 there were only a little more than one billion thirty million minutes of time.

Engagement Announced

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Rice, of East Point, announce the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Betty Lou, to Mr. Reaford Blankenship, son of Mrs. Dallard Blankenship, formerly of Pikeville, and the late Mr. Blankenship.

Miss Rice is a graduate of Prestonsburg high school and Mayo State Vocational School. She is now employed with the Floyd County Health Department. Mr. Blankenship is also a Mayo graduate and is employed at Penny Motors in Dayton, Ohio.

An August wedding is planned.

FLOYD-CO. POPULATION THOUGHT YET DECLINING

Floyd county's population, which has been skidding consistently since the 1950 Census, is down to 38,900 persons as of July 1 this year, according to a recent study. The 1950 Census showed the county with a population of 53,500 but the last decennial enumeration, completed two years ago, revealed a drop to 41,642. The recent study, prepared by K. M. George, Department of Rural Sociology, University of Kentucky, sets the population at 2,742 persons less than the 1960 Census.

All Eastern Kentucky counties with the exception of five lost population in the last two years, some lightly, many heavily. Rowan, Wolfe and Powell broke approximately even in the comparison with 1960 to 1962. Greenup gained 1,038 in population and Boyd picked up 737 in the recent study.

Harlan county led the state in population loss, according to the UK study. It lost 4,907 persons. Bell, Letcher, Perry and Pike were listed as heavy losers.

A study completed last week by Robert Jones, Floyd county Extension agent, of population trends in this county, shows population losses are chiefly in the labor-force-age category. Men and women between the ages of 20 and 40 have migrated heavily from the county. Jones made his calculations by comparing the 1950 and 1960 Census reports. Graphs were used to point up the population changes.

A peculiarity of the graphs, noted by Dr. Russell Hall, Floyd county health officer, who examined them, is the lowering of the number of children under five years of age since 1950. This is partially accounted for by the heavy number of child-bearing couples who have migrated.

The heaviest loss to Floyd county between the two census reports is in the age group of 25 to 29 years of age.

ELLIS-GIBSON

Wedding vows were exchanged July 21 by Miss Sandra Sue Ellis, daughter of Mrs. Pearl Ellis, of Langley, Kentucky, and Mr. James Michael Gibson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Gibson, also of Langley.

The double-ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Crockett Baker at Clintwood, Virginia.

The bride was attired in a white Irish linen sheath jacket dress, with all-white accessories.

After a short wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Gibson will make their home at Shelbyville, Kentucky, where he is employed.

COMPACT WEAPONS OFFSET HUGE ARMIES OF SOVIET

By compressing the explosive power of the atom into small compact packages, the United States has recently brought into being an immensely strong new weapons system called Tactical Nuclear Warfare.

This is described in an August Reader's Digest article, "TNW: Our Other Deterrent to World War III," by Francis Vivian Drake, military editor of the magazine. He says it promises to make large-scale "conventional" war so costly that it is likely to become impossible for an aggressor.

TNW has been developed, he writes, "to the point where it now offsets the enormous superiority of the Soviet Union in armies, armor and supplies. In addition, we have at hand a radical new way of dispersing TNW weapons so that they cannot suffer elimination by a sneak attack."

"This has enabled us to devise a decisive new means of warding off World War III—provided we are not negotiated out of using our new weapons in case of need. The Soviets are already trying to do just that. While they work desperately to catch up with us—our superiority in tactical weapons may already exceed five to one—they are decrying the use of such weapons."

Our greatest tactical deterrent, says Drake, is airborne. NATO's 3,000 fighters would be reinforced by at least 2,000 other planes. They could so saturate the battle field that no troops could survive. In TNW the area hit is small but the target is gone forever.

Our army though small, is equipped with a large variety of nuclear-tipped warheads. They include our billion-dollar Pershing system, built around a solid-fuel, 400-mile-range missile carried on a large vehicle. We also have the LaCrosse, Little John and Honest John mobile weapons with ranges up to 20 miles, being reinforced by the new Missile B, a 10- to 50-mile weapon of deadly accuracy.

TOURISM BRINGS KENTUCKY $285 MILLION LAST YEAR

By CHARLES WARNICK
Director, Kentucky Division of Tourist and Travel Promotion

The tourist industry is the second largest business in Kentucky, amounting to $285 million last year. It is exceeded only by agriculture.

Completion of the turnpike program in the Commonwealth will add millions of dollars to the pockets of Kentuckians.
More than that, the traveler using the turnpike will pay the tolls, thus freeing regular highway funds for other road improvement and maintenance.

Backing up these claims are the experiences of other states.
A case in point is the Garden
State Parkway in New Jersey.
State officials report that the resort business on the Jersey coast was losing favor until the turnpike was completed.

In Pennsylvania, Bedford made the most of that state's turnpike in a community effort to stimulate the tourist trade.
Magazines and booklets were published telling of the vacation possibilities in the area.

Florida's Sunshine Parkway and the turnpikes which run through New Hampshire and into the Maine vacationland have pumped tourist dollars into economies of these areas.

Kentucky will have the same opportunity, and perhaps even greater, when the Eastern and Western Turnpikes are completed. With the completion of Barkley Dam and a federal recreational area, Western Kentucky will attract even more visitors. The turnpike, however, will be a two-way street, with others traveling eastward to the Lincoln country, My Old Kentucky Home and the horse country of the Bluegrass.

The caves, the land of the Confederacy and other attractions will bring still other tourists. However, a strong local effort to promote these attractions will be necessary to supplement the State effort.

The Eastern Kentucky Turnpike will provide other vistas, as it connects the timberland of the Cumberland Mountains with the great meadow of Central Kentucky. Natural Bridge, Jenny Wiley, Buckhorn and other points can reap a tourist harvest. Pilot Point, where Daniel Boone first saw the interior of Kentucky, Sky Bridge, the Breaks Interstate Park and other attractions have not been fully publicized because of their relatively difficult accessibility prior to the turnpike. Now they can be fully developed.

Kentuckians through the turnpike program have in hand a great opportunity. Towns, counties and area associations should be encouraged to band together to undertake promotion in depth.
State and national advertising is a possibility. Festivals and special celebrations will add to the flow of dollars.

There is within reach a new supply of money flowing from the pockets of millions of Americans who are travel-prone and travel-conscious. Pittsburgh is within a day's drive of Eastern Kentucky. So are Columbus and Cleveland. Western Kentucky can attract from St. Louis, Indianapolis, Memphis and Nashville those with the wanderlust.

The turnpike system in Kentucky can help make tourism
the state's largest industry.

WILLIAM JAMES MAYO LETTER

William James Mayo, Kentucky and Illinois pioneer, penned a letter in 1841 from Edgar county, Illinois, to his son, Jacob Mayo, at Prestonsburg, informing him of the death of Jacob's mother, Elizabeth Madox Mayo. The letter, in the possession of Mrs. Lucille Mayo Herndon, Prestonsburg, reflects the deep religious conviction of Mayo. It was dated March 24, 1841.

He wrote:

"Myself and family and all the relatives as far as I know are in good health and have the abundant mercy of God upon us. For which I am truly thankful and desire to bless the Lord that in my bereaved state and lonely condition He thus bestows health on me. I have been deprived of one among the best wives that ever bore the appellation in this world, and you, likewise, of a tender, loving, good, religious, faithful, obedient mother but I bless God that He has given me one of the best daughters that ever lived to take charge of our domestic concerns in place of our departed mother. Oh, what a blessed child Charlotte is, possessing so much of her mother's goodness and qualities. This is a great consolation to me.

O, my affectionate wife, and your loving mother, my dear son Jacob, is numbered with the dead of 1840. She has gone on the wings of the years that sleep, to people pale nations but she is not lost, though death has laid her low in the silent tomb. Weep not for her mortal corpse shall rise, clothed in immortal lustre from the grave, unfading bloom shall wanton in her face bright as the sun's flaming meridian rays, and when this earth and every pendant star shall roll in . . . she shall with pleasure view the universe in flames and downward look on agonizing systems with a smile and instantly fly home unto her God. Amen.

"And now my dear son, that you and me and all the dear children of your tender mother strive to follow her as she followed Christ by repenting of all our sins and believing in the Lord Jesus Christ, who is our prophet, priest and king of wisdom, righteousness and sanctified redemption. O, may Jesus dwell in our hearts with all his praise, grace and love, longsuffering, gentleness, goodness, faith, meekness, temperance, giving by his Spirit to know by an inward and experimental noise by the Spirit of God, bearing witness with our spirit that God is our Father, Jesus Christ our Redeemer, the Holy Ghost, our Sanctifier, angels and kindred, heaven our home, and Glory our aim and that this earth is not our abiding place but we seek a place above which hath foundations whose builder and maker is God, where ages of salvation roll and glory never dies and in order to attain such a blissful state we must lay aside every weight and sin that do easily beset us; cease to do evil, learn to do well, confess with our mouth the Lord Jesus Christ, and believe with our heart that God has raised her up from the dead and deny ourselves of all ungodliness and world lust. For whosoever loveth this world and the things thereof, how dwelleth the land of God in Him. Not at all. For in the pursuit of things of this world we usually present enjoyment by expectation, we anticipate our happiness and eat out the heart and sweetness of worldly pleasure by a delightful forethought of them; but they do not answer the expectation desired about them nor satisfy the desires when we come into possession of them; they vanish into nothing. But the things which are above are so great, so solid, so durable and so glorious that we cannot raise our thoughts to an equal height with them. We cannot enlarge our desires beyond a possibility of satisfaction. Our hearts are greater than the world; but God is greater than our heart and the happiness He has laid up for us is like Himself, incomprehensibly great and glorious.

"O, let the thoughts of this raise us above this world and inspire us with greater thoughts and designs than the cares and concerns of this life. And this we can only do through the redemption of Christ and the offering himself up in our place and stead and gives us an opportunity through this apparition of the Holy Ghost of denying and correcting and subduing evil propensities of nature; and of raising above this world and of forming the soul of all the habits of religion and holiness; which makes it capable with our Creator and God. And is our indispensable business while traversing this checkered scene of immortality to look forward to that blessed recompense of that heavenly reward that our external welfare may principally engage our attention and that under the guidance of the Holy Spirit we may pass through things temporal that we finally lose not the things which are eternal and so live and govern ourselves through faith in Christ that we may have our fruit unto holiness and in the end everlasting life through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

"Our spring is rather backward and our fall wheat is smartly injured by the fly and freeze. Our peaches are all killed in the bud I think. I have not looked at the apples. Times are hard, money scarce, property low, but what is worse than all those together is a want of probity and honesty in public functionaries arising through the majorities of the members of our legislature."
